s. SUMMARY

s. 1 In this lengthy final chapter of the Avatamsaka sutra, while the Buda Shakyamuni is in meditation in Shravasti, Manjushri leaves for South India, where he meets the young layman Sudhana and instructs him to go to a certain kalyanamitra or 'good friend,' who then directs Sudhana to another such friend. In this way, Sudhana successively meets and receives teachings from fifty male and female, child and adult, human and divine, and monastic and lay kalyanamitras, including night goddesses surrounding the Buda and the Buda's wife and mother. The final three in the succession of kalyanamitras are the three Bodhisattvas Maitreya, Manjushri, and Samanta-bhadra. Samanta bhadra's recitation of the Samanta bhadra carya pranidhana ('The Prayer for Completely Good Conduct') concludes the sutra.

i. INTRODUCTION

i. 1 The Stem Array (Ganda vyuha) is a unique sutra in that most of its narrative takes place in South India, far from the presence of the Buda. It follows the journey of the young Sudhana from teacher to teacher, or kalyanamitra (literally 'good friend?'), beginning with his meeting Manjushri when that Bodhisattva came to South India. Another unique characteristic is that Sudhana's teachers include children, non-Buddhists, a courtesan, merchants, and so on, among them a number of women. His teachers are both humans and deities, including eight night goddesses around the Bodhi tree and the forest goddess of Lumbini, the birthplace of the Buda. These teachers are often described as having received teachings from numerous other Budas. For example, the Bikshu Sagara megha describes how he received, from a Buda who appeared out of the ocean, teachings that would take more than a kalpa to write out. The kalyanamitras are described as having realizations and miraculous powers that test the limits of the imagination.

i. 2 The Ganda vyuha forms the forty-fifth and final chapter of the Buddhavatamsaka (A Multitude of Budas) sutra, where it is called a 'chapter' rather than a 'sutra.' According to the Dege colophon, the previous forty-four chapters form six sections, or sutras, of the Avatamsaka, with the Ganda-vyuha as the seventh sutra. In his sixteenth-century survey of the major sutras, Pekar Zangpo (pad dkar bzang po) divides the first group of chapters into two, so that the Ganda vyuha is the eighth section of the Buddhavatamsaka. The Ganda vyuha is one of the four sections that consist of a single sutra, but it is by far the longest sutra or chapter, comprising about a third of the Avatamsaka sutra.¹

i. 3 In the Buddhavatamsaka sutra, the Buda Shakyamuni never speaks: all the teachings in the forty-five chapters of the Avatamsaka are given by others. In the first forty-four chapters or sutras this is done in the Buda's presence.

The Ganda vyuha is unique in that most of this lengthy chapter takes place far from his presence, with other Budas being presented as the sources of teachings received by the kalyanamitras whom Sudhana meets. However, the previous chapters of the Avatamsaka have already presented the view that various Budas are manifestations of the Buda Vairocana, and it is by the name Vairocana that Shakyamuni is referred to in this sutra.³

i. 4 The previous forty-four chapters of the Avatamsaka sutra take place during the two weeks after the Buda's enlightenment, at which time he sits in silence under the Bodhi tree yet is simultaneously present, still in silent meditation, in other locations throughout our universe: the Trayastrimsha paradise of Indra on the summit of Sumeru, the Yama and Tushita paradises high above Sumeru, and the highest paradise in the realm of desire -the Para nirmita vasha vartin paradise. Bodhisattvas congregate around him, inspired by his presence to give such teachings as the Dasha bhumika sutra (Ten bhumi sutra), which is taught by the Bodhisattva Vajragarbha in the Paranirmita vasha vartin paradise. The Dasha bhumika sutra had a great influence on the development of Buddhism, eclipsing the previous seven bhumis of the Prajnaparamita (Perfection of Wisdom) sutras.⁴

i. 5 The Ganda vyuha, on the other hand, begins with the Buda in silent meditation in his Jetavana Monastery in Shravasti, where he spent most of his summer retreats. Human pupils are gathered around him along with a multitude of Bodhisattvas that his human pupils are not advanced enough to perceive. While the Buda sits silently in meditation, the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra gives a teaching to the assembled Bodhisattvas. The Bodhisattva Manjushri leaves the assembly for South India, and, rather than continuing to describe events and teachings in the presence of the Buda, the sutra follows Manjushri to South India, where he meets Sudhana, and the narrative then follows Sudhana for the rest of the long sutra. Although the beginning of the sutra is set at a time later than that of the Buda's enlightenment, further on, in the night-goddess chapters, the Buda is depicted as being present under the Bodhi tree. There are other temporal anomalies: the Bodhisattva Maitreya, in the chapter where Sudhana meets him, is portrayed as being on earth and not yet passed away to be reborn in Tushita, even though he is said in the Mayadevi chapter, as is generally said in other Buddhist sources, to be already present in Tushita. Mayadevi, the Buda's mother, appears to Sudhana in Kapilavastu, the Buda's hometown, even though she is traditionally said to have passed away shortly after the Buda's birth and been reborn as a male deity in the Trayastrimsha paradise.

i. 6 The sutra primarily describes (in successive long compounds in Sanskrit) both the inner qualities and the external displays of miraculous powers that have been attained by the various kalyanamitras whom Sudhana meets. It concludes with the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra composing the Samanta-bhadra carya pranidhana (?The Prayer for Completely Good Conduct?), which is regularly recited by contemporary Tibetan Buddhists.

.Indian Origins of the sutra.

i. 7 Mahayana sutras first appeared through the medium of revelations after the tradition of written sutras had developed. These sutras appeared in various Buddhist traditions and in various locations. Mahayana sources show doctrinal similarities to the Mahasamghika tradition. The Mahasamghika was especially prevalent in southwest India, and a substantial number of Mahayana sutras have indications of a South Indian provenance, with passing references to South Indian music, or, to take the Samadhiraja sutra as just one example, to a prominent South Indian personage, in this case the Rishi Ananta. Similarly, much of the Ganda vyuha sutra takes place in South India, depicting teachers who appear to operate independently of Buddhist communities in the north. Douglas Osto echoes Qobad Afshar in suggesting that the site of Dhanyakara referenced in the Ganda vyuha is in fact Dhanyakataka/Dharani kota, an ancient city that existed on the banks of the Krishna River in the southern region of Andhra. This place, Afshar and Osto believe, was probably where the Ganda vyuha was first composed.⁵

i. 8 In terms of its language, the Sanskrit of the Ganda vyuha sutra has numerous nonclassical Buddhist Hybrid Sanskrit (BHS) features and vocabulary. This is especially true of the verses, which are less prone to revision to Classical Sanskrit than the prose. It is frequently the case that the verses in a sutra are older than the prose that accompanies them, or they at least retain the original form of the language in which the sutra was composed. In the Ganda vyuha, they favor the -u ending for the nominative case, where it would be -a in Sanskrit, -e in the ancient northeastern dialect, and -o in that of the northwest (and its continuation in Pali). The difference between these two kinds of Sanskrit is not evident in the Tibetan or the English translations.

i. 9 Concerning the relative chronology of the Ganda vyuha, chapter 41 makes a clear reference to the Satyaka sutra (formally known as The Teaching of the Miraculous Manifestation of the Range of Methods in the Field of Activity of the Bodhisattvas), which describes a Jain master by the name of Satyaka, who advises a king on the polity of rulership and is eventually revealed by the Buda to be a Bodhisattva who takes on various forms in order to benefit beings. The Satyaka sutra briefly presents the single-yana view that was expounded in The Lotus sutra, but it goes further by stating that all religious traditions in India occur through the blessing of the Buda and are⁹

therefore included within the single yana. This view of the Satyaka sutra is crucial for understanding one of the surprising elements in the Ganda vyuha sutra -some of Sudhana's teachers do not appear to be following a Buddhist path. There is the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha, who is teaching young brahmins; and Jayoshmayatana, who is following the non-Buddhist ascetic practice of ?the five heats? (sitting amid four fires under the noonday sun); and there is even Mahadeva, also known as Shiva. Therefore, in terms of the succession of sutras, it would appear that the Ganda vyuha postdates both The Lotus sutra (though not necessarily its later chapters) and the Satyaka sutra.¹³

i. 10 The depiction of the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara in the Ganda vyuha is surprising in that he is presented as an apparently human guru living on the Potalaka Mountain in South India, with no mention of his association with Amitabha's pure realm of Sukhavati, where earlier sutras locate him. The Potalaka Mountain was an important place of pilgrimage for both the Buddhists and Shaivites of South India, as the abode of both Shiva, who was known as Lokeshvara (Lord of the World), and Avalokiteshvara. This earthly abode of Avalokiteshvara, in Tibet known as the Potala Mountain, would become prominent in Tibetan and Chinese Buddhism, as evidenced by the Potala Palace in Lhasa and Mount Putuo Island in China.

i. 11 The Ganda vyuha sutra first existed in India as an independent sutra and still exists as an independent sutra in Sanskrit manuscripts. The successive Chinese translations reveal a gradual growth in the contents of the sutra, with the addition of more teachers in the Indian version before its eventual translation into Tibetan. Even so, the number of kalyanamitras met by Sudhana is still smaller than the number that Maitreya, toward the end of the sutra, proclaims that Sudhana has met on his journeys -110.

i. 12 There was an Indian version longer than the one that was translated into Tibetan, though no Sanskrit manuscript of this version has survived. It is known only from the version sent to China by the king of Orissa, who gave a copy to the Chinese emperor in 795. This version was translated by the Kashmiri monk prajna in 798, two or three decades before the Tibetan translation was made. The Chinese translations also indicate that the Ganda-vyuha had a different title in the seventh century, which can be reconstructed from the Chinese 入法界 (Ru fa jie pin) as Dharma dhatu praveshana (Entry into the Realm of the Dharma).¹⁴

i. 13 Earlier versions concluded with the Maitreya chapter. The Manjushri and Samanta bhadra chapters were added subsequently, and finally the sixty-two-verse 𑖀Prayer for Completely Good Conduct,𑖁 which has continued to exist as an independent text, was added as the sutra's conclusion. This prayer was translated into Chinese in a forty-four-verse version by Buddhabhadra in the early fifth century. Amoghavajra's (705-74) eighth-century Chinese translation of the prayer has sixty-two verses because of the addition of fifteen verses on Amitabha. This longer version appeared as the conclusion of the Buddhavatamsaka in the translation into Chinese made in 798 and in the early ninth-century translation into Tibetan. 𑖀The Prayer for Completely Good Conduct,𑖁 particularly its first twelve verses, is regularly recited in Tibetan Buddhism, and it also exists independently in the Kangyur with an additional concluding verse.¹⁵

i. 14 There are no surviving Sanskrit manuscripts of the Ganda vyuha from the first millennium, but there is a complete Sanskrit text that dates to 1166 𑖀𑖁, three hundred years later than the Tibetan translation. It consists of 289 palm-leaf pages and was sent from Nepal to the Royal Asiatic Society in London by Brian Houghton Hodgson (1800-1894) in the early nineteenth century. Cataloged as Hodgson 2 (A), this is the earliest extant Sanskrit manuscript of the Ganda vyuha. The Sanskrit Buddhist tradition has continued in Nepal, where the Ganda vyuha remains one of the nine central works of Newar Buddhism.¹⁶

i. 15 The Ganda vyuha sutra was first translated into Chinese as an independent text by a monk named Shengjian sometime between 388 and 408 ?? . In that translation there are only twenty-five kalyanamitras. Compared to the extant Sanskrit version, the first nine kalyanamitras after Manjushri and those after the thirty-fourth are not present. Therefore, it may represent an unfinished translation or an earlier form of the sutra, or both.¹⁸

i. 16 Not long afterward, in 420, Buddhabhadra (359-429 ??), an Indian monk who had migrated to China, translated with his team the entire Buddhavatamsaka sutra, which at that time was composed of thirty-four chapters with the Ganda vyuha sutra as the final chapter. Buddhabhadra's translation contains not only additional chapters when compared to Shengjian's translation, but also additional verses and passages within the chapters.²⁰

i. 17 Interestingly, the Indian monk Paramartha (499-569 ??), who flourished not long after Buddhabhadra's time, refers to the Buddhavatamsaka as a Bodhisattva pitaka (?basket? or ?collected teachings for Bodhisattvas?). This is echoed by a copy of this sutra found in the Mogao Caves at Dunhuang, which bears the title Bodhisattva pitaka Buddhavatamsaka. While the presently available Sanskrit does not give the title Bodhisattva pitaka, the Tibetan colophons feature this designation, though the sense of it shifts depending on the given colophon's grammar, which may suggest that there was some confusion among Tibetan scholars about the term's significance.²¹

i. 18 The Buddhavatamsaka had grown even further in size by the time of its translation into Chinese under the direction of the Khotanese Shikshananda (? ?????, 652-710 ??). This was made between 695 and 699 ?? and had an additional five chapters, with the Ganda vyuha sutra still in final place as the thirty-ninth chapter. The translation of the Ganda vyuha in this version varies little from that of Buddhahadra, with a few exceptions: the final two verses of the Veshthila section have been added, Avalokiteshvara's mountain is now named Potalaka rather than Prabha, and a short verse greeting appears in the final section.²³

i. 19 Shikshananda's version of the Buddhavatamsaka became the basis for the Huayan school of Chinese Buddhism, huayan being the Chinese translation of avatamsaka as 'flower garland,' and it is Shikshananda's version that was translated by Thomas Cleary into English as The Flower Ornament Scripture. In Shikshananda's Chinese, the title of the Ganda vyuha sutra was ???? (Ru fa jie pin), which could have come from the Sanskrit Dharma dhatu praveshana-parivarta and in English could be translated as The Chapter on Entering the Realm of the Dharma. Thomas Cleary translated this as Entry into the Realm of Reality, while Douglas Osto translated it as Entry into the Realm of Dharma, and Patrick Carre as l'Entree dans la dimension absolue (Entry into the Absolute Dimension).? The term Dharma dhatu praveshana does occur in the text, as for example in verse 44 of chapter 1.²⁵

i. 20 There is a longer version of the Ganda vyuha sutra that was translated into Chinese as an independent sutra in 798 by the Kashmiri monk prajna. This was the first among the Chinese translations to include 'The Prayer for Completely Good Conduct.' prajna's translation was based on a Sanskrit manuscript that the king of Orissa sent as a gift to the Chinese emperor, who received it in 795. The additions in prajna's version are not found in any surviving Sanskrit edition, nor are they found in the early ninth-century Tibetan translation made just a few decades after prajna's translation. In prajna's translation the Ganda vyuha sutra is called The Vow Concerning the Course of Conduct of Samanta bhadra and the Entry into the Range of Inconceivable Liberation (?????????????, Ru bu si yi jie tuo jing jie pu xian xing yuan pin), which could be reconstructed in Sanskrit as Acintya vimoksha gocara-praveshana samanta bhadra carya pranidhana).²⁶

i. 21 As mentioned, the Buddhavatamsaka sutra became the basis for the Chinese Huayan school of Buddhism. Li Tongxuan (635-730 ??) was particularly influential in the spread of this tradition, and he wrote a commentary (??, Huayan lun) on the Buddhavatamsaka sutra, in which he identifies a deeper structure and meaning in the Ganda vyuha's narrative, and that part of Li Tongxuan's commentary has been translated into French by Patrick Carre. Li also composed a summary of that commentary and a chapter-by-chapter synopsis of the Buddhavatamsaka sutra itself. This tradition spread to Korea and Japan, where it became, respectively, the Hwaeom and Kegon schools of Buddhism.²⁸

.Ganda vyuha and Borobudur.

i. 22 The Ganda vyuha sutra, and in particular its Maitreya chapter, was an inspiration for what is arguably the greatest Buddhist monument ever built: Borobudur in Indonesia. This was built in the ninth century by the Buddhist kings of the Shailendra dynasty in Java. The massive structure has a series of encircling terraces that hold 504 statues and 2672 carved panels. The upper terraces, the third and fourth galleries, are entirely dedicated to the Ganda-vyuha, with 460 panels illustrating the sutra. Of these, it appears that 218 panels are dedicated to the Maitreya chapter, and from among those twenty are dedicated to the description of Maitreya's kutagara and thirty-five to the various manifestations of Maitreya. In fact, 334 panels are dedicated to the conclusion of the Ganda vyuha: Maitreya, the brief return to Manjushri, Samanta bhadra, and the "Prayer of Good Conduct." This reflects the importance of the Ganda vyuha and particularly of Maitreya's kutagara -an edifice that embodied enlightenment -for the constructors of Borobudur, who were also trying to create an edifice that embodied enlightenment.²⁹

i. 23 Although the number of accounts of Sudhana meeting kalyanamitras grew in succeeding recensions, they did not reach the number given in the sutra itself in chapter 54, where Maitreya states that Sudhana, following his initial meeting with Manjushri, has visited 110 kalyanamitras. Borobudur, possibly to accord with that statement, does have that number of panels dedicated to the illustration of that part of the Ganda vyuha, but even so it does not represent 110 kalyanamitras but instead repeats the illustration of certain visits, in addition to portraying Sudhana traveling and depicting incidents in past lives of the kalyanamitras.³¹

.The Ganda vyuha sutra in Tibet.

i. 24 The Buddhavatamsaka as translated into Tibetan is composed of forty-five chapters and 115 fascicles, with the Ganda vyuha sutra still retaining its position as the last of the chapters. According to the Dege Kangyur, the entire Buddhavatamsaka sutra, including the Ganda vyuha, was translated into Tibetan by Yeshe De, Jinamitra, and Surendrabodhi, which would have been during the reign of King Senalek (r. ca. 800/804-15) or King Ralpachen (r. 815-36). Yeshe De and Jinamitra had been working at Samye Monastery since the reign of King Trisong Detsen (r. 742-98), but Surendrabodhi appears to have come to Tibet after Senalek, Trisong Detsen's youngest son, became king. Senalek was in turn succeeded by his son Ralpachen, the end of whose reign also saw the end of state-sponsored translation. Therefore, this translation appears to have been made sometime between 800 and 836, but it may incorporate even earlier translation work, particularly in the case of the Ganda vyuha.

i. 25 By the time of the sutra's translation into Tibetan at the beginning of the ninth century, the number of chapters in the Avatamsaka sutra had increased from thirty-nine to forty-five. But this is primarily because of the division in Tibetan of what is the Chinese chapter 5 into chapters 5 through 9, with some additional material, and the additional chapters 11 and 32. This Tibetan translation provides the earliest indication of when the forty-fifth chapter was named Ganda vyuha.

i. 26 According to Tashi Wangchuk, who wrote the colophon to the eighteenth-century Dege edition, and also according to the historian Ngorchen Konchok Lhundrup (1497-1557), the Buddhavatamsaka is composed of seven sutras or sections, while Pekar Zangpo divides the first of these into two, making eight sections.

i. 27 Whereas the Chinese version of the Buddhavatamsaka retained the traditional beginning of the Ganda vyuha sutra as an independent sutra, commencing with 'Thus did I hear...' and so on, the version translated into Tibetan omits it, as do the surviving Sanskrit versions.

i. 28 The Ganda vyuha sutra, which in Tibetan is interpreted to mean, ambiguously, The Stem Array sutra, is the forty-fifth and last chapter in the Tibetan version of the Buddhavatamsaka sutra, which is made up of four volumes as found in the Dege Kangyur. This chapter is by far the longest, beginning halfway through the third volume and occupying the entire fourth volume of the Buddhavatamsaka. It is composed of 72 of the 115 fascicles that make up the entire sutra, beginning with fascicle 44 (the twenty-fourth in volume Ga). Fascicles refer to the bundles of pages in the original Sanskrit manuscripts, usually joined up through two holes in the center of each page. In this translation the beginning of a fascicle is simply marked with the letter B (from the Tibetan for fascicle: bam po) and a number, for example, [B24].

i. 29 The quality of the Tibetan translation differs from the rest of the Buddhavatamsaka, either because of scribal corruption or choices of translation. The Tibetan has peculiarities not shared with other parts of the Avatamsaka. For example, it retains the archaic spelling of myi and myed instead of mi and med. The translation is less reliable than usual, as it contains frequent, possibly inadvertent omissions and misspellings that must have occurred early in the scribal transmission, as some of these errors in the sutra are found in all Kangyurs.

i. 30 It also exhibits a certain idiosyncrasy of translation, in that the terms may not match what was established in the Mahavyutpatti (bye brag tu rtogs par byed chen po) and Madhya vyutpatti (sgra sbyor bam po gnyis pa), the early ninth-century Sanskrit-Tibetan dictionaries produced within the same state-sponsored translation project responsible for the translation of this sutra. For example, vyuha is regularly translated as rgyan (?adornment?) instead of bkod pa (?array?), even in the title of the sutra, in spite of its being generally known in Tibetan as sdong po bkod pa. These and other variations of the title are touched upon in the Avatamsaka's editorial colophon in the Dege Kangyur (c. 11).

i. 31 According to that colophon, this edition of the Avatamsaka was prepared in 1722. This was eight years before the eighth Tai Situpa Chokyi Jungne (1700-1774) began his work as chief editor of the Dege Kangyur. He states in his account of the creation of the Kangyur: 'I began in the Iron Dog year,' which was 1730, and the carving and printing of the Dege woodblocks did not begin until 1737 and was completed in 1744. It was nevertheless done under the command of the Dege King Tenpa Tsering (1678-1738), as was the entire Dege Kangyur, and therefore may be an earlier edition that Situ incorporated into his edition of the Kangyur. The colophon also states that it was based on the Lithang Kangyur, also known as the Jangsa Tham Kangyur. The creation of this Kangyur took five years, from 1609 until 1614. The Lithang was the second printing of the Kangyur, which otherwise only existed in manuscript form. The first printing was the Yongle in 1411.³²

i. 32 The colophons of the Narthang, Lhasa, and Stok Palace Kangyurs ascribe the translation of the Buddhavatamsaka to a Vairocana rakshita: 'It was translated and revised by the chief editor Lotsawa Vairocana rakshita.' The great Sakya master Ngorchen Konchok Lhundrup also states that the translator was Vairocana rakshita.

i. 33 In the editor's colophon in the Dege it states, 'It is taught that Surendrabodhi and Vairocana rakshita became principal editors for a Chinese translation.' As the Indian master Surendrabodhi came to Tibet during the reign of King Senalek (ca. 800/804-15), the identity of this Vairocana rakshita is a mystery, as he could not be the eleventh-century translator Vairocanarakshita, nor could he be the eighth-century Vairocana. Tashi Wangchuk adds, "I have not seen any other text or history of a translation made by any lotsawa or pandita other than those listed in the colophon to this translation into Tibetan," thus apparently rejecting the attribution of Vairocana rakshita as the translator.

.Translations into Western Languages.

i. 34 The Ganda vyuha sutra was translated into German from Buddhahadra's Chinese version by Doi Torakazu as Das Kegon Sutra, Das Buch vom Eintreten in den Kosmos der Wahrheit in 1978.

i. 35 The entire Avatamsaka sutra has been translated from the Chinese by Thomas Cleary and published in 1993 as The Flower Ornament Scripture. The Ganda vyuha sutra is therefore included as the final chapter, chapter 39, under the title "Entry into the Realm of Reality."

i. 36 The Shikshananda version has been translated from the Chinese into French by Patrick Carre. There is as yet no translation of the longest Chinese version, which was translated by the Kashmiri prajna in 798.

i. 37 There have been partial unpublished translations from the Sanskrit by Mark Allen Ehman in 1977 and Yuko Ijiri in 2005.

i. 38 Douglas Osto has translated the first part of chapter 1 and chapters 3, 54, and 55 from the Sanskrit of the Ganda vyuha, with its title given as The Supreme Array. They are available to read on his website. He has also included excerpts from other chapters of the sutra in his book Power, Wealth and Women in Indian Mahayana Buddhism: The Ganda vyuha-sutra.³³

.The Meaning of the Title as Translated into Tibetan.

i. 39 As mentioned above, the sutra's title in Chinese translations differs from that in Tibetan, and it was evidently known by other names in earlier centuries.

By the ninth century, however, it was known by this obscure title Ganda-vyuha. This translation follows the ambiguous meaning assigned to it by the early ninth-century translators into Tibetan.

i. 40 There are two versions of the Tibetan title. In the Kangyur, the title is only mentioned in the colophon, where it is given as sdong pos rgyan. As stated above, rgyan (?adornment?) is used throughout as the translation of vyuha instead of the usual bkod pa (?array?). Nevertheless, it is usually referred to in Tibetan literature as sdong po bkod pa. The Sanskrit compound does not indicate the grammatical connection between the two terms ganda and vyuha, but the Kangyur colophon's sdong pos rgyan ascribes an instrumental case to gandha, while its popularly known title sdong po bkod pa has no such case. Neither Sanskrit nor Tibetan specifies whether ganda is singular or plural. The title appears to have no connection with the content, unless it is taken to refer to the successive joints in a bamboo stem, as an analogy to the successive episodes in Sudhana's journey.

i. 41 Ganda in Buddhist Hybrid Sanskrit can have two meanings: ?stem? or ?stalk? and ?pieces? or ?parts? or ?sections,? and the Pali specifies that, as a variation of gantha, it can mean the section between the joints of a stem, in addition to such things as a swelling, a boil, an excrescence, and so on. As the sutra is composed of a series of episodes in which Sudhana meets a succession of teachers, the intended meaning could well have been ?an array of parts? or, more freely, ?a series of episodes.? The only use of the word ganda in the sutra itself is within a compound in verse 112 in the Maitreya chapter: panca ganda gati cakra mohitam. Pancagandika is a standard BHS term for the five classes of existence, and therefore that compound could be translated as meaning ?the ignorance of the wheel of the five sections of existence,² referring to hells, pretas, animals, humans, and devas. However, because the meanings of ganda can include boil, blister, abscess, goiter, cheek, or bubble (as well as harness, button, joint, bone, and so on), the Tibetan here translates ganda as 'blister' (shu ba) so that the Tibetan translation of this compound is shu ba'i lam rgyud lnga yi 'khor lor rmongs ('the ignorance of the wheels of the blisters of the five existences,' which seems unlikely to have been the original intended meaning).

i. 42 Douglas Osto also points out that ganda has been used as the first element of a compound in Sanskrit to mean 'great' or 'supreme,' and he therefore has translated ganda vyuha as 'Supreme Array,' which would have made for a reasonable title.

i. 43 However, the English translation of the title here, 'Stem Array,' follows the better-known version of the Tibetan title, preserving its peculiar ambiguity, while the less familiar title as given in the colophon could have been translated as 'An Adornment by Stems.'

.The Meaning of the Title Buddhavatamsaka sutra.

i. 44 The title of the sutra in which the Ganda vyuha is the final chapter has also been interpreted variously. The word avatamsaka is a substantiate of avatamsa. In Classical Sanskrit, avatamsa describes a garland or any circular ornamentation. For example, karnavatamsa (ear avatamsa) means 'earring.' One peculiar Tibetan translation of buddhavatamsaka is 'Buda's earring' (snyan gyi gong rgyan). A kusumavatamsa (flower avatamsa) is a flower garland that is worn by a person, hence another Tibetan translation of buddhavatamsaka is 'Buda's garland,' using an obscure archaic word for garland that has various spellings (rma ga chad, rma ga chad, or rma ga chad).

Thomas Cleary, translating into English from the Chinese Huayan, calls it Flower Ornament. However, in Buddhist Hybrid Sanskrit (BHS), avatamsaka means 'a great number,' 'a multitude,' or 'a collection.' Therefore, we have the Tibetan version of the title as A Multitude of Budas (sangs rgyas phal po che). phal po che is used elsewhere in the Kangyur to translate Sanskrit words meaning 'multitude,' such as nicaya, for 'a great assembly of beings' (skye bo phal po che for mahat janakaya). Although this is the title given in all Kangyurs, some, such as the Urga and Dege have the title Flower Garland (rma ga chad) at the conclusion of each chapter, a possible indication that this was the earlier translation of the title, which has been left unchanged within the body of the text. However, the Mahavyutpatti dictionary has phal po che for avatamsaka, and neither rma ga chad nor its variant forms appear anywhere in the dictionary. This contradiction between the chapter colophons and the main title is absent in the Lhasa, Stok Palace, Narthang, Lithang, and Shelkar Kangyurs. This translation follows the example of those latter versions so as to avoid such an evident contradiction.

i. 45 Whatever the intended meaning of the title, the Buddhavatamsaka sutra does depict a multitude of Budas, among which are multitudes of the Buda Shakyamuni, all of whom are emanated by the Buda Vairocana.

i. 46 During the course of the Buddhavatamsaka sutra we find that the Buda Shakyamuni is but one of countless manifestations of the Buda Vairocana.

Shakyamuni is even referred to as the Buda Vairocana. The Buda Shakyamuni is depicted as being simultaneously present in various locations in our world realm: at the Bodhi tree, in the Trayastrimsha paradise of Indra, which is on the summit of Sumeru, in the Yama and Tushita paradises high above Sumeru, and in the highest paradise in the realm of desire -the Paranirmita vasha vartin paradise. Shakyamuni is also depicted as being present in these same locations not only in our world realm but in countless other world realms. The Buda Vairocana prayed to manifest in this way and to have vast assemblies that his manifestations would teach to, and these Budas are the result of his prayer. According to the Buddhavatamsaka sutra, not only is Vairocana the source of all Budas everywhere, but all the Bodhisattvas whom those Budas teach were previously pupils of Buda Vairocana.

i. 47 This depiction of Shakyamuni as a Vairocana emanation has its precedent in a sutra that was never translated into Tibetan, the Brahma jala sutra, which introduces the Buda Vairocana as the Buda who is the source of ten billion Shakyamunis simultaneously existing in various worlds. This sutra should not be confused with the early Buddhist Brahma jala sutra, which has an identical title but entirely different content. That Brahma jala sutra was translated into Tibetan and is included within the Pali canon.³⁴

i. 48 The Buda Vairocana is therefore portrayed in the Buddhavatamsaka as the fundamental Buda who is the source of countless manifestations of the Buda Shakyamuni. The Buda Vairocana would also later become the central Buda in tantric traditions such as the Shingon tradition of Japan, which is based particularly on the Maha vairocanabhisambodhi Tantra (Toh 494). Even in the higher tantras Vairocana still retains his position as the central Buda in the five-Buda-family system.³⁵

.Who Is Sudhana and What Is a Shreshthin?.

i. 49 The Borobudur panels portray Sudhana as a prince-like young man with a retinue, whereas there are Chinese and Japanese depictions of him as a chubby child. Many years pass in the course of his wanderings. In chapter 8 it is stated that he spent twelve years searching for the head merchant Muktaka, so even if he were a child at the beginning, he would be an adult by the end. However, the conventional passage of time is not a feature of this sutra. Sudhana is introduced as being part of one of four groups that come to see Manjushri when he goes to South India. There are laypeople -the male upasakas and female upasikas -and darakas and darikas (?sons and daughters? or ?boys and girls?), which, like the compound stri purusha daraka-darikah much later in the sutra, appears to imply parents and their children, and this is specifically indicated when Mahaprajna, the first of the eleven named upasakas, is identified as the father of the first of the daughters.

However, the definition of the terms daraka and darika includes unmarried males and females up to the age of twenty, and each of these sons and daughters who come to meet Manjushri is accompanied by a retinue.

Therefore, the implication is that Sudhana is not a child but presumably around eighteen or nineteen years old. As Sudhana is the first of the eleven named sons listed, the implication appears to be that, as the most prominent of the sons, he is also the son of Mahaprajna. The only description of his family is the vast, miraculous wealth they obtained upon his birth.

i. 50 Throughout the sutra he is referred to as a shreshthidaraka. The word shreshthin in Classical Sanskrit can mean ?distinguished,? ?eminent,? ?a person of high position,? and, more specifically, the president of a guild or a head merchant. Edgerton, for the Buddhist Hybrid, gives ?guild leader? and ?capitalist.? The Pali equivalent setthi, according to the Pali Text Society?s dictionary, can mean ?the foreman of a guild,? ?a treasurer,? ?a banker,? or ?a wealthy merchant.? Douglas Osto, in Power, Wealth and Women in Indian Mahayana Buddhism: The Ganda vyuha-sutra, used ?merchant-banker?s son? to describe Sudhana, but subsequently in his translation of parts of the sutra he used the simpler 'merchant's son.' Cleary and Carre, translating from the Chinese, have, respectively, 'youth' and jeune ('young?'), omitting a translation of shreshthin. Here I follow the Tibetan translation of shreshthin as tshong dpon, literally 'head merchant.'

i. 51 In chapter 8, Muktaka is simply called a shreshthin, translated into Tibetan as tshong dpon ('head merchant?'), and this translation follows the Tibetan, although his work is not described. Cleary translates shreshthin as 'distinguished man' and also as the adjective 'noble?; Carre, translating from the Chinese, has aine ('elder? or 'superior?').

i. 52 In chapter 18, Ratnacuda is said to be a dharmashreshthin, which was translated into Tibetan as chos kyi tshong dpon, literally 'head merchant of the Dharma,' presumably meaning that he is a wealthy patron of the Dharma. Cleary translates as both 'eminent person' and 'religious eminent,' while Carre translates from the Chinese simply as aine ('elder? or 'superior?'). Ratnacuda is twice associated with a market in the narrative and therefore does seem to be an extremely wealthy merchant, and his ten-story house of gold is filled with Dharma activities and even visions of Budas and Bodhisattvas.

i. 53 In chapter 19, Samanta netra is said to be a gandhika shreshthin, translated into Tibetan as tshong dpon spod tshong ('head-merchant perfume seller?'). Cleary translates this as 'eminent perfumer,' which would correspond to the Sanskrit, and Carre has simply aine ('elder? or 'superior?'), omitting reference to gandhika.

i. 54 In chapter 24, Utpalabhuti is also called a gandhika shreshthin, translated into Tibetan slightly differently than in chapter 19 as spod tshong gi tshong dpon. Cleary again translates this as 'eminent perfumer,' while Carre has simply parfumeur (?perfumer? or ?perfume seller?), omitting reference to shreshthin.

i. 55 In chapter 26, Jayottama is simply called a shreshthin, translated into Tibetan as tshong dpon (?head merchant?). Cleary translates as ?eminent man,? and Carre, translating from the Chinese, has marchand (?merchant?). However, in the narrative there is no mention of the work he does, but instead he is said to be advising householders on civic duties, doing so in terms of the Dharma.

.The Numbers.

i. 56 Chapters 10 and 15 of the Ganda vyuha have two long lists of numbers that demonstrate the innumerable beings for whom Bodhisattvas seek enlightenment. Any number, no matter how large, does not encapsulate the scope of their salvific agenda. These two lists of numbers should have been identical. As this is a unique list of numbers, they have proved to be very susceptible to corruption or omission. There are differences between the two lists in the surviving Sanskrit and also for the same lists in different Sanskrit editions. Moreover, the same numbers were translated differently into Tibetan in the two chapters even though the translation in chapter 10 of the Ganda vyuha is reproduced exactly in chapter 36 or the 36th sutra in the Avatamsaka as The Teaching on Using Numbers on Being Questioned by Cittaraja. The Ganda vyuha lists were recorded in the Mahavyutpatti Sanskrit-Tibetan dictionary, revealing not only that variations already existed but that they also differed from the Kangyur versions. The Chinese should be the earliest witness to the condition of the lists. However, Buddhahadra and Shikshananda omitted most of the numbers in the Ganda vyuha chapter, instead writing ?and so on? and jumping to the last number. Therefore, they are not found in Carre?s translations, and Cleary reproduces the version found in the Sanskrit. Meanwhile, prajna recorded the list in Chinese phonetics. The phonetics of Chinese ideograms have varied over time and regions, but they are still able to give an indication of the list. However, because of being a long sequence of names for incalculable numbers, it may have suffered from the same defects through successive copying. In addition, Shikshananda transliterated the list as it occurs in chapter 36 of the Avatamsaka. In our translation there is an attempt to supplement omissions that have occurred in the two lists and to find the correct Sanskrit spelling for the numbers, with the Mahavyutpatti record of the numbers being particularly important, so as to create a uniformity between the lists. Some of the recorded forms of the numbers in chapter 15 have the nominative case in -u, which may well be a remnant of the original Buddhist Hybrid Sanskrit of the sutra. It may never be possible to ascertain the original condition of the lists, but their purpose was not to create a reliable mathematical tool but to overwhelm the mind with an inconceivable vastness of numbers. Therefore, a disproportionate amount of time has been spent on these pages of numbers, even though a reader may very well skip over them.³⁶

i. 57 The system of enumeration reaches numbers of such enormous value that they exceed even the extensive system of names for large numbers that have been developed in English in modern times, the highest being the googolplex (a 1 followed by a hundred zeros, and the source for the name and verb Google). Even such a number is dwarfed by the vastness of the universe of the Ganda vyuha, where even within each atom there are as many Budas as there are atoms in total. Therefore, an attempt to provide equivalent English names foundered, and the inconsistency in the Tibetan has resulted in choosing the Sanskrit names for this translation, though the various Tibetan, Chinese, and Sanskrit equivalents or variants are supplied in the endnotes.

.Challenges in the Translation.

i. 58 Although the translation is based on the Dege edition, and the numbers of the xylograph Dege folios are included within the translation, it is the Comparative Edition of the Dege that has proved invaluable, as it contains detailed annotations of the discrepancies with other editions of the Kangyur, often revealing errors in the Dege. Some of these errors are evidently the result of the copyist mishearing a word being dictated by a reader. The sutra existed only in handwritten copies for five centuries before the first woodblock printing (the Yongle edition made in China) in 1410. Not included in the Comparative Edition but consulted for this translation is the Stok Palace Kangyur, which belongs to another group of Kangyurs and has occasionally been alone in preserving the correct spelling, for example, rnyi (?snare?) translating the Sanskrit jala (?net?) while all other available Kangyurs have snying (?essence? or ?heart?).

i. 59 The Sanskrit often provides a witness as to which Kangyur has the correct spelling. Sanskrit manuscripts are themselves just as subject to corruption, and surviving Sanskrit manuscripts date to a later period than the Tibetan translation. At times the Tibetan is evidently translating from a word similar to that in the presently available Sanskrit, and therefore it may have been translated from a manuscript in which particular words were not yet corrupted, or it could be translating from a manuscript that contained an error. The Chinese translations are the earliest witness to the condition of the sutra in Sanskrit; at times the Chinese agrees with the Tibetan and at times with the available Sanskrit. The work of our Chinese consultant, Ling Lung Chen, has been illuminating in this respect. An example of where the Tibetan and the Chinese are correct and the present Sanskrit is not is where mukha (?gateway?) has been misspelled as sukha (?bliss?). There are also cases where the Classical Sanskrit meaning of a word has been incorrectly adopted for the Tibetan translation instead of the Buddhist Hybrid Sanskrit meaning. Another problem is inadvertent omission of words, particularly in lists, which may have occurred in the Sanskrit manuscript being used or early in the process of manuscript copying in Tibet. These missing words are included in the translation, even though the meaning would not be affected by their omission.

i. 60 The Sanskrit has also been helpful when the meaning in Tibetan translation is vague and open to interpretation or seems dubious in its accuracy. Another challenge particular to this sutra is the repetition of long descriptive compounds that are not stock phrases and are meant to be overwhelming, describing qualities beyond the grasp of the ordinary mind. The meaning of words in this context and their interrelationship is open to a wider interpretation than usual; for example, if sarva (?all?) begins a compound, it has been open to interpretation as to which part of the compound it refers to. Generally, however, in this translation the Tibetan interpretation is followed unless there appears to be an egregious (and noted) error or an inadvertent omission. Instances of discrepancies among the Tibetan, the Sanskrit, and the Chinese are included in the notes.

i. 61 Tibetan does not have the precise cases that Sanskrit has; therefore, the Sanskrit has been invaluable in indicating singular or plural as well as where in long passages the compounds change case, such as from nominative to instrumental in the long passage describing Sudhana at the beginning of chapter 56.

i. 62 Also, when Sanskrit compounds are translated into Tibetan, it is not always clear where one compound ends and the other begins. This is sometimes indicated by the shad, the vertical line in Tibetan orthography, but as the Tibetan editor's colophon indicates, the placement of the shad is at times arbitrary and confusing, the likely result of the process of copying, as some of the errors are evidently transcription errors from listening to the text being read. The Vaidya Sanskrit edition in Roman letters has added punctuation that does not always agree with the Tibetan interpretation of the structure of the sentence. The Suzuki edition of the Sanskrit has also been useful for finding transcription errors in the Vaidya. Tibetan also tends to translate the prefixes of Sanskrit words, while a direct translation from Sanskrit into English would choose a word from the more extensive English vocabulary. This translation tends to follow the latter approach rather than the translation of prefixes. Words can be multivalent in Sanskrit, their meaning altered according to context, and can even be interpreted as having more than one meaning simultaneously. There are Sanskrit poems written with a carefully chosen vocabulary to create verses that can be read as having two different meanings. There are some terms in this sutra where a choice of translation necessarily means rejecting another possible meaning; for example, vajra can refer to a thunderbolt or a diamond, and these two can be seen in that culture as identical. In particular, however, there are two prominent terms in this sutra that present such a problem: dharmadhatu and Samantabhadra bodhi sattva carya.

i. 63 The word dharmadhatu is a compound made of two elements: Dharma and dhatu. Dharma has a great number of meanings, from 'the Buddha's teachings' to 'law,' 'justice,' 'qualities,' 'nature,' 'phenomena,' and so on, while dhatu can indicate a realm, an element, or a constituent and can be used to mean sensory elements, the relics from an enlightened being's cremation, and so on. In the term lokadhatu, used over and over in this sutra, dhatu can mean 'realm,' as in 'world realm' or 'a realm of worlds.' The term dharmadhatu has been used to mean 'essence or true nature of phenomena,' such as emptiness, and so the Chinese title, which could be translated as Entering the Dharmadhatu, has been translated by Carre as l'Entree dans la dimension absolue (Entry into the Absolute Dimension) and by Cleary as Entry into the Realm of Reality. Osto has used the more literal 'realm of the Dharma,' which has in certain contexts been used in this translation. However, often the meaning appears to be 'the realm of phenomena' when something is said to spread everywhere, and occasionally it could mean either, or simultaneously both.

i. 64 The ambiguity of Samantabhadra bodhi sattva carya is reflected in differing translations. It is a compound used repeatedly in the sutra, and the question is whether Samantabhadra ('completely good') is an adjective for bodhi sattva-carya ('Bodhisattva conduct') or whether it means the conduct of the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra. The sequence of the words in the compound (this is not evident in Tibetan) would appear to signify the former meaning, but its use in the Samanta bhadra chapter appears to indicate the latter. At times it could mean both simultaneously.

i. 65 Neither the Tibetan nor the Chinese -nor therefore the Sanskrit from which they were translated -had a division of the Ganda vyuha into chapters. The later Sanskrit has a division into fifty-six chapters, and because this will make the reading of the sutra much easier and more accessible for the reader in English, that chapter division has been adopted for this translation.

.Detailed Summary of The Stem Array sutra.

Chapter 1: Introduction

i. 66 The Buda Shakyamuni is in Jetavana in Shravasti with five thousand Bodhisattvas and five hundred Shravakas. In their minds they wish for a teaching, and therefore the Buda enters samadhi, and countless Buda realms appear there within a vast kutagara. Bodhisattvas also come from other realms to Shravasti. The Shravakas, lacking in the necessary merit, are unable to see this miraculous display. Then ten Bodhisattvas who have come from the ten directions -Vairocana pranidhana nabhi rashmi prabha, Duryodhana virya vega raja, Samanta shri samudgata tejoraja, Asanga shri garbharaja, Dharma dhatu pranidhi sunirmita candra raja, Dharmarcishmatteyoraja, Sarva mara mandala vikirana jnana dhvaja raja, Vairocana pranidhana ketudhvaja, Sarvavarana vikirana jnana vikranta raja, and Dharma dhatu pranidhitala nirbheda -recite verses describing what has occurred.

Chapter 2: Samanta bhadra

i. 67 The Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra recites verses to the Bodhisattvas describing the inconceivable pervasion of phenomena by the Budas. In addition, the Buda, still in samadhi, emanates a ray of light from between his eyebrows so that the Bodhisattvas can see these countless Buda realms, and in a state of great joy the Bodhisattvas emanate countless manifestations. On seeing this, Manjushri recites verses describing this event.

Chapter 3: Manjushri

i. 68 Through the Buda's blessing, Shariputra is enabled to see Manjushri, who is departing for South India. Accompanied by his sixty pupils, he follows Manjushri. He praises Manjushri to his pupil Sagara buddhi. They all go to Manjushri and pay homage to him, and Manjushri teaches them ten motivations. Then Manjushri goes to Vicitra sala dhvaja vyuha Forest near the city of Dhanyakara. The laypeople of the city, hearing that Manjushri is in the forest, go to see him. Among them is Sudhana, the son of a prominent upasaka. Manjushri describes the miracles that occurred at Sudhana's birth, praises Sudhana, and teaches him and the others about the nature of Budas. Manjushri departs; Sudhana follows him and in verse praises him and requests teaching. Manjushri instructs him to develop Bodhisattva conduct by relying on kalyanamitras. He tells him to go to the Bikshu Meghashri, who is on Sugriva Mountain in the southern land of Ramavaranta.

Chapter 4: Meghashri

i. 69 Sudhana arrives in Ramavaranta and finds the Bikshu Meghashri walking on a plateau on the summit of a mountain. Meghashri describes how he can see all Tathagatas in every direction. However, he states that his knowledge is limited, and he cannot describe the various accomplishments that enable other Bodhisattvas to see all the Tathagatas, and he instructs Sudhana to go to the Bikshu Sagara megha in Sagara mukha so as to receive instruction on the way of the Bodhisattva.

Chapter 5: Sagara megha

i. 70 Sudhana meets Sagara megha, who describes how by focusing on the ocean and its qualities over twelve years he saw a Buda seated on a giant precious lotus arise from the ocean, with countless deities of various kinds paying homage to that Buda, who gave him a teaching called All-Seeing Eyes, which was so vast that even one chapter of it was too long to ever be written out. Sagara megha then gave this teaching to the nonhuman beings who came from all directions. However, he states that his knowledge is limited to this teaching and instructs Sudhana to go receive instruction on the way of the Bodhisattva from the Bikshu Supratishthita in Sagara tira.

Chapter 6: Supratishthita

i. 71 Sudhana searches for Supratishthita and eventually sees him walking in the sky accompanied by a vast gathering of various kinds of deities, who pay homage to him. Supratishthita states that he has attained a wisdom called the unimpeded apex, so that he knows past lives, all past Budas, all languages, when to guide beings, and so on, and can perform all kinds of miracles. However, he states that his knowledge is limited to this liberation and instructs Sudhana to go receive instruction on the way of the Bodhisattva from a Dravidian named Megha in the town of Vajrapura in the land of Dravida.

Chapter 7: Megha

i. 72 Sudhana finds Megha teaching on a throne in a courtyard in the town of Vajrapura. Megha comes down from his throne and makes many offerings to Sudhana. He praises the Bodhisattvas through various analogies, and light rays shine from his mouth, spreading throughout the universe. Many deities of various kinds come to listen. Then Megha sits back on his throne and states that he has attained Sarasvati's power of retention, so that he knows the languages of all the different kinds of deities and other beings throughout all worlds. However, he states that his knowledge is limited to this Sarasvati power of retention, and he instructs Sudhana to go receive instruction on the way of the Bodhisattva from a head merchant named Muktaka in the land of Vanavasi.

Chapter 8: Muktaka

i. 73 After twelve years Sudhana reaches Vanavasi and finds Muktaka. Muktaka enters a state of meditation through the power of retention called the assembly of all the Buda realms, and countless Budas, their deeds, their realms, and their pupils become visible within his body. He comes out of his meditation and states that through the liberation called the unimpeded display, he can see any Buda in any realm or time that he wishes to, and he is aware that his mind's perceptions are the mind's own illusions and that all attainment is the attainment of the mind. However, he states that his knowledge is limited to this liberation called the unimpeded display, and he instructs Sudhana to go receive instruction on the way of the Bodhisattva from a Bikshu named Sagara dhvaja in the land of Milaspharana at the southern tip of India.

Chapter 9: Sagara dhvaja

i. 74 Sudhana arrives at Milaspharana and finds the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja sitting in meditation at the end of a meditation walkway. He is emanating various kinds of beings, Bodhisattvas, and Budas from different parts of his body, and these emanations are spreading throughout all the Buda realms, accomplishing various kinds of activities. Sudhana sits before him for six months and six days, until Sagara dhvaja rises from his samadhi. He describes to Sudhana the nature of the samadhi he has attained, but he states that his knowledge is limited to that and instructs him to go to request teaching from the upasika Asha in a park outside the town of Mahaprabhasa.

Chapter 10: Asha

i. 75 Sudhana arrives at Samanta vyuha Park, which is miraculously beautiful and made of precious substances. The upasika Asha is seated on a throne inside a magnificent palace, with vast numbers of beings of various kinds paying homage to her. She tells Sudhana she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of bliss without sorrow and recounts her past as a pupil of innumerable Budas. She emphasizes how Bodhisattvas are dedicated to the welfare of all beings. However, as her knowledge is limited to her Bodhisattva liberation, she instructs him to go to the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha in the land named Nalayu.

Chapter 11: Bhishmottara nirghosha

i. 76 Sudhana arrives in Nalayu and finds the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha, along with ten thousand young brahmin pupils, in an ashram in a miraculously beautiful forest. Bhishmottara nirghosha tells his pupils of Sudhana's greatness, and they make offerings to him. Bhishmottara nirghosha tells Sudhana that he has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of being invincible to others. He places his hand on Sudhana's head, and Sudhana sees innumerable Buda realms and hears the teachings of those Budas for innumerable kalpas. When Bhishmottara nirghosha removes his hand, Sudhana is back in the forest at that same time. Bhishmottara nirghosha says his knowledge is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation and instructs him to go to the brahmin Jayoshmayatana in the land of Ishana.

Chapter 12: Jayoshmayatana

i. 77 Sudhana finds the brahmin Jayoshmayatana undertaking the ascetic practice of sitting beneath a cliff surrounded by four fires and under the noonday sun. He tells Sudhana that if he climbs to the top of the precipice above him and jumps into a fire, he will have pure conduct. On hearing this, Sudhana has doubts about Jayoshmayatana, but deities appear in the sky describing how Jayoshmayatana's asceticism has benefited them on the path to buddhahood. Sudhana then obeys the brahmin's instructions, and leaping into the fire, he is unharmed and attains samadhi. Jayoshmayatana then tells Sudhana that his own knowledge is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation called the unceasing domain and therefore he should go to Princess Maitrayani in the city of Simha vijrimbhita.

Chapter 13: Maitrayani

i. 78 Sudhana finds Princess Maitrayani with an entourage of five hundred maidens in a miraculous palace. She instructs Sudhana to look around the palace, and he sees innumerable Budas in every object. She tells Sudhana that she has attained the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the complete display of memory, but as her knowledge is limited to that, he should go to the Bikshu Sudarshana in the land called Trinayana.

Chapter 14: Sudarshana

i. 79 After a long search, Sudhana finds the Bikshu Sudarshana attended by devas while practicing walking meditation in a forest. He tells Sudhana that within his lifetime, he has been the pupil of innumerable Budas for vast lengths of time and perceives countless Budas as he practices his walking meditation. However, his knowledge is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation called the never-extinguished lamp of wisdom. Therefore, he instructs Sudhana to go to a boy named Indriyeshvara in the city of Sumukha.

Chapter 15: Indriyeshvara

i. 80 Sudhana finds Indriyeshvara playing in the sand with ten thousand other children. Indriyeshvara tells Sudhana that he has been the pupil of Manjushri and has mastered all kinds of branches of knowledge. In particular he relates at length the system of enumeration that Bodhisattvas use. However, his knowledge is limited to this gateway called the wisdom that possesses clairvoyance in all crafts. Therefore, he instructs Sudhana to go to the upasika Prabhuta in the town of Samudra pratishthana.

Chapter 16: Prabhuta

i. 81 Sudhana finds the young girl Prabhuta in a marvelous house, wearing a simple white robe and no jewelry, with just a small pot before her and no other provisions in her house. Ten thousand beautiful maidens are present as her attendants. She tells Sudhana that she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the unceasing display of the treasure of merit. Through this she is able to provide countless beings in all directions with whatever they wish out of her small pot. With the food from her pot, she aids Shravakas, pratyekabuddhas, and Bodhisattvas in countless realms in attaining their enlightenments. Sudhana witnesses countless beings arriving at her home and receiving whatever they wish from the pot. Prabhuta then says that as her knowledge is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation, he should go to the householder Vidvan in the town of Mahasambhava.

Chapter 17: Vidvan

i. 82 Sudhana finds Vidvan upon a throne on a platform at the crossroads in the center of the town. Vidvan tells Sudhana that he has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the merit that arises from the treasury of the mind. Therefore, he is able to provide beings with whatever they wish, and he has brought his entourage of ten thousand musicians onto the path to enlightenment.

Sudhana sees countless beings arrive. When Vidvan looks up into the sky, all that the beings wish for comes down into Vidvan's hands, and he gives it to them. However, Vidvan says his knowledge is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation and instructs Sudhana to go to see the head merchant and Dharma patron named Ratnacuda in the town of Simhapota.

Chapter 18: Ratnacuda

i. 83 Sudhana finds Ratnacuda in the town's market. Ratnacuda takes him to his ten-story home made of gold. On the first four floors he witnesses Bodhisattva activity of generosity, and on the fifth floor and upward he sees Bodhisattvas discussing the Dharma. On the tenth floor all the Bodhisattvas are in their last life. Ratnacuda tells Sudhana how in the past he made an offering of incense to a Buda and the aroma covered the entire world for a week. This resulted in his attaining the Bodhisattva liberation called the unimpeded display of the field of prayer, through which he can see all Budas and Bodhisattvas. However, as his knowledge is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation, he instructs Sudhana to go to a perfume seller by the name of Samanta netra in the town of Samanta mukha.

Chapter 19: Samanta netra

i. 84 Sudhana finds Samanta netra in a perfume shop in the middle of the town. Samanta netra describes how he can cure all illnesses, heal beings, and set them on the path to enlightenment. He is also able to make an offering of perfume to all Buda realms. However, his knowledge is limited to this gateway called the forms of perfume that satisfy all beings and through which in every way one sees, makes offerings to, and honors the Budas. Therefore, he instructs him to go to King Anala in the town of Taladhvaja.

Chapter 20: Anala

i. 85 Sudhana finds King Anala sitting on the throne in judgment on hundreds of thousands of criminals as a horde of terrifying executioners punish them in various ways, creating a lake of blood and a mountain of body parts. Sudhana has doubts as to whether King Anala is a Bodhisattva, but deities appear in the sky and tell him not to doubt. King Anala takes Sudhana into his palace and explains that what he has seen is an illusion the king creates to inspire beings to avoid bad actions. He states that his knowledge is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation called the attainment of illusions and therefore instructs Sudhana to go to King Mahaprabha in the city called

Chapter 21: Mahaprabha

i. 86 After a long search, Sudhana finds the city of Suprabha, which appears to be miraculously made of precious materials. He finds King Mahaprabha seated on a throne in the city along with vast amounts of goods, animals, and women arranged as gifts. King Mahaprabha tells Sudhana that he has attained the Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great love from countless Budas. He provides everyone in his kingdom with whatever they wish. He states that some beings see the city as ordinary, while others see it as made of precious materials, and this is according to their realization. The king demonstrates entering a samadhi that causes the entire country to shake. Beings, deities, and even mountains and plants bow in his direction. In the same way he brings happiness and serenity to beings in countless realms. King Mahaprabha states that his knowledge is limited to the banner of great love and instructs him to go see the upasika Acala in the city called Sthira.

Chapter 22: Acala

i. 87 Sudhana reaches the city of Sthira and finds the upasika Acala at home with her parents in a house shining with a golden light that causes Sudhana to enter states of samadhi. She is extremely beautiful, shining with light, and has an exceptional aroma. Acala describes her past life as a princess during the time of the Buda Pralambabahu. One night she saw him shining in the sky, and since that time she has followed his instructions for many kalpas. She demonstrates her miraculous power of revealing to him a vision of countless Buda realms made of beryl. She states that her attainment is limited to a certain conduct, samadhi, and the liberation called the essence of the wisdom that is difficult to attain, and she instructs Sudhana to go see the parivrajaka Sarvagamin.

Chapter 23: Sarvagamin

i. 88 After a long journey, Sudhana reaches the town of Tosala in the land called Amitatosala. Having searched through the town, he goes to a shining hill called Sulabha to the north of the town. At its summit he finds Sarvagamin being honored by ten thousand brahmins. Sarvagamin describes how through the samadhi called the light of the practice of all gateways he can benefit beings in many ways throughout many worlds. He instructs Sudhana to go to the perfume merchant Utpalabhuti.

Chapter 24: Utpalabhuti

i. 89 Sudhana arrives in the land called Prithurashtra and finds the perfume merchant Utpalabhuti, who tells Sudhana of his mastery of perfumes that have magical and spiritual effects. He tells Sudhana to go to a mariner by the name of Vaira.

Chapter 25: Vaira

i. 90 Sudhana goes to the city of Kutagara and finds the mariner Vaira at the city's gate on the shore of the ocean, where he is telling tales of the sea to a hundred thousand merchants and many hundreds of thousands of other people and describing the qualities of the Buddha. He tells Sudhana that he practices the Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great compassion, aids beings in various ways, knows the locations of islands and treasures and the ways of sailing on the ocean, and sets beings toward enlightenment through his teaching. However, his attainment is limited to the Bodhisattva liberation called remembering to abide with the fruitful hearing and seeing of the banner of great compassion, and therefore he instructs Sudhana to go to see the head merchant Jayottama.

Chapter 26: Jayottama

i. 91 Sudhana reaches the town called Nandihara and finds Jayottama in a forest on the eastern side of the town, speaking about civic duties to many thousands of householders. He tells Sudhana how in many worlds he teaches the Dharma, pacifies disputes and wars, guides people away from bad behavior, and sets them on the path to enlightenment. He tells Sudhana to go see a bhikshuni by the name of Simha vijrimbhita.

Chapter 27: Simhavijrimbhita

i. 92 Sudhana arrives in the town of Kalingavana in the land of Shronaparanta and finds Simha vijrimbhita in a park named Surya prabha that, because of her miraculous power, is covered with jewels and other miraculous manifestations. There are thrones at the foot of jewel trees, on all of which sit Simha vijrimbhita teaching the Dharma to various kinds of beings and Bodhisattvas. She tells Sudhana that she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the eradication of all conceit, which enables her to go in various forms to various worlds to make offerings to Budas and Bodhisattvas. Stating that her realization is limited, she instructs him to go see a courtesan named Vasumitra.

Chapter 28: Vasumitra

i. 93 Sudhana arrives in the city of Ratnavyuha in the land of Durga and searches for the courtesan Vasumitra. The people who do not know her qualities wonder why a practitioner like Sudhana would want to see her. Those who do know her qualities tell him where her home is. It is vast, comprising many buildings made of precious materials and divine in appearance. She is beautiful and skilled in languages and all arts and treatises. Her body illuminates her residence. She tells Sudhana that she takes on a beautiful form among various kinds of beings who are under the power of desire and teaches them the Dharma to free them from desire, and that they also become free from desire on seeing her, touching her, kissing her, and so on. She describes that in a past life she was a head merchant's wife who offered a bell to the Buda Atyuccagamin, who had entered their city accompanied by miraculous events. Manjushri was an attendant of that Buda and set her on the path to enlightenment. She states that her attainment is limited to the Bodhisattva liberation called the complete attainment of freedom from desire and instructs him to go see the householder Veshthila.

Chapter 29: Veshthila

i. 94 Sudhana goes to the town of Shubhaparamgama, where he meets the householder Veshthila, who attained the samadhi called the display of the unceasing family of the Budas when he opened the door of a shrine. Through this samadhi he sees countless Budas of the past, present, and future. He instructs Sudhana to meet the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara.

Chapter 30: Avalokiteshvara

i. 95 Sudhana goes to the Potalaka Mountain and on its western side finds Avalokiteshvara teaching within a forest grove. Avalokiteshvara places his radiant hand on Sudhana's head and tells him that he has the Bodhisattva activity called the unimpeded gateway to great compassion. He describes how he benefits beings through various manifestations and emanations, freeing them from various kinds of fear. However, being limited to that activity, he instructs Sudhana to go to the Cakravala mountain range to see the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin, who has just come from another world realm in the east.

Chapter 31: Ananyagamin

i. 96 Sudhana goes to see the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin, who says that in the eastern realm of Shrigarbhavati he has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of every gateway at the feet of the Buda Samanta shri-sambhava, and that it has taken him countless kalpas to reach this world, even though he passed countless realms with each step. He also made offerings to all the Budas in those realms and manifested bodies to benefit the beings there, and he did this while approaching this world from all other directions simultaneously. He tells Sudhana that his attainment is limited to the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of every gateway and instructs him to go see the deity Mahadeva.

Chapter 32: Mahadeva

i. 97 Sudhana reaches the city named Dvaravati and finds the deity Mahadeva in a temple in the center of the city. When Sudhana asks him for instruction, he extends his four arms to the four great oceans and brings back water to rinse out his mouth. He praises Bodhisattvas, who are so difficult to meet, and states that he has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the net of clouds. Through that liberation he manifests heaps of jewels and precious objects in front of Sudhana for him to use as offerings to the Budas in order to gain merit. In that way he establishes countless beings in the practice of generosity. He manifests ugliness to those with desire, terrifying manifestations to the proud, and dangers to the lazy, so that they will follow the Dharma. As he is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation, he instructs Sudhana to go from South India to Magadha in North India, to the site of the Buda's enlightenment, and see the earth goddess Sthavara there.

Chapter 33: Sthavara

i. 98 Sudhana leaves South India and reaches the bodhimanda in Magadha. As he approaches the earth goddess Sthavara, another million earth goddesses declare that a great realized being is approaching. They manifest an array of miraculous appearances. Sthavara states that Sudhana has accumulated merit in this place in past lives and demonstrates its result by stamping on the ground so that there appear millions of treasures that Sudhana will always be able to use. She states that she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of invincible wisdom, as a result of which she has practiced the Dharma and protected Bodhisattvas since the time of the Buda Dipankara. She received this liberation from the Buda Sunetra many kalpas previously and since then has always been in the presence of Budas. As she is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation, she instructs Sudhana to go to Kapilavastu, the hometown of the Buda Shakyamuni, to see the night goddess Vasanti.

Chapter 34: Vasanti

i. 99 Sudhana reaches Kapilavastu, and after sunset he sees the night goddess Vasanti in the sky above the town. She has a golden body, and he sees in her pores the realms of beings she has liberated and her various emanations, and he also hears from her pores the Dharma teachings she has given. She tells Sudhana that she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the gateway to guiding beings through the radiance of the Dharma that eliminates the darkness of all beings. She describes how she helps various beings who are distressed in various ways in darkness, and how she liberates beings from the darkness of samsara and protects and saves beings from physical and spiritual dangers. Then she describes these activities in verse. She then explains that many kalpas previously, she had been a queen who was awoken one night by a night goddess named Suvishuddha candrabha, who told her that the Buda Sarva Dharma nigarjita raja had just attained buddhahood in a nearby forest and had manifested a miraculous light. She went to that Buda, entered the Dharma, and in every lifetime that followed had a fortunate rebirth and accumulated merit. After countless kalpas, she became the beautiful daughter of a head merchant, and the night goddess Suvishuddha candrabha had become a night goddess named Vishuddha-netrabha. One night the night goddess revealed herself to the merchant's daughter and told her of the Buda Sumeru dhvajayatana shanta netra shri, who had attained buddhahood seven days previously and was the first of five hundred Budas who would appear in that kalpa. The merchant's daughter went to that Buda and on seeing his face remembered her previous lives. It was from that Buda that she received the Bodhisattva liberation called the gateway to guiding beings through the radiance of the Dharma that eliminates the darkness of all beings. As a result, she could be in countless realms before many Budas simultaneously, knew the languages of beings in countless realms, and manifested to them in various ways. However, she says that she is limited to this attainment and instructs Sudhana to go back to the bodhimanda to see the night goddess Samanta gambhira shri vimala-prabha.

Chapter 35: Samanta gambhira shri vimala prabha

i. 100 Sudhana returns to the bodhimanda and sees the night goddess Samanta-gambhira shri vimala prabha. She instructs him in ten qualities that Bodhisattvas need to attain. She states that she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called complete subjugation through the bliss of the peace of shamatha, through which she can see all the Budas in the three times, receive all their teachings, and ripen beings in various ways. Stating that she is limited to this liberation, she instructs Sudhana to go see the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana, who is nearby.

Chapter 36: Pramudita nayana jagad virocana

i. 101 Sudhana goes to the southern side of the bodhimanda, where he sees the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana. Sudhana sees emanated bodies, as numerous as all beings, coming from all her pores, teaching the path of the Bodhisattva to beings in different languages and forms. Sudhana praises her in verse and then asks her when she attained her Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of the power of vast, stainless, completely good joy.

Pramudita nayana jagad virocana replies in verse, describing how in a previous world in the distant past she was the queen of a cakravartin. She was awoken by night goddesses on the night that a Buda named Shrisamudra attained buddhahood and shone with a miraculous light. She woke the king, the court, and the other queens, and with a great mass of people they went to the Buda. That was when she first developed the aspiration to attain buddhahood, and she particularly prayed to become like those night goddesses. She lists the numerous Budas whom she offered to and received teachings from throughout a number of worlds and kalpas. Finally she received and attained her Bodhisattva liberation from the Buda Ratna shri pradipa guna ketu and then, out of compassion for beings, took on her present form as a night goddess. However, she states that she is limited to that attainment and instructs Sudhana to go to the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri, who is nearby among the assembly at the bodhimanda.

Chapter 37: Samanta sattva tranojah shri

i. 102 As Sudhana walks the short distance to see the night goddess Samanta-sattva tranojah shri, she radiates onto him a light ray that causes him to enter a samadhi and see worlds in the atoms of the ground, and to see her appearing in them all to guide and help beings through the power of her Bodhisattva liberation called the manifestations that guide beings that appear in all worlds. Sudhana recites verses to her, describing this vision, and asks her when she attained that liberation. She describes how countless kalpas in the past, in a world called Vairocana tejahshri, she was a princess named Padma-bhadrabhirama netra shri candra, the daughter of a cakravartin who ruled all four continents. North of the capital there was a Bodhi tree, before which was a lake with a magical lotus in its center, upon which was the Buda Samanta jnana ratnarci shri guna ketu raja, the first of countless Budas to appear in that kalpa. Over a period of ten thousand years, he radiated light rays to the beings in that world, informing them and preparing them for his eventual appearance as a Buda. At the moment of his attainment of buddhahood in that world, there were miraculous omens everywhere. The Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra appeared above the cakravartin's palace, his radiance outshining all other lights. He informed the king that a Buda had appeared at the Bodhi tree. On seeing Samanta bhadra, the princess wished to be with him always, in all her lives. The king manifested miraculously throughout the world, encouraging everyone to come and see the Buda. On seeing the Buda, the princess cast her jewels toward him, and they formed a miraculous display in the air. She had a vision of Samanta bhadra's presence throughout countless worlds and attained various samadhis. The Buda told her that in a past life Samanta bhadra had instructed her to repair the statue of the Buda of that time and that this had been the cause of her good rebirths and connection with Budas and Samanta bhadra in all her lives. The night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri then explains to Sudhana that she had been the princess, Maitreya was the king, and his queen, the mother of the princess, was the night goddess Prashanta ruta-Sagara vati. Samanta sattva tranojah shri describes how she attended and made offerings to a succession of Budas through the kalpas, and she describes the teachings she received from some of them. She lists a number of Budas in verse, and finally says that her attainment is limited to the Bodhisattva liberation called the manifestations that guide beings that appear in all worlds and that Sudhana should go to see the nearby night goddess Prashanta ruta-Sagara vati.

i. 103 Sudhana goes directly to the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagaravati, who tells him she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight. She explains that she teaches the Dharma everywhere in various ways to beings and that she can see all Bodhisattvas wherever they are and whatever are they doing. In particular she sees how the Buda, whom she calls Vairocana, in every instant radiates light rays everywhere that take on various forms to guide beings, and seeing this gives her great delight. She describes the vast qualities of her liberation, and when Sudhana asks her about her past, she states that in a world realm called Kanaka vimala prabha vyuha, beyond many worlds to the east, there was a Buda named Avivartya Dharma dhatu-nirghosha, and she was a goddess at the bodhimanda of that world. On seeing him she first developed the aspiration to enlightenment, and subsequently in various lifetimes she attended every Buda that appeared in an innumerable succession in that world, thereby attaining various samadhis. Then she was reborn in this Saha world, where she has attended the first four Budas and will attend all those who will come. On seeing the present Buda, Vairocana, she attained her Bodhisattva liberation. After that she could see as many realms and Budas as there are atoms within each atom and was able to receive all their teachings in each instant of mind. However, as she is limited to this liberation, she instructs Sudhana to go to the nearby night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri, who is there in Vairocana's assembly.

Chapter 39: Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri

i. 104 Sudhana sees the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri seated on a lotus throne and having a body that can appear to and communicate with all beings. She tells him she has attained a Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations. She describes how she guides beings, teaching the Dharma in various ways, and how she sees the realm of phenomena in ten ways and teaches through thousands of powers of mental retention, ten of which she lists. She describes how in the distant past there was a kalpa in one world where countless Budas appeared, the first of which was Sarva Dharma Sagara nirghosha prabha raja. At that time there was a cakravartin king who after the Buda's passing used his miraculous powers to create a display to revive the declining teachings. His daughter, who was a bhikshuni, on seeing that miracle attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations. The night goddess reveals that she was the bhikshuni and the king was the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra. She then lists the names of just over a hundred of the countless Budas of that kalpa, all of whom she was a pupil of, and for countless kalpas since, she has been attending Budas. She says she is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation and instructs Sudhana to go to the night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa, who is nearby at the feet of the Buda Vairocana, the name she uses for Shakyamuni.

Chapter 40: Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa

i. 105 The night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa is seated in a kutagara, on a throne made of precious branches. She tells Sudhana how night makes beings wish to return to their homes and how she leads beings to good conduct and liberation. She states she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of the vast radiating light of joy, which has the knowledge for gathering beings as pupils. Through it she remembers the past conduct, progress, and attainment of the Buda, referred to as the Buda Vairocana. She states that this Bodhisattva liberation can only be comprehended by the Budas, but through their blessing she can teach it, and she then repeats this in verse. Sudhana asks her when she gained this attainment, and she describes how in a past kalpa, in another world, beings were in distress because of famine and poverty caused by their bad conduct. They entreated the cakravartin king Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala-nirghosha for help, and he arranged a great distribution of all his wealth to satisfy all beings. At that time a girl named Ratnaprabha, on seeing the king, was inspired to attain enlightenment, and she recited to him verses that described his birth. She said that his father was King Jyotishprabha and his mother was Queen Padmaprabha. At a time when no rain had fallen for years and everything was withered, there was a bright light in a lotus pond in their park for seven nights before his birth, during which all the lotus ponds filled with water that spread throughout the world, ending thirst and flattening the surface of the earth. On the seventh night their son appeared miraculously, sitting cross-legged in a gigantic lotus, and the king took him and gave him to his queen as her son. Light rays from his body eliminated all harm and illness throughout the world and made everyone kind and compassionate. When Ratnaprabha finished her verses, the king gave her and her entourage of five hundred girls precious clothes, upon which the images of constellations and stars appeared. People said the girls were more beautiful than the goddess of the night. Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa then tells Sudhana that King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha was the Buda; King Jyotishprabha was Shuddhodana, the Buda's father in this life; Queen Padmaprabha was Mayadevi, the Buda's mother in this life; and she herself was the girl Ratnaprabha. She then says that her attainment is limited to her Bodhisattva liberation and tells Sudhana to go to the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha, who is also present at the bodhimanda.

Chapter 41: Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha

i. 106 Sudhana sees Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha with the images of all the stars and so on in her body. She manifests bodies in various forms to beings throughout the realm of phenomena. Gazing upon her, Sudhana attains ten pure perceptions and numerous 'commonalities' with the Bodhisattvas. Sudhana addresses her in verse, and she tells him that she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire the ripening of all beings. This means that having realized the unreality of phenomena, she can manifest in any miraculous form in order to benefit beings in every instant. She states that while Bodhisattvas have transcended concepts of time and so on, they are still engaged in benefiting beings in terms of their perceptions, like magical apparitions that have no reality. She describes how in a distant past she was a prince named Vijitavin whose father had imprisoned many beings for their wicked behavior, and who through compassion for them offered to take their place if they were released. The ministers convinced the king that this was a dangerous plot, and so he sentenced the prince to execution. The queen obtained permission for the prince to make a charitable donation of all his possessions for a fortnight, and he did so without regret, giving everything away. On the last day of the donations, Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja, the Buda who had appeared in that realm, came there miraculously, inspiring faith, and the prince attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire the ripening of all beings and received permission from the king to become a Bikshu. She states that the ministers of that time were Devadatta's followers in this lifetime, but they would all become Budas in a future kalpa. The freed prisoners were the Budas of the present kalpa and numerous other Bodhisattvas. The king's many queens and harem guards were the Jain followers of Satyaka, whom the Buda Shakyamuni had declared to be a Bodhisattva. Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha lists some of the many Budas she followed in the intermediate time. After summarizing in verse what she has told him, she states that her attainment is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation and tells Sudhana to go to the forest goddess Sutejomandala rati shri in Lumbini.

Chapter 42: Sutejomandala rati shri

i. 107 Sudhana goes to the Lumbini Forest and sees Sutejomandala rati shri inside a kutagara made of precious tree branches, teaching a sutra to millions of forest goddesses. She teaches Sudhana in prose and again in verse the ten kinds of birth through which a Bodhisattva enters the family of the Tathagatas. She states that she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas throughout all the perceptions of countless kalpas. She states that through her past prayers she was born in this forest to observe the birth of the Buda and describes the ten omens that presaged his birth, the ten omens of light when the Buda's mother came to the forest, and the ten miraculous manifestations at the time of his birth. She states that she sees such miraculous births in every world and that she sees the Budas that are in every atom in all worlds. She describes how countless kalpas ago, she was a nurse named Vimala sambhava prabha who was present when the Buda Ishvara gunaparakita dhvaja was born to Queen Suharshita prabheshvara in a park. Because she was the nurse, the baby was placed on her lap by deities, and at that moment she attained her Bodhisattva liberation. The king and queen of that time were previous lives of the Buda Shakyamuni's parents. Since that time she has witnessed the birth of every Buda everywhere. She repeats this in verse and then states that she is limited to this Bodhisattva liberation, and therefore Sudhana should go see Gopa, who was the Buda's wife, in Kapilavastu.

Chapter 43: Gopa

i. 108 Sudhana arrives in Kapilavastu and is greeted and praised by Ashokashri, the goddess of the Kapilavastu assembly hall. Sudhana describes his Bodhisattva path to her. She and other goddesses make offerings to him and praise him in verse. Sudhana enters the assembly hall and sees Gopa and her entourage of royal women, all of whom practice the Bodhisattva path. In prose and then in verse, Gopa teaches Sudhana the ten qualities of Bodhisattva conduct and the ten ways to please kalyanamitras. She states that she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the range of the view of all the ways of the ocean of the samadhis of the Bodhisattvas. Through this she perceives all Budas, pratyeka Budas, Bodhisattvas, and their activities and qualities in the past, present, and future. In particular she knows all the past lives of the Buda Vairocana, that is, the Buda Shakyamuni. She then describes how in a distant past she was a courtesan's daughter who fell in love with a prince named Tejodhipati, who was dedicated to the Bodhisattva path, and became his wife. Together, throughout many lifetimes, they venerated a succession of sixty hundred thousand trillion Budas, after which she attained her Bodhisattva liberation. During all that time she was able to gaze upon her husband's wonderful qualities, up until this lifetime when he became the Buda Shakyamuni. She states that Tejodhipati's mother was a previous life of Mayadevi, Shakyamuni's mother, and that Tejodhipati's father, King Dhanapati, is now a Buda in an eastern realm. She tells Sudhana that her attainment is limited to this liberation and that he should go to Mayadevi, the Buda's mother, who is presently at the Buda's feet. Before Sudhana leaves, she describes in verse an even earlier lifetime in which she was a merchant's daughter named Bhanuprabha, who developed devotion to a mendicant by the name of Surashmiketū, who had been a prince. She made offerings to him, and as a result had good rebirths for two hundred and fifty kalpas, culminating in her rebirth as the courtesan's daughter, which is when she first made the aspiration to attain buddhahood.

i. 109 Ratnanetra, the goddess of the city, appears in the sky to Sudhana and instructs him on how to care for the city of his mind. Then two body goddesses, Dharma padma shri kushala and Hri shri manjari prabhava, appear to him, praising Mayadevi and shining on Sudhana light that brings him realizations. He then meets a rakshasa guardian of the meeting hall of Bodhisattvas, who teaches him two sets of ten qualities related to kalyanamitras. Sudhana sees before him a gigantic lotus, in the center of which is a kutagara, within which is Mayadevi, who can appear anywhere to any being in various forms. He bows down with multiple bodies to her multiple forms and enters samadhi. Then he asks her for instruction. She describes the miraculous coming of the Buda to her womb, and how Bodhisattvas and deities also entered it to make offerings to the Buda. Mayadevi explains that she has attained the liberation called the illusory conjurations of the wisdom of great prayer and is therefore a mother to all Budas everywhere in the past, present, and future. She lists a great number of the names of the Budas of this kalpa. Sudhana asks when she attained this liberation, and she describes being a bodhimanda goddess who prayed to the Buda of that time to always have the cakravartin of that time as her son. For countless lifetimes in various existences this was so, and now he has attained enlightenment as the Buda Vairocana. But she states that she is limited to knowledge of this liberation and tells him to go to the Trayastrimsha paradise to ask for instruction from the goddess Surendrabha.

Chapter 45: Surendrabha

i. 110 In this short chapter, Sudhana comes to the Trayastrimsha paradise, and Surendrabha tells him she has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the display of pure, unimpeded memory. This enables her to remember serving countless Budas throughout countless kalpas, from their first development of the aspiration to enlightenment until the time their Dharma ceases. Saying that her knowledge is limited to this liberation, she tells Sudhana to go to Kapilavastu to the teacher of children named Vishvamitra.

Chapter 46: Vishvamitra

i. 111 In the sutra's shortest chapter, Sudhana descends from the Trayastrimsha paradise to Kapilavastu, where Vishvamitra, a teacher of children, simply instructs him to go to see Shilpabhijna in the same town.

Chapter 47: Shilpabhijna

i. 112 Shilpabhijna tells Sudhana that he has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called higher knowledge of the arts and describes the various realizations of the perfection of wisdom he has attained through reciting the letters of the Arapacana alphabet. Stating that his realization is limited, he tells Sudhana to go to see Bhadrattama in the town of Vartanaka in Magadha.

Chapter 48: Bhadrattama

i. 113 Sudhana meets Bhadrattama, described simply as a kalyanamitra. She states that she has attained the samadhi called unimpeded, through which she has unimpeded senses and other attributes of omniscience. Stating that she is limited to this samadhi, she instructs Sudhana to go to South India to meet the goldsmith Muktasara.

Chapter 49: Muktasara

i. 114 In this brief chapter, Sudhana meets the goldsmith Muktasara in the southern town of Bharukaccha. Muktasara says he has attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the display of pure unimpeded memory and continuously seeks the Dharma at the feet of the Tathagatas in the ten directions. As his attainment is limited to this, he instructs Sudhana to go see the householder Sucandra in the forest outside the town.

Chapter 50: Sucandra

i. 115 In this brief chapter, Sudhana meets Sucandra, who tells him his attainment is limited to the Bodhisattva liberation called the stainless light of wisdom and so he should go to Ajitasena in the town of Roruka.

Chapter 51: Ajitasena

i. 116 In this brief chapter, Sudhana meets Ajitasena, who has attained a Bodhisattva liberation called unceasing characteristics. He tells Sudhana to go to the brahmin Shivaragra in the village of Dharma.

Chapter 52: Shivaragra

i. 117 In this brief chapter, Sudhana meets the brahmin Shivaragra, who has attained the power of the speech of truth that fulfills wishes. Stating that he is limited to this attainment, he tells Sudhana to go to the boy and girl Shrisambhava and Shrimati.

Chapter 53: Shrisambhava and Shrimati

i. 118 Sudhana meets the boy and girl Shrisambhava and Shrimati. Together, in one voice, they say they have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the appearance of illusion, through which they see all phenomena as illusions. As they are limited to this attainment, they tell Sudhana to go to a kutagara in South India in which dwells the Bodhisattva Maitreya. They describe the qualities of Maitreya and give Sudhana advice on his practice of Bodhisattva conduct, describing at length the qualities that a Bodhisattva needs to attain. They also admonish him to be devoted to kalyanamitras, describing at length their central importance for the Bodhisattva path as the source of all its qualities. They describe the nature of the kalyanamitras and use analogies in doing so. They also use analogies to describe how a Bodhisattva should perceive a kalyanamitra, including the now well-known analogy of the Bodhisattva being a patient, the kalyanamitra being a doctor, their instructions being medicine, and their practice being the treatment that cures illness. They describe through analogies the benefits that come from following this path and conclude by emphasizing that all of them are dependent on relying upon the kalyanamitras. Sudhana then takes his leave.

i. 119 Sudhana, in a state of great spiritual attainment, prostrates at the door of the kutagara called Vairocana vyuhalamkara garbha and then circumambulates it many hundreds of thousands of times. He lists first in prose and then in verse the many inconceivable qualities of the Bodhisattvas who have this kutagara as their residence. Then he sees Maitreya arriving with a vast retinue. Maitreya welcomes him in verse, praising him, describing his motivation for coming there, and giving him instruction. In response to Sudhana's request and praise, he teaches him at length in prose, describing and praising the aspiration to enlightenment using a series of analogies. He then instructs Sudhana to enter the kutagara and miraculously opens the door by snapping his fingers. There follows a detailed description of the inconceivable, vast sights that Sudhana sees within a state of samadhi, including other kutagaras, billions of worlds, and Bodhisattvas. Then Maitreya enters and states that this was a Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of the display of the unfailing memory that engages with the knowledge of all objects of perception in the three times. He then describes the profound nature of Bodhisattvas and their qualities, and he states that after he dies, he will be reborn in the Tushita paradise and then come to this world to be a Buddha. He then instructs Sudhana to go to see Manjushri once more, as he has set Sudhana upon this path and Sudhana has been connected to Manjushri in all his previous lifetimes of following the path.

Chapter 55: Manjushri

i. 120 Sudhana passes through a hundred and ten towns until he reaches a district called Sumanamukha. Manjushri is far away -a hundred and ten yojanas - but reaches out his hand and places it on Sudhana's head and praises him, teaches him, and blesses him, so that Sudhana gains many attainments.

Chapter 56: Samanta bhadra and "The Prayer for Completely

i. 121 Sudhana has great realization and roots of merit, and therefore ten events and ten lights that are omens of the appearance of Samanta bhadra occur.

Sudhana sees Samanta bhadra seated before the Buda, and he sees a variety of miraculous events manifesting from Samanta bhadra's pores and Samanta bhadra's activities in countless realms and throughout time. As a result, he attains ten practices of the perfection of knowledge. Then Samanta-bhadra and all those Samanta bhadras before every Buda place their hands on Sudhana's head, and he gains great attainments. Samanta bhadra describes his own past practices, such as generosity. He instructs Sudhana to look at his body, and Sudhana sees vast visions within each of Samanta-bhadra's pores. Then Samanta bhadra recites "The Prayer for Completely Good Conduct," and the sutra ends.

There were five thousand Bodhisattvas in all who had all arisen from completely good Bodhisattva conduct and prayers, who had unimpeded fields of activity because they pervaded all Buda realms, who had the blessing of infinite bodies because they came into the presence of all Tathagatas, who had the pure orbs of unobscured eyes because they saw the manifestations of all the Budas, who had gone to receive measureless proclamations because they unceasingly came into the presence of all Tathagatas when they attained buddhahood, who possessed infinite radiance through having attained the radiance of wisdom in all the ways of the ocean of the Dharma of the Budas, who taught good qualities unceasingly throughout infinite kalpas because of their pure analytic knowledge, who had unrestricted conduct of wisdom as far as the ends of space because they manifested physical bodies in accordance with the aspirations of beings, [F.277.a] whose sight was free from defect because they knew that the realm of beings has no souls and no beings, and who had wisdom as vast as space because they pervaded the realm of phenomena with a network of light rays.⁶⁶

1. 2 There were five hundred Shravakas endowed with miraculous powers, all of whom had realized the nature of the way of the truths; directly perceived the true finality; comprehended the nature of phenomena; transcended the ocean of existence; had the range of activity of the Tathagatas that is as extensive as space; had ended fetters, predispositions, and bondage; remained in an unobstructed state; dwelled in a peace that was like space; had eliminated doubts, uncertainty, and equivocation concerning the Budas; and followed the path of aspiration for the ocean of the wisdom of the Budas. There were lords of the world who had served previous jinas, who were dedicated to bringing benefit and happiness to all beings, who became good guides without being asked, who were dedicated to protecting other beings, who had attained the gateway to wisdom that transcends the world, who had the motivation of never abandoning all beings, who had originated from the field of activity of the teaching of all Budas, who were dedicated to protecting the teachings of the Tathagatas, who were born through prayers to be within the family of the Budas, who had attained being within the family lineage of the Tathagatas, and who aspired to omniscience.⁶⁷

1. 3 Then those Bodhisattvas and their followers, and the Shravakas who had miraculous powers [F.277.b] and the lords of the world and their followers thought, "Without the Tathagata's blessing, without the Tathagata's manifestations, without the Tathagata's power, without the Tathagata's past prayers, without a past excellent practice of the roots of merit, without the guidance of a kalyanamitra, without the pure eyes of faith, without the attainment of the radiance of a vast aspiration, without the pure superior motivation of a Bodhisattva, and without the determined aspiration for omniscience, it is not possible for worldly beings and devas to comprehend, or understand, or believe in, or know, or conceive of, or grasp, or analyze, or meditate on, or classify, or reveal, or describe, or establish within other beings the Tathagata's domain, the scope of the Tathagata's wisdom, the Tathagata's blessing, the Tathagata's strengths, the Tathagata's fearlessness, the Tathagata's samadhi, the Tathagata's conduct, the Tathagata's state, the Tathagata's supremacy, the Tathagata's body, or the Tathagata's wisdom."⁷⁰ ⁷¹

1. 4 "May the Bhagavat teach us -we who have the aspirations of Bodhisattvas -as well as all beings, who -because of their various aspirations, different kinds of motivations, and different kinds of⁷² knowledge -use different kinds of words and terms, are on different levels of power, and have different purity of faculties, different kinds of motivation and conduct, different ranges of thought, different kinds of reliance on the qualities of the Tathagatas, [F.278.a] and different kinds of interest in the teaching of the Dharma.

1. 5 ?May he teach us how in the past he set out to attain omniscience. May he teach us how in the past he accomplished the aspiration of a Bodhisattva.

May he teach us how in the past he had a pure field of the perfections of a Bodhisattva. May he teach us how in the past he had the miraculous manifestations of having reached the level of a Bodhisattva. May he teach us how in the past he had completely accomplished the field of conduct of a Bodhisattva. May he teach us how in the past he had displayed accomplishing the way of a Bodhisattva. May he teach us how in the past he had a pure display of the Bodhisattva's path. May he teach us how in the past he displayed the accomplishment of an ocean of a Bodhisattva's ways of going forth. May he teach us how in the past he perfectly displayed an ocean of the miraculous manifestations that are a Bodhisattva's attainments. May he teach us how in the past he had an ocean of a Bodhisattva's practices. May he teach us how he has an ocean of miraculous manifestations through attaining enlightenment. May he also teach us how he has manifested the most powerful miraculous manifestation of turning a Tathagata's wheel of the Dharma. May he also teach us how he has an ocean of the miraculous manifestations of purifying a Tathagata's Buda realm. May he also teach us how he has the gateway of methods for guiding the realm of beings. May he also teach us how he has sovereignty over the city of the Dharma of an omniscient Tathagata. May he also teach us how he has a Tathagata's illumination of the path for all beings. [F.278.b] May he also teach us how he has a Tathagata's miraculous manifestation of entering into the existences of beings. May he also teach us how he receives the offerings of beings for a Tathagata. May he also teach us how he has a Tathagata's miracle of teaching merit and offerings to all beings. May he also teach us how the Tathagata has created the perceived image of a Buddha within the mental processes of all beings. May he also teach us how the Tathagata has created magical manifestations for all beings. May he also teach us how the Tathagata has created the magical appearances of teachings and instructions for all beings. May he also teach us the Tathagata's manifestations of the inconceivable range of the samadhis of buddhahood for all beings.?74

1. 6 Then the Bhagavat, knowing the thoughts in the minds of those Bodhisattvas, rested in the samadhi called the gaping lion, which is as extensive as space and therefore is beyond example and has adornments78 that appear to all beings, has the nature of being the gateway to great compassion, possesses the gateway to great compassion, precedes great compassion, and has the quality of great compassion.79

1. 7 As soon as the Bhagavat rested in that meditation, there appeared a kutagara that was greatly adorned and so vast that it had no end or center, with invincible vajra banners arranged on the ground, arrayed in networks of all kinds of precious jewels, filled with petals of flowers made of many jewels, [F.279.a] beautified by pillars of beryl, with kings of jewels as an arranged display of ornaments that illuminated the world, having a multitude of excellent jewels, having heaps of precious jewels from the Jambu River, with porches, toranas, pinnacles, and windows made of all jewels, adorned by countless pure balconies, with an array of precious jewels that resembled all the lords of worlds, with arrangements of the precious jewels from the world's oceans, covered with nets of all precious jewels, with upraised parasols and banners, and beautified by gateways and toranas emitting light rays that completely filled the realm of phenomena; the external ground was beautified by indescribable daises for the surrounding assembly, and in all directions there were stairways of heaps of jewels and beautifully arranged adornments.⁸⁰

1. 8 Through the power of the Buda, there were present Buda realms, to the number of the atoms in countless Buda realms, that were immense and vast in length and breadth, possessed various adornments made of all jewels, had grounds made of an indescribable variety of precious jewels, were encircled by walls of countless precious jewels, and were adorned by lines of palm trees made of various jewels.

1. 9 Those Buda realms were adorned by immeasurable rivers of scented water that were filled with an unceasing volume of scented water that was mixed with many flowers made of a variety of jewels, flowing and turning to the right, and resounding with descriptions of all the qualities of buddhahood. [F.279.b]

1. 10 There were rows of precious white lotus flowers, precious trees beautifully adorned by the blossoms of superior lotuses made from all jewels, rows of countless kutagaras made of various jewels covered in shining networks of every kind of precious jewel, countless aerial palaces made of precious jewels adorned with all precious jewels, the aroma of countless incenses spread everywhere, and the adornment of clouds of incense, countless banners of jewels, banners of cloth, banners that were flags, banners with streamers of jewels, banners with flowers, banners with adornments, banners with garlands, banners with bells of various jewels, banners that were parasols of kings of jewels, banners of precious jewels with pervading radiance, banners of kings of precious jewels that resounded with⁸³ the wheel of the names of all the Tathagatas, banners of delightful lions made of the kings of precious jewels, banners of the kings of precious jewels that proclaimed the past practices of all the Tathagatas, and banners of the kings of precious jewels that illuminated the entire realm of phenomena, and all directions were adorned with every kind of adorning banner.

1. 11 Clouds of countless aerial palaces of devas adorned the entire expanse of the sky above Jetavana. Jetavana was adorned and covered by a cloud of countless trees of various kinds of incense. [F.280.a] It was adorned and encircled by Sumeru Mountains that possessed indescribable adornments. It was adorned by the beautiful voices and sounds of the praises of all Tathagatas that came from indescribable clouds of musical instruments being played and beaten. It was adorned by a covering of clouds of indescribable precious lotuses. There were indescribable precious lion thrones on which were precious cushions made of divine materials, on which the Bodhisattvas were seated, and which were adorned by clouds that emitted beautiful voices that praised the Tathagatas. It was adorned by clouds of grains that were precious jewels that formed indescribable images of lords of the worlds. It was adorned by indescribable clouds of networks of white pearls.

It was adorned by a covering of indescribable clouds of kutagaras made of red pearls. It was adorned by an indescribable rainfall from clouds of pearls that were as hard as vajras.

1. 12 Why was this? It was because of the inconceivable roots of merit of a Tathagata. It was because of the inconceivable good qualities of a Tathagata. It was because of the inconceivable sovereign power and blessing of a Tathagata. It was because of a Tathagata's inconceivable miraculous manifestations whereby his one body could pervade all world realms. It was because of the inconceivable display of the spiritual power through which all the Tathagatas could enter one body that appears throughout the entire array of Buda realms. It was because of the inconceivable manifestations of the Tathagatas through which they can show the perceivable image of the entire realm of phenomena within a single atom. [F.280.b] It was because of the inconceivable manifestations of the Tathagatas through which they can show the entire succession of Tathagatas of the past within a single pore. It was because of the Tathagatas' inconceivable ability to illuminate infinite world realms with a single ray of light. It was because of the Tathagatas' inconceivable ability to pervade all Buda realms, which are as numerous as the atoms that comprise all world realms, with a cloud of emanations from a single body hair. It was because of the Tathagatas' inconceivable ability to reveal the kalpas of the creation and destruction of world realms from a single body hair.

1. 13 Just as Jetavana was in this way a Buda realm and was completely purified by being a pure realm, in that same way the world realms in the ten directions to the limits of the realm of phenomena, to the limits of space, were also completely purified, adorned, beautified, and with emanated bodies of Tathagatas, and had become similar to Jetavana. They were filled with Bodhisattvas; had ocean-like assemblies of followers of Tathagatas; had rainfalls from clouds made of every kind of adornment; were completely illuminated by the lights of all jewels; were adorned by rainfall from clouds made of the entire variety of jewels; were adorned by a covering of clouds made of the adorning features of all realms; were adorned by rainfalls of every kind of divine material; were adorned by a profusion of clouds of every kind of flower; were adorned by a beautiful rainfall of clothes of every color falling from a treasure of clouds of trees of every kind of clothing; [F.281.a] were adorned by a continuous rainfall from clouds made of every kind of garland, tassel, and string of beads; were adorned by a rain from masses of clouds as extensive as the universe that were made of various kinds of incense and perfume that pervaded all the directions; were adorned by a continuous rain of a fine powder of networks of jewels from clouds of networks of flowers made from every kind of jewel; were adorned by clouds of banners and flags made of every kind of jewel and held in the hands of divine maidens who moved to and fro throughout the extent of space; were adorned with a variety of lotuses made from all jewels and with circles of precious petals, tall stems, and pericarps that resounded with the beautiful sounds of music; and were adorned with nets of disks of every kind of jewel, nets of lions made of jewels, and various kinds of garlands and strings of beads.⁸⁴ bound onto their heads.

1. 26 Together with his entourage, he approached the Bhagavat, bowed to the Bhagavat, and in the southwestern direction emanated kutagaras with networks of great precious jewels that illuminated the entire realm of phenomena, each having in its center a lotus that radiated light rays of perfumed lamps upon a lion throne, and he and his entourage seated themselves cross-legged upon the lotuses, with their Bodhisattva bodies adorned with networks of the stainless essences of kings of jewels and with turbans of kings of jewels that emitted words that guided all beings bound upon their heads.¹⁰⁵

1. 27 In the northwestern direction, beyond an ocean of world realms as numerous as the atoms in countless Buda realms, there was the world realm Vairocana shri pranidhi garbha, the Tathagata Samanta Vairocana shri-meru raja's Buda realm, where the Bodhisattva Vairocana pranidhi jnana-ketu, together with Bodhisattvas to the number of atoms in countless Buda realms, [F.286.b] with the permission of the Bhagavat, rose up from that ocean of the assembly of followers, came to the Saha world realm, and

emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of images of the bodies of all the Tathagatas who appear in the three times; emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of images of the bodies of all the Bodhisattvas who appear in the three times; emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of images of the bodies of all the assemblies of followers of all the Tathagatas who appear in the three times; emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of images of the bodies of all the hosts of emanations of all the Tathagatas who appear in the three times; emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of images of all the past practices of all the Tathagatas who appear in the three times; emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of images of the bodies of all Shravakas and pratyeka Budas who appear in the three times; emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, [F.287.a] clouds of images of the forms of all the bodhimandas and Bodhi trees of all the Tathagatas who appear in the three times; emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of the many images of the miracles of all the Tathagatas who appear in the three times; emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of images of the bodies of all world-lords who appear in the three times; and emanated, from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, and his entire body, clouds of images of the pure realms of the Budas who have appeared in the three times.¹⁰⁶

1. 28 Instantly these filled the entire element of space, and together with his entourage, he approached the Bhagavat, bowed to the Bhagavat, and in the northwestern direction emanated kutagaras with the essence of the kings of jewels that illuminated every direction, each having in its center, upon a lion throne, a precious lotus that illuminated the directions, and he and his entourage seated themselves cross-legged upon the lotuses, with their Bodhisattva bodies adorned with networks of the invincible light of pearls and with turbans that had the illuminating light of all jewels bound upon their heads.

1. 29 In the downward direction, beyond an ocean of world realms as numerous as the atoms in countless Buda realms, there was the world realm Sarva-Tathagata prabha mandala vairocana, the Tathagata Asanga jnana ketu dhvaja-raja's Buda realm, where the Bodhisattva Sarvavarana vikirana jnana-vikramin, [F.287.b] together with Bodhisattvas to the number of atoms in countless Buda realms, with the permission of the Bhagavat, rose up from that ocean of the assembly of followers, came to the Saha world realm, and there resounded, from all his pores, an ocean of the languages, sounds, speech, and word definitions of all beings; there resounded the thunder of an ocean of clouds of the descriptions of how all the Bodhisattvas in the three times originated; there resounded an ocean of clouds of the descriptions of how all the Bodhisattvas in the three times fulfilled their aspirations; there sounded an ocean of clouds of the descriptions of how all Bodhisattvas correctly accomplished the perfections; there resounded clouds of oceans of descriptions of how the field of conduct of all Bodhisattvas pervaded all realms; there sounded an ocean of clouds of the descriptions of the accomplishments and miracles of all Bodhisattvas; there resounded an

1. 30 He approached the Bhagavat, bowed to the Bhagavat, and in the downward direction [F.288.a] emanated kutagaras that were treasures of all the various kinds of shining jewels in the image of the aerial palaces of all the Tathagatas, each having in its center a lotus of every kind of jewel upon a lion throne. He and his entourage seated themselves cross-legged upon the lotuses, with turbans that were banners shining with the images of all precious bodhimandas bound upon their heads.¹¹⁰

1. 31 In the upward direction, beyond an ocean of world realms as numerous as the atoms in countless Buda realms, there was the world realm Akshaya-Buda vamsha nirdesha, the Tathagata Samanta jnana mandala pratibhasa-nirghosha's Buda realm, where the Bodhisattva Dharma dhatu pranidhi tala-nirbheda, together with Bodhisattvas to the number of atoms in countless Buda realms, with the permission of the Bhagavat, rose up from that ocean of the assembly of followers, came to the Saha world realm, and from all his signs and features of a great being, all his pores, his entire body, all his limbs, his fingers and toes, the words he spoke, and his robe and his skirt he revealed, within all his signs and features of a great being, [F.288.b] all his pores, his entire body, all his limbs, his fingers and toes, the words he spoke, and his robe and his skirt, the images of an ocean of the past practice of engaging in the perfection of generosity, and all the recipients and the gifts of all of the assemblies of Bodhisattvas, of himself, of the Bhagavat Vairocana, of all the Tathagatas throughout the past, of all prophesied and unprophesied Tathagatas throughout the future who have yet to come, and of all who in the present reside in infinite Buda realms in the ten directions. He made visible the images of an ocean of the entire past practice of engaging in the perfection of correct conduct. He made visible the images of an ocean of the past practice of engaging in the perfection of patience through his limbs, his fingers, and his toes being cut off. He made visible the images of an ocean of the past practice of the diligence, vehemence, and prowess of all Bodhisattvas. He made visible the images of an ocean of the past practice of seeking the dhyana of all the Tathagatas. He revealed the images of an ocean of the past practices of engaging in perfecting the way of the Dharma wheel of all the Tathagatas, and he revealed the bodies and faces of those seeking the Dharma with great resolve giving away all possessions. He revealed the appearances of an ocean of the past practices of rejoicing in seeing all the Tathagatas, the path of all Bodhisattvas, and bringing illumination to all beings. He revealed the appearances of an ocean of the past practices of the fulfillment of an ocean of prayers by all Bodhisattvas through which there is a display of perfect purification. He revealed the appearances of an ocean of the past practice of engaging in the accomplishment, prowess, and purification of the perfection of strength of all Bodhisattvas. Filling the vast expanse of the realm of phenomena with clouds of all miraculous manifestation, [F.289.a] he revealed the appearances of an ocean of the past practice endowed with the domain of the wisdom of all Bodhisattvas.¹¹¹

1. 32 He approached the Bhagavat, bowed to the Bhagavat, and in the upward direction emanated kutagaras that were adorned by all kinds of lords of vajras, each having in its center a lotus of sapphires upon a lion throne. He and his entourage, their blessed bodies adorned by a network of all shining precious kings of jewels and hung with necklaces of the kings of jewels from which sounded the names of the Tathagatas of the three times, and their heads bound by precious turbans, seated themselves cross-legged upon the lotuses. [B25]

1. 33 All those Bodhisattvas and their entourages had become so through the completely good conduct and prayer of Bodhisattvas. They had been at the feet of all Tathagatas and gazed upon their faces. They possessed the completely pure eyes of wisdom. The ocean of the teaching of the way of the sutras and the wheel of the Dharma of all the Tathagatas had entered their ears. They had perfectly perfected the perfections that bring the attainment of the power of all Bodhisattvas. In each instant they manifested the miracle of going into the presence of all Tathagatas. They had the range of pervading all worlds with a single body. They manifested the appearance of their bodies being present in the assemblies of the pupils of all Tathagatas. [F.289.b] They had the range of activity of manifesting all worlds being included within one world that is within a single atom. They ripened all beings, being present at the exact time for guiding them. They had the range of activity of emitting from all their pores the thunder of the clouds of the Dharma wheel of all the Tathagatas. They had attained the knowledge that all the realms of beings were like magical tricks. They had realized that all the Tathagatas are like illusions. They were purified by the knowledge that all rebirths within the continuation of existence were like dreams. They knew that all accomplishments of wisdom are like mirages. They had realized that all infinite worlds are like illusory manifestations. They had attained the ten strengths of the Tathagatas and the light of wisdom. They were supreme beings of fearlessness and had the forcefulness of the lion's roar. They had entered the inexhaustible ocean of unique knowledge. They had obtained the ocean of the languages of beings and the wisdom of the meaning of the words of the Dharma. They possessed an unimpeded scope of wisdom that was as vast as the realm of phenomena and space. They possessed the pure domain of the wisdom of the clairvoyances of all Bodhisattvas. They possessed the diligence that disrupts the domain of all the maras. They were established in the power of knowing the three times. They had attained the unobscured wisdom of all phenomena. They had the field of activity of space without any base. They had everlasting omniscience. They had diligence as vast as space. They had the range of wisdom that did not focus on all existences as its object. [F.290.a] They had the pervading wisdom of the ocean of processes of the entire realm of phenomena. They had entered through the gateway of the nondifferentiating wisdom of all world realms. They demonstrated the miracle of all the worlds being connected, one with the other. They demonstrated bodies that were born in all kinds of world realms. They had the knowledge of the small and vast, wide and narrow¹¹⁴ shapes of all world realms. They had realized the wisdom of the small being the vast. They had the knowledge of the vast being the small. They had attained being in the presence of all Budas in a single instant of mind. They possessed bodies that had been blessed by all the Tathagatas. They had attained the ignorance-free wisdom in all the oceans of the directions. They pervaded all the oceans of the directions with emanations in an instant of mind.

1. 34 These Bodhisattvas who all had such limitless qualities through the blessings of the Tathagatas filled the entirety of Jetavana.

1. 35 The great Shravakas, such as Shariputra, Maudgalyayana, Mahakashyapa, Revata, Subhuti, Aniruddha, Nandika, Kapphina, Katyayana, and Purna Maitrayani putra, were present in Jetavana but did not see those miraculous manifestations of the Tathagata. Neither did they see the miraculous displays of the Buda, the majesty of the Buda, the manifestations of the Buda, the miracles of the Buda, the supremacy of the Buda, the miraculous conduct of the Buda, the power of the Buda, the blessing of the Buda, or the pure realm of the Buda.¹¹⁷

1. 36 Nor did they see the inconceivable range of activity of the Bodhisattvas, [F.290.b] the coming of the Bodhisattvas, the arrival of the Bodhisattvas, the gathering of the Bodhisattvas, the approach of the displays of paranormal powers of the Bodhisattvas, the circle of the assembly of Bodhisattvas, the Bodhisattvas arranging themselves in the directions, the display of the lion thrones of the Bodhisattvas, the dwellings of the Bodhisattvas, the activities of the Bodhisattvas, the display of the power of the samadhis of the Bodhisattvas, the gaze of the Bodhisattvas, the awesomeness of the Bodhisattvas, the forcefulness of the Bodhisattvas, the offerings made to the Tathagata by the Bodhisattvas, the prophecies given to the Bodhisattvas, the ripening of the Bodhisattvas, the renunciation of the Bodhisattvas, the purified Dharma bodies of the Bodhisattvas, the fulfilled wisdom bodies of the Bodhisattvas, the proclaimed aspiration bodies of the Bodhisattvas, the created form bodies of the Bodhisattvas, the pure, perfect features of the Bodhisattvas, the display of the auras of infinite colors of the Bodhisattvas, the network of light rays emanated by the Bodhisattvas, the spreading clouds emanated by the Bodhisattvas, or the network of the directions being pervaded by the Bodhisattvas, nor did they see the miraculous realm of the conduct of the Bodhisattvas.¹²⁰

1. 37 Why was that? Because they did not have the same roots of merit. They had not accumulated in the past the roots of merit that are the cause for seeing the miracles of a Buda; [F.291.a] they had not in the past taught the qualities and pure display of the Buda realms included within the world realms in the ten directions; they had not described the Buda miracles of the Buda bhagavats; and they had not in the past encouraged beings continuing in samsara to attain the highest, complete enlightenment. They had not established in the minds of others the aspiration to enlightenment; they had not engaged in preventing the discontinuation of the family lineage of the Tathagatas; they did not have the diligence to gather all beings as pupils; they did not encourage Bodhisattvas to practice the perfections; and when they were continuing in samsara, they did not have as their goal the level of wisdom that transcends that of all beings.

1. 38 They had not accumulated the roots of merit to become omniscient. They had not accomplished the roots of merit of a Tathagata who transcends the world. They had not realized the clairvoyance that perceives the miracles in all the pure realms of the Budas. They did not know the roots of merit from focusing upon the exceptional enlightenment that transcends the world, which is perceived by the vision of the Bodhisattvas and originates from the great aspirations of the Bodhisattvas.

1. 39 Nor did all the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas know the exceptional perception of the vision of the wisdom eyes of the completely good Bodhisattvas. Nor did they know the attainments of the Bodhisattvas through the illusory nature of phenomena, which arise from the blessing of the Tathagatas; or the blessing of possessing the various dream-like perceptions of Bodhisattvas; [F.291.b] or the increasing great power of the joy of Bodhisattvas.¹²²

1. 40 Therefore, the great Shravakas, such as the supreme pair, the excellent pair, and so on, did not see the miracles of the Tathagata; they did not hear of them, did not know them, did not comprehend them, did not understand them, were not aware of them, did not believe in them, did not think of them, did not regard them, did not consider them, did not dwell upon them, and did not reflect upon them.¹²⁵

1. 41 Why was that? Because the scope of a Buda's wisdom is not the same as that of the Shravaka. Therefore, even though the great Shravakas were present in Jetavana, they did not see the Buda's miracles. They did not have the roots of merit that would accord with that. They did not have the pure vision for seeing the Buda's miracles. They did not have the samadhi that realizes the power for causing something vast to be within a small object of perception. They did not have the liberation, the miraculous powers, the supremacy, the power, the mastery, the state, the perception, the vision, or the wisdom [F.292.a] through which they could know, see, comprehend, understand, fathom, realize, view, experience, grasp, surmount, hear from others, teach, describe, reveal, praise, bestow, inspire beings toward, connect beings with, bring beings to, or establish beings in the nature of the Buda's miracles.¹²⁶

1. 42 Why was that? Because they had become what they were through the Shravakayana, had accomplished the path of the Shravakas, had fulfilled the range of the conduct of the Shravakas, had gained the result of the Shravakas, had gained the knowledge of the illumination of the truths, were established in the summit of existence, had attained absolute peace, had minds that were devoid of great compassion, had no regard for all the world realms, and had accomplished their own benefit.

1. 43 They had gathered and were present in Jetavana before, to the left, to the right, and to the rear of the Bhagavat, but they did not see those miracles of the Buda.

1. 44 Why was that? They had not attained omniscient wisdom; they had not accomplished omniscient wisdom; they were not established in omniscient wisdom; they had not prayed for omniscient wisdom; they had not realized omniscient wisdom; they had not become imbued with omniscient wisdom; and they had not become purified in omniscient wisdom and therefore were not able to observe, to know, to see, or to realize the miracles from the Buddha's samadhi.

1. 45 Why was that? Because they could be seen through the vision of those who were in the family of Bodhisattvas and not through the vision of Shravakas. Therefore, those great Shravakas were present in Jetavana but did not see the Tathagata's miracles, the Tathagata's power, the Tathagata's pure realm, or the gathering of the Bodhisattvas. [F.292.b]

1. 46 By analogy, many hundreds of thousands of pretas, suffering from thirst and hunger, naked, without clothing, their skin the color of being burned, shriveled by the wind and sun, attacked by flocks of crows, and terrified by wolves and jackals, do not see the great Ganges River even though they are gathered on its opposite banks, because they are obscured by obscuring karma. Some of them see a dry riverbed without water, and some of them see it filled with ashes. In that same way, although the sthaviras, the great Shravakas, were present in Jetavana, their vision was obscured by the cataracts of the ignorance that is contrary to omniscience. And this is because they did not possess the power of the root of merit of the level of omniscience.¹²⁷

1. 47 By analogy, a man who is in the middle of a great gathering of many people becomes drowsy. He falls asleep, and in a dream he sees in that place the divine city that is Shakra's beautiful residence, which is upon the summit of Sumeru and has trees; is encircled by a wall of fruit trees; is filled with a quintillion female devas and filled with a quintillion male devas; has wish-fulfilling trees that emit divine clothing, strings of pearls, precious ornaments, and various kinds of necklaces; has many trees of musical instruments that emit beautiful music when the divine instruments of¹²⁸ various kinds are moved by the breezes; and has an array of all kinds of joyful amusements. He hears the melodious, beautiful sounds made by the female devas who are singing and playing the divine musical instruments, and he thinks that he is there. [F.293.a] Even though he sees that everywhere this place is adorned by an array of divine things, the many people who are gathered in that same place do not see it, do not know it, and do not perceive it. Why is that? Because it is perceived in a dream by the man who is asleep. Although those many people are in the same place, they do not see it.

1. 48 In the same way, those Bodhisattvas, those lords of the world who aspire to enlightenment, who had received the vast blessing of the Buda, who had obtained the unmistakable power of their roots of merit, who had made prayers of aspiration for omniscience, who understood well all the qualities of the Tathagatas, who were well established in the vast array of the Bodhisattva path, and who were highly accomplished in the Dharma of the aspects of omniscient wisdom -they had completely excellent Bodhisattva conduct, had the pure fulfillment of their prayers of aspiration, had reached the domain of wisdom of all the Bodhisattva levels, enjoyed all practices through Bodhisattva samadhi, and practiced without impediment the entire range of Bodhisattva wisdom, so that they could see, perceive, and experience the inconceivable supremacy of the Buda and the displays of the Buda. However, the great Shravakas, the supreme pair, the good pair, and so on did not see them or know of them, because they did not have the vision of the Bodhisattvas.¹²⁹

1. 49 By analogy, the Himalaya, the king of mountains, [F.293.b] is filled with places that are the sources of herbs. Those individuals who have acquired the knowledge of mantras, medicine, and herbs and are accomplished in that science, and who are learned in the usage of all herbs, carry out there the task of collecting those herbs. Others who dwell on that king of mountains and who are herders of animals, cattle, goats, and sheep; those who are hunters; and other people who do not know the science of herbs do not know the taste, power, effects, locations, usages, and application of herbs. In the same way, the Bodhisattvas who perceive the range of activity of the Tathagata, who have perfected the range of Bodhisattva miracles, can see the range of miracles of the Tathagata's samadhi. The great Shravakas, the supreme pair, the good pair, and others who were content concerning what had to be done for themselves, who were indifferent concerning what had to be done for others, who were uncaring -although they were present in Jetavana, they did not perceive the range of miracles of the Tathagata's samadhi.¹³⁰

1. 50 For example, this great earth is the perfect source of all jewels. It is filled with many hundreds of thousands of treasures. It is completely filled with different kinds of various jewels. A man who is skilled in the knowledge of the sources of jewels and treasure, is educated in the science of examining jewels, has knowledge of the science of treasures, is well trained in the craft of jewelry, and is supported by the power of vast merit will obtain whatever jewels he desires, and he will completely satisfy himself, support his father and mother, care for his sons and daughters, and also distribute his wealth among other beings who are old, sick, poor, suffering misfortune, or in need of food and clothes, [F.294.a] bringing others various kinds of happiness from wealth. However, those beings who have no knowledge of treasures or the source of jewels and who have not created merit do not have the pure vision of the knowledge of jewels. Even though they are at the very location, they do not perceive that there is precious treasure and a source of jewels, and without that knowledge they do not obtain jewels, nor do they make use of the jewels.¹³⁴

1. 51 In the same way, the Bodhisattvas had the pure vision of wisdom concerning the inconceivable range of the Tathagata, and they perceived the inconceivable range of the wisdom of the Tathagata. They were present in Jetavana and saw the miracles of the Buddha, perceived an ocean of the ways of the Dharma, had applied the seal of samadhi, were engaged in making offerings to the Tathagata, were dedicated to possessing the Dharma, and gathered beings through the four methods of gathering pupils. The great Shravakas did not see those miracles of the Tathagata or that gathering of the great assembly of Bodhisattvas.

1. 52 By analogy, a man who is blindfolded arrives at an island of jewels. He walks around that island of jewels, stands on it, sits on it, and lies down on it, but he does not see that source of jewels. He does not see the trees of jewels, the clothing of jewels, the incense of jewels, or all the jewels. He does not know the scope, the value, or the use of those jewels. He does not acquire the jewels. He does not understand what could be done with the jewels. Those who are not blindfolded see and know all those jewels.

1. 53 In the same way, the Bodhisattvas had reached the island of the jewels of the Dharma and saw before them the supreme jewel of the Tathagata, the adornment of the entire world, present in Jetavana and demonstrating the inconceivable miracles of a Buda. The great Shravakas were present, staying at the feet of the Tathagata, but did not see manifested miracles from the range of the Tathagata's samadhi. They did not see the great assembly of the Bodhisattvas who were like a source of jewels. Why was that? Because their eyes of wisdom were blindfolded by the ignorance that is contrary to omniscience. They did not have the purified eyes of wisdom of the Bodhisattvas, and they had not realized the comprehension of the lineage of the Dharma's domain, through which one could see the inconceivable manifestation of miracles from the supremacy of the Tathagata's samadhi.¹³⁶

1. 54 By analogy, there is the completely purified sight called stainless brilliance, which does not experience any darkness. If a man who has obtained that purified sight named stainless brilliance were to go in the completely black darkness of a dark night among a gathering of a quintillion people who have various practices and conduct and whose sight is overwhelmed by darkness, he would move, stand, sit down, and act among them in various ways, but those people will not see or know of that man's various kinds of activity. [F.295.a] However, when that man looks in the different directions at the various practices and conduct that the great gathering of beings is performing, he sees their various shapes, their various colors, with none of those various sights unseen. In the same way, the Tathagata, who has an entourage of an assembly of Bodhisattvas, possesses the sight that is pure and unimpeded so that he sees and knows the entire world. He demonstrates the manifestation of the great miracles of a Buda's samadhi, but the great Shravakas do not see those great miracles manifested by the samadhi and wisdom of the Tathagata. Nor do they see that great assembly of the great Bodhisattvas.¹³⁷

1. 55 By analogy, it is like when a Bikshu in the center of an assembly of many beings rests in the samadhi of the pervasion of earth or rests in the samadhi pervaded by water or the samadhi pervaded by fire, pervaded by air, pervaded by blue, pervaded by yellow, pervaded by red, pervaded by white, pervaded by devas, pervaded by the bodies of various beings, pervaded by all sounds and voices, or pervaded by all perceptions. That assembly of many beings does not see a mass of water, does not see the light of fire, does not see the pervasion by the bodies of various beings, and so on up to not seeing the pervasion by all perceptions. It only sees him practicing and resting in the samadhis. In the same way, when the Tathagata manifests inconceivable miracles that are the range of a Buddha's samadhi, the great Shravakas do not see or know them. [F.295.b] The Bodhisattvas who are following the path of the Tathagatas see and comprehend that range of activity of the Tathagatas.¹³⁹

1. 56 For example, as soon as a man who creates ointments smears it on his two eyes, an entire multitude of beings cannot see his body, but he can see the bodies of the entire multitude of beings. Whether he is walking, sitting, or standing, he sees the entire multitude of beings. In that same way, the Tathagata has transcended the world, has passed beyond the range of perception of all beings, and has attained the range of omniscient wisdom but can be perceived by the vision of the wisdom of the Bodhisattvas. He can see all beings, but the great Shravakas do not see the miracle of the Tathagata.

1. 57 For example, a deity who accompanies a human for his entire life is always following him. The deity sees the human, but the human does not see the deity. In the same way, the Tathagata has attained the range of perception of the wisdom of omniscience, and he manifests miracles in the middle of the great gathering of the assembly of Bodhisattvas, but the great Shravakas do not see and do not know of the Tathagata's great manifestation of miracles or the miracle of the assembled circle of Bodhisattvas.

1. 58 Consider, for example, a Bikshu who has reached the perfection of power over his entire mind and rests in a meditation in which all perception and sensation has ceased. Through his being without perception or sensation, his six senses do not experience anything. He has not attained nirvana, and worldly events are continuing and present, but through the power and might of being in that meditation, he does not perceive them and does not see them. In the same way, [F.296.a] the great Shravakas were present in Jetavana, and they had all the six sensory faculties, but they did not see, did not perceive, and did not know of the manifestation of miracles and supremacy from the samadhi of the Tathagata. Why is that? The range of activity of the Buda is profound, vast, immeasurable, difficult to see, and difficult to understand. The Buda's range of activity is inconceivable and is inaccessible to the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas. Therefore, the great Shravakas were assembled in Jetavana and were present at the feet of the Bhagavat, but they did not see the Buda's miracles or the great gathering of Bodhisattvas. They also did not see or perceive the accumulation in Jetavana of the qualities and adornments of countless, innumerable pure world realms, because they were not worthy of it.¹⁴⁰

1. 59 At that time, the Bodhisattva Vairocana pranidhana nabhi rashmi prabha recited these verses:

1. 60 ?See the inconceivable enlightenment,

The buddhahood of the supreme being!

The Jina has manifested the miracles

Of a Buda in this Jetadhvaja. {1}

1. 61 ?There appears the self-arising,

Incalculable power of transformation

That the world, not knowing the way

Of the Dharma, is ignorant of. {2}

1. 62 ?There are the profound,

Immeasurable, inconceivable

Miracles of the Dharma kings

That the world does not fathom. {3} [F.296.b]

1. 63 ?The Budas have infinite splendor¹⁴²

And are adorned by characteristics.

The Dharmas that the Budas produce

Are without characteristics. {4}

1. 64 ?In the grove that is named Jeta

The Jina demonstrates miracles

That are without center or edge

And difficult to describe in words. {5}

1. 65 ?See the assembly of great beings,

Of Bodhisattvas, who have assembled

From countless millions of realms

Wishing to look upon the Jina. {6}¹⁴³

1. 66 ?The entire world is unable

To know or think of that

Fulfillment of prayers

And that unimpeded conduct. {7}

1. 67 ?The pratyeka Budas

And the Shravakas do not know

Anything about their conduct

Or the range of their minds. {8}144

1. 68 ?Those with great wisdom, the Bodhisattvas,

Are invincible and undefeatable,145

Banners of heroism, unadulterated,

And they have reached the level of wisdom. {9}

1. 69 ?They have great renown

And have attained immeasurable samadhis.

They demonstrate miracles that pervade

The entire domain of phenomena.? {10}

1. 70 Then the Bodhisattva Duryodhana virya vega raja, through the blessing of the Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:

1. 71 ?See those who are born from the sugatas,

They who bring happiness to the world,

Who have the essence of merit, great wisdom,

And who have realized the conduct of a Bodhisattva. {11}

1. 72 ?They are learned, with infinite knowledge.

Their minds are in a perfect state of meditation.

They have the range of a vast wisdom

That is profound and without center or limit. {12}

1. 73 ?See the numerous oceans

Of they who have no dwelling, no basis,

Who are assembled from the ten directions

And seated upon lotus seats {13}146

1. 74 ?In the great forest named Jeta

That is beautified by many adornments,

That is completely filled with Bodhisattvas

And is the hermitage of the Sugata. {14} [F.297.a]

1. 75 ?They are without basis, without acquisition,

Without elaboration, without foundation,

With unimpeded minds, stainless,

Focused on the essence of phenomena. {15}

1. 76 ?They are banners of wisdom,

Great heroes who have vajra minds.

They are unshakable and teach nirvana

Within unceasing qualities. {16}147

1. 77 ?They have gathered from numerous millions

Of realms beyond number in the ten directions

And have arrived before the Buda

And are free from dualistic perception. {17}

1. 78 ?They see these miracles

Of the self-arisen Lion of the Shakyas,

And it is through his blessing

That these Bodhisattvas have gathered. {18}

1. 79 ?The offspring of the jinas, they who have attained perfection,

Do not distinguish between the Buda's Dharmas

On the level of the essence of phenomena

But make distinctions merely in terms of terminology. {19}

1. 80 ?They are established in the ultimate conclusion

Of the indivisibility of the essence of phenomena,

But they make distinctions between phenomena

Through producing unceasing words.? {20}

1. 81 Then the Bodhisattva Samanta shri samudgata tejoraja, through the blessing of the Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:

1. 82 ?See the vast circle of wisdom

Of the one who is supreme among beings.

He knows when it is timely and untimely

And then teaches the Dharma to beings. {21}

1. 83 ?He completely defeats all opposition

From gathered assemblies of tirthikas.

He demonstrates miraculous acts

According to the wishes of beings. {22}

1. 84 ?The Sugata does not dwell in a direction;148

The Buda does not go to a realm.149

The great Muni is always both150

Ascertainable and unascertainable. {23} [F.297.b]

1. 85 ?The sun moving through the sky

Demarcates the number of days.

Thus the Teacher, wise with knowledge,

Demarcates the three times without impediment. {24}

1. 86 ?On the night of a full moon

The moon?s disk is the brightest light.

In that way, the Lord151

Full of white Dharma is seen. {25}

1. 87 ?Just as the disk of the sun

Moves through the sky

Without being stopped -

Thus are the Buda's miracles. {26}

1. 88 ?Just as space is not dependent

On the worlds in the directions,

In that way, the Buda miracles

Of the Lamp of the World are to be known. {27}

1. 89 ?Just as in the world the earth

Is the support for all beings,

In that way, in the world the Dharma wheel

Of the Lamp of the World is a support. {28}

1. 90 ?Just as the wind, without impediment,

Moves swiftly through the sky,

In that way, the Buda's nature

Moves through the world realms. {29}

1. 91 ?Just as the numbers of worlds

Are based on accumulations of water,

In that way, the Budas of the three times

Are based on accumulations of wisdom.? {30}

1. 92 Then the Bodhisattva Asanga shri garbha raja, through the blessing of the

Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:

1. 93 ?Just like high mountains and cliffs

That are made of vajras,

The Buda, the protector of all worlds,

Is the highest in the world. {31}

1. 94 ?Just as the great water of the ocean

Is immeasurable and unpolluted,
In that way, the sight of the Buda
Dispels the thirst of the world. {32}

1. 95 ?Just as Mount Meru

Is higher than the ocean's water,
In that way, the Lamp of the World
Is higher than the ocean of phenomena. {33}

1. 96 ?Just as the vast ocean

Is the source of all jewels, [F.298.a]
The Self-Arisen One's wisdom
Is unending instantaneous knowledge. {34}

1. 97 ?The Guide's wisdom is profound,
Incalculable, and immeasurable;
Therefore, the Buda demonstrates Immeasurable, inconceivable miracles. {35}

1. 98 ?Just as a skilled magician
Manifests the qualities of illusions,
In that way, the Buda, who has the power
Of knowledge, manifests miracles. {36}

1. 99 ?Just as a pure wish-fulfilling jewel
Fulfills the wishes that are made,
In that way, the Jina fulfills
The pure aspirations of beings. {37}

1. 100 ?Just as a shining jewel
Shines with lights,
In that way, pure omniscience

Illuminates the aspirations of beings. {38}

1. 101 ?Just as a jewel with eight facets

Remains facing all directions,

In that way, the unimpeded Lamp

Illuminates the realm of phenomena. {39}

1. 102 ?Just as the bright water-purifying jewel

Makes turbid water clear,

In that way, the sight of the Buda

Purifies the senses of the world.? {40}

1. 103 Then the Bodhisattva Dharma dhatu pranidhi sunirmita candra raja, through the blessing of the Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:

1. 104 ?Just as looking through a sapphire transforms¹⁵²

A direction in this world into the color of the sapphire,

In the same way, seeing the Buda

Transforms beings into the color of enlightenment. {41}¹⁵³

1. 105 ?The Buda manifests immeasurable

Miracles of various kinds,

Within each single atom,

That purify the Bodhisattvas. {42}

1. 106 ?They are marvelous, profound,

Infinite, difficult to accomplish,

In the scope of the wisdom of the wise,

And inaccessible to the world. {43}

1. 107 ?For the consummation of the Bodhisattvas

There is the perfected display, [F.298.b]

The purification of the Buda's activity

That teaches entering the realm of the Dharma. {44}154

1. 108 ?The Jina manifests

In countless Buda realms

That are completely filled

By Budas encircled by the wise. {45}

1. 109 ?The Teacher with dominion over all Dharma teachings,

The supreme one of the Shakyas, has appeared.

These miracles of his, which are

Beyond measure, have occurred. {46}

1. 110 ?You see this immeasurable variety155

Of the activities of the constant one.

He who has immeasurable splendor

Manifests infinite miracles. {47}

1. 111 ?The Lord of the World teaches

The Jina's children in the essence of the Dharma,

And they become those who have

The unimpeded range of wisdom in all Dharmas. {48}

1. 112 ?The lord of humans through his powers156

Turns the wheel of the Dharma,

Manifesting hundreds of miracles

And purifying the entire world. {49}157

1. 113 ?In the domain of the supreme among beings

There is the purified circle of knowledge,

The great Nagas with enormous wisdom,

Who bring liberation from the entire world.? {50}158

1. 114 Then the Bodhisattva Dharmarcishmatteja, through the blessing of the Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:

1. 115 ?The Shravakas of the supreme Rishi

Who appear in the three times¹⁵⁹

Are without the knowledge

Of the footsteps the Sugata takes. {51}¹⁶⁰

1. 116 ?The entirety of the pratyeka Budas

Free of error, who appear in the three times,

Are also without the knowledge

Of the footsteps the Protector takes. {52}

1. 117 ?It goes without saying that all beings,

Obscured by the darkness of ignorance

And like dogs tied to a leash,

Have no knowledge of the Guide. {53}

1. 118 ?The Jina cannot be known.

He cannot be measured by any measure.

The Buda has unimpeded knowledge.

He has transcended the path of words. {54} [F.299.a]

1. 119 ?The constant one has the light of the full moon,

And he is beautified by his features.¹⁶¹

For countless kalpas he performs

Unimpeded miraculous actions. {55}¹⁶²

1. 120 ?Though one contemplates with a focused mind

The Buda in this and that way

For countless millions of kalpas,

He will remain indescribable. {56}

1. 121 ?One will not completely understand

A single aspect of the self-arisen qualities.

Even when the Buda is gazed upon,

The Buda?s Dharma are inconceivable. {57}

1. 122 ?All such fields of activity as those,

Which are difficult to see, will appear

To those who have the aspiration,

To those whose minds delight in them. {58}

1. 123 ?Those who maintain an unstained, wise mind

And have an overpowering, great accumulation¹⁶³

Enter into this way

Of infinite merit and wisdom. {59}

1. 124 ?Those with vast aspirations,

Vast motivation, and vows

Will reach the field of activity of the jinas

And attain vast enlightenment.? {60}

1. 125 Then the Bodhisattva Sarva mara mandala vikirana jnana dhvaja raja, through the blessing of the Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:

1. 126 ?They have bodies of unimpeded wisdom,

And therefore the self-arisen ones have no body.

The scope of their wisdom is inconceivable,

And therefore one cannot conceive of them. {61}

1. 127 ?A Buda?s body is obtained

Through inconceivable acts of goodness,

And therefore it is unstained by the three worlds

And beautified by a supreme being's features and signs. {62}

1. 128 ?He completely illuminates the world

And is purified of the realm of phenomena.

He is the gateway to the enlightenment of buddhahood

And is the great source of all wisdom. {63}

1. 129 ?Unsullied and pristine,

Free of all clinging,

A sun for the world

Radiating rays of wisdom, {64}

1. 130 ?Eliminating the terrors of existence

Through purification of the three realms, [F.299.b]

And bringing Bodhisattvas to perfection,

He is the source of the enlightenment of buddhahood. {65}164

1. 131 ?Although he manifests infinite colors,

He is devoid of all colors.

He manifests the countless, endless165

Colors because of all beings. {66}

1. 132 ?There is no one who can fully Understand the Buddha's wisdom,166

Which in each instant purifies

The enlightenment of buddhahood. {67}

1. 133 ?The unceasing teaching of wisdom

Is by its nature unchanging.

In a single instant it describes

All the jinas of the three times. {68}

1. 134 ?The wise one who is dedicated to enlightenment,

Constantly forsaking all other activity,

Although his mind is called mind,

In his mind no mind arises. {69}167

1. 135 ?The qualities of buddhahood

That the Budas manifest

Are inconceivable, are a field beyond description,

Are profound, and are beyond the scope of words.? {70}

1. 136 Then the Bodhisattva Vairocana pranidhana ketu dhvaja, through the blessing of the Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:

1. 137 ?Those who are pure and with unconfused recollection,

Who possess the Dharma with complete certainty,

Who have inconceivable understanding,

Are an unending ocean of enlightenment. {71}

1. 138 ?Their minds have certainty concerning this.

This is their realm of practice.

Their wisdom is unshakable.

They have eliminated doubt. {72}

1. 139 ?They do not become disheartened.

They do not become despondent.

They maintain the aspiration

Of devotion to the Buda's Dharma. {73}

1. 140 ?They have the deepest faith,

And they develop what is truly superior.

They delight in the wisdom

That has no object and no fixation. {74}

1. 141 ?They are filled with virtuous qualities

Created during millions of kalpas.

All of that is completely given away

By these unequaled seekers of wisdom. {75} [F.300.a]

1. 142 ?Although they are active within samsara,

They are not based within samsara.

They have realized the Buda?s Dharma

And so delight in the Buda?s field of activity. {76}

1. 143 ?Whatever worldly good fortune there is

That occurs within the realms of beings,

The resolute ones renounce it all,

And they remain in the Buda?s good fortune. {77}

1. 144 ?The world remains fruitless,

Continuously in bondage.168

Those whose conduct is free from attachment

Are continuously fixed on benefiting beings. {78}

1. 145 ?Their unequaled conduct

Is inconceivable for all beings.

They who think of the world?s happiness

Bring an end to suffering. {79}

1. 146 ?They have compassion for the whole world

And have the pure wisdom of enlightenment.

They are a light for the world

And bring liberation to the entire world.? {80}

1. 147 Then the Bodhisattva Sarvavarana vikirana jnana vikranta raja, through the blessing of the Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these

verses:169

1. 148 ?Even the word Buda is a great rarity

For thousands of millions of kalpas,170

Let alone seeing a supreme one

Who eliminates all doubts. {81}

1. 149 ?He has gained the realization of all Dharmas.

He is the object of veneration for the three worlds.171

He brings purification to all beings.

He is a light for the world that brings joy when seen. {82}172

1. 150 ?One will never have enough

Of seeing the form body

Of the supreme blameless being,

Even in a quintillion kalpas. {83}

1. 151 ?The Bodhisattvas are continually gazing173

At the form body of the lord of humans.

They have no attachment, and they dedicate

Their own virtues to enlightenment for the benefit of others. {84}

1. 152 ?The form body of the great Muni

Is this gateway to the enlightenment of buddhahood,

From which comes unimpeded and Unceasing discriminating knowledge. {85}174

1. 153 ?The supreme great Muni illuminates [F.300.b]

Countless, innumerable beings,

Brings them into the Mahayana,

And prophesies their supreme enlightenment. {86}

1. 154 ?He illuminates an infinite world,

A realm that has the nature of great merit,

A domain of wisdom that has arisen and appeared,175

And he multiplies accumulated merit. {87}

1. 155 ?He cuts through the net of suffering

And purifies the aggregation of wisdom.176

Those who please the Jina

Have no fear of the lower realms. {88}

1. 156 ?On seeing the supreme two-legged being,

An extremely vast motivation develops.

The incalculable power of wisdom

Creates an illuminating radiance. {89}177

1. 157 ?Those who see the Buda, the supreme human,

Will certainly attain supreme enlightenment.

They will have certainty, thinking,

?I shall become a Tathagata.? ? {90}

1. 158 Then the Bodhisattva Dharma dhatu pranidhi tala nirbheda, through the blessing of the Buda, looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:178

1. 159 ?Having seen the Muni who is the foremost Shakya,

Who possesses a perfection of infinite qualities,

Those with minds that make dedications

Are purified within the Mahayana. {91}

1. 160 ?The constant ones who have great compassion,

Who turn the wheel of the Dharma,

The Tathagatas

Appear for the sake of all beings. {92}

1. 161 ?How could all beings

Be able to repay the Budas,

Who for trillions of kalpas

Have been dedicated to benefiting beings? {93}

1. 162 ?It is better to be cooked for ten million kalpas

In the three unendurable lower existences

Than to not see the Teacher,

Who dispels all attachment. {94}

1. 163 ?However great the aggregation of suffering

That exists within the minds of all beings,

One can endure the experience of all of it,

But not being deprived of seeing the Buda. {95}

1. 164 ?It is better to remain for a long time

In all these different states of being

That are in the lower existences in this world [F.301.a]

Than to be deprived of hearing the Buda. {96}179

1. 165 ?It is better to remain for countless kalpas

In each of the hell realms

Than to remain far from the supreme enlightenment

That has been attained by infinite jinas. {97}

1. 166 ?For what reason would one wish to remain

For a long time in the lower realms?

One would do so as a cause of seeing

The lord of jinas, which increases wisdom. {98}

1. 167 ?All suffering is eliminated

Through seeing the Jina, the Lord of the World,

And there is the realization of the wisdom

Of the field of activity of the perfect Budas. {99}

1. 168 ?By seeing the Buda, the supreme human,

All obscurations are brought to an end.

It causes the increase of immeasurable merit

Through which enlightenment is attained. {100}

1. 169 ?Seeing the Buda eliminates

The doubts and uncertainties of beings,

And both worldly and unworldly

Wishes are completely fulfilled.? {101}

2. Chapter 2

SAMANTA BHADRA

2. 1 Then the Bodhisattva mahasattva Samanta bhadra looked upon the great assembly of Bodhisattvas, and in order to categorize, teach extensively, clarify, illuminate, and give instructions on the Tathagata's samadhi called the gaping lion, he taught those Bodhisattvas in ten ways the Tathagata's samadhi called the gaping lion through the equality of the nature of the realm of phenomena with the element of space, the equality of the three times, the equality of the realm of phenomena, the equality of the realms of beings, the equality of all worlds, the equality of the continuum of karma, the equality of the thoughts of all beings, the equality of the aspirations of beings, the equality of the appearances of phenomena, the equality of the times for ripening beings, and the equality of the faculties of all beings. [F.301.b]

2. 2 What were those ten ways?

1. The teaching of the entire succession of Budas and succession of Buda realms in the atoms of all the Buda realms that are included within the entire realm of phenomena.180

2. 3 2. The teaching of describing the qualities of a Tathagata until the end of future kalpas in all the Buda realms to the ends of the element of space.

2. 4 3. The teaching that describes the appearance of Tathagatas in all the Buda realms and the ocean of gateways to enlightenment that have no middle or edge.

2. 5 4. The teaching of the sanghas of Bodhisattvas, the circles of the assemblies of the Tathagatas, who are facing the bodhimandas in all the Buda realms to the ends of the element of space.¹⁸¹

2. 6 5. The teaching of emanations that are like the bodies of the Budas of the three times that are emanated from all the pores in one instant of mind and pervade the realm of phenomena.

2. 7 6. The teaching of the ocean of Buda realms in the ocean of directions being blessed as having the same ground and having one body pervading them.

2. 8 7. The teaching of the power of Buda manifestations appearing on all supporting surfaces in all three times.¹⁸²

2. 9 8. The teaching of the manifestations of the Budas in the succession of realms, as numerous as the atoms of all realms, throughout the three times in an ocean of kalpas.¹⁸³

2. 10 9. The teaching of the power of an entire ocean of the prayers of the Budas of the three times being expressed from all pores and causing the appearance of Bodhisattvas.

2. 11 10. The teaching of the power of Budas, lion thrones, [F.302.a] assembled circles of Bodhisattvas, the adornment of the bodhimanda, and the turning of the different Dharma wheels being as extensive as the realm of phenomena.

2. 12 ?Oh jinaputras, the teachings on this samadhi of the gaping lion, such as these ten teachings, are as numerous as the atoms in uncountable Buda realms.

?Oh jinaputras, that is the field of activity of the wisdom of the Tathagatas.?

2. 13 The Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra, in order to teach an aspect of the meaning of the Tathagata?s samadhi of the gaping lion, through the blessing of the Buda looked upon the Tathagata?s face, looked upon the ocean of the circle of the assembly, looked upon the inconceivable field of activity of the Buda and the manifestations of the Tathagata?s samadhi, which have no center or limit, looked at his entry into inconceivable numbers of world realms, looked at the nature of the illusory manifestations of inconceivable wisdom, looked upon the inconceivable equality of the Budas of the three times, looked upon all his speech, definitions, and ways of the Dharma, which have no center or limit, and recited these verses:

2. 14 ?On each body hair there is an ocean of the realms of jinas¹⁸⁴
As numerous as the atoms in all realms.

There, Budas are seated on their Buda thrones,¹⁸⁵
Surrounded by assemblies of Bodhisattvas. {1}

2. 15 ?There appears an ocean of many realms on each body hair,
In each of which appears a guide at the foot of the supreme tree,
Seated upon a lotus seat on the bodhimanda,
Filling the vastness of the realm of phenomena. {2} [F.302.b]

2. 16 ?On each single body hair reside jinas
As numerous as the atoms in all the realms.
They are encircled by assemblies of Bodhisattvas

And all teaching good conduct. {3}

2. 17 ?A jina resides in each supreme realm

With as many unending clouds of Bodhisattvas,

Who filled all infinite realms, having come

From all of the ten directions without exception. {4}

2. 18 ?Bodhisattvas, shining with an ocean of qualities,

As numerous as the atoms in ten million realms,

Who filled the realm of phenomena's ten directions,

Have all appeared as the assembly of the teachers. {5}

2. 19 ?Throughout all realms appear the images

Of an ocean of the kings of Dharma, the wisdom of the jinas.

All who are maintaining good conduct

Have come to be the assemblies of all the Budas. {6}

2. 20 ?Those who maintain the delightful conduct of Bodhisattvas,¹⁸⁶

Who dwell throughout all infinite realms,

Those heroes who listen to clouds of the Dharma,

Practice that conduct for ten million kalpas in each realm. {7}

2. 21 ?The Bodhisattvas who are practicing their conduct

Are radiant with the practice of an ocean of Dharma.¹⁸⁷

They engage in the entire ocean of prayers

And remain within the field of conduct of buddhahood. {8}

Have the knowledge of completely good conduct.

They enter into the extensive miraculous appearance

Of oceans of the excellent qualities of the Budas. {9}¹⁸⁸

2. 23 ?The sugatas pervade the entirety of the realm of phenomena,¹⁸⁹

Continuously emanating clouds of bodies

As numerous as the atoms in all realms,

Bringing a rain of Dharma that leads to enlightenment.? {10} [B26]

2. 24 Then the Bhagavat, in order to further establish those Bodhisattvas in this samadhi of the gaping lion, [F.303.a] emanated from the urna hair between his eyebrows a great ray of light called illumination of the three times focused on all the entrances into the realm of the Dharma, and he was accompanied by an¹⁹⁰ entourage of light rays as numerous as the atoms in countless Buda realms. They illuminated all the infinite Buda realms in all the oceans of world realms in the ten directions.

2. 25 Then those Bodhisattvas who were assembled in Jetavana saw all the Buda realms that were included within the realm of phenomena, which extended to the limits of space, and the Buda realms that were in the atoms of all Buda realms that were as numerous as the atoms in all Buda realms. In these Buda realms, which had different names and colors, different levels of purification, different kinds of grounds, and different kinds of appearances, there were those who had come to a bodhimanda, were seated upon a Bodhisattva's lion throne, were being offered to by the lords of the world, and were encircled by a supreme assembly of Bodhisattvas and were attaining the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood.¹⁹¹

2. 26 They saw in countless Buda realms some who were turning the wheel of the Dharma with an extent of speech that filled the vastness of the realm of phenomena. They saw some who were in the abodes of the devas; some who were in the abodes of the Nagas; some who were in the abodes of the

yakshas; some who were in the abodes of the asuras; some who were in the abodes of the garudas; some who were in the abodes of the kinnaras; some who were in the abodes of the mahoragas; some who were in the abodes of lords of humans; some who were in the villages, towns, market towns, districts, countries, and capitals in the world of humans; [F.303.b] with various miraculous powers, various conducts, various bodies; demonstrating various entrances to samadhi; with the various clairvoyances of samadhi; appearing in various families and castes; manifesting various colors; having various kinds of asuras; emanating various networks of light rays; having various extents of voice, various humans that are being spoken to, and various audiences for their teaching; and teaching the Dharma to the gathered assemblies with various words, expressions, and definitions.¹⁹⁴

2. 27 As many Bodhisattvas as there were saw in each of those gathered assemblies a Tathagata's profound miracles from a Buddha's samadhi.¹⁹⁵

2. 28 They saw the arising of the images of the miracles of the samadhis of Tathagatas in as many world realms as there are throughout the realm of phenomena and as far as the limits of space, that are present in the ten directions, that are all around in the infinite directions, that are in the entire ocean of directions, that are in the directions of various gateways into the Dharma, that are conceived to be in the various directions, that are assembled in the various directions, that are divided among the various directions, that belong to the various directions, that are included within the ocean of the various directions, which means in the eastern direction, in the¹⁹⁷ southern direction, in the western direction, in the northern direction, in the northeastern direction, in the southeastern direction, in the southwestern direction, in the northwestern direction, in the upward direction and the downward direction, in the directions of groups of realms, in the directions of groups of beings, in the directions of the conceived categories of beings, in the directions of the furthest past, in the ten directions of the present, in the directions that are focused on a very fine hair tip located within the entire expanse of space, in the directions of the succession of atoms in all realms, in the directions that are included within directions, in the directions where the creation of various kinds of karma is accomplished, [F.304.a] in the directions where space, which has no middle or edge, is perceived as being in a single hair tip, in the minds of beings where the three times are united in the state of equality and all beings are within a state of equality, where there is no differentiation between the perceptions of all beings, and where there is the equality of all sounds. They saw within the groups of beings the approach of the forms of the Tathagatas before the assemblies that directly perceive them. They saw the sameness of wisdom within all kalpas. They saw in all the realms how equally everywhere there was the perception of the appearance before them of the forms of the Tathagatas in accordance with the aspirations of all beings. They saw their teaching of all the Dharmas of the Budas so that there was a continuous guiding of all beings. They saw the miraculous activities of the Tathagatas.198 199

2. 39 The Bodhisattva Manjushri, seeing in the ten directions all those manifestations of miracles through the miraculous power of the Buda, recited these verses:

2. 40 ?Observe the appearance of the vast, infinite, Miraculous power of the Buda in Jetavana.

There have issued forth from all sensory objects

Clouds of bodies that have pervaded all directions. {11}

2. 41 ?The vast, completely pure, infinite forms

Of the various displays of the Sugata?s offspring

Are perceived as images appearing

From the thrones and from sensory objects. {12}

2. 42 ?A variety of displays, clouds of jewel light rays,

From the tips of the body hairs of the sons of the sugatas

Are emanated, spreading within all the realms

And resounding with the words of the Budas. {13}

2. 43 ?Bodies that resemble the forms of Brahmakayika devas

With pure bodies and peaceful conduct

Issue forth from the blossoms on the trees,²⁵⁴

Describing the aspects of dhyana as they go. {14}

2. 44 ?From the Sugata?s pores issue forth,

Without impediment, innumerable, countless emanations

Who are Bodhisattvas that resemble Samanta bhadra,

Their bodies adorned by the characteristics and features. {15} [F.311.b]

2. 45 ?The great ocean of the emanated qualities

Of the sugatas? sons who have appeared in the three times,

Who are clouds of displays of an ocean of qualities,

Proclaim those who are seated in Jetavana. {16}²⁵⁵

2. 46 ?A vast ocean of the variety, without exception,

Of the karma of beings in all directions

Is proclaimed, issuing forth from within

The forms of the trees in Jetavana. {17}

2. 47 ?The miracles in all the realms, without exception,

Of all the jinas who appear in the three times,

Appear as each and every sensory object

As numerous as the atoms in an ocean of realms. {18}256

2. 48 ?Clouds of oceans of Budas in the realms in the directions

Disseminate from each of their pore hairs,

In each instant, a variety of the abodes of Budas,

Within which reside multitudes of clouds of Budas. {19}

2. 49 ?They pervade every direction, wherever there are beings,

And through skillful methods ripen those beings.

From their light there issue forth vast clouds

Of oceans of perfumes, light rays, and flowers. {20}257

2. 50 ?The precious divine palaces as immeasurable as space

Are beautified with every adornment without exception.

Those realms and their bodhimandas

Pervade every direction. {21}

2. 51 ?The sugatas? sons who appear in the three times

Purify the ocean of realms

Through the practice of completely good conduct,258

And their various displays, as limitless as beings, {22}

2. 52 ?Fill all directions and the three times.

They have been purified in a great ocean of kalpas,

And they all appear like reflections

In the expanse of the sky above Jetavana.? {23}

2. 53 Those Bodhisattvas were continuously illumined by the samadhi of the Buda. Each of those Bodhisattvas had entered gateways of great compassion as numerous as the atoms in innumerable Buda realms and [F.312.a] brought even more benefit for beings. Resting in meditation in that way there issued from each of their body hairs light rays as numerous as the atoms in innumerable Buda realms, and from the tips of each of those light rays there issued clouds of Bodhisattvas? emanations, emanated bodies that resembled the bodies of the Indras of all worlds, bodies that looked upon all beings and ripened all beings. Having issued forth, they pervaded the realm of phenomena in all directions. They inspired all beings, ripened them, and guided them.

2. 54 They inspired beings with the gateways that taught being reborn in paradises after death; with the gateways that taught rebirth in all world realms; with the gateways that taught the domain of Bodhisattva conduct; with the gateways that taught dreams, which were as numerous as the atoms in innumerable Buda realms; with the gateways that arose from aspirations of all Bodhisattvas; with the gateways that shook the world realms; with the gateways that taught the conduct of the perfection of generosity; with the gateways that were dedicated to and accomplished the qualities of all the Tathagatas; with the gateways that taught the perfection of patience when one's limbs and various body parts are cut off; with the gateways that taught the perfection of diligence through the great miracles of the Bodhisattvas; with the gateways that described the dhyanas, liberations, and samadhis of the Bodhisattvas and the radiance of the domain that is the path of the wisdom of the Budas; with the gateways that taught the sacrificing of countless bodies for the sake of seeking all the Dharmas of the Budas [F.312.b] and for the sake of each word and letter of the Dharma; with the gateways of going into the presence of all the Tathagatas and asking questions concerning all the Dharmas; with the gateways of being focused on the radiance of an ocean of the ways of attaining going into the presence of beings when the time is right and, in accordance with their aspirations, ripening them for omniscience; with the gateways that teach the victory banner of the power of the invincibility of the merit and wisdom of Bodhisattvas in the face of maras and adversaries; with the gateways that teach the level of the wisdom that has knowledge and understanding of all crafts; with the gateways that teach the level of knowledge and understanding that is superior to that of all beings; with the gateways that teach the level of the wisdom that has the knowledge and understanding of the different aspirations of all beings; with the gateways that teach the level of the wisdom that has the knowledge and understanding of the capabilities, entrances, engagements, and various kleshas and predispositions of all beings; and with the gateways that teach the level of the wisdom that has the knowledge and understanding of the variety of karma and practices of all beings. With other such gateways as numerous as the atoms in innumerable Buda realms that contained methods for ripening and guiding beings, those Bodhisattvas went to the abodes of all beings and appeared there. Some went to the abodes of devas and appeared there. Some went to the abodes of Nagas and appeared there. Some went to the abodes of yakshas and appeared there. 2. 55 In order to ripen and guide with undivided great compassion, with undivided aspiration, with undivided wisdom, with an undivided attraction of beings, and in accordance with the aspirations of beings, those beings who are guided by seeing them, guided by hearing them, guided by remembering them, guided by the scope of their voices, guided by the sound of the river of their names, guided by their halos, or guided by their emanating a net of light rays -those Bodhisattvas in Jetavana filled with an array of various emanations the entire extent of world realms and the entire extent of the realms of beings without moving from the feet of the Tathagata.

2. 56 Some made their own dwellings, kutagaras, thrones, and retinues appear throughout the ten directions without moving from the feet of the Tathagata. Some sent forth clouds of emanations, while some appeared to go alone, with no companion, in order to ripen beings, without moving from the circle of the Tathagata's entourage. Some appeared in the form of Shramanas, some in the form of Brahmas, some in the form of those adorned all over with all emblems, some in the form of physicians, some in the form of merchants, some in the form of disciples, [F.313.b] some in the form of dancers, some in the form of devotees to deities, and some in the form of those skilled in all crafts, all of them appearing in villages, towns, market towns, regions, and capitals. They appeared at the times that were the appropriate times, assuming different appropriate bodies, with different colors and body shapes, different voices, different languages, different kinds of conduct, and different kinds of residence. They practiced the Bodhisattva conduct in which all beings are known to be illusions, which illuminated the entire realm of crafts, which was a bright lamp that revealed the knowledge of all beings, which was adorned with the blessing of all truths, which had the light that illuminated all Dharmas, and which purified beings in the yanas in all directions, and they practiced the Bodhisattva conduct that illuminated the entire domain of the Dharma. In order to ripen and guide beings, they appeared in villages, towns, market towns, regions, and capitals.²⁶⁷

Manjushri

3. 1 Manjushri Kumara bhuta was residing in his kutagara together with Bodhisattvas who had the same conduct; vajrapanis who constantly followed him; devas with physical bodies whose minds aspired to serve all the Budas and were dedicated to bringing power to the entire world; devas who walked on foot following their past aspirations; devas of the earth who aspired to hear the Dharma; devas of pools, lakes, ponds, reservoirs, wells, and rivers who were dedicated to great compassion; [F.314.a] devas of fire who brought illumination through the light of wisdom; devas of the air who wore precious crowns; devas of the directions who illuminated the directions with wisdom; devas of the night who were dedicated to eliminating the darkness of ignorance; devas of the day who were dedicated to producing the daylight of the Tathagatas; devas of the sky who were dedicated to orbiting in the sky of the entire realm of phenomena; devas of the ocean who were dedicated to rescuing beings from the ocean of existence; devas of mountains who were dedicated to gathering the accumulation of omniscience and whose minds had ascended to the summit of the roots of merit; devas of rivers who were dedicated to adorning all beings and who were dedicated to aspiring to the characteristics and supernatural power of all the Buddhas; devas of towns who were dedicated to caring for the towns that are the minds of all beings; Naga lords who were devoted to and longed for the town of the omniscient Dharma; yaksha lords who were engaged in protecting all beings; gandharva lords who were dedicated to increasing the power of joy in all beings; kumbhanda lords who were dedicated to preventing rebirth as pretas; garuda lords who were engaged in aspiring to bring all beings out of the ocean of existence; asura lords who had the aspiration to attain the body and power of the Tathagata, which have transcended the entire world; mahoraga lords [F.314.b] who rejoiced in seeing the Tathagata and bowed down to him; deva lords who had been saddened by samsara and gazed with admiration; and lords of Brahmakayika devas who bowed down with great respect.

3. 2 Manjushri, together with them, displaying the prowess of a Bodhisattva, respectfully made praises and offerings. Then he came out of his abode and circumambulated the Bhagavat many hundreds of times, keeping him to his right, and made many offerings. He then left the presence of the Bhagavat and departed to the land of the southern region. [B27]

3. 3 Through the blessing of the Buda, Brother Shariputra saw Manjushri Kumara bhuta, who, with that display of Bodhisattva miracles, departed from Jetavana and went to the southern region. He thought, ?I will go with Manjushri Kumara bhuta to that land.?

3. 4 Leading his following of sixty Bikshus, he left where he was sitting, approached the Bhagavat, bowed his head to the Bhagavat's feet, and asked for the Bhagavat's permission. When the Bhagavat had given it, Shariputra circumambulated him three times, left the presence of the Bhagavat, and went to where Manjushri Kumara bhuta had gone, together with his following of sixty Bikshus who had all newly and not long before entered homelessness. They were the Bikshus Sagara buddhi, Mahasudata, Punyaprabha, Mahavatsa, Vibhudatta, Vishuddhacarini, Devashri, Indramati, Brahmottama, Prashanta mati, and others. [F.315.a]

3. 5 They had all served jinas in the past, planted the roots of merit, had profound aspiration, had the purified eyes of faith, practiced with a vast mentality, had the power to see the Budas in the directions, had realized the nature and character of the Dharma, had the intention to benefit others, aspired to the qualities of the Tathagata, and had been guided by the Dharma teaching of Manjushri Kumara bhuta.²⁷⁵

Leading those followers, Shariputra went to where Manjushri Kumara bhuta had gone.

3. 6 When Brother Shariputra was on the way, he looked at all those Bikshus and said to the Bikshu Sagara buddhi, "Sagara buddhi, regard the Bodhisattva Manjushri upon a path that has a checkerboard pattern and displays of his path as he walks along it."²⁷⁶

3. 7 "His pure body is inconceivable to devas and humans. It is beautified by the signs and features of a great being. It has a pure halo of light. It emits a display of a network of light rays that brings joy to countless beings. It brings to an end the sufferings of countless beings. It is accompanied by a perfect entourage, and it is in possession of past roots of merit.

3. 8 "The displays of the prowess of his path are directed toward the domain of every direction; the displays of his perfection of merit issue forth to the right and left as great treasures.

3. 9 "These displays emerge from within all the trees as the result of his roots of merit from serving past Budas. All the lords of the world bow down to him and send down a rain of clouds of offerings. All the Tathagatas in the ten directions emanate multitudes of disks composed of nets of light rays that [F.315.b] resound with all the Dharma of the Budas and descend onto the crown of his head."²⁷⁷

3. 10 Beginning with the above, Brother Shariputra described, explained, announced, narrated, related, elucidated, and brought illumination to the Bikshus concerning Manjushri's measureless displays of the qualities of following the path.

3. 11 The more that Sthavira Shariputra described Manjushri Kumara bhuta's qualities, the more the minds of the Bikshus became purified and became clearer, the strength of their joy increased, delight arose, the continuum of their minds became adept, their faculties became clearer, their happiness increased, they cast off unhappiness, they became free of the mind's faults, they repelled all obscurations, they became intent on seeing the Buddha, their minds turned to the Buddha's Dharma, their Bodhisattva faculties were purified, the power of their Bodhisattva faith developed, great compassion arose, they gained the prowess of the domain of the perfections, they fully developed great compassion, and they perceived the ocean of Buddhas in the ten directions.

3. 12 Having attained the power of aspiration to omniscience, they spoke these words: "Upadhyaya, we pray that we too may be able to go into the presence of that supreme being."

3. 13 Then Brother Shariputra, together with the Bhikkhus, went to where Manjushri Kumara bhuta was and said these words: "Manjushri, these Bhikkhus wish to see you."

3. 14 Then Manjushri Kumara bhuta, [F.316.a] together with the entire circle of his followers, turned and looked upon the Bhikkhus with the majestic gaze of an elephant.²⁷⁹

3. 15 The Bhikkhus bowed their heads to the feet of Manjushri Kumara bhuta, and then with their palms together in reverence they said, "Holy being, through the roots of merit from seeing you and paying homage to you, and also our other roots of merit that you know we have, that our upadhyaya knows we have, and that the Bhagavat Tathagata Shakyamuni sees we have, may we become like you. May we obtain bodies that are the same as yours, voices the same as yours, and features the same as yours, and may we attain miraculous powers the same as yours."

3. 16 When the Bhikkhus had said this, Manjushri Kumara bhuta said to the Bikshus, ?Bikshus, the noble man or noble woman with the ten unflagging motivations who enters the Mahayana will ascend to the level of a Tathagata, and therefore, it goes without saying, to the level of a Bodhisattva. What are those ten? They are (1) the unflagging motivation to see, pay homage to, offer to, and serve all the Tathagatas; (2) the unflagging motivation to never abandon accumulating all roots of merit; (3) the unflagging motivation to seek all Dharmas; (4) the unflagging motivation to practice all the Bodhisattva perfections; (5) the unflagging motivation to accomplish all the Bodhisattva samadhis; (6) the unflagging motivation to enter all successive times; [F.316.b] (7) the unflagging motivation to purify the extensive oceans of Buda realms in the ten directions; (8) the unflagging motivation to ripen and guide all realms of beings; (9) the unflagging motivation to accomplish the conduct of a Bodhisattva in all realms and kalpas; and (10) the unflagging motivation to accomplish one power of the Tathagatas by ripening all beings in the way that one would ripen one being through the practice of perfections as numerous as the atoms in all Buda realms.²⁸⁰

3. 17 ?Bikshus, the noble man or noble woman with faith who has these ten unflagging motivations will accomplish all roots of merit, will turn away from all existences in samsara, will transcend all the worldly existences, will transcend all the levels of Shravakas and pratyeka Budas, will become a member of the family of all the Tathagatas, will accomplish the aspirations of all Bodhisattvas, will purify the practice of the qualities of all the Tathagatas, will purify all Bodhisattva conduct, will have the strength of all Tathagatas, will subdue all maras and adversaries, will ascend to the level of Bodhisattvas, and will approach the level of the Tathagatas.? [F.317.a]

3. 18 When the Bikshus heard this way of the Dharma, they attained the samadhi the unimpeded vision that sees all the Buddhas. Through its power they saw all the Tathagatas and the circles of their assemblies that were present in infinite, endless world realms in the ten directions. They also saw every being that had been reborn into an existence in those world realms. They saw every being in those world realms. They saw the various divisions of those world realms. They knew the number of atoms in those worlds. They saw the residences and adornments made of jewels that those beings enjoyed. They heard the ocean of the aspects of speech of those Tathagatas. They knew those Dharma teachings through their words, letters, definitions, languages, names, and symbols. They viewed the minds, faculties, and aspirations of those beings. They knew ten lifetimes back into the past and ten lifetimes into the future. They comprehended the explanations of ten turnings of Dharma wheels by those Tathagatas. They comprehended ten attainments of manifestations of miraculous powers. They comprehended the accomplishment of ten ways given in the teachings. They comprehended ten explanations of the words of the teachings. They comprehended ten accomplishments of the analytic knowledge of those Tathagatas.²⁸¹

3. 19 As soon as they attained that samadhi, [F.317.b] they perfected ten thousand aspects of the aspiration to enlightenment, they attained ten thousand samadhis, they purified ten thousand aspects of the perfections, they attained a great radiance, they illuminated the domain of great wisdom, and they attained ten Bodhisattva clairvoyances.

3. 20 They who had thus attained the small young seedlings of clairvoyance and had gained the resolute aspiration to enlightenment were then inspired to and established in completely good Bodhisattva conduct by Manjushri

Kumara bhuta.²⁸⁵

3. 21 They who were thus established in completely good Bodhisattva conduct entered an ocean of great aspirations and fulfilled them. Through fulfilling an ocean of great aspirations with a pure motivation they attained purity of the body. Through purity of the body they attained lightness of body.

Through that purity of body and lightness of body they vastly increased their entrances to clairvoyances. They attained everlasting clairvoyances.

Through that attainment of clairvoyance, while constantly remaining at the feet of Manjushri Kumara bhuta and in order to accomplish all the Dharmas of the Budas, they created clouds of the activities of the bodies of all the Tathagatas in the ten directions.²⁸⁶

3. 22 Then Manjushri Kumara bhuta, having established those Bikshus in the aspiration to the highest, complete enlightenment, traveled to the southern region and came to the great city called Dhanyakara. Having reached there, he and his entourage went the east of Dhanyakara, [F.318.a] where there was a great forest called Vicitra sala dhvaja vyuha. It was a sacred place where Budas of the past had dwelled. It had been consecrated by the Tathagatas for the ripening of beings. Its name was renowned throughout endless realms. It was a place where the Bhagavat, when he was practicing Bodhisattva conduct in the past, performed many difficult actions of generosity. It was a place where devas, Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans constantly engaged in making offerings.²⁸⁷

3. 23 There Manjushri Kumara bhuta taught the sutra called The Radiance of the Way of the Essence of Phenomena, from which arose a septillion sutras. During that teaching, many hundred thousand quintillions of Nagas came from the great ocean. When they had heard that way of the Dharma, they became disgusted with their existences as Nagas and aspired to have the qualities of a Tathagata. They abandoned their Naga existences and gained rebirth as devas or humans. Ten thousand Nagas attained irreversibility from the highest, complete enlightenment. During the time he taught that Dharma, endlessly numerous realms of beings were guided through the three yanas.²⁸⁸

3. 24 The people in Dhanyakara heard that Manjushri Kumara bhuta had come to Dhanyakara and was dwelling in the sacred Vicitra sala dhvaja vyuha.

3. 25 The leading upasaka Mahaprajna and upasakas, upasikas, sons, and daughters, [F.318.b] each accompanied by an entourage that numbered five hundred, came out from Dhanyakara city and went to where Manjushri Kumara bhuta was.²⁸⁹

3. 26 The upasaka Mahaprajna, with other upasakas such as Sudatta, Vasudatta, Punya prabha, Yashodeva, Somashriti, Somanandi, Sumati, Mahamati, Rahulabhadra, Bhadra shri, and so on, each with an entourage of five hundred upasakas, came to where Manjushri Kumara bhuta was, bowed their heads to his feet, circumambulated Manjushri Kumara bhuta three times, and sat to one side.

3. 27 The upasika named Mahaprajna, with other upasikas such as Suprabha, Sugatra, Subhadra, Bhadra shri, Candra prabhasa, Ketuprabha, Shribhadra, and Sulocana and so on, each with an entourage of five hundred upasikas, came to where Manjushri Kumara bhuta was, bowed their heads to his feet, circumambulated Manjushri Kumara bhuta three times, and sat to one side.

3. 28 The head merchant's son Sudhana, with other sons of head merchants such as Suvrata, Sushila, Svacara, Suvikramin, Sucinti, Sumati, Subuddhi,

Sunetra, Subahu, Suprabha, and so on, each with an entourage of five hundred sons of head merchants, came to where Manjushri Kumara bhuta was, [F.319.a] bowed their heads to his feet, circumambulated Manjushri Kumara bhuta three times, and sat to one side.²⁹⁰

3. 29 Subhadra, the daughter of the layman Mahaprajna, with other daughters such as Bhadra, Abhiramavarta, Dridhamati, Shribhadra, Brahmadatta, Shriprabha, Suprabha, and so on, each with an entourage of five hundred daughters, came to where Manjushri Kumara bhuta was, bowed their heads to his feet, circumambulated Manjushri Kumara bhuta three times, and sat to one side.

3. 30 Then Manjushri Kumara bhuta, knowing that the men, women, boys, and girls from Dhanyakara had gathered and assembled, overwhelmed them with the magnificence of his teaching in accordance with their wishes, comforted them with the magnificence of his great love, accomplished the teaching of the Dharma through the magnificence of his great compassion, and investigated their minds and aspirations through the magnificence of his wisdom. Delighting in teaching the Dharma with his great discernment, he observed Sudhana, the head merchant's son.

3. 31 He said, "Why is Sudhana, the head merchant's son, called Sudhana? The instant that Sudhana, the head merchant's son, entered his mother's womb, all around his home seven precious sprouts emerged. Beneath those precious sprouts there were seven treasures of precious substances. Those²⁹¹ precious sprouts made of those seven precious substances rose up through the ground from those treasures, which were gold, silver, beryl, crystal, red pearls, emeralds, and white coral.

3. 32 "After ten months, when his limbs and body parts were completely formed, [F.319.b] he was born. At that time, those seven great treasures became visible, rising up above the ground to the height and breadth of seven cubits, bright and beautiful. Inside the house appeared five hundred pots made of various kinds of precious substances. There were pots filled with ghee, pots filled with sesame oil, pots filled with honey, and pots filled with butter. There were individual pots filled with whatever was necessary. There were diamond pots filled with every kind of perfume, pots of aromatic wood filled with various kinds of cloth, crystal pots filled with various kinds of enjoyable food delicious with perfect flavors, jewel pots filled with various kinds of precious substances, gold pots filled with silver powder, silver pots filled with gold dust, pots of silver and gold filled with beryl jewels, quartz pots filled with white coral, white-coral pots filled with quartz jewels, emerald pots filled with red pearls, red-pearl pots filled with emeralds, cat's-eye-jewel pots filled with moonstone jewels, moonstone-jewel pots filled with cat's-eye jewels, and so on. Five hundred such precious pots appeared.

3. 33 ?As soon as that Sudhana, the head merchant's son, was born, there fell a rain of wealth, grain, money, gold, and all kinds of jewels in all the storerooms and granaries in the house.

3. 34 ?The brahmin prognosticators, his parents, and his relatives said, ?As soon as he was born there appeared this perfection of much wealth,? and they gave him the name Sudhana, meaning Excellent Wealth. [F.320.a]

3. 35 ?This Sudhana, the head merchant's son, has served past jinas, has planted roots of merit, possesses a vast aspiration, and is motivated to follow kalyanamitras. His physical, vocal, and mental actions are irreproachable. He is dedicated to purifying the Bodhisattva path. He is focused on omniscience. He is a worthy vessel for the Dharma of the Budas. He has a pure manner of aspiration. He has perfected an unimpeded aspiration for enlightenment.²⁹²

3. 36 Then Manjushri Kumara bhuta looked upon Sudhana, the head merchant's son, welcomed him, and taught him the Dharma. He taught the Dharma through teaching on the Dharma of all the Budas, on uniting and attaining the Dharma of all the Budas, on the infinity of all the Budas, on the successive appearance of all the Budas, on the pure circles of the followers of all the Budas, on the display of the Dharma wheels and emanations of all the Budas, on the pure characteristics and features of the bodies of all the Budas, on the accomplishment of the Dharma body of²⁹³ all the Budas, on the display of the speech of all the Budas, on the pure display of the auras of all the Budas, and on the equality of all the Budas.

3. 37 Manjushri Kumara bhuta, [F.320.b] through speaking about the Dharma, taught, motivated, encouraged, and inspired Sudhana, the head merchant's son, and that great assembly of beings, and made them develop the aspiration to the highest, complete enlightenment and remember their past roots of merit.

3. 38 He blessed and made happy the beings from the city of Dhanyakara by teaching them the Dharma according to their wishes, and he departed.²⁹⁶

3. 39 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, having heard from Manjushri Kumara bhuta the nature of the greatness and qualities of the Budas, aspired to the highest, complete enlightenment. He diligently followed behind Manjushri Kumara bhuta, reciting these verses of praise to him:²⁹⁷

3. 40 ?Oh wise one! Through your power

I am set on enlightenment for the benefit of beings.298

You who have an infinite range of activity,299

Hear from the certainty that I have. {1}

3. 41 ?The great city of the three realms of existence

Is encircled by a moat of the water of delight,

Has the raised walls of pride and conceit,

And has the gateways into all the states of beings. {2}300

3. 42 ?It is covered by the darkness of ignorance and unknowing;301

It is burned by the flames of desire and anger

And is continuously ruled by the lord of maras:

That is where ignorant fools make their home. {3}

3. 43 ?Confined in the fetters and chains of craving,

Rendered powerless by the defects of deception and deceit,

Their eyes blinded by doubt and uncertainty,

They are on the path that leads in the wrong direction. {4}

3. 44 ?Bound tightly by the ropes of envy and greed,

They go to the unfortunate states of pretas, animals, and hells.

Tormented by aging, death, illness, and rebirth,

Bewildered they go around on the wheel of existences. {5}

3. 45 ?You shine the light rays of wisdom [F.321.a]

From the disk of your pure compassion,

Which come forth to dry up the ocean of kleshas.302

You who are like a full moon, shine upon me! {7}

You who are a king, give me your command! {8}

3. 48 ?You have the courageous resolution for the path to enlightenment.304

You have accumulated vast merit and wisdom,

And you set forth for the benefit of all beings.

Caravan leader, give me your protection! {9}

3. 49 ?You wear the armor of strong, unwavering patience;

With the sword of wisdom and the long arm of compassion,305

You confront the army of maras in battle.

You who are a hero, bring me to safety! {10}

3. 50 ?You dwell on the summit of the Dharma Meru,

Encircled by the apsarases of supreme samadhi,306

Subjugating the asura Rahu of the kleshas.

You who are Shakra, look upon me! {11}

3. 51 ?In the residence of the three realms where the foolish live,

Your knowledge clears away klesha and karma.

In the obscurity of the wheel of existences and the level of causes

You are a lamp; reveal to me the way to proceed! {12}

3. 52 ?You turn from the path that leads to the lower existences.

You make pure the path that leads to the happy existences.

You have transcended all worldly paths.

Show me the gateway to liberation! {13}307

3. 53 ?You close and block the gateway to the false beliefs³⁰⁸

That have the conceptions of permanence, self, and happiness.

You possess the sharp eyes with the power of the wisdom of truth.³⁰⁹

Quickly open for me the gateway to liberation! {14} [F.321.b]

3. 54 ?You know what are the right and the wrong paths.

Skilled in the practices and knowledge of the paths,³¹⁰

You have mastered the ways of all paths.

Teach to me the path to enlightenment! {15}

3. 55 ?You reside upon the plain of the level of the true view,

Bring the water of the qualities of all the Budas,

And rain down the flowers of the Buddhadharma's qualities.

Teach to me the path to enlightenment! {16}

3. 56 ?Revealer of the path, show me³¹¹

The jinas of the past and the future

And the jinas who appear in the present,

The sugatas, the principal beings in all directions. {17}

3. 57 ?You who are skilled in employing the apparatus of karma,³¹²

Proficient in the apparatus of the Dharma vehicle's chariot,

And skilled in employing the apparatus of wisdom,³¹³

Teach to me the vehicle for enlightenment! {18}

3. 58 ?Bring me up onto the vehicle of enlightenment

That has the circling wheels of aspiration and resolution,

Has the stable axle of patience and vajra compassion,

And is beautified by the precious shafts of faith. {19}

3. 59 ?Carry me in the excellent, supreme vehicle³¹⁴

That has the wheels of all mental retentions,

Is adorned by a covering roof of love,

And is beautified by the strings of bells of discernment. {20}

3. 60 ?Lead me onto the royal vehicle³¹⁵

Adorned with a bed of celibacy,³¹⁶

Crowded with a hundred billion women of samadhi,³¹⁷

And resounding with the sound of Dharma drums. {21}

3. 61 ?Reveal to me the excellent vehicle

That has the unending treasure of the four methods of gathering pupils

And is adorned by strings of qualities, the jewels of wisdom,

Tied with the supreme thongs of self-control and a sense of shame. {22}

3. 62 ?Quickly place me on the supreme vehicle

3. 65 ?Lead me onto the vehicle of completely good conduct

That has purified completely good conduct

And proceeds unhesitatingly to care for beings³²⁰

With overpowering completely excellent conduct. {26}

3. 66 ?Bring me up onto the excellent vehicle

That is enduring, having the nature of a diamond,

With perfectly arranged, exquisitely made garlands of wisdom,³²¹

And cuts through all obstructions and impediments. {27}³²²

3. 67 ?Bring me up onto the vehicle of enlightenment,

Which is vast, unstained, as extensive as beings,

And a refuge for all beings, bringing them happiness

And illuminating the vastness of the realm of phenomena. {28}

3. 68 ?Bring me up onto the vehicle of the Dharma,

Which cuts through the arising of the mass of suffering,

Cleans away the dust circles of karma and kleshas,³²³

And crushes all maras and adversaries. {29}³²⁴

3. 69 ?Take me on the vehicle of the Dharma,

Which has all directions as the scope of its wisdom³²⁵

And is displayed throughout the space of the realm of phenomena,³²⁶

Fulfilling the aspirations of all beings. {30}

3. 70 ?Bring me up onto the vehicle of the Dharma,

Which is measureless and inexhaustible like pure space,

Without the defects of craving and the views of ignorance,

And remains so as to benefit all beings. {31}

3. 71 ?Bring me up onto the vehicle of the Dharma,

Which is as fast as the speed of a great wind,

Seizes the world with the power of the wind of aspiration,³²⁷

And brings it to the level of the city of peace. {32} [F.322.b]³²⁸

3. 72 ?Bring me up onto the supreme vehicle,

Which is as unshakable as the great surface of the earth,³²⁹

Carrying its load with the powerful speed of compassion

And nourishing beings with the harvest of wisdom. {33}

3. 73 ?Reveal to me the sun of wisdom

That sustains beings like the sun,

An attracting disk with vast light rays,330

Radiant with supremely pure retention. {34}

3. 74 ?You are wise in the nature of causes and all levels

Through having trained for a multitude of numerous kalpas.

Give me the sublime strong thunderbolt of knowledge

That will destroy the city of the composite. {35}

3. 75 ?Within a vast ocean of wisdom

You acquired an ocean of unequaled understanding.

Arya, describe to me the nature of that excellence -

That perfect training in all the qualities of the Budas. {36}

3. 76 ?May I see the city of the Dharma king331 332

Where you reside possessing perfect eyes,

Adorned by the royal crown of wisdom,

Your head bound with the supreme turban of the Dharma.? {37}

3. 77 Then Manjushri Kumara bhuta looked with the gaze of an elephant upon

Sudhana, the head merchant's son, and said to him, ?Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, wish to follow a kalyanamitra and complete the path of a Bodhisattva, and wish to ask about Bodhisattva conduct.

3. 78 ?Noble one, it is like this: serving, following, and attending to a kalyanamitra is the basis and the corresponding cause for the attainment of omniscience.

?Therefore, noble one, you should not tire of serving and honoring a kalyanamitra.? [F.323.a]

3. 79 Sudhana said, ?Arya, teach me in detail -how does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? In what way does a Bodhisattva practice it? How does a Bodhisattva commence with Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva practice Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva perfect Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva purify Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva enter into Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva attain Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva follow Bodhisattva conduct?

How does a Bodhisattva gain hold of Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva increase Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva perfect the domain of completely good conduct??333

3. 80 Then Manjushri Kumara bhuta recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant?s son:

3. 81 ?Your coming into my presence

Is like an ocean of good merit.

It is excellent that you seek supreme enlightenment

With a mind that has vast loving compassion. {38}

3. 82 ?You have aspired to the unequaled conduct

In order to liberate all beings.

You will become a protector of all beings -

That is the way of Bodhisattva conduct. {39}

3. 83 ?Those Bodhisattvas who are completely resolute,

Who have untiring minds in samsara,

Attain the conduct that is completely good,

That is invincible and unimpeded. {40}

3. 84 ?In order to benefit beings, you aspire

To the conduct that is completely good,

Which has the radiance of merit, the splendor of merit, [F.323.b]334 335

An ocean of merit, and the emblems of virtue and purity. {41}336

3. 85 ?In the worlds in the ten directions, you will see the Budas

Who are beyond measure, without center or end.

You will possess their clouds of Dharma

Through the power and might of your memory. {42}

3. 86 ?In that way, you will see the jinas

In all the Buda realms in the ten directions.

And within Bodhisattva conduct337

You will fulfill an ocean of their aspirations. {43}338

3. 87 ?Those who enter into an ocean of this way

And are established on the level of buddhahood

Train under the lords of the world,

And thereby they all become omniscient. {44}

3. 88 ?You will practice the completely good conduct

Throughout the vastness of realms

For as many kalpas as numerous as atoms

And attain the peace of enlightenment. {45}

3. 89 ?You should practice for an ocean of kalpas

Throughout all the realms, which are without end,

And you should fulfill your aspiration

For the completely good conduct. {46}

3. 90 ?Observe a hundred billion beings

Who are delighted on hearing your prayer:

They aspire to supreme enlightenment

Through completely good wisdom.? {47}

3. 91 Then Manjushri Kumara bhuta, having recited those verses, said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have in that way developed the aspiration to enlightenment [F.324.a] and have the intention to seek for Bodhisattva conduct!

3. 92 "Noble one, in that way, the beings who develop the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment are very rare. Even more rare are the beings who, having developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, then seek for Bodhisattva conduct.

3. 93 "Therefore, noble one, Bodhisattvas should gain certain knowledge from true kalyanamitras. They should be tireless in their search for kalyanamitras. They should never have enough of looking at the kalyanamitras. They should successfully master the teachings of the kalyanamitras. They should not become angered by the kalyanamitras' conduct of skillful methods.

3. 94 "Noble one, in this southern region there is a land named Ramavaranta, in which there is a mountain called Sugriva, where there lives a Bikshu by the name of Meghashri. Go to him and ask him, "How do Bodhisattvas train in Bodhisattva conduct? How do Bodhisattvas practice it? How do Bodhisattvas commence with Bodhisattva conduct? How do Bodhisattvas practice Bodhisattva conduct? How do Bodhisattvas perfect Bodhisattva conduct? How do they purify it? How do they enter it? How do they attain it? How do they follow it? How do they maintain it? How do they increase it? How do Bodhisattvas perfect the domain of completely good conduct?"339
"Then that kalyanamitra will teach you the domain of completely good conduct."

3. 95 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, filled with joy, delighted, elated, pleased, and happy, [F.324.b] bowed his head to the feet of Manjushri Kumara bhuta. He circumambulated Manjushri Kumara bhuta many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back at him many hundreds of thousands of times, with his mind enraptured by that kalyanamitra, unable to endure not seeing that kalyanamitra, with his face covered in tears and weeping, he departed from Manjushri Kumara bhuta.

4. Chapter 4

MEGHASHRI

4. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, eventually arrived at the land called Ramavaranta. Having arrived there, he traveled through the land of Ramavaranta. Enjoying the delightful pleasures that arose from his past roots of merit and through the power of vast karma, he came to Sugriva Mountain. He climbed Sugriva Mountain and, seeking the Bikshu Meghashri, he went to its eastern side. In the same way, he went to its southern, western, northern, northeastern, southeastern, southwestern, and northwestern sides, looking up and down for the Bikshu Meghashri.

4. 2 After seven days had passed, he saw the Bikshu Meghashri walking on a plateau on the summit of another mountain.³⁴⁰

4. 3 He went to where the Bikshu Meghashri was and bowed his head to the Bikshu Meghashri's feet. He circumambulated the Bikshu Meghashri, keeping him to his right. He sat before him and with palms pressed together said, 'Arya, I wish to know this: When Bodhisattvas have developed the aspiration to the highest, complete enlightenment, how do Bodhisattvas train in Bodhisattva conduct? How do Bodhisattvas practice it? How do Bodhisattvas commence in Bodhisattva conduct? [F.325.a] How do

Bodhisattvas practice Bodhisattva conduct? How do Bodhisattvas perfect Bodhisattva conduct? How do they purify it? How do they enter it? How do they attain it? How do they follow it? How do they maintain it? How do they increase it? How do Bodhisattvas perfect the domain of completely good conduct?³⁴¹

4. 4 ?Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! Therefore, Arya, teach me how Bodhisattvas set out for the highest, complete enlightenment!?

4. 5 The Bikshu Meghashri said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, ?Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment and are asking about the Bodhisattva conduct.

4. 6 ?Noble one, it is like this: these are difficult, extremely difficult -seeking the Bodhisattva conduct, seeking the Bodhisattva's scope of activity, seeking the Bodhisattva's pure setting-forth, seeking the Bodhisattva's pure path, seeking the Bodhisattva's pure, vast conduct, seeking the Bodhisattva's pure attainment of the higher cognitions, manifesting the Bodhisattva's liberations, manifesting the Bodhisattva's continuum of compassion for the world, the Bodhisattva's compliance with the aspirations of beings, [F.325.b] the Bodhisattva's revelation of the gateways to samsara and nirvana, and seeking the Bodhisattva's activities that are unstained by composite defects, noncomposite defects, and fear.³⁴²

4. 7 ?Noble one, through the power and might of my aspiration, through having the pure eyes of wisdom and the pure eyes of faith, and by looking straight ahead with the illumination of the light of wisdom, perceiving

everything before me, the entire unobstructed field of vision, with a sight that is free of all obscuration, with astute observation, with a completely pure field of vision, and with a pure body, and bowing down toward the extent of every direction with a skillful bowing-down of the body, with the power of retaining the clouds of Dharma of all the Budas, and with the might of the power of retention, I see the Tathagatas in the realms in every direction before me.

4. 8 ?In that way, I see one Tathagata in the eastern direction; I see two Budas, ten Budas, a hundred Budas, a thousand Budas, a hundred thousand Budas, ten million Budas, a billion Budas, ten thousand million Budas, a trillion Budas, a quintillion Budas, and so on up to limitless, immeasurable, countless, inconceivable, unequalled, infinite, endless, incalculable, and more indescribable than indescribable numbers of Budas.

4. 9 ?I see Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in Jambudvīpa, Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in the world realm of four continents, in the world realm of a thousand four-continent worlds, in the world realm of a million four-continent worlds, and in the world realm of a billion four-continent worlds. [F.326.a]

4. 10 ?I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in ten Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in a hundred Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in a thousand Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in a hundred thousand Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in ten million Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in a billion Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in ten billion Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in a trillion Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in a quintillion Buda realms. I see Budas as numerous as the atoms in more indescribable than indescribable numbers of Buda realms.

4. 11 ?Just as I see in the east, in the south, in the west, in the north, in the northeast, in the southeast, in the southwest, in the northwest, below, and above, I see one Tathagata and so on up to Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in more indescribable than indescribable numbers of Buda realms.

4. 12 ?In each direction I see Tathagatas of various colors, of various shapes, with various miraculous powers, with various majestic miracles, with various assemblies of followers, shining with networks of many light rays in many colors, in infinite colors, in an array of different pure Buda realms and palaces, with different kinds of pure lifespans, addressing beings in accordance with their aspirations, [F.326.b] manifesting different kinds of miracles through the pure attainment of buddhahood, and resounding with the majestic lion's roar of the Budas.³⁴⁴

4. 13 ?In that way, noble one, I have attained mindfulness of the Budas through beholding the aggregation of the knowledge of all objects of perception from all sides.

4. 14 ?But how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the pure domain of the infinite wisdom of the Bodhisattvas who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called the completely radiant domain through seeing before them the domains of all the Tathagatas, all the displays of pure Buda realms and palaces?³⁴⁵

4. 15 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called all beings through their pure vision of the Tathagatas

addressing beings in accordance with their aspirations.³⁴⁶

4. 16 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called the ten strengths through following the immeasurable ten strengths of the Tathagatas.³⁴⁷

4. 17 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called the Dharma through listening to the Dharma while looking upon clouds of the bodies of all the Tathagatas.

4. 18 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness called the essence of the illumination of the directions through entering an undifferentiated ocean of Budas in the ocean of all the directions.

4. 19 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called entering the ten directions through perceiving the subtle objects of perception that are the majestic miracles of the Tathagatas.

4. 20 ?They are the ones who have attained the mindfulness of the Budas called the kalpas through perceiving the vision of never being apart from the Tathagatas of all the kalpas.

4. 21 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called time through never being separated from the companionship of the vision of the Tathagatas of all times. [F.327.a]

4. 22 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called the realms through perceiving the vision of the superior Buda realms and the unsurpassable bodies of the Budas.

4. 23 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called the three times through their own motivations and aspiration conjoining within the domains of the Tathagatas of the three times.

4. 24 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called locations through perceiving the vision of the arrival of the succession of the Tathagatas in all locations.

4. 25 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called peace through perceiving in each instant the passing into nirvana of all Tathagatas in all world realms.

4. 26 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called separation through perceiving in one day in all places the departure of all the Tathagatas.

4. 27 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called vastness through perceiving the body of each Tathagata while sitting cross-legged filling the realm of phenomena.

4. 28 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called subtle through discerning the accomplishment of the appearance of countless Budas on the tip of a single hair.³⁴⁸

4. 29 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called display through perceiving the vision in one instant of the manifestation of the miracles of the attainment of buddhahood in all world realms. [F.327.b]

4. 30 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called equality through attaining the radiance of the wisdom and miraculous display of the wheel of the Dharma by all the Budas who have appeared.

4. 31 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called mind through the vision of their own mind and thoughts attaining the radiance of all the Tathagatas.

4. 32 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called karma through the vision of the images of the karma that has been accumulated by all beings.

4. 33 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called miracles through the direct perception in all directions of the vision of the Budas miraculously filling the entirety of the realm of phenomena with a vast bed of lotuses.

4. 34 ?They are the ones who have attained the gateway of mindfulness of the Budas called space through seeing the formation of clouds of the forms of the Tathagatas, resounding with their voices, throughout space in the realm of phenomena.³⁴⁹

4. 35 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a district called Sagara-mukha. There dwells a Bikshu by the name of Sagara megha. Go to him and ask him, ?How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva practice it??

4. 36 ?Noble one, that kalyanamitra will explain it to you. He will reveal to you the cause of the accumulation of merit. He will make you understand the level of vast accumulation. He will describe the vast power and might of roots of merit. [F.328.a] He will make known to you the vast cause for the accumulation of the aspiration to enlightenment. He will provide the basis for the cause of the great radiance of the Mahayana. He will enable in you the vast power of the accumulation of the perfections. He will enable you to purify your entry into the vast ocean of conduct. He will enable you to purify a vast domain of aspirations. He will enable you to develop vast displays that emerge from everywhere. He will augment the vast power of great compassion.³⁵⁰

4. 37 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the Bikshu Meghashri, circumambulated the Bikshu Meghashri a hundred thousand times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back a hundred thousand times, departed from the Bikshu Meghashri. [B28]

5. Chapter 5

Sagara MEGHA

5. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, contemplated the instruction of that kalyanamitra. He remembered the radiance of his wisdom. He analyzed that Bodhisattva's liberation. He reflected on the Bodhisattva's way of samadhi. He looked at the way of an ocean of Bodhisattvas. He aspired toward the domain of buddhahood. He delighted in the direction of the vision of the Budas. He contemplated the ocean of Budas. He remembered the succession of Budas. He comprehended that which is understood in the way of the Budas. He looked into the sky of the Budas.352

5. 2 Eventually he arrived in the area called Sagara mukha [F.328.b] and went to where the Bikshu Sagara megha was. He bowed his head to the feet of the Bikshu Sagara megha, circumambulated him many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, sat before him, and with palms together said, 'Arya, I am set on the highest, complete enlightenment. I seek to enter the ocean of the highest wisdom. However, I do not know how Bodhisattvas turn away from worldly existences and attain the family of the Tathagatas; how they cross the ocean of existence and enter the ocean of omniscience; how they transcend the level of foolish, ordinary beings and attain the family of the Tathagatas; how they turn away from the flow of samsara and enter the flow of Bodhisattva conduct; how they turn back from the wheel of the continuum of samsara's ocean and enter the wheel of Bodhisattva conduct and aspiration; how they defeat all the domains of the maras and manifest the arising of all the domains of the Buddhas; how they dry up the ocean of existences and expand the ocean of great compassion; how they shut the gateway to all unfortunate existences, lower existences, and downfalls and open the gateway to the higher existences and nirvana; how they destroy the gateway to the city of the three realms and open the gateway to the palace of omniscience; how they reject craving for all things and develop the aspiration to gather all beings.?

5. 3 After he had said that, the Bhikshu Sagara megha said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, [F.329.a] ?Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment.

?Noble one, the beings who have not planted roots of merit do not develop the aspiration for enlightenment.359

5. 4 ?The aspiration for enlightenment is developed by those beings who have attained the complete illumination, by the roots of merit, of all gateways, who are illuminated by the light of the wisdom of the samadhi of the path that has the essence of methods, who have accumulated a vast accumulation of an ocean of merit, who have a continuity of all good actions, who never tire of relying on all the kalyanamitras, who have no concern for their own bodies or lives, who are free from all fixation on things, whose minds are as

5. 5 ?In other words, they have developed a motivation of great compassion so as to protect all beings. They have developed a motivation of great love so as to treat all beings equally. They have developed the motivation to bring happiness so as to bring to an end the mass of suffering of all beings. They have developed the motivation to bring benefit so as to turn beings away from all bad qualities. They have developed the motivation of sympathy so as to protect from all fear. They have developed the motivation of nonattachment so as to eliminate all obscurations. They have developed a vast motivation so as to pervade the entire realm of phenomena. They have developed an infinite motivation so as to extend throughout and be present everywhere in the realm of space. They have developed a stainless motivation so as to perceive the vision of all the Tathagatas. [F.329.b] They have developed a pure motivation in order for their wisdom to extend throughout the three times without exception. They have developed a motivation for wisdom in order to dispel wisdom's obscurations and enter into an ocean of omniscient wisdom.³⁶¹

5. 6 ?Noble one, for twelve years I have dwelled in this area called Sagaramukha. I focused on the great ocean, facing it, and I contemplated the ocean in this way: ?It is vast and immeasurable; it is stainless and clear; it is deep and unfathomable; it becomes steadily deeper and stays perfectly the same; it is a source of a variety of many jewels; it is a limitless mass of water; it has many different colors and is inconceivable; it has infinite spirits; it is the dwelling place of a multitude of various creatures; it receives the rain from great clouds; and it is neither filled nor diminished.?

5. 7 ?Noble one, I thought, ?Is there anything in this world realm that is greater than this ocean? Is there something that is vaster, more measureless, deeper, or more marvelous?? While I was engaged in attention to this through contemplation, there appeared a great lotus from under the great ocean. It had a stem of unsurpassable precious sapphire jewels that was as hard as diamond. It was adorned with great precious beryl jewels. It had vast leaves of stainless Jambu River gold. It displayed a yellow sandalwood pericarp and stamens of emerald jewels. It was as vast and large as the ocean. A gathering of a million asura lords held the stem. It was covered from above by a network of a million various jewels. [F.330.a] A million Naga lords sent down a rain of incense. A million garuda lords hung from their beaks streamers of silk and strings of jewels. A million kinnara lords looked on with a wish to benefit. A million mahoraga lords encircled the lotus and bowed down to it. A million rakshasa lords bowed down and made offerings to it. A million gandharva lords played music and sang various melodious songs in praise and as an offering. A million deva lords sent down rain from clouds of divine flowers, perfume, garlands, incense, ointments, powders, clothing, parasols, banners, and divine flags. A million Brahmakayika lords reverently bowed their heads, paid homage, and made offerings. A million Shuddhavaśa devas placed their palms together and paid homage. A million cakravartins, lords of humans, welcomed it with an offering of the seven jewels, and a million ocean devas rose up and paid homage to it.³⁶²

5. 8 ?A million precious asteria jewels displaying light rays adorned it. A million perfectly arranged precious jewels of pure merit beautified it. A million radiant precious jewels were its stainless center. It blazed with a million glorious precious jewels. It had the infinite shining of a million variegated treasures of precious jewels. It was beautified by a perfectly arranged display of a million precious Jambudvipa jewels. [F.330.b] It had an unsurpassable display of a million precious diamond jewels. It had a plenitude of illustrious blazing precious sunstone jewels. It had an arrangement of a million radiant precious jewels of various colors. It had the unceasingly brightly shining display of a million precious wish-fulfilling kings of jewels.³⁶⁵

368

5. 9 ?That great lotus had arisen from a Tathagata's transcendent roots of merit and remained through the aspiration of Bodhisattvas. It could be perceived in all directions. It had come forth as an illusory phenomenon. It had been created from pure, stainless actions. It was the display of the unalloyed true nature. It was produced like a phenomenon in a dream. It was sealed as being a noncomposite phenomenon. It possessed the nature of being free of attachment. It pervaded the domains of the directions throughout the vast realm of phenomena. It accorded with the majestic radiance of the domain of buddhahood. It would be impossible to fully comprehend its display of form, qualities, shape, and colors even in hundreds of thousands of asamkhyeya kalpas.³⁶⁹

5. 10 ?I saw the clear image of the body of a Tathagata sitting cross-legged on that great lotus and filling it. I saw that Tathagata's body extending from here up to the summit of existence. I saw the inconceivable display of that Tathagata's seat. I saw the inconceivable circle of his followers, the inconceivable extent of his halo, his inconceivable perfect primary signs of a great being, his inconceivable various secondary features of a great being, his inconceivable majesty and power, [F.331.a] his inconceivable miracles of buddhahood, the inconceivable color of the Tathagata's body, the inconceivable invisible crown of his head, and his inconceivable vast tongue.³⁷⁰

5. 11 ?I heard the inconceivable display of that Buddha's speech and the inconceivable range of his voice. I comprehended his inconceivable limitless strength, his inconceivable display of fearlessness, and his inconceivable accomplishment of the power of discernment. I remembered his inconceivable past accomplishment of Bodhisattva conduct. I saw the inconceivable miracle of his complete enlightenment. I heard the inconceivable resounding of the thunder of Dharma and the inconceivable array of the perceived communication of the complete teaching. I saw the inconceivable, immeasurable right and left parts of his body and the inconceivable accomplishment of a body that benefits beings.

5. 12 ?That Tathagata extended his right hand and stroked my head and taught me a Dharma teaching called All-Seeing Eyes, which is the field of all the Tathagatas, reveals the conduct of Bodhisattvas, illuminates the different bases of the realm of phenomena, illuminates the compiled field of all Dharmas, is the pure vision of the forms of the range of all realms, scatters the entire range of adversaries, defeats the entire range of the discord of the maras, [F.331.b] brings satisfaction to all realms of beings, illuminates the darkness in the minds of all beings, communicates in accord with the thoughts of all beings, and illuminates the turning wheel of the faculties of all beings.371 372

?I acquired, possess, follow, and contemplate this Dharma teaching called All-Seeing Eyes.

5. 13 ?Having thus acquired it, if one were to use a volume of ink equal to the great ocean and a heap of pens the size of Sumeru, the king of mountains, to write it out, one would not be able reach the end of a single chapter, a single gateway, a single Dharma way, or a single category of words from that Dharma teaching, nor could one diminish what is to be written, complete it, finish it, or reach the end.

5. 14 ?Noble one, in that way I have possessed this Dharma teaching called All-Seeing Eyes for an entire twelve years. Having thus acquired it, in a single day I can understand countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called remembering what is heard. I can comprehend countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called the gateway to peace. I can fathom countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called endless revolving. I can consider and investigate countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called examining and analyzing the levels. I can conclude countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called majestic. I can accomplish countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called array of lotuses. I can elucidate countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called distinct voice. I can distinguish countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called the essence of space. I can expand on countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called the multitude of stars. I can arrange countless chapters through the illumination of the light of the power of retention called the essence of the ocean. [F.332.a]

5. 15 ?Beings have arrived before me to the east. There are devas and deva lords, Nagas and Naga lords, yakshas and yaksha lords, gandharvas and gandharva lords, asuras and asura lords, garudas and garuda lords, kinnaras and kinnara lords, mahoragas and mahoraga lords, humans and human lords, brahmins and brahmin lords. I establish them in and bring them all into this Dharma teaching called All-Seeing Eyes that illuminates the conduct of the Tathagatas and Bodhisattvas. For all of them I clarify, delineate, elucidate, describe, teach, categorize, expand, reveal, expound, and illuminate this Dharma teaching called All-Seeing Eyes.³⁷⁴

5. 16 ?As in the east, it is the same for the beings who arrive to the south, the west, the north, the northeast, the southeast, the southwest, the northwest, above, and below.

5. 17 ?Noble one, in this way I know but one Dharma teaching. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas? They have entered the ocean of Bodhisattva conduct in order to gain pure aspiration; they have entered the ocean of all aspirations in order to remain continuously throughout all kalpas; they have entered the ocean of all beings in order to follow a conduct that accords with their wishes; [F.332.b] they have entered the ocean of the minds of all beings in order to communicate wisdom; they have entered the ocean of all good qualities in order to develop the unimpeded radiance of the wisdom of the ten strengths; they have entered the ocean of the faculties of all beings in order not to miss the time for ripening and guiding them; they have entered the ocean of realms in order to fulfill the aspiration to purify all realms; they have entered the ocean of Budas in order to serve and make offerings to the Tathagatas; they have entered the ocean of Dharma in order to communicate wisdom; they have entered the ocean of good qualities in order to reach attainment; and they have entered the ocean of the languages of beings in order to turn the wheel of the Dharma in all languages.³⁷⁵

5. 18 ?Depart, noble one. Sixty yojanas from here on the road south, there is a place named Sagara tira on the road to Lanka. There dwells a Bikshu by the name of Supratishthita. Go to him and ask him, ?How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct?? ?

5. 19 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the Bikshu Sagara megha, circumambulated the Bikshu Sagara megha many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the Bikshu Sagara megha.

6. Chapter 6

SUPRATISHTHITA

6. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, remembering the instructions of the kalyanamitra and the Dharma teaching called All-Seeing Eyes, contemplating the miracles of that Tathagata, keeping in his mind the clouds of the words and terms of that Dharma, [F.333.a] comprehending that ocean of Dharma gateways, observing the precepts of that Dharma, entering those ways of turning toward the Dharma, absorbed into the sky of that Dharma, purifying the range of that Dharma, and meditating on the precious continent of that Dharma, eventually arrived at Sagara tira in the Lanka region. Wishing to see the Bikshu Supratishthita, he looked for him in the eastern direction. In the same way, wishing to see the Bikshu Supratishthita, he looked for him everywhere: in the southern direction, in the western direction, in the northern direction, in the northeastern direction, in the southeastern direction, in the southwestern direction, in the northwestern direction, above, and below.³⁷⁷

380

6. 2 Then he saw the Bikshu Supratishthita walking back and forth in the sky accompanied by countless hundreds of thousands of devas.

6. 3 He saw deva lords in the sky making offerings to the Bikshu Supratishthita with clouds of scattered divine flower petals, the sound of countless clouds of divine music, and countless adorning streamers and banners.

6. 4 He saw that Naga lords in the sky had created high clouds, made of the spreading incense smoke of black agarwood, from which came inconceivable claps of thunder.

6. 5 He heard kinnara lords offering their divine beautiful voices in songs of praise and the sounds of a concert with all musical instruments being played.

6. 6 He saw mahoraga lords in the sky joyfully and with faith bringing forth an inconceivable cloud of fine clothing in beautiful colors, [F.333.b] with the appearance of delighting in the Bikshu Supratishthita.³⁸¹

6. 7 He saw asura lords in the sky conjuring an inconceivable cloud of precious jewels shining with an inconceivable display of qualities.

6. 8 He saw a gathered multitude of garuda lords in human form, color, and shape, encircled by the daughters of the garuda lords, delighting in nonviolence and with their palms together in homage.³⁸²

6. 9 He saw an inconceivable hundred thousand yaksha lords, arranged with their retinues in the sky, who had very ugly bodies and the power of love toward the Bikshu Supratishthita.

6. 10 He saw an inconceivable hundred thousand rakshasa lords with their retinues in the sky who circled around the Bikshu Supratishthita, guarding him.

6. 11 He saw an inconceivable hundred thousand Brahmakayika lords with their retinues in the sky with their palms together in homage, engaged in singing his praises with beautiful, melodious voices.

6. 12 He saw an inconceivable hundred thousand Shuddhavasa devas in their aerial palaces in the sky making offerings to the Bikshu Supratishthita.

6. 13 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, on seeing the Bikshu Supratishthita walking in the sky, was filled with joy, delighted, elated, pleased, and happy.

He placed his palms together in homage and said, 'Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know this -how should a Bodhisattva seek for the Buddhadharma? [F.334.a] How should a Bodhisattva obtain the Buddhadharma? How should a Bodhisattva compile the Buddhadharma? How should a Bodhisattva serve the Buddhadharma? How should a Bodhisattva protect the Buddhadharma?

How should a Bodhisattva follow the Buddhadharma? How should a Bodhisattva accumulate the Buddhadharma? How should a Bodhisattva pervade the Buddhadharma? How should a Bodhisattva purify the Buddhadharma? How should a Bodhisattva train in the Buddhadharma?

How should a Bodhisattva understand the Buddhadharma?385

6. 14 ?Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! Therefore, Arya, teach me how Bodhisattvas should practice the Buddhadharma so that while practicing they will not lack the sight of the Buda in order to not become separated from the truth; will not lack the vision of the Bodhisattvas in order to have the same way as the roots of merit of all Bodhisattvas; will not lack the Buddhadharma in order to realize wisdom; will not lack the Bodhisattva aspiration in order to attain all the goals of the Bodhisattvas; will not lack Bodhisattva conduct in order to never become weary of remaining throughout all kalpas; will not lack the pervading of all Buda realms in order to purify all world realms; [F.334.b] will not lack seeing the miracles of Budas in order to perceive all the miraculous manifestations of all the Tathagatas; will not lack a composite390 presence so that through Bodhisattva conduct that is like a magical creation they will experience as their own bodies the ayatanas that are born and pass away within all existences; will not lack hearing the Dharma in order to obtain the clouds of Dharma of all the Tathagatas; and will not lack the light of wisdom in order to gain and use the knowledge of the three times.?391

6. 15 When he had said this, the Bikshu Supratishthita said to Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, ?Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment and that you ask questions about the Buddha's Dharma, the Dharma of omniscience, the self-arisen Dharma.

6. 16 ?Noble one, I have the attainment of the unimpeded gateway, the liberation of a Bodhisattva. I have acquired, followed, categorized, analyzed, examined, and elucidated this unimpeded gateway, this liberation of a Bodhisattva, and I have attained the light of wisdom called the unimpeded apex. Having attained that, I have no impediment in perceiving the minds and conduct of all beings; I have no impediment in knowing the births and deaths of all beings; I have no impediment in entering the gateway of remembering past lives; I have no impediment in dwelling with all beings in future kalpas; [F.335.a] I have no impediment in perceiving all the beings of the present time; I have no impediment in knowing the relative languages of all beings; I have no impediment in cutting through the doubts of all beings; I have no impediment in comprehending the different faculties of all beings; I have no impediment in acting at the right time to ripen and guide all beings; I have no impediment in identifying days, nights, seconds, hours, and periods of time; I have no impediment in entering into the ocean of the three times; and I have no impediment in incorporeally pervading the Buddha realms in the ten directions, because I am present without substance and have attained noncomposite miraculous powers.³⁹²

6. 17 ?Noble one, because I am present without substance and have the power of noncomposite miraculous powers, I can walk back and forth, stand, sit, lie down, and perform various activities in the sky. I can become invisible. I can reappear. I can become smoke. I can become a fire. [F.335.b] I can transform from one into many. I can transform from many into one. I can be both visible and invisible. I can pass without impediment through walls and without impediment through city ramparts, as if through space. I travel cross-legged through the air, as a bird does. I can plunge into the earth and reappear the way a bird does in water. I can walk on water without sinking like a bird on the ground. I can produce smoke and flames the way a great fire does. I can make the ground shake. I can wipe clean with my hands this sun and this moon that have such great miraculous power, great mightiness, and great brilliance. My body can dominate everywhere up to and including³⁹⁵ the world of Brahma. I can cover the world with a mist formed from clouds of incense smoke and then make it shine. I can cover the world with a network of clouds of light rays from all jewels. I can send forth a cloud of emanations that resemble all beings.

6. 18 ?I can emanate clouds of networks of lights of infinite colors that go to all directions and realms. In that way, they go to the east, to the south, to the west, to the north, to the northeast, to the southeast, to the southwest, to the northwest, downward, and upward. In one instant of mind, they go beyond one world realm in the east.

6. 19 ?They go beyond two world realms and ten world realms. They go beyond a hundred world realms. They go beyond a thousand world realms, a hundred thousand world realms, ten million world realms, a billion world realms, a trillion world realms, a quintillion world realms, an incalculable number of world realms, a measureless number of world realms, [F.336.a] innumerable world realms, an inconceivable number of world realms, an unequalled number of world realms, an unfathomable number of world realms, an infinite number of world realms, an endless number of world realms, limitless world realms, and an inexpressible number of world realms.

6. 20 ?All the Buda bhagavats that are present, living, and remaining in those world realms, in that ocean of world realms, in that vast extent of world realms, in the world realms in the directions, in the world realms that are coming to an end, in the world realms that are assembled, in the world realms that are created, in those world realms that are named, in the gateways of those world realms, in the kalpas of those world realms, in the entrances into those world realms, and at the bodhimandas of those world realms, those Buda bhagavats who are teaching the Dharma in the circle of their assembled followers in those world realms -each of the Tathagatas among those Tathagatas has a variety of bodies that are as numerous as the atoms in the infinite Buda realms. I approach each of those bodies while sending down a rain from clouds of offering as numerous as the atoms in the infinite Buda realms. Having approached them, I make a continuous offering of all flowers, all incense, all garlands, all powders, all ointments, all food, all banners, all flags, all canopies, all networks of beads, and all ornaments.³⁹⁷

6. 21 ?I know and remember whatever all those Buda bhagavats [F.336.b] say, teach, utter, explain, describe, elucidate, instruct, proclaim, and disclose.

6. 22 ?I remember all the pure Buda realms of those Buda bhagavats. As it is in the east, so it is in the south, the west, the north, the northeast, the southeast, the southwest, the northwest, above and below, beyond one world realm, beyond two world realms and ten world realms, beyond a hundred world realms, and so on, up to beyond as many world realms as there are atoms in even more innumerable than innumerable Buda realms.

6. 23 ?I see all the Buda bhagavats that are present, living, and remaining in those world realms, in that ocean of world realms, in those pure world realms, who are teaching the Dharma in the circle of their followers. I make offerings to those Tathagatas with all flowers, and so on, up to all ornaments. I know and remember whatever all those Buda bhagavats say, and so on, and what they disclose. I remember all the pure Buda realms that there are of those Buda bhagavats.³⁹⁸

6. 24 ?Whatever being sees me, who associates with me, will definitely attain the highest, complete enlightenment. [F.337.a] Whether they are small or huge, good or bad, happy or unhappy beings, however many of them see me, I will bless all of their bodies and I will not let the time to ripen and guide them pass. However many beings come before me, I will establish all of them in this Bodhisattva liberation that goes everywhere and has fruitful prowess.

6. 25 ?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation that goes everywhere, which is dedicated to making offerings and serving the Tathagatas and which is an unimpeded gateway favorable for ripening all beings.

6. 26 ?How could I know or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who have the conduct of great compassion, who have the conduct of practicing the Mahayana, who have the conduct that is never apart from the path of the Bodhisattvas, who have unimpeded conduct, who have the conduct of the essence of Bodhisattva motivation that is never lost, who have the conduct that never forsakes the aspiration to enlightenment, who have the conduct that is focused on the Buddhadharma, who have the conduct that is never apart from attention to omniscience, who have the conduct that is as vast as space, who have the conduct that is not based on the world, who have the conduct that is never lost, who have the conduct that never deteriorates, who have the conduct that is never impaired, who have the conduct that is never destroyed, who have the conduct that is never adulterated, who have the conduct that is never polluted, who have the conduct that is without regret, who have pure conduct, and who have Bodhisattva conduct that is stainless? [F.337.b]

6. 27 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, in the land of Dravida, there is a town called Vajrapura. There dwells a Dravidian by the name of Megha. Go to him and ask him, ?How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

6. 28 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the Bikshu Supratishthita, circumambulated the Bikshu Supratishthita to his right a hundred thousand times, and, looking back a hundred thousand times, departed from the Bikshu Supratishthita.

7. Chapter 7

MEGHA

7. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, was filled with the power and might of faith in the Dharma. He was focused on the idea of following the Buda; he was sincerely dedicated to the lineage of the Three Jewels; his mind illuminated the worlds of the three times; he was focused on following the great aspiration; he was continuously dedicated to saving all the realms of beings; his mind did not dwell on composite pleasures; he was devoted to contemplating the nature of all phenomena; he never deviated from the aspiration to purify all world realms; he dwelled without attachment in the circles of the assemblies of all the Budas; he remembered the light of the Dharma; he remembered his kalyanamitras; and he proclaimed the lineage of freedom from desire.399

7. 2 Eventually he arrived at Vajrapura in the Dravida region. He searched and searched for the Dravidian Megha until he saw him in one of the courtyards in the town. He was seated on a lion throne in order to teach the Dharma, and he was teaching the Dharma teaching called the display of the rotating wheel of syllables to about ten thousand beings. [F.338.a]

7. 3 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the Dravidian Megha, circumambulated the Dravidian Megha to his right many hundreds of thousands of times, sat before him, and with palms together said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. However, I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct; how they should practice it; how Bodhisattvas do not lose the aspiration to enlightenment; how they keep their motivation firm within all the states of existence so that they do not lose heart; how they purify their resolve so that they do not become oppressed; how they develop the power of great compassion so that they do not lose heart; how they gain the power of retention so that all gateways are purified; how they develop the light of wisdom, the light that frees all phenomena from darkness, so that⁴⁰⁵ the darkness that obscures omniscience will be dispersed; how they gain the power of discernment so that they perfect the domain of voice through being skilled in meaning, Dharma, definitions, and eloquence; how they gain the power of memory so that they will possess without differentiation all the Buddha's Dharma wheels; how they purify states of rebirth so that they will realize and follow the light in all rebirths and phenomena in all directions; and how the power of Bodhisattvas' samadhi is brought forth so as to have the highest certainty and analysis of all the meanings of the Dharma. 406

7. 4 Then the Dravidian Megha, [F.338.b] in order to show respect to the Bodhisattva, rose from his throne, stepped down, and with his entire body prostrated before Sudhana, the head merchant's son. He scattered a heap of golden flowers toward Sudhana, the head merchant's son. He scattered many priceless precious jewels and supreme sandalwood powder. He draped him in many hundreds of thousands of cloths that had been dyed in various colors. He scattered many beautiful and delightful perfumed flowers of many different colors. He also made offerings with other kinds of offerings, showing him respect, honor, and veneration.

7. 5 He said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment and that you have an unceasing dedication to the lineage of all the Buddhas, you are dedicated to correctly imparting knowledge of the lineage of freedom from desire, you practice the purification of the classes of realms, you are prepared for ripening and guiding all classes of beings, you are dedicated to correctly examining all the traditions of the Dharma, you maintain a state of not contravening all the classes of karma, you are dedicated to perfecting the classes of Bodhisattva conduct, you correctly engage in a continuity of all classes of prayers, you engage in comprehending through wisdom all the classes of three times, and you are dedicated to making firm the classes of motivations. [F.339.a]

7. 6 "That is the blessing of all the many Tathagatas, that is the intention of all the Budas, that is the attainment of equality of all the Bodhisattvas, that is what all the aryas rejoice in, that is what delights all the Brahmakayika lords, that is what is offered to by all the deva lords, that is what is protected by all the yaksha lords, that is what is honored by all the rakshasa lords, that is what is welcomed by all the Naga lords, that is what is praised by all the kinnara lords, and that is what is praised by all the lords of the world.

7. 7 ?It is what prevents the entire realm of beings from being reborn in the three lower existences and turns them away from all paths to unfortunate and lower existences. It turns them away from the paths that lead to poverty. It brings the attainment of the good fortune of devas and humans.

7. 8 ?Through it there will be no separation from seeing the kalyanamitra, no separation from the vast ocean of the Buddhadharma; it purifies the aspiration for enlightenment, it accomplishes the cause of the aspiration for enlightenment, it obtains the illumination of the Bodhisattva path, it brings the realization of Bodhisattva wisdom, and it brings the relief of being on the level of a Bodhisattva.⁴⁰⁷

7. 9 ?Noble one, this is what I think: the Bodhisattvas accomplish what is difficult, they are the manifestation of a sight that is difficult to obtain, and they are a comfort to the world; [F.339.b] the Bodhisattvas are like fathers and mothers to all beings; the Bodhisattvas are like adornments for this world and its paradises; the Bodhisattvas save beings from the torments of suffering; the Bodhisattvas remain in order to protect all beings; the Bodhisattvas are a refuge from the misfortune of various kinds of danger; the Bodhisattvas are like the disk of air because it prevents beings from falling into the lower existences; the Bodhisattvas are like the earth because they increase the roots of merit of all beings; the Bodhisattvas are like the ocean because they contain an inexhaustible treasure of precious merit; the Bodhisattvas are like the sun because they shine with the light of wisdom; the Bodhisattvas are like Sumeru because of the great height of their roots of merit; the Bodhisattvas are like the moon because they rise as the moon of the wisdom of the essence of enlightenment; the Bodhisattvas are like warriors because they defeat the armies of the maras; the Bodhisattvas are like heroes because they reach the self-arisen city of the Dharma; the Bodhisattvas are like Agni because they dry up the wetness of the self-love of all beings; the Bodhisattvas are like clouds because they send down rain from the vast cloud of the Dharma; the Bodhisattvas are like rain because they increase the sprouts of the faculties, faith, and so on of beings; the Bodhisattvas are like mariners because they reveal the point of embarkation for crossing the ocean of the Dharma; [F.340.a] the Bodhisattvas are like a bridge because they enable all beings to cross over the ocean of samsara; and the Bodhisattvas are like fords because they enable beings to cross over. 408

7. 10 In that way, Megha the Dravidian, while sitting before Sudhana, the head merchant's son, praised the Bodhisattvas with those words and congratulated Sudhana, the head merchant's son.

7. 11 As he was proclaiming those words that brought delight to Bodhisattvas, a mass of light rays was emitted from his mouth in this fashion: that mass of light rays spread throughout the billion worlds. Those beings who saw it and were illuminated by that great radiance - devas and devas with great miraculous power, Nagas and Nagas with great miraculous power, yakshas and yakshas with great miraculous power, gandharvas and gandharvas with great miraculous power, asuras and asuras with great miraculous power, garudas and garudas with great miraculous power, kinnaras and kinnaras with great miraculous power, mahoragas and mahoragas with great miraculous power, humans and humans with great miraculous power, nonhumans and nonhumans with great miraculous power, Brahmakayikas and Brahmakayikas with great miraculous power -came into the presence of Megha the Dravidian.

7. 12 Their thoughts were thus blessed by Megha the Dravidian, and they placed their palms together in homage. Their bodies and minds were refreshed, they felt vast joy, they showed great veneration, they had cast down the banner of pride, they were free of deceit, and their senses were serene. Megha the Dravidian taught them extensively the Dharma teaching called The Display of the Rotating Wheel of Syllables. [F.340.b] He made it known to them, introduced them to it, led them into it, and caused them to understand it. Having heard it, they all gained irreversible progress toward the highest, complete enlightenment.⁴¹¹

7. 13 Then Megha the Dravidian sat again upon the Dharma throne and said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, I have attained Sarasvati's power of retention. Through its power I know the divine languages of the devas in these world realms of the billion-world universe. In the same way, I know the languages of the Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans and the Brahmakayika language of the Brahmakayika devas.

7. 14 "I know the various divine languages of the devas, and similarly I know the various languages of the Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans and the various Brahmakayika languages of the Brahmakayika devas.

7. 15 ?I know the different divine languages of the devas, and similarly I know the different languages of the Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans and the different Brahmakayika languages of the Brahmakayika devas.

7. 16 ?I also know the different signs, languages, and names of the beings who have been reborn as animals. I also know the different languages and names of the beings who have been reborn in the hells. I also know the different languages and names of the beings in the realm of Yama. [F.341.a] I also know the languages and names of the aryas. I also know the languages and names of those who are not aryas. I also know the words, signs, and definitions of Bodhisattvas that arise in accordance with the wishes of beings.⁴¹³

7. 17 ?In each instant of mind, I perceive and comprehend the aspects of the voices and the oceans of speech of all the Tathagatas in the three times, and the words, the sound of conversations, and the languages that are used by all beings.

7. 18 ?Just as I perceive and know the ocean of terms, definitions, languages, and names of beings in this world realm of a billion worlds, in the same way, I perceive and know the ocean of terms, definitions, languages, and names of beings in a quintillion world realms, a measureless number of world realms, innumerable world realms, an inconceivable number of world realms, an unequaled number of world realms, an infinite number of world realms, limitless world realms, and an inexpressible number of world realms in the eastern direction, and it is the same for the south, the west, the north, the northeast, the southeast, the southwest, the northwest, below, and above.

7. 19 ?In that way, I know the deva language of the devas, and so on, up to knowing the Brahmakayika language of the Brahmakayika devas.

7. 20 ?Noble one, I know the light of Sarasvati's power of retention that the Bodhisattvas have, but how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the entry by the Bodhisattvas into an ocean of different terms, [F.341.b] their entry into an ocean of terms and languages of various beings, their entry into an ocean of taught names of various beings, their entry into an ocean of an array of descriptions by various beings, their entry into an ocean of conducts, their entry into an ocean of the conjunctions of all words, their entry into an ocean of the literal meaning of words, their entry into an ocean of single terms for perceptions that include all perceptions in the three times, their entry into an ocean of teaching through assembling a single word, their entry into an ocean of teaching through assembling two words, their entry into an ocean of teaching through dividing words, their entry into an ocean of teaching that brings guidance through categorizing the words for all phenomena, their entry into an ocean of the languages of all beings, their entry in the entire pure display of the field of speech, and what arises in the categories of the apex of the wheel of words?414

7. 21 ?Now depart, noble one. In this southern region, in the land of Vanavasi, there dwells a head merchant by the name of Muktaka. Go to him and ask him, ?How should Bodhisattvas train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should they set forth? How should their minds rest in meditation?? ?

7. 22 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of Megha the Dravidian, and showing respect for his Dharma, showing that Megha was the source for the signs of the arising of his faith, and seeing the omniscience that has come from the kalyanamitra, [F.342.a] weeping, with his face covered in tears, he circumambulated Megha the Dravidian a hundred thousand times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back a hundred thousand times, departed from Megha the Dravidian. [B29]

8. Chapter 8

Muktaka

8. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, then contemplated that power of retention of the Bodhisattvas called the light that is the display of Sarasvati, remembered that particular entry by the Bodhisattvas into an ocean of languages, remembered that particular entry by the Bodhisattvas into the way of subtlety, remembered that particular purity of the Bodhisattvas through purification of the mind, accomplished that particular accomplishment by the Bodhisattvas of creating the predispositions for roots of merit, purified that particular Bodhisattva gateway for ripening, refined that particular Bodhisattva wisdom that attracts beings, made firmer that particular pure strength of Bodhisattva motivation, stabilized that particular strength of the superior motivation of the Bodhisattvas, purified that lineage of Bodhisattva aspiration, developed that particular goodness that is in the minds of the Bodhisattvas, and entered into that particular commitment of the Bodhisattvas.⁴¹⁷

8. 2 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, displayed a continuity of strong commitment, a mind of aspiration, and indefatigability. He had the heroism of irreversible courage. He had the commitment of an irreversible mind. He possessed the strength of unassailable faith. His motivation had the indestructibility of the mighty vajra. [F.342.b] He had acquired with reverence the instructions of all kalyanamitras. He had an unimpaired scope of wisdom. He faced the completely pure gateways. He possessed the unimpeded field of pure wisdom. He had the illumination of all-seeing wisdom. He had attained the radiance of the retentive power of all levels. His mind faced the separate bases of the realm of phenomena. He perceived the nature of the pure display that is completely without any basis. He was devoted to the unattached, unequaled, nondual field of activity. He had the pure gateway of wisdom that surpasses all concepts. He had the discrimination of all the separate directions and families. He had not annulled the separate bases and directions of the world. He had not annulled the separate bases and directions of the Dharma. He was dedicated to the perception of the vision of the different directions and families of the Budas. He had the wisdom that comprehended the different directions and bases of time. He had the understanding endowed with the radiance of the wheel of the Dharma. The light of the complete radiance of wisdom and samadhi illuminated his mind. He had the mind and body that had reached the complete levels and ranges. He was continuously illuminated by the radiance of the wisdom of the Tathagatas. He had given rise to the power of faith in omniscience. He was never lacking in the power of faith in the Buddhadharma. He possessed the blessing of the Tathagatas. He had been illuminated by the light of the approach of his own mind to the Budas. He was endowed with the aspiration for his own body pervading the network of all world realms. He was dedicated to accomplishing the inclusion of the entire realm of phenomena within his own body.⁴²⁴

8. 3 After twelve years [F.343.a] he eventually arrived at Vanavasi. He searched for the head merchant Muktaka and saw him. When he saw him, he bowed down his entire body onto the ground in homage and sat before him.

8. 4 With palms together he said, 'Arya, today I have succeeded; I have succeeded well. Why is that? Because I have met the kalyanamitra. It is rare to have the opportunity to see the kalyanamitras. It is rare to have the opportunity to find their appearance. It is rare to have the opportunity to arrive where they are. It is rare to have the opportunity to go to where they are, it is rare to have the opportunity to serve them, it is rare to have the opportunity to approach them, it is rare to have the opportunity to dwell with them, it is rare to have the opportunity to train with them, and it is rare to have the opportunity to follow the kalyanamitras.⁴²⁷

8. 5 'Today I have succeeded in being with the kalyanamitra. Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment in order to serve all the Budas; to venerate all the Budas; to see all the Budas; to perceive all the Budas; to comprehend the equality of all the Budas; to comprehend the prayers of all the Budas; to fulfill the prayers of all the Budas; to have the light of the wisdom accomplished by all the Budas; to accomplish all Budas within my own body; to accomplish the knowledge of all the Budas in my own conduct; to have the direct perception of the miracles of all the Budas; to purify the strengths and fearlessnesses of all the Budas; to never have enough of hearing the Dharma that is taught by all the Budas; [F.343.b] to hear and adopt the Dharma that is taught by all the Budas; to truly hold the Dharma that is taught by all the Budas; to become the same as all the Bodhisattvas; to be included among the Bodhisattvas; to purify the conduct of all⁴²⁹

Bodhisattvas; to fulfill the perfections of all Bodhisattvas; to purify the accomplishment of the aspirations of all Bodhisattvas; to attain the treasure of the Buda blessings of all the Bodhisattvas; to obtain the unceasing light of wisdom that is all the Bodhisattvas' store of treasure of the Dharma; to realize all the Bodhisattvas' store of treasure of samadhi; to accomplish the immeasurable treasure of all the Bodhisattvas; to realize all the Bodhisattvas' store of treasure of great compassion, which is the definitive guiding of beings; to perceive all the Bodhisattvas' store of treasure of miracles; and to gain the power in my own mind that is all the Bodhisattvas' store of power; and for the array of all the aspects of all the Bodhisattvas' store of treasure of purity.⁴³¹

8. 6 ?Arya, I have come here with such a motivation, [F.344.a] with such an intention, with such joy, with such delight, with such thoughts, with such an aspiration to accomplish certainty, with such an aspiration to conduct, with such an aspiration to comprehend the way, with such a dedication to purity, with such an intention for analysis, with such an oriented mind, with such a dedication to goodness, and with senses focused in that way.⁴³²

8. 7 ?Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to

Bodhisattvas, that you teach the way, elucidate the way to understand, teach the path, bring across the ford, open the gateway of the Dharma, cut through doubts, dispel uncertainty, extract the splinter of prevarication, remove hesitancy, illuminate the darkness of the mind, eliminate the stains of the mind, clarify the continuity of the mind, remove the deception of the mind, alleviate the distress of the mind, turn the mind away from samsara, lead away from bad actions, dissuade from going to the hells, bring freedom from existence, liberate from attachment, banish all clinging, create the aspiration for omniscience, enable entry into the city of the Dharma, bring to great compassion, unite with great love, conjoin with Bodhisattva conduct, cause to enter the meditation of the gateway of samadhi, establish in the gateway of realization, [F.344.b] establish in the comprehension of nature, spread the possession of the strengths, and realize the equality of all beings.⁴³⁴

8. 8 ?Therefore, now that I have heard that, teach me, Arya, how Bodhisattvas should learn Bodhisattva conduct, how they train in it, how they are dedicated to it, and how they quickly purify the domain of Bodhisattva conduct.⁴³⁵

8. 9 Then, at that time, the head merchant Muktaka the Bodhisattva entered the gateway of samadhi, the foremost gateway to the infinite circling of the power of retention, called the assembly of all Buda realms, through the power of past roots of merit, through the blessing of the Tathagatas, and through the concentration that brings the light of wisdom of Manjushri Kumara bhuta.

8. 10 Immediately, the form of the head merchant Muktaka, who had entered that samadhi, became a pure body. Because of the purity of his body, there appeared within his body the presence of Buda bhagavats as numerous as

8. 11 They were distinct from each other, [F.345.a] were not obscuring each other, were perfectly separate from each other, were differentiated from each other, remaining in different ways, and were perceived exactly as they were. Their various arrays of Buda realms, the various adorning assemblies of Bodhisattva pupils, and the appearances of various Buda miracles were seen.⁴³⁷

8. 12 They were establishing the various yantras and reciting the various gateways of prayers. They were seen in some worlds being born in a palace in Tushita. They were seen to accomplish all the deeds of a Buda: in some worlds they were descending from the palace in Tushita; in some they were entering their mothers' wombs and manifesting various miracles; in some they were being born; in some they demonstrated playing as children; in some they were in the middle of their harems; in some they were setting forth in renunciation; in some they were arriving at the bodhimanda; in some they were defeating the armies of Mara with vast miraculous manifestations; in some they were encircled by devas, Nagas, yakshas, and gandharvas, and Brahma and Indra were supplicating them to turn the wheel of the Dharma; in some they were turning the wheel of the Dharma; in some they were present in the abodes of all beings; and in some they were passing into nirvana. In some world realms there could be seen the distribution of the relics of the Tathagatas that had passed into nirvana, and in some Buda realms devas and humans could be seen covering the caityas of the Tathagatas with adornments.⁴³⁹

8. 13 Those Buda bhagavats were teaching among the various classes of beings, the various worlds of beings, [F.345.b] the various modes of beings, the various births of beings, the various aggregations of beings, the various successive roots of merit of beings, the various successive modes of beings, the various successive thoughts of beings, the various successive aspirations of beings, the various successive sensory faculties of beings, the various successive times of beings, the various particular karmas of beings, the various dissimilar karmas of beings, the various worlds of beings, the various modes and conducts of beings, the various aspirations and conducts in the ocean of beings, the various, different pure faculties, and the various kleshas, predispositions, and propensities in the vast extent of beings.

8. 14 They did so through the demonstration of various kinds of Buda miracles, through the accomplishment of the various word definitions in various worlds, through various aspects of voice and language in various worlds, through relating the ways of various sutras, through the processes of the various kinds of gateways to the power of retention, through the production of various kinds of discernment, through the processes of an ocean of various names for the truth, through various majestic lion's roars of the Budas, through the demonstration of miracles that teach the roots of merit to beings, through miracles that teach the various gateways of memory, through the lion's roar of various prophecies to Bodhisattvas, and through the power that arises from the various Dharma wheels of the Tathagatas.

8. 15 The Buda bhagavats taught through the aspects of the voice of a Tathagata and in accordance with all languages in the various assemblies of pupils -which are limitless, infinitely different, and dependent on one another -in the various vast, pure assemblies of pupils, [F.346.a] in the gatherings of small assemblies of pupils, among those that are the length of one yojana, the length of ten yojanas, the length of a hundred yojanas, and so on, up to assemblies of pupils that are as many yojanas as there are atoms in even more countless than countless Buda realms.

8. 16 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, heard, adopted, kept, and contemplated all those Dharmas that were taught. He also saw those Buda miracles. He saw the power of the majesty of that Bodhisattva samadhi.

8. 17 Then the head merchant Muktaba mindfully and with awareness arose from his samadhi and said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, I have obtained and hold the liberation of the Tathagatas called the unimpeded display.

8. 18 "Noble one, when in that way I strove for and attained the liberation of the Tathagatas called the unimpeded display, to my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Tareshvararaja in the eastern world realm called Jambu nada prabhasa vati. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Vairocana garbha.⁴⁴⁰

8. 19 "To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Samanta gandha vitana in the southern world realm called Sarva bala vegavati. [F.346.b] He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Cintaraja.

8. 20 "To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named

Meru pradipa raja in the western world realm called Sarva gandha prabhasa-vati. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Asanga citta.

8. 21 ?To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Vajra pramardana in the northern world realm called Kashayadhvaja. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Vajra pada vikramin.

8. 22 ?To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Anilambha cakshurvairocana in the northeastern world realm called Sarva-ratna rucira. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Anilambha sunirmita.⁴⁴¹

8. 23 ?To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Gandhapradipa in the southeastern world realm called Gandharcih prabhasvara. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Sarva Dharma dhatu tala bheda ketu raja. [F.347.a]⁴⁴²

8. 24 ?To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Samanta mukha jnana virocana ghosha in the southwestern world realm called Surya kesara nirbhasa. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Samanta kusumarcih pralamba cuda.

8. 25 ?To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Apramana guna Sagara prabha in the northwestern world realm called Gandhalmkara rucira shubha garbha. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Asanga kaya rashmitejomati.⁴⁴³

8. 26 ?To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Dharma dhatu vidyotita rashmi in the world realm below called Ratnasimhavabhasa jvalana. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Dharma dhatvarcivairocana-sambhava mati.

8. 27 ?To my eyes appeared the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Apratihata guna kirti vimoksha prabha raja in the world realm above called Akshana rucira vairocana. He was accompanied by an assembly that was all Bodhisattvas, such as the Bodhisattva Asanga bala virya mati. [F.347.b]

8. 28 ?Noble one, in that way, in addition to these ten Tathagatas, I see in the ten directions Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddhas as numerous as the atoms in the Buda realms in the ten directions, but those Tathagatas have not come here and I have not gone there.⁴⁴⁴

8. 29 ?When I wish to, I see the Tathagata Amitabha in the Buda realm Sukhavati, I see the Tathagata Vajrabha in the Buda realm Candana vati, I see the Tathagata Ratnabha in the Buda realm Gandhavati, I see the Tathagata Ratnapadmabha in the Buda realm Padmavati, I see the Tathagata Shantabha in the Buda realm Kanaka vati, I see the Tathagata Akshobhya in the Buda realm Abhirati, I see the Tathagata Simha in the Buda realm Supratishtha, I see the Tathagata Candra buddhi in the Buda realm Adarsha mandala nibhasa, and I see the Tathagata Vairocana in the Buda realm Ratna shri hamsa citra.⁴⁴⁵

8. 30 ?Noble one, in that way, I see whatever Tathagata I wish to, in whatever direction, in whatever world realm. I see whatever Tathagata I wish to, in whatever time, in whatever location, in whatever past conduct. I see whatever Tathagata I wish to, wherever he is accomplishing miracles [F.348.a] or wherever he is guiding beings. And those Tathagatas have not come here, nor have I gone there.⁴⁴⁶

8. 31 ?Noble one, in that way, I know that the Tathagatas have not come from anywhere. I know my own body has not gone anywhere. I know that perceiving the Tathagatas is like a dream, and I know that perceiving the activity of my own mind is like having a dream. I know that the perception of the Tathagatas is like a reflection, and I know that my own mind's perception is like a bowl of clear water. I know that the perception of the Tathagatas is like that of forms created by a magical illusion, and I know that my own mind's perception is like a magical illusion. I know that the speech of the Tathagatas is like echoes that sound in the mountains, and I know that my own mind's perception is like an echo.

8. 32 ?It is thus that I understand, thus that I know that the entire Buddhadharma of the Bodhisattvas arises from the blessing of one's own mind. All the pure Buda realms are the blessing of one's own mind. The Bodhisattva conduct also is the blessing of one's own mind. The ripening and guidance of all beings is the blessing of one's own mind. The fulfillment of the aspirations of the Bodhisattvas is the blessing of one's own mind. Arriving at the city of omniscience is the blessing of one's own mind.

[F.348.b] Delighting in inconceivable liberations is the blessing of one's own mind. At attainment, the enlightenment of buddhahood is the blessing of one's own mind. The miraculous manifestation of the powerful majesty of uniting the entire realm of phenomena is the blessing of one's own mind. The wisdom that unites all kalpas into a brief time is the blessing of one's own mind.

8. 33 ?Noble one, this is what I think: one's own mind should be supported by all roots of merit, one's own mind should be moistened by the clouds of the Dharma, one's own mind should be purified of obscuring phenomena, one's own mind should be made firm by diligence, one's own mind should be made tranquil by patience, one's own mind should be cultivated by the comprehension of knowledge, one's own mind should be refined by wisdom, one's own mind should have accomplishment in power, one's own mind should be made vast in the equality of the Buddhas, and one's own mind should be illuminated by the ten strengths of the Tathagatas.

8. 34 "Noble one, I know, have adopted, and keep this liberation called the unimpeded display of the Tathagatas, but how could I know or describe the qualities of dwelling without impediment in the field of activity of the unimpeded minds of the Bodhisattvas; the attainment of the samadhi of the direct perception of all the Buddhas in the present; the attainment of the samadhi gateway to the enlightenment that has reached the apex that is without passing into nirvana; [F.349.a] the attainment of the sameness of the three times; the knowledge of the way of the field of activity of the samadhi of the completely undivided basis; the bodies distributed throughout all Buddha realms; the presence in the indivisible ranges of the Buddhas; the field of activity that is oriented toward all directions; the view of the domain of undivided wisdom; and the conduct that is free of the dualistic conceptions of self and world, even though in their bodies there appears the destruction and creation of all world realms?

8. 35 "Now depart, noble one. On this road to the south, at the tip of Jambudvīpa, there is Milaspharana. There dwells a Bhikṣu by the name of Sagara dhvaja. Go to him and ask him, "How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva proceed?"

8. 36 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the head merchant Muktaka, circumambulated the head merchant Muktaka a hundred thousand times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, beautifully describing, examining, and aspiring to the countless qualities of the head merchant Muktaka, thinking of Muktaka, [F.349.b] he was weeping and wailing as he departed from head merchant Muktaka; he was thinking of kalyanamitras with affection, trusting in them, longing to honor the kalyanamitras, maintaining obedience to the instructions of kalyanamitras, and seeing omniscience as dependent upon the kalyanamitras; his thoughts focused on the kalyanamitras, his conduct faithful to the kalyanamitras, and being in the power of the minds of the kalyanamitras, by avoiding anything that would be harmful to the kalyanamitras he regarded them as his mother and, by developing all the qualities of roots of merit, regarded them as his father.

9. Chapter 9

Sagara DHVAJA

9. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, contemplated the teaching of the head merchant Muktaka and dedicated himself to the instructions of the head merchant Muktaka. He followed the inconceivable Bodhisattva liberations. He called to mind the inconceivable radiance of Bodhisattva wisdom. He practiced entering and comprehending the inconceivable realm of the Dharma. He comprehended the inconceivable Bodhisattva methods of gathering pupils. He reflected on the inconceivable miracles of the Tathagatas. He aspired to the inconceivable aggregation of Buda realms. He contemplated the display of the blessings of the Budas. He examined the inconceivable majestic power of the display of samadhis and liberations. He was dedicated to entering inconceivable separate, unobscured world realms. He developed the aspiration for inconceivable, enduring Bodhisattva activity. And he adopted the inconceivable continuum of Bodhisattva activity and prayer.

9. 2 Eventually he reached Milaspharana at the tip of Jambudvipa. [F.350.a] He searched and searched for the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja.

9. 3 Sudhana saw him sitting at the end of a meditation walkway. He was resting in samadhi with no inhalation or exhalation of breath, unmoving, inactive, sitting with his body upright, and manifesting mindfulness. With the inconceivable miraculous powers of samadhi, he miraculously manifested an inconceivable, immeasurable, infinite body to the right, left, and above, so that the crown of his head was beyond sight. His body had many colors, manifesting countless different colors in each instant of the mind.⁴⁴⁸

9. 4 Sudhana saw that as Sagara dhvaja rested in that way in a profound, peaceful, motionless, objectless meditation, from all the pores of his body, which had become tall through joy, countless miraculous manifestations of Bodhisattva liberation appeared.⁴⁴⁹

450 451

9. 5 In every single instant of mind, those miraculous manifestations from the gateway of liberation spread throughout the realm of phenomena, in order that those infinite miraculous manifestations would ripen all beings, make offerings to all the Tathagatas, purify all Buda realms, eliminate the mass of suffering of all beings, close all the paths to the lower existences, open the paths to happiness for all beings, end the affliction of the kleshas for all beings, disperse the obscuration of ignorance in all beings, and establish all beings in omniscience.

9. 6 Sudhana saw assemblies of head merchants, as numerous as the atoms in countless Buda realms, being emanated from the soles of Sagara dhvaja's feet. [F.350.b] They attended and waited on him in various ways, and, appearing to be all the head merchants from all world realms, forming an exceptional field of activity, their bodies were adorned by a variety of ornaments with various kinds of topknots, crest jewels, and crowns, and they were accompanied by the images of entourages of their children.

They were emanated out into the ten directions, where they were gathering poor people and relieving beings of their suffering, purifying the thoughts of beings, satisfying the minds of beings, and ripening beings for enlightenment.⁴⁵²

9. 8 Sudhana saw Sagara dhvaja's knees emanating and filling the ten direction with the forms of wise kshatriyas, the forms of wise brahmins, the forms of those who were wise in worldly matters, the forms of those wise in various arts and crafts, the forms of those wise concerning human existence, the forms of those wise with the knowledge of carrying out both worldly and nonworldly practices, and the forms of those wise in honorable worldly conduct, taking on various forms, displaying the presence of many forms, speaking with pleasant words, making unhappy beings happy, [F.351.a] caring for poor beings devoid of the wealth of the Dharma, making beings who are suffering happy, elevating beings who have fallen down, bringing relief to those who are shipwrecked, saving beings who are in fear, sounding out the words of all roots of merit, emitting the words of turning away from bad actions, bringing beings to the adoption of good qualities, establishing beings in beneficial conduct, engendering the power of joy, emitting pleasant words that are a method of gathering pupils, and showing consistency of words and actions to the world.⁴⁵³

9. 9 Sudhana saw, issuing forth from Sagara dhvaja's navel, a multitude of Rishis manifesting as the bodies of all beings, wearing robes of antelope skins and bark, holding staffs and burl bowls, with various forms, features, and appearances, and having a peaceful deportment.⁴⁵⁴

9. 10 From up in the sky they were proclaiming the qualities of a Buda, speaking the word Dharma, uttering the word Buda, teaching the Bodhisattva Sangha, describing the path of celibacy, establishing beings in restraining the senses, expounding the meaning of the absence of intrinsic nature, establishing the world in the meaning of wisdom, guiding in the ways of worldly treatises, teaching the way of the path that gives rise to omniscience, and establishing beings in the succession of practices.

9. 12 Vast clouds and mists of the best incense stationed in the sky, together with the clouds of heaps of scented waters with the colors of all jewels, covered the assemblies of the followers of all Tathagatas, adorned the entire extent of world realms, brought happiness to all beings, and made offerings to all the Budas.460

9. 14 Sudhana saw, issuing forth from Sagara dhvaja's back, a multitude of Shravakas and pratyeka Budas as numerous as the atoms in countless

Buda realms and pervading the realm of phenomena. The Shravakas and pratyeka Budas were teaching the absence of a self and the absence of a being to those beings who were to be guided by them and had attachment to a self; they were teaching the impermanence of the composite to those who were attached to permanence, ugliness to those who had the conduct of desire, love to those who had the conduct of anger, and dependent origination to those who had the conduct of ignorance; and they were teaching the way of the Dharma that has the range of wisdom to those who had equal amounts of those conducts, teaching the absence of a basis to those who delighted in the range of sensory perceptions, inspiring higher aspirations in those who intended to dwell in peace, and illuminating the gateways to all directions [F.353.a] and all the gateways of the ocean of ways in the Dharma.

9. 32 Sudhana also saw issuing forth from all of Sagara dhvaja's pores, from each of his pores, fields of networks of light rays that were as numerous as the atoms in countless Buda realms, were filling the ten directions of the realm of phenomena, and formed countless arrays of powers and adopted forms prepared to carry out countless different activities.510

9. 33 Sudhana saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from the pores performing the miracle of giving away all possessions through a faultless conduct of generosity.

9. 34 Sudhana saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from the pores manifesting the field of the correct conduct, discipline, commitment, and precepts of the Bodhisattvas of the three times.⁵¹¹

9. 35 Sudhana saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from the pores manifesting the forms of the conduct of patience of the Bodhisattvas in the three times. They manifested them enduring their hands, feet, and heads⁵¹² being cut off. They manifested them enduring their bodies being beaten with fists and sticks and struck by weapons. They manifested them enduring their bodies being cut apart or their hearts and eyes being plucked out.⁵¹³

9. 36 Sudhana saw the manifestation of forms of the images of the conduct of patience of all Bodhisattvas: the formed appearances of other Bodhisattvas appearing in the three times who, in seeking omniscience with great compassion, were enduring, forbearing, and indifferent to physical and mental torments and to their limbs and the smaller parts of their bodies being cut off. [F.360.b]

9. 37 Sudhana saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from the pores manifesting the different separate forms of the conduct of diligence of all Bodhisattvas: the manifestations of the diligence of the Bodhisattvas of the past, future, and present making worlds tremble, agitating the oceans, causing beings to be dismayed with samsara, terrifying all tirthikas, causing the hordes of maras to flee, and illuminating the aspects of the Dharma.⁵¹⁴

9. 38 Sudhana also saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from the pores manifesting all the many kinds of Bodhisattva conduct that are performed: all their choosing of an existence; their being born into a family; their formation of a body; their being taught by kalyanamitras; the locations for their practicing the instructions of the kalyanamitra; the temples, locations, aerial palaces, lands, or mountain caves that are favorable for the practice of the aspects of the meditation of the Tathagatas; their physical forms as Rishis in which they accomplish those aspects of meditation; their ruling as kings; their aspiration for renunciation; and the discipline, commitment, and precepts of their path of mendicancy.

9. 39 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, also saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from each of the pores manifesting [F.361.a] the practice of the conduct of the perfection of wisdom. He saw the acquisitions of a body for seeking all the Dharma, in those bodies giving up all possessions for the sake of a single word of the Dharma, seeking that single word from all beings, seeking it from all kalyanamitras with service and respect, and seeking it from all the Tathagatas with faith, veneration, and bowing down the body. Just as they do for a single word of the Dharma, they do the same for all the words of the Dharma that have the perfection of wisdom of the Tathagatas, seeking them with the apparent image of a body appearing among all beings.

9. 40 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, also saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from each of the pores manifesting the methods of all Bodhisattvas for ripening beings, for gathering as pupils all beings, and he saw the entire vast extent of the ocean of beings. He saw the dedication to the conduct of skillful methods in their previous lifetimes, how they gathered pupils through having a body that was the same as that of each and every being.

9. 41 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, also saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from each of the pores manifesting the conduct that accomplishes the prayers of all the bhagavats in the past kalpas, the conduct

that accomplishes the prayers for ripening all beings, and the conduct that accomplishes the prayers for purifying all realms. [F.361.b] Within the field of the accomplishment of those prayers they accomplished the remedy for each fault of samsara at the feet of this and that Tathagata. Sudhana, the head merchant's son, saw all of these manifesting from each single field of networks of light rays from a pore.

9. 42 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, also saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from each of the pores manifesting an ocean of all the past conduct of the perfection of strength.

9. 43 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, also saw some of the fields of networks of light rays from each of the pores manifesting an ocean of all the past practice of the conduct of wisdom that has the nature of awaking beings from the sleep of ignorance.

9. 44 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, thus observed and examined the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja resting in meditation. He was mindful of the field of liberation of samadhi; he was contemplating the inconceivable, supreme power of Bodhisattva samadhi; he was comprehending that inconceivable ocean of ways to benefit beings; he was following and was devoted to that inconceivable, complete display of the composite gateways for entry into those streams of conduct; he was entering through the gateway to the pure wisdom of the display of the realm of phenomena; he was examining the wisdom that is received through the blessing of the Budas; he was developing the strength of those Bodhisattva powers; he was making firm the strength of those Bodhisattva prayers; and he was increasing the strength of that Bodhisattva conduct. In that way, he sat before the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja for an entire day and night. [F.362.a] He sat before the Bikshu

Sagara dhvaja for two days, for seven days, for half a month, for a whole month, for two months, for six months, and for another six days and nights.⁵¹⁶

9. 45 When six months and six days had passed, the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja arose from his samadhi. Then Sudhana said to him, "Arya, this wonderful samadhi that is so profound; that is so vast; that has such an immeasurable scope; that has such an inconceivable manifestation; that has such an unequaled radiance; that has such innumerable displays; that has such an inviolable range; that has such an unalloyed scope; that has such a universal illumination; that has such an accomplishment of benefit for limitless beings; that brings such a cessation of the measureless sufferings of all beings; that is present in order to end the sufferings of poverty; that is present in order to save beings from existences of rebirth as animals, in order to close all the gateways that lead to unfortunate existences, in order to lead onto the path to higher existences, in order to bring the joy and happiness of devas and humans, in order to bring the experience of joy within the scope of meditation, in order to increase joy in composite conduct, and in order to show the gateway to escape from the three realms that is present in order to illuminate the causes for the creation of the aspiration to enlightenment, to increase the causes for generating the accumulations of merit and wisdom, [F.362.b] to increase the vast power of great compassion, to develop the strength of great prayers, to attain the illumination of the path of the Bodhisattvas, to establish the yana of the perfections, to accomplish entry into the exceptional Mahayana, to know and illuminate the completely good conduct, to know and attain the illumination of the Bodhisattva bhumi, to accomplish the prayers, conduct, and pure-emergence displays of all the Bodhisattvas; and that becomes present in order to ascend without impediment to the level of omniscience -Arya, what is the name of this samadhi??

9. 46 The Bikshu Sagara dhvaja answered, ?Noble one, it is the perfection of wisdom called the complete vision of the attainment of equanimity. The radiance of that samadhi is called the pure display of every gateway.

9. 47 ?Noble one, if you meditate on the pure display of every gateway samadhi that arises from attaining the radiance of the perfection of wisdom called the complete vision of the attainment of equanimity, then you will accomplish ten times countless hundreds of thousands of samadhis such as the pure display of every gateway.?

9. 48 Sudhana asked, ?Arya, what is the range of this samadhi??

The Bikshu Sagara dhvaja answered, ?Noble one, if you rest in this samadhi, you will have no impediment in perceiving world realms; you will have no impediment in entering those world realms; you will have no impediment in overpowering those world realms; you will have no impediment in adorning those world realms; you will have no impediment in cleansing those world realms; [F.363.a] you will have no impediment in purifying those world realms; you will have no impediment in perceiving and looking at the Budas; you will have no impediment in examining the greatness of the Budas; you will have no impediment in knowing the miracles of the Budas; you will have no impediment in comprehending and understanding the strengths of the Budas; you will have no impediment in comprehending the ocean of the qualities of the Budas;

you will have no impediment in obtaining the rain of the Dharma clouds of the Budas; you will have no impediment in knowing and understanding distinctly the Dharma wheels of the Budas; you will have no impediment in comprehending and understanding the ocean of the circles of followers of the Budas; you will have no impediment in comprehending and following the ten directions; you will have no impediment in examining the Dharma taught by the Budas; you will have no impediment in examining the directions of the Budas; you will have no impediment in never abandoning the direction of great compassion; you will have no impediment in filling the directions with great love; you will have no impediment in never tiring of the direction of gazing at the Budas; you will have no impediment in comprehending and understanding all of the ocean of the Budas; you will have no impediment in knowing and understanding all of the ocean of beings; you will have no impediment in knowing and understanding all of the ocean of the faculties of beings; and you will have no impediment in knowing all the different faculties of beings.

9. 49 ?Noble one, I know only this conduct of the perfection of wisdom. How could I know or describe the qualities of, teach the conduct of, describe the scope of, praise the strength of the great prayers of, illuminate the gateway for the emergence of, describe the true accomplishment of, teach the path of, follow the continuum of samadhi of, know the scope of the mind of, or be able to comprehend the equanimity of the wisdom of the entry by the Bodhisattvas in the ocean of the conduct of the perfection of wisdom? So too of the pure understanding of the scope of the realm of phenomena, [F.363.b] of having the wisdom that follows knowing all phenomena, of pervading the immeasurable field of perception with a vast understanding, of having the power of the radiance of great mental retention, of the purity of the radiance of the field of samadhi, of the emergence of the mighty power of miraculous clairvoyance, of entering an ocean of unceasing discernment, of the sweet voice of the essence of the Bodhisattva bhumi, or of becoming a refuge for all beings.

9. 50 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a land called Samudravetadi, in which there is a park named Samanta vyuha to the east of the city Mahaprabhasa. There dwells an upasika by the name of Asha, who is the wife of Suprabhasa, a lord over humans. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

9. 51 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, was overjoyed, pleased, happy, and content, having received the essence from the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja, having been nourished by the Dharma, having been brought into the field of samadhi, having attained the illumination of the light of wisdom, [F.364.a] having attained the illumination of the radiance of samadhi, having realized a pure aspiration, his mind having followed the radiance of the way of the Dharma, possessing the radiance from the pure gateways, and having the wisdom that has arisen from the light of all directions.520

9. 52 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja, circumambulated the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja a hundred thousand times, keeping him to his right, bowed down and paid homage to the Bikshu Sagara dhvaja, and, looking back again and again, paying homage to him, bowing down to him, venerating him, respecting him, keeping him in mind, thinking of him, meditating on him, meditating deeply on him, speaking highly of him, calling out in wonderment over him, focusing on his

10. 15 All those who suffered from various illnesses, were mired in various kleshas, were attached to various wrong views, or were obscured by karmic obscurations, as soon as they saw Upasika Asha, [F.367.b] were healed of their illnesses, became freed from the kleshas that stained their minds, departed from their erroneous views, had all their mountains of obscurations

destroyed, and entered the pure field of freedom from obscurations, and within that pure field they purified all their roots of merit, caused all the seedlings of their faculties to grow, became dedicated to the ocean of the way of omniscient wisdom, entered the entire ocean of the gateways to the power of retention, faced the entire ocean of the gateways of samadhis, developed all the gateways of prayer, gave rise to all the gateways of conduct, purified all the gateways of the accomplishment of qualities, gave rise to the ways of all the clairvoyances of a vast mind, and could go anywhere with unimpeded bodies.⁵⁴⁴

10. 16 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, entered the Samanta vyuha Park, looked around at everything, and saw the upasika Asha seated on a magnificent throne. He approached the upasika Asha and, having reached her, bowed his head to the feet of the upasika Asha. He circumambulated her, keeping her to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times and then said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it. [F.368.a] Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?"

10. 17 The upasika Asha said, "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of bliss without sorrow. Noble one, through its power it is beneficial to see me, it is beneficial to hear me, it is beneficial to honor me, it is beneficial to be in one place with me, and it is beneficial to remember me.

10. 18 "Noble one, when beings who have not developed the roots of merit, have not become pupils of a kalyanamitra, and have no intention to attain complete buddhahood look at me, I do not appear within their field of vision.

10. 19 ?Noble one, merely through seeing me, beings become irreversible on the path to the highest, complete enlightenment.

10. 20 ?Moreover, noble one, Tathagatas come from the east into my presence, and they sit on precious thrones and teach the Dharma. And just as they come from the east, they come in that way from the ten directions.

10. 21 ?Therefore, noble one, I am never without the sight of the Tathagatas, I am never without the teaching of the Dharma, and I am never without the company of Bodhisattvas.

10. 22 ?Noble one, eighty-four hundred thousand quintillion beings who have the same level of conduct as me are present in this Samanta vyuha Park. They are all irreversibly progressing to the highest, complete enlightenment.

[F.368.b]

10. 23 ?Noble one, all the other beings who are present here will also progress irreversibly to the highest, complete enlightenment and will be included within the irreversible sangha and have the same level of conduct as myself.?

10. 24 Sudhana asked, ?Arya, how long have you had the aspiration to attain the highest, complete enlightenment??

The upasika Asha answered, ?Noble one, I remember my past lives. There was the Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha named Dipankara. I took the vows of celibacy in the presence of that Tathagata. I made offerings to that Tathagata. I obtained the teaching of the Dharma from that Tathagata. Before him there was a Tathagata named Vimala. I entered homelessness within his teaching, and I also obtained his wheel of the Dharma. Before him there was a Tathagata named Ketu, and I propitiated him. Before him there was a Tathagata named Merushri. Before him there was a Tathagata named Padma-garbha. Before him there was a Tathagata named Vairocana. Before him there was a Tathagata named Samanta cakshu. Before him there was a Tathagata named Brahmashuddha. Before him there was a Tathagata named Vajranabhi. Before him there was a Tathagata named Varunadeva.

10. 25 ?Noble one, in that way I think of and remember the continuous sequence of one life after another, one kalpa after another, and the successions of one Buda after another, [F.369.a] remembering Tathagatas as numerous as the grains of sand in thirty-six Ganges Rivers, whom I served, propitiated, made offerings to, honored, and heard the Dharma from and within whose teaching I practiced the conduct of celibacy.

10. 26 ?Noble one, the Tathagatas know how many Tathagatas beyond that I have honored.

?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas are immeasurable because they fill the realm of phenomena through developing the aspiration for enlightenment for the first time.

?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas are immeasurable because through their Bodhisattva conduct they include all kalpas in all realms.

10. 29 ?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas are immeasurable because through the power of samadhi they are irreversible on the Bodhisattva path.

?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas are immeasurable because through the power of retention they realize the way of retention that supports all beings.

10. 30 ?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas are immeasurable because through the power of the radiance of knowledge they realize and possess the way of the knowledge of the three times. [F.369.b]

?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas are immeasurable because through the power of clairvoyance they accomplish wheels of nets of light in accordance with the thoughts and aspirations of beings in all realms.

10. 31 ?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas are immeasurable because through the power of discernment they can satisfy all beings by uttering just one word.

?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas are immeasurable because through the purity of their bodies they pervade all the Buda realms with their bodies.?

10. 32 Sudhana asked, ?Arya, at which twilight will you attain the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood??

Asha answered, ?Noble one, it is like this: Bodhisattvas do not develop the aspiration for enlightenment with the intention of guiding and ripening one being, or a hundred beings, or a thousand beings, or a hundred thousand beings, or ten million beings, or a thousand million beings,^{545 546 547}

Platforms of precious fruit had formed at the feet of trees that were made of Sudhana approached the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha.

11. 5 When he had approached him, seeing that omniscience arises from the gateway of the kalyanamitra, the genuine kalyanamitra that one wishes to find, because the kalyanamitra teaches the true path; seeing that omniscience is dependent on the instructions of the kalyanamitra because they lead one to the level of omniscience; seeing that omniscience is dependent on the friendship of the kalyanamitra because they lead one to the island of the jewels of the wisdom of the ten strengths; seeing that omniscience is the illumination from the lamp of the kalyanamitra because they create the light of the wisdom of the ten strengths; seeing that the kalyanamitra is the road to omniscience because they lead one to the city of unimpaired omniscience, seeing that omniscience is the lamp of the kalyanamitra because they reveal that which is equal and unequal; seeing that the kalyanamitra is the bridge of omniscience because they eliminate all the fear of falling into crevasses; seeing that the kalyanamitra is the parasol of omniscience because they cool through the power of great benevolence; seeing that the kalyanamitra is the power of omniscience because they create great compassion; and seeing that reliance on the kalyanamitra is the clear vision of omniscience because they illuminate the way of the nature of phenomena, [F.377.a] Sudhana threw his body onto the ground before him, prostrating to him. He then rose, circumambulated the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and then sat down before him. With his hands together in homage in a pleasing way with pleasing words, he said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva practice it?"⁷⁰⁸

11. 7 The Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha looked at the ten thousand brahmin youths who were there and said, "Young men, this noble one has developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. He has invited all beings to become free of fear. This noble one is prepared to bring happiness and benefit to all beings. He is facing an ocean of wisdom. He longs to drink the rain of the clouds of Dharma of all the Tathagatas. He longs to enter the ocean of all the ways of the Dharma. He longs to be in the great light of⁷⁰⁹ wisdom. He longs for the great rain of the Dharma to fall. He longs for the moon of great wisdom to rise over the world and extinguish all the torment of the kleshas. He longs to increase the roots of merit of all beings."

11. 8 Then the ten thousand brahmin youths scattered beautiful flowers with lovely aromas and in various colors over Sudhana, the head merchant's son, [F.377.b] strewed them over him, covered him with them, paid homage to him, bowed down to him, circumambulated him, keeping him to their right, and then said these words to him: "This one will become a protector of all beings; he will end all the sufferings in the hells, he will block all the pathways to rebirth as animals, he will turn beings away from the path that leads to the world of Yama, he will close the doors to the unfortunate existences, he will dry up the ocean of existences, he will cut through the bondage of existences, he will repel the mass of suffering, he will dispel the darkness of ignorance, he will establish a Cakravala mountain range of merit around the world, he will reveal the source of the jewels of wisdom, he will cause the sun of wisdom to rise, he will purify the eyes of Dharma, and he will reveal that which is equal and unequal in all the worlds.?

11. 9 Then the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha said to those youths, ?Young men, when someone has developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment and practices Bodhisattva conduct, they create happiness for all beings and will eventually attain omniscience. Young men, this noble one has developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, and therefore he will bring to completeness all the qualities of buddhahood.

[F.378.a]

11. 10 Then the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha said to Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, ?Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of being invincible to others.?

11. 11 Sudhana asked, ?What is the scope of this Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of being invincible to others??

The Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha extended his right hand and with it stroked and held the head of Sudhana, the head merchant?s son.

11. 12 As soon as the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha held the head of Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, with his right hand, Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, saw in the ten directions Buda realms as numerous as the atoms in a million Buda realms; he perceived himself to be sitting at the feet of Budas as numerous as the atoms in a million Buda realms; he saw the countless pure displays of forms within those Buda realms; he saw the ocean of the multicolored display of the circles of followers of those Tathagatas; he saw in the midst of those oceans of the circles of followers the bodies of the Tathagatas, which were adorned with the shining signs and features of a great being; he listened to their Dharma teachings without missing a single word or term; he obtained those Dharma wheels of the Tathagatas, each distinct from the other; he received the rain of Dharma that fell according to the various aspirations of beings; and he comprehended an ocean of the past prayers of those Tathagatas, which were purified by the power of various aspirations; [F.378.b] he also comprehended those pure oceans of various prayers, which were oceans that had been accumulated by the Budas; he also saw the perception of the colors of the bodies of the Budas that satisfied beings in accordance with their wishes; he also saw the network of light rays from the Budas as various passionless, pure displays of halos; and he also perceived the strengths of those Budas that possessed the unobscured radiance of wisdom.

11. 13 In that way, he was illuminated by the light of wisdom from the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of being invincible to others; he attained the illumination of the samadhi called the essence of the sun; he possessed the samadhi called the liberation of unceasing wisdom; he obtained the sight of the gateway of retention called the network in all directions; he attained the samadhi called the range of the summit of well-ordered knowledge; he had the range of dwelling in the perfection of wisdom, which is the path with the complete array of foundations; he gained the light of the samadhi called the

Budas? domain of the essence of space; his mind was illuminated by the samadhi called the rim of the Dharma wheel of all the Budas; and he attained the light of the samadhi called the domain of the unceasing precious knowledge of the three times.⁷¹⁰

11. 14 He perceived sitting at the feet of some Tathagatas for one day and night, at the feet of some for seven days, at the feet of some for half a month, at the feet of some for one month, at the feet of some for one year, at the feet of some for a hundred years, at the feet of some for a thousand years, at the feet of some for a hundred thousand years, at the feet of some for ten million years, [F.379.a] at the feet of some for a billion years, at the feet of some for ten billion years, at the feet of some for a trillion years, at the feet of some for a quintillion years, at the feet of some for half a kalpa, at the feet of some for one kalpa, at the feet of some for a hundred kalpas, at the feet of some for a thousand kalpas, at the feet of some for a hundred thousand kalpas, at the feet of some for ten million kalpas, at the feet of some for a billion kalpas, at the feet of some for ten billion kalpas, at the feet of some for a trillion kalpas, at the feet of some for a quintillion kalpas, at the feet of some for an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of kalpas, at the feet of some Tathagatas for as many kalpas as there are atoms in Jambudvipa, and so on up to at the feet of some Tathagatas for as many kalpas as there are atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of Buda realms.⁷¹³

11. 15 Then the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha released Sudhana, the head merchant's son, and Sudhana perceived again that he was sitting at the feet of the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha.

11. 16 The Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha asked him, "Noble one, do you remember?"

Sudhana replied, "Arya, I remember the blessing of the kalyanamitra."

11. 17 The Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha said, "Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of being invincible to others. How could I know or describe the qualities, indicate the different prayers, know the formation of realms, comprehend the scope of the wisdom, follow the range of the samadhis, comprehend the miracles and emanations that follow the arising of the might and display of the powerful liberations, grasp the characteristics of the different bodies, describe the pure domain of the voices, or teach the radiance of the wisdom of the Bodhisattvas who have attained the samadhis that have the clairvoyant knowledge that is superior to all beings, who have power over the wheel of time, who are skilled in the accomplishment of the knowledge of the signs of buddhahood, who perceive the display of the rising of the sun of the Tathagatas, [F.379.b] who have accumulated the knowledge of the single characteristic of the range of the three times, who have bodies that are distributed through all world realms, who have bodies of wisdom that illuminate the entire realm of phenomena, who appear in accordance with the wishes of all beings, who practice an appropriate conduct in a way that is in accordance with the aspirations of beings, who shine in a way that delights, and who have the pure domain of stainless radiant wisdom?714

716

717

11. 18 "Depart, noble one. In this southern region, in the land called Ishana, there dwells a brahmin by the name of Jayoshmayatana. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

11. 19 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, was overjoyed, pleased, happy, and content. He bowed his head to the feet of the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha, circumambulated the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha, keeping him to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, and, looking back again and again, departed from the Rishi Bhishmottara nirghosha. 12. Chapter 12

JAYOShMAYATANA

12. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, was illuminated by the wisdom of the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of being invincible to others. He dwelled in the direct experience of the inconceivable range of the miraculous manifestations of the Budas. He perceived the direct knowledge of inconceivable Bodhisattva liberations. His mind was illuminated by the wisdom of inconceivable Bodhisattva samadhis. He had attained the radiance of the wisdom of samadhi that is present at all times. He was illuminated by the range of samadhi, in which all perceptions are present and included. He had obtained the light of the wisdom that transcends all worlds. He had the direct perception of dwelling in the entire range of the three times. He was devoted to the wisdom that teaches equality without dualistic conceptions. He had the light of wisdom that pervaded throughout all objects of perception. He had mastered the treasury of aspiration for pure patience toward all that is heard. He had attained the definitive wisdom of patience for natural phenomena. His mind was never apart from meditation on the nature of the Bodhisattva conduct of higher cognition. His mind was irreversibly progressing toward the power of omniscience. He had attained the illumination of the knowledge of the ten strengths. His mind was never content in its aspiration to hear the sound of the words of the realm of Dharma. [F.380.b] His mind had gained entry into the field of dwelling in omniscience. His mind had attained the infinite display of Bodhisattva conduct. His mind was purified by the infinite domain of great Bodhisattva prayers. He had the mind with direct perception of the limitless knowledge without limit or center of the unceasing network of world realms. He had the mind that never wearies in ripening and guiding the infinite ocean of beings. He saw the infinite range of Bodhisattva conduct. He saw the infinite diversity of the different world realms. He saw the small and the vast objects of perception included718 within the infinite world realms. He saw the various networks of names that are the bases for infinite world realms. He saw the various infinite, differing relative designations and terms for infinite world realms. He saw the infinite, differing aspirations of beings. He saw the infinite, differing categories of beings. He saw the infinite practices for guiding and ripening beings. He saw the various infinite perceptions of the directions and times of beings.

12. 2 Focused on the kalyanamitra, Sudhana eventually arrived in the land called Ishana and went to where the brahmin Jayoshmayatana was.

12. 3 At that time, the brahmin Jayoshmayatana was practicing the basis for accomplishing omniscience and practicing extreme asceticism. On all four sides of himself he had lit fires the size of mountains. Towering above was the precipice of a great mountain with a path of razors leading up it.⁷²⁸

12. 4 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the brahmin Jayoshmayatana, sat down before him, and with his hands together in homage said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? In what way does a Bodhisattva practice it? Arya, I have heard that you teach and give instructions to Bodhisattvas. Therefore, Arya, teach me how Bodhisattvas train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they practice it!?"

12. 5 The brahmin Jayoshmayatana said, "Noble one, go and climb up this mountain on the path of razors and then jump down into this fire. In that way, your Bodhisattva conduct will become pure."

12. 6 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, thought, "It is rare to avoid the eight unfavorable existences. It is rare to become a human. It is rare to have pure good fortune. It is rare to have the appearance of a Buddha. [F.381.b] It is rare to have unimpaired senses. It is rare to hear the Buddhadharma. It is rare to meet a higher being. It is rare to have the friendship of a true kalyanamitra. It is rare to gain the teaching of the true way. It is rare to have a right livelihood. It is rare in the human world to practice the Dharma and the ancillary Dharmas.⁷²⁹

12. 7 "This person who will create an obstacle to my roots of merit, who urges me to kill myself, is he a mara? Is he blessed by a mara? Is he a follower of Mara? Is he pretending to be a kalyanamitra? Is he someone who destroys Bodhisattvas? Does he wish to prevent me from attaining omniscience? Does he wish to lead me down a wrong path? Is he creating an obstacle to the gateway of the Dharma through which one realizes the Buddhadharma??730

12. 8 When Sudhana had these thoughts, ten thousand Brahmas who were up in the sky said to him, "Noble one, do not be unrelenting in these thoughts! This arya has attained the illumination of the samadhi vajra light rays. He has unwavering diligence. He has set out on the greatest undertaking. He is dedicated to drying up the moisture of craving in all beings. He is dedicated to cutting through the nets of wrong views. He is prepared to incinerate the forest of kleshas. [F.382.a] He is dedicated to illuminating all the desolate areas of unfavorable knowledge. He has the resolute commitment to turn all beings away from the terror of the chasm of aging and death. He is dedicated to dispelling the darkness in the three times. He radiates the light rays of the entire Dharma.731 732

12. 9 "Noble one, while this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, through the power of his commitment to asceticism and self-discipline, Brahmas who were accomplished and powerful, who arrogantly thought of themselves as preeminent in all worlds, and who were attached to a variety of incorrect views ceased to take pleasure in their state and no longer enjoyed the taste of their dhyana, and they came into the presence of this arya. When they had arrived, through the overpowering might of this arya's miracles and his fierce discipline and asceticism, they were all turned away from their wrong views, and he taught them the Dharma so that they would abandon all their pride and arrogance. He taught them the Dharma so that they would have great love and great compassion that spread over all beings, so that they would have an unwavering wish for enlightenment, so that they would develop a vast aspiration for enlightenment, so that they would be dedicated to seeing all the Budas, so that they would have the complete attainment of the domain of the speech of the Budas, and so that there would be everywhere without obscuration or impediment the sound of the voices of the Budas.? [F.382.b]735 736

12. 10 Ten thousand maras were also in the sky above, scattering divine precious jewels. They said, ?Noble one, while this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, from this mass of light rays came a great radiance that outshone all our residences, bodies, adornments, and possessions. Therefore, we too ceased to take pleasure in our residences, and with our entourages we came into the presence of this arya. When we had come before him, this arya taught us the Dharma so that our minds were healed, we developed the aspiration for enlightenment, and we became irreversible on the way to the highest, complete enlightenment.?

12. 11 Ten thousand Vashavartin deva kings were also in the sky above, scattering divine flowers. They said, ?Noble one, while this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, we also ceased to take delight in our residences, and therefore each of us, without entourages, came into the presence of this arya. When we came into his presence, he taught us the Dharma so that we gained control over our own minds. He taught us the Dharma so that we would have power over all kleshas, so that we would have the power to be reborn wherever we wish, so that we would have the power to purify the obscuration of karma, so that we would have power over all meditative states, so that we would have power over requisites, [F.383.a] and so that we would have the power to live as long as we wish.?

12. 12 Ten thousand Sunirmita deva kings were also in the sky above, singing out a melodious roar of divine songs. They said, ?Noble one, while this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats there came from those masses of flames a corresponding light that purified, illuminated, and brightened our aerial palaces. It also illuminated and brightened our adornments and our apsaras. Then we ceased to take delight in our entourage of young devas and apsaras. We ceased to delight in the bliss of desire, and our bodies and minds were left unsatisfied. We came into the presence of this arya. When we came into his presence, he taught us the Dharma so that our minds would be purified. He taught us the Dharma so that our minds would be brightened, so that our minds would be very pure, so that our minds would be tractable, so that our minds would be joyful, so that we would have the pure attainment of the knowledge of the ten strengths, so as to increase the great power of the Dharma, so as to purify our bodies, so as to attain an immeasurable Buda body, so as to purify our speech, and so as to attain the voice of a Buda.?738

12. 13 Ten thousand Samtushita deva kings were also in the sky with an entourage of deva youths and apsaras, [F.383.b] all of whom were paying homage and making an offering of sending down rain from clouds of various scented powders. They said, ?Noble one, while this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, we ceased to take delight in our residences. As we had ceased to take delight in them, we came into the presence of this arya. When we came into his presence, he taught us the Dharma so that we would not be dependent on any sensory object. He taught us the Dharma so that our minds would have contentment, so that we would create the roots of merit, so that we would attain the development of the aspiration for enlightenment, and so that we would be able to fulfill the entire Buddhadharma.⁷³⁹

12. 14 Ten thousand Suyama deva kings were also in the sky with an entourage of deva youths and apsaras, all of whom were sending down a rain of divine coral tree flowers. They said, "Noble one, while this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, we ceased to take delight in listening to divine songs. As we had ceased to take delight in them, we came into the presence of this arya. When we came into his presence, he taught us the Dharma so that we would turn away from all delight in desires and so that we would attain all of the Buddhadharma."

12. 15 Ten thousand Shakras, lords of devas, each with their thirty-two secondary lords and an entourage of deva youths and apsaras, were also in the sky. They were dropping down rain from clouds of divine clothing, precious adornments, and flowers. They said, "Noble one, [F.384.a] when this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, we ceased to take delight in Shakra's palace, park, pleasure groves, the playing of divine music, attendants, and songs. As we had ceased to take delight in them, we came into the presence of this arya. When we came into his presence, he taught us the Dharma so that we would renounce all delight in desires. He said, "All these have the qualities of being impermanent, unstable, and decaying." He taught us the Dharma so that our arrogance and carelessness would end and we would develop the aspiration for the highest enlightenment.

12. 16 ?Moreover, noble one, just by his gaze these peaks of Meru are shaken.

We became alarmed on being shaken, and as the omniscient mind cannot be disturbed, we made the prayer to attain omniscient wisdom.?

12. 17 Ten thousand Nagas such as the Naga kings Airavata, Nanda, and Upananda were also in the sky above. They were sending down rain from clouds of divine yellow sandalwood, the pleasant sound of a chorus of Naga maidens, and rain that was a flow of divine scented water. They said, ?Noble one, when this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, from this great fire shone a great light that illuminated all the dwellings of Nagas and eliminated the rains of sand and fear of the garudas. [F.384.b] It also pacified anger, refreshed our bodies, and made our minds serene. Then when we had serene minds, this arya taught us the Dharma so that we would repudiate the evil ways of Nagas, renounce all karma that brings obscuration, confess transgressions, develop the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, and be established in omniscience.?740 741

12. 18 Ten thousand yaksha lords were also in the sky above. They made various kinds of offerings to the brahmin Jayoshmayatana and Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, and then they said, ?Noble one, when this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, we and all our retinues developed a loving mind toward humans. All yakshas, rakshasas, and kumbhandas also developed loving minds. They came before us with loving minds and without violence. We too were overpowered by the power of love, and each of us ceased to delight in our own residences. In that way, we each went with our retinues to the presence of the arya. When we arrived, a light came from this arya?s body, illuminated all our bodies, and filled us with bliss. In that way, both our bodies and minds became blissful. Then he taught us the Dharma so that the multitude of yakshas, rakshasas, kumbhandas, and kataputanas would develop the aspiration to enlightenment.?

12. 19 Ten thousand gandharva lords [F.385.a] were also in the sky above, and they said, ?Noble one, while we were each dwelling in our own abodes, and when this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, from this fire came a light that illuminated our abodes. When that light struck us we experienced inconceivable bliss. We went to be in the presence of this arya, and when we arrived in his presence, he taught us the Dharma so that we would progress irreversibly toward the highest, complete enlightenment.?

12. 20 Ten thousand asura lords rose up from the ocean, high into the sky, where they knelt on their right knees, and with hands together in homage they paid homage, saying, ?Noble one, when this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, our asura world, a great circle of earth with its oceans and mountains, shook. All our arrogance and pride was overwhelmed by his self-discipline and asceticism. We went to be in the presence of this arya, and when we arrived in his presence, he taught us the Dharma so that we would abandon all deception, enter the patience of the profound Dharma, be established in the unshakable true nature of phenomena, and attain the knowledge of the ten strengths.?

12. 21 Ten thousand garuda lords [F.385.b] such as the garuda lord Mahavegadharin manifested in the form of handsome brahmin youths and said, ?Noble one, when this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, a great light came from these great masses of fire and illuminated and shook our abodes. We were frightened, terrified, and dismayed, and so we went to be in the presence of this arya. This arya taught us the Dharma so that we would practice great love, so that we were established in great compassion, so that we would apply ourselves to plunging into the ocean of samsara, so that we would apply ourselves to saving beings who are sinking in the swamp of desire, so that we would apply ourselves to the pure gateway of the higher motivation for enlightenment, so that we would apply ourselves to sharp wisdom and methods, and so that we would apply ourselves to guiding beings in whatever way will ripen them.?742

12. 22 Ten thousand kinnara lords were also in the sky. They said, ?Noble one, when this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, the sound of the word Buda, the word Dharma, the words irreversible Bodhisattva Sangha, and the words the prayer to reach enlightenment came from the rows of palm trees, the music of the garlands of strings of networks of little bells on our trees, the musical instruments, the precious jewelry, the enjoyed possessions in the homes, and the blowing of the breezes in our domain.

There came the words that said that in this and that particular world a Bodhisattva named such and such is praying to attain enlightenment;

[F.386.a] in this and that particular world a Bodhisattva named such and such745

is accomplishing a difficult renunciation; in this and that particular world a Bodhisattva named such and such is purifying the domain of omniscient wisdom; in this and that particular world a Bodhisattva named such and such is going to the bodhimanda; in this and that particular world a Bodhisattva named such and such has defeated Mara, and his army is attaining the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood; in this and that particular world a Tathagata named such and such is turning the wheel of the Dharma; in this and that particular world a Tathagata named such and such, having accomplished all the deeds of a Buddha without remainder, is passing away into the state of nirvana without any remaining skandhas.

12. 23 ?Noble one, it is possible that there could be an end to the number of atoms from all the plants, wood, branches, leaves, and petals in Jambudvīpa, but there is no end to the number of the names of Tathagatas, of the Bodhisattva prayers, and of the different engagements in Bodhisattva conduct that come from, resound from, and are heard from the rows of palm trees and so on up to the musical instruments, the precious jewelry, the enjoyed possessions in the homes, [F.386.b] and the blowing of the breezes in our domain.⁷⁴⁷

12. 24 ?In that way, we experienced bliss through the intense joy of hearing the sound of a river of the words Buddha, Dharma, and Sangha, the prayers and conduct engaged in by Bodhisattvas, and their names.^{748 749}

12. 25 ?We each went to be in the presence of the arya. When we arrived in his presence, this arya taught us the Dharma so that we would become irreversible in our progress to the highest, complete enlightenment.?

12. 26 Countless thousands of desire-realm devas with beautiful bodies were also in the sky, making offerings with mentally emanated offerings. They said, ?Noble one, when this arya was enduring the ascetic practice of the five heats, a light came from these great masses of fire. That light illuminated beings as far down as the Avīci hell and extinguished the sufferings of all the beings in the hells. That light brought the image of this arya to our eyes, and therefore we yearned for this arya and experienced the bliss of the realm of desire devas. In that way, we were grateful to him, never ceased wanting to see him, and renounced delighting in desires. We went to be in the presence of this arya. This arya taught us the Dharma so that we would pray for the enlightenment of limitless beings.? [F.387.a]750

12. 27 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, on hearing this way of the Dharma, was overjoyed, pleased, happy, and content. He recognized the brahmin Jayoshmayatana to be a true kalyanamitra. He bowed his head to the feet of the brahmin Jayoshmayatana and said, 'Arya, I confess my transgression of having disobeyed a kalyanamitra's instruction.'

12. 28 Then the brahmin Jayoshmayatana recited this verse to Sudhana, the head merchant's son:

12. 29 'The Bodhisattva who successfully follows the instructions

And who is mindful not to disobey the guru's words752

Will successfully accomplish all goals and successfully

Attain the wisdom of buddhahood, enlightened under the Bodhi tree.'

12. 30 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, climbed the path of razors up the mountain precipice and jumped down into the great mass of fire. When he jumped, he attained the Bodhisattva samadhi called completely stable. When he landed in the fire, he attained the Bodhisattva samadhi called perceiving the bliss of peace.

12. 31 Sudhana said, 'I am astonished, Arya! The touch of the fire was blissful, and the mountain path of razors was also blissful to the touch.'

12. 32 The brahmin Jayoshmayatana said, 'Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the unceasing domain. [F.387.b] However, noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the unceasing domain. How could I know or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who are like masses of fire, who pray to eliminate all the kleshas and wrong views of all beings, who have an ensign that is never in retreat, who have invincible minds, who have minds that never despair, who have minds that are never despondent, who are like Narayana possessing the vajra essence, who reach the conclusion of their great undertakings, who have no despondency, who never slacken, who are like whirlwinds, who are dedicated to the benefit of all beings, who have irreversible diligence, and who wear the armor of irreversibility?⁷⁵³

12. 33 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a city called Simhavijimbhita. There dwells Maitrayani, the daughter of King Simhaketu, with her entourage of five hundred maidens. Go to her and ask her, ?How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

12. 34 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the brahmin Jayoshmayatana, circumambulated the brahmin Jayoshmayatana, keeping him to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, and, looking back again and again, departed from the presence of the brahmin Jayoshmayatana.

13. Chapter 13

MAITRAYANI

13. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, with inconceivable respect for kalyanamitras, with a pure, vast aspiration, intent on the Mahayana, aspiring to the wisdom of buddhahood, [F.388.a] following the Buddhadharma, longing to follow the kalyanamitras, practicing veneration of the Dharma, intent on unimpeded wisdom, with conviction in the highest goal, being within the range of the apogee of wisdom, comprehending the three times in a fraction of an instant, intent on the nondual apogee of space, having attained certainty in the apogee of nonduality, dwelling in the nonconceptual apogee of the realm of the Dharma, having entered the comprehension of the way that is the apogee of being free of obscurations, dedicated to the harmony that is the apogee of action, realizing that the apogee of the Tathagatas is without an apogee, dwelling in the nonconceptuality that is the apogee of the Budas, and dedicated to the wisdom that disperses the network of conceptualizations of all beings, had a mind free from all attachment to realms, free from attachment to all the circles of followers of the Budas, and practiced, without dwelling in any location, the purification of all Buda realms; he had the recognition that there is no self and no beings within all beings, comprehended that all sounds are like echoes, and was dedicated to the realization that all forms are the same as reflections of forms.⁷⁵⁴

13. 2 Sudhana eventually arrived at the city of Simha vijrimbhita. He searched for and sought the maiden Maitrayani and heard that Maitrayani, the daughter of King Simhaketu, with her entourage of five hundred maidens, was in a palace called Vairocana garbha. [F.388.b] She was teaching the Dharma while seated on a throne that had uragasara sandalwood legs, was draped in a network of threads of gold, and had a cushion made of divine material.

13. 3 Sudhana entered the city of Simha vijrimbhita and went to the residence of King Simhaketu. He sat at the king's outer gate hoping to see the maiden Maitrayani.

13. 4 Sudhana saw many hundreds of people, many thousands of people, many hundreds of thousands of people there.

13. 5 He asked them, "Where have you come from? Where are you going?" They replied, "We have come to hear the Dharma from the maiden Maitrayani."

Sudhana thought, "It seems as if everyone is allowed to go in," and he went inside.

13. 6 When he had gone inside and looked around, he saw that the Vairocana-garbha palace had the inconceivable display of a floor that was made of crystal, pillars made of beryl, and walls made of diamonds; it was adorned with hundreds of thousands of pinnacles made of solid gold, was furnished with round mirrors made of the essence of a thousand precious materials, and was adorned with countless precious jewels; it was arrayed with precious jewels that delighted beings and was strewn with countless nets of jewels; and there was the melodious sound from hundreds of thousands of jingling golden bells.⁷⁶⁰

13. 7 He saw the maiden Maitrayani, who had deep black eyes, deep black hair, and golden skin.⁷⁶¹

13. 8 Sudhana bowed his head to the feet of the maiden Maitrayani, circumambulated her, keeping her to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, [F.389.a] and with his hands together in homage sat down before her.

13. 9 Sudhana said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.

13. 10 ?Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?

13. 11 Maitrayani said, ?Noble one, look at the display of my residence!?

Sudhana looked all around and saw in each wall, each pillar, each round mirror, each form, each shape, each precious jewel, each golden bell, each precious tree, each pore, and each string of jewels the images of the Tathagatas in all the realm of phenomena first developing their aspiration for enlightenment, their conduct and the scope of their prayers, the display of their setting forth, their manifestation of the attainment of buddhahood, their turning the wheel of the Dharma, and their demonstration of passing into nirvana. What he saw from one object of perception he saw from all the objects of perception. For example, there appeared in a lake filled with water that was unpolluted and clear [F.389.b] the reflection of the sky, the sun, the moon, and the constellations of stars. In the same way, in every object of perception within the Vairocana garbha palace appeared the reflections of all the Tathagatas present in the entire realm of phenomena as the result of the maiden Maitrayani?s previous roots of merit.

13. 12 When Sudhana had seen and remembered the features of this display of the vision of the Budas, with his hands together in homage he looked at Maitrayani?s face.

13. 13 She said to him, ?Noble one, I have attained the teaching of the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the complete display. I sought this teaching of the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the complete display from as many Tathagatas as there are grains of sand in three hundred and sixty million Ganges Rivers. Those Tathagatas, through making me enter various gateways, made me realize the teaching of the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the complete display. What was taught by any one of them was not taught by another of them.762

13. 14 Sudhana asked, 'Arya, what is the scope of this teaching of the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the complete display?'

Maitrayani answered, 'Noble one, having been made to face, reflect on, follow, practice, contemplate, approach, grasp, display, attain, adorn, and analyze this teaching of the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the complete display, [F.390.a] there arose the power of retention called the complete gateways. Countless millions of Dharma gateways are present, are included, are manifest, are collected, and are arranged within the range of that power of retention.763

13. 15 'There is the gateway to the Buda realms, the gateway to the Budas, the gateway to the Dharma, the gateway to beings, the gateway to the past, the gateway to the future, the gateway to the present, the gateway to the highest state, the gateway to merit, the gateway to the accumulation of merit, the gateway to wisdom, the gateway to the accumulation of wisdom, the gateway to the forms of prayer, the gateway to conduct, the gateway to pure conduct, the gateway to the creation of conduct, the gateway to the perfection of conduct, the gateway to karma, the gateway to the illumination of karma, the gateway to the continuum of karma, the gateway to the creation of karma, the gateway to the range of karma, the gateway to the avoidance of bad karma, the gateway to the practice of good karma, the gateway to power over karma, the gateway to good behavior, the gateway to solely afflicted world realms, the gateway to solely pure world realms, the gateway to entering the level world realms, the gateway to the sideways world realms, the gateway to the world realms of upside-down beings, the gateway to entering illusory manifestations, [F.391.a] the gateway to the continuum of world realms, the gateway to the conceptual identification of locations, the gateway to the minute being within the vast, the gateway to the vast being within the minute, the gateway to seeing the Budas, the gateway to the different forms of the bodies of the Budas, the gateway to the different nets of light rays of the Budas, the gateway to the differentiation of the domains of speech of the Budas, the gateway to the attainment of the wheels of Dharma of the Budas, the gateway to the differentiation between the wheels of Dharma of the Budas, the gateway to the meanings of the words in the wheels of Dharma of the Budas, the gateway to the turning of the wheels of Dharma of the Budas, the gateway to the actions of the Budas, the gateway to the circles of followers of the Budas, the gateway to the differentiation between the circles of followers of the Budas, the gateway to entering the ocean of the circles of followers of the Budas, the gateway to the radiance of the strengths of the Budas, the gateway to the samadhis of the Budas, the gateway to the miracles of the samadhis of the Budas, the gateway to the conduct of the Budas,767

the gateway to the blessings of the Budas, the gateway to the emanations of the Budas, the gateway to the minds of other beings being known by the Budas, the gateway to the miraculous manifestations of the Budas, the gateway to residing in Tushita, and so on up to the gateway of demonstrating passing into nirvana, the gateway to the accomplishment of limitless benefit for beings, the gateway to the profound way of the Dharma, the gateway to the various ways of the Dharma, the gateway to the forms of the Dharma of the aspiration to enlightenment, [F.391.b] the gateway to the forms of the Dharma of the generation of the aspiration to enlightenment, the gateway to the forms of the Dharma of the accumulation of the aspiration to enlightenment, the gateway to the forms of prayer, the gateway to the forms of conduct, the gateway to the forms of clairvoyance, the gateway to the forms of setting forth, the gateway to the forms of pure retention, the gateway to the forms of the pure field of knowledge, the gateway to the forms of pure wisdom, the gateway to the forms of immeasurable enlightenment, and the gateway to the forms of pure remembrance.

13. 16 ?However, noble one, I know only this teaching of the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the complete display of memory. How could I know or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas whose minds are as vast as the realm of space, whose understanding is as vast as the realm of phenomena, whose continuum is supported by an accumulation of merit, who follow a path that transcends the world, who do not engage with worldly qualities, who have attained the undimmed radiance of wisdom, who have comprehended the entire realm of Dharma free of darkness, who have an understanding that is as limitless as space, who have the eyes that follow every object of perception, who possess the essence of unimpeded radiance, who are skilled in differentiating the words and meaning of all the Dharma, who overpower without being overpowered by the world, who have a conduct that accords with the ways of worldly conduct, who do not commit any transgression in any of the worldly ways, who are dedicated to the benefit of all worlds, who are a support for all beings, who are skilled in the speech and behavior of all beings, who have the intention to dwell with all beings, who appear in whatever way they are wished to be perceived, and who have power over all the wheels of time. [F.392.a]770

13. 17 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a land called Trinayana. There dwells a Bikshu by the name of Sudarshana. Go to him and ask him, ?How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

13. 18 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the maiden Maitrayani, circumambulated the maiden Maitrayani, keeping her to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, and, looking back again and again, departed from the presence of the maiden Maitrayani.

14. Chapter 14

SUDARShANA

14. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, contemplated the profound conduct of wisdom of the Bodhisattvas, contemplated reaching the profound basis of the realm of phenomena, contemplated all profound subtle wisdom, contemplated the profound aspect of worldly conceptualization, contemplated the profound ground that is without creation, contemplated the profound ground of the stream of the mind, contemplated the profound ground of dependent origination, contemplated the profound true ground of nature, contemplated the profound true ground of the terminology of beings, contemplated the profound ground of the adorning array of the realm of phenomena, contemplated the profound ground of dependence on the processes of the body, and contemplated the profound ground of the various transformations of the body.⁷⁷³

14. 2 Eventually he arrived at the land of Trinayana. He searched for the Bikshu Sudarshana throughout the land, throughout the towns, throughout the cities, throughout the marketplaces, throughout the villages, [F.392.b] throughout the cattle pens, throughout the ashrams of Rishis, throughout the regions and districts, throughout the banks of rivers, throughout mountain caves, and throughout great forests until he saw the Bikshu Sudarshana inside a thick forest.

The heels of his feet were wide. He had a halo a fathom in width. He was golden in color. Each of his body hairs was curled upward to the right. [F.393.a] He had the circular symmetry of a king banyan tree. He was adorned with the signs and features of a superior being. His eyes did not blink or waver. He remained in a state of mindfulness. He was like the Himalayas, the king of mountains, adorned with various grasses, forests, herbs, and vines. His intellect was vast. He had an invincible range and scope of wisdom. The display of the field of his voice was like thunder from the clouds. His mind was free of all vacillation, conceit, instability, or frivolity. He had an unalloyed range of wisdom. He had attained the illumination of the vast range of the wisdom of buddhahood. He was continuously motivated to ripen and guide all beings. He had developed the vast field of great compassion.⁷⁷⁸

14. 4 He was dedicated to possessing the way of the Dharma of all the Tathagatas. He was dedicated to bringing the light of wisdom to all beings. He was mindful of the way of the Tathagatas. He was on the meditation walkway. He was walking neither too fast nor too slow, serenely and steadily. He was dressed like the Shuddhavasas.⁷⁸¹

14. 5 He was encircled by devas, Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, Shakra, Brahma, the world guardians, humans, and nonhumans.

14. 6 When Sudarshana was going to change the direction in which he was walking, the devas of the directions turned the field of directions around.

The devas of walking received his footsteps on precious lotuses. The devas who cause fire, who have unceasing disks of light, dispelled obscuring darkness. The devas of the forest of Jambudhvaja [F.393.b] sent down a rain of many flowers. The devas of the earth, who have the essence of stability, revealed many sources of jewels. The devas of the sky, who have the splendor of complete brightness, adorned the surface of the sky. The devas of the ocean, who are the source of splendor, scattered great precious jewels. The devas of Sumeru, who have the essence of stainlessness, placed their hands together and paid homage. The devas of the air, who have unimpeded⁷⁸² power, spread breezes that scattered perfume, incense, and flowers. The devas of the night, with their bodies bedecked in jewelry, bowed down in homage. The devas of the daytime, who have the disk that always causes beings to wake were holding banners of precious jewels that illuminated the directions and standing in the sky in order to create light.⁷⁸³

14. 7 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, approached the Bikshu Sudarshana and bowed his head onto the surface of the Bikshu Sudarshana's feet, covered the surface of the Bikshu Sudarshana's feet with kisses, and wiped them well.^{784 785}

14. 8 Then Sudhana sat down before the Bikshu Sudarshana and with his hands placed together said, 'Arya, I am set on the highest, complete enlightenment and am seeking Bodhisattva conduct.

14. 9 'Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! Explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?

14. 10 The Bikshu Sudarshana said, "Noble one, having reached adulthood, I am newly entered into the homeless life. [F.394.a]

14. 11 "Noble one, I have in this one lifetime practiced celibacy before as many Tathagatas as there are grains of sand in thirty-eight Ganges Rivers. I practiced celibacy with some for a day and night. I practiced celibacy with some for seven days. I practiced celibacy with some for half a month. I practiced celibacy with some for a month. I practiced celibacy with some for a year. I practiced celibacy with some for a hundred years. I practiced celibacy with some for a thousand years. I practiced celibacy with some for a hundred thousand years. I practiced celibacy with some for ten million years. I practiced celibacy with some for a quintillion years. I practiced celibacy with some for an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of years. I practiced celibacy with some for an intermediate kalpa. I practiced celibacy with some for half a kalpa. I practiced celibacy with some for a kalpa. I heard the Dharma from all those Tathagatas and received their instructions and teachings.⁷⁸⁶

14. 12 "I have purified an array of prayers. I have purified the field of conduct that enters the range of realization.⁷⁸⁷

"I have completed an ocean of the perfections. I have perceived the miraculous manifestations of complete buddhahood. I have held their wheels of Dharma each distinct from another.

14. 13 "I have realized the equality of their strengths. I have held their teachings for as long as their Dharma remained.

"I have accomplished, through the power of the accomplishment of the samadhi of the field of prayer, the previous prayers of all those Tathagatas for the purification of my own Buda realm. [F.394.b]

14. 14 ?I have accomplished, through the power of entering the samadhi of entering all conducts, the past practice of Bodhisattva conduct by all those Tathagatas for the purification of my own conduct.

?I have accomplished, through the power of setting forth on completely good conduct, the pure perfections of all those Tathagatas.

14. 15 ?Moreover, noble one, because of the gateway of the perfectly observant wisdom, while I am walking on this meditation walkway there come toward me the gateways of the continuums of all directions.

14. 16 ?Through the arising of a single aspiration, the gateways of the continuums of all world realms are moving further away in order to purify the transcendence of an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of world realms through the power of accomplishing great prayers.

14. 17 ?In one instant of mind, through the power of accomplishing the Bodhisattva's completely good conduct and prayers, I directly perceive an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of gateways of the ways of conduct among beings in order to complete the wisdoms of the ten strengths.

14. 18 ?Through the arising of a single aspiration, through the power of accomplishing the prayers to make offerings to past and future Budas, I directly perceive the vision of an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of Buda realms in order to make offerings to, serve, and honor Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of Buda realms.

14. 19 ?Through the arising of a single aspiration, there falls rain from the clouds of Dharma of an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of Tathagatas through the power of accomplishing the prayers for the mental retention of holding the Dharma wheels that follow countless ways of the Dharma.789

14. 20 ?Through the arising of a single aspiration, through the power of the accomplishment of the prayers to fulfill the Bodhisattva conduct that are like magical illusions, I directly perceive the ocean of the conduct of an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of Bodhisattvas in order to purify all fields of conduct.⁷⁹¹

14. 21 ?Through the arising of a single aspiration, through the power of the accomplishment of the prayer to concentrate all the fields of samadhi through a single samadhi, I directly perceive the ocean of an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of samadhis in order to purify all fields of samadhi.

14. 22 ?Through the arising of a single aspiration, through the power of the accomplishment of the prayer to attain the power of the highest mindfulness, I directly perceive the ocean of an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of powers in order to manifest all the wheels of the powers and the wheels of time.

14. 23 ?Through the arising of a single aspiration, through the power of the accomplishment of the prayer for the end of endless beings, I directly perceive an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of wheels of time in order to turn the wheels of Dharma in all times.

14. 24 ?Through the arising of a single aspiration, through the power of the accomplishment of the prayer for the light of the wisdom of realization, I directly perceive an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of oceans of all three times in order to establish the three times in all world realms in a single time. [F.395.b]⁷⁹²

14. 25 ?However, noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the never-extinguished lamp of wisdom. How could I know or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas whose aspiration is like a vajra; who have been born into the family that is the family of all the Tathagatas; who have the power of unceasing life; who have a lamp of wisdom that is never extinguished; who have indestructible, unbreakable bodies; who have accomplished a physical form that is like an illusion; who have bodies that have the limbs and smaller physical parts that accord with being phenomena dependent on causes; who have bodies that are perceived in accordance with the wishes of beings; who demonstrate forms, bodies, colors, shapes, and circumferences that are like those of all beings; who have bodies that are unharmed by burning embers, flames, poison, or weapons; whose bodies are as hard as vajras and as invincible as the Cakravala mountain range; who make the power of all maras and adversaries ineffective; who resemble a mountain of Jambu River gold; who have bodies that are superior to those of all beings; who are perceived as a refuge by all beings; who are perceived and heard from all sides; who are looked up to with admiration by all beings; who are the source of the clouds of all the Dharma; who illuminate every direction; who appear beautiful as a result of destroying the mountains of obscurations; who appear as supreme heroes because they defeat all the roots of demerit; who are a joy to see because they originate from vast roots of merit; and who are as rare as fig flowers??794

14. 26 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a city called Sumukha in the land called Shramana mandala. [F.396.a]

?There dwells a boy by the name of Indriyeshvara. Go to him and ask him,

?How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How does a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

14. 27 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, was dedicated to the pure prowess and practice of the Bodhisattvas. His mind was illuminated by the light of the power of the Bodhisattvas. In his heart he had mastered the unconquerable fortitude of the Bodhisattvas. His mind was indefatigable because of the excellent armor of the resolution of the Bodhisattvas. He was dedicated to the stability and vastness of the resolute aspiration of the Bodhisattvas. He had the aspiration to possess all the rain from the clouds of Bodhisattva conduct. He had the continuity of never having enough of the rain from the clouds of Dharma of the Bodhisattvas. He had the aspiration directed toward realizing all the qualities of the Bodhisattvas. He longed to send himself to be the embodiment of the charioteers for all beings. He longed to lead beings out beyond the great forest of samsara. He never had enough of gazing upon, listening to, and honoring kalyanamitras. He had developed an immeasurable veneration for the Dharma.

14. 28 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the Bikshu Sudarshana, circumambulated the Bikshu Sudarshana many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the presence of the Bikshu Sudarshana. [B1] [V38] [F.1.b]

15. Chapter 15

Indriyeshvara

15. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, recited, promulgated, presented, investigated, elucidated, reflected on, described, taught, contemplated, bestowed, understood, was immersed in, repeated again and again, realized, propounded, illuminated, and surveyed the teaching of the Bikshu

Sudarshana.798 799

15. 2 He eventually, with an entourage of devas, Nagas, yakshas, and gandharvas, arrived at the city of Sumukha in the land called Shramana-mandala.

15. 3 He searched for the boy Indriyeshvara until the devas, Nagas, yakshas, and gandharvas in the sky above called down, "Noble one, [F.2.a] the boy Indriyeshvara, accompanied by ten thousand other children, is playing in the sand at the conflux of the rivers."

15. 4 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, went into the city of Sumukha toward the confluence of the rivers. When he arrived there, he saw the boy Indriyeshvara accompanied by ten thousand children, playing in the sand.

15. 5 When he saw the boy Indriyeshvara, he approached him, bowed his head to the boy Indriyeshvara's feet, circumambulated the boy Indriyeshvara many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and then sat down before the boy Indriyeshvara. He placed the palms of his hands together and said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? In what way does a Bodhisattva practice it?"

15. 6 "Arya, I have heard that you teach and give instructions to Bodhisattvas. Therefore, Arya, teach me how Bodhisattvas train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they practice it!"

15. 7 Indriyeshvara said, "Noble one, Manjushri Kumara bhuta has taught me writing, numbers, symbols, and counting so that I entered through the gateway called the wisdom that possesses clairvoyance in all crafts.

15. 8 ?Thus, noble one, [F.2.b] I know all writing and terminology in this world; all numbers, calculations, symbols, the knowledge of dice throwing, and the knowledge of the various crafts; physiology; methods to cure poisoning; exorcising shoshas, apasmaras, bhutas, pretas, and demons; the knowledge of where to establish villages, towns, marketplaces, cities, parks, and forest groves for ascetics; the knowledge of the measurements of walls, houses, windows, and kutagaras; the knowledge of how to make various machines and chariots; the knowledge of good and bad omens, omens of danger and safety; the knowledge of the practices of farming and business; the knowledge of the analysis of the signs of the movement and characteristics of the limbs and the minor extensions of the body; the knowledge of the ways of purifying the path of karma that leads to the higher realms or the lower existences; the knowledge of good and bad groups and offerings; the knowledge of the accumulations that lead to the higher existences or to the lower existences; the knowledge of the accumulations that lead to the Shravakayana and Pratyeka buddhayana; the knowledge of the accumulations that lead to the level of the Tathagatas; and the knowledge of the processes of application to causes and actions.800

15. 9 ?I make all beings enter into those knowledges, settle them in those knowledges, establish them in those knowledges, make them study those knowledges, make them practice those knowledges, make them stable in those knowledges, make them dedicated to those knowledges, make them complete those knowledges, make them accomplished in those knowledges, make them use those knowledges, make them elevate those knowledges, make them increase those knowledges, make those knowledges effective, bring those knowledges to their conclusion, make them purify those knowledges, make those knowledges stainless, make those knowledges shine, make those knowledges bright and clear, and make those knowledges vast.

15. 11 In front of Indriyeshvara there was a heap of sand that was many yojanas high. [F.4.b] He counted how many grains of sand there were in that heap, beginning with 'the number of grains of sand in this mound' and continuing until he said, 'there are an anabhilapyanabhilapya parivarta of grains of sand in this heap.' Having taught Sudhana through the teaching that stipulated the number of grains of sand in that heap of sand, he said, 'Noble one, this method of counting of the Bodhisattvas continues from one world realm to another. With this method of counting of the Bodhisattvas, one can calculate the number of the entire extent of world realms in the eastern direction. In the same way, with this method of counting of the Bodhisattvas, one can calculate the number of the entire extent of world realms in the southern direction, in the western direction, in the northern direction, in the northeastern direction, in the southeastern direction, in the southwestern direction, in the northwestern direction, in the upward direction, and in the downward direction.

15. 12 'Noble one, with this method of counting of the Bodhisattvas, the entire extent of the succession of the names of world realms in the ten directions are taught; with this method of counting of the Bodhisattvas, the entire extent of the succession of the names of world realms in the ten directions is counted.

15. 13 ?Just as the entire extent of the succession of world realms in the ten directions is taught, in the same way the succession of names of kalpas in the ten directions is taught, the succession of the names of Budas is taught, the succession of the names of Dharmas is taught, the succession of the names of beings is taught, and the succession of the names of actions is taught, so that all these are comprehended.

15. 14 ?With this method of counting of the Bodhisattvas, the entirety of however many successions of names that can be taught and that are in the ten directions is comprehended in full. [F.5.a]

15. 15 ?With this method of counting of the Bodhisattvas, the entirety of however many successions of names that can be taught and that are in the ten directions is counted in full.

15. 16 ?However, noble one, in that way I know only this light of Bodhisattva wisdom that is the possession of the clairvoyance of crafts that is the knowledge of all phenomena. How could I know the conduct of the Bodhisattvas who engage with the number of all beings, who engage with the number of all the accumulations of Dharmas, who engage with the number of all the Budas and Bodhisattvas, and who have power over the wheel of the names of all the Dharmas? How could I describe their qualities? How could I reveal the range of their activity? How could I elucidate the scope of their knowledge? How could I praise their strengths? How could I proclaim their resolute intentions? How could I cast light on their accumulations? How could I explain their prayers? How could I teach their conduct? How could I speak of their pure perfections? How could I make clear their pure attainments? How could I describe the range of their samadhis? How could I comprehend the light of their wisdom?947

15. 17 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a town called Samudra-pratishthana, where dwells an upasika by the name of Prabhuta. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

15. 18 When Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, heard the words of the kalyanamitra, the hairs on his body rose, he felt a powerful great happiness, and he had great joy in his mind. He had obtained this rare, wonderful jewel of motivation. He had developed the motivation of intending to benefit many beings. He had the power to encounter the successive appearances of the Budas. [F.5.b] He was dedicated to understanding the pure field of the Dharma. He was dedicated to demonstrating setting forth to liberation in different ways appropriate to all places. He knew the distinct ranges of activity of the Budas in the levels of the three times. He had a state of mind that had arisen from an inexhaustible ocean of merit. He had the power of the illumination of great wisdom. He had broken open the gate that sealed beings within the city of the three realms.950

15. 19 Sudhana bowed his head to the feet of the boy Indriyeshvara, circumambulated the boy Indriyeshvara many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the boy Indriyeshvara.

16. Chapter 16

PRABHUTA

16. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, had obtained the rain from the cloud of the instructions of the kalyanamitras.

16. 2 He was like the ocean that never has too much rain from the clouds. The light from the sun of the wisdom of the kalyanamitras had caused the seedling of his powers to sprout from the ground of his ripened good karma.

16. 3 The net of light rays from the full moon of the instructions of the kalyanamitras had brought ease to his mind and body.

16. 4 Like the herds of deer who wish to drink the clear, cooling water from the Himalayas when they are tormented by the heat of the summer sun, he longed to drink the water of the instructions of the kalyanamitras.⁹⁵²

16. 5 The white lotuses of his mind had blossomed through the instructions of the kalyanamitras to become a lotus pond like a pond with a bed of blossomed lotuses over which hovers a swarm of bees.

16. 6 The jewels of the instructions of the kalyanamitras, like the island of jewels that is completely filled with all kinds of jewels, continuously illuminated the mind.

16. 7 Like the great accumulation of flowers and fruit on the great Jambu tree, the instructions of the kalyanamitras have a perfect accumulation of merit and wisdom.

16. 8 Like the great clouds in the sky born from the sublime play of the great lords of serpents, [F.6.a] the accumulation of instructions heard from the kalyanamitras expanded. The towering mass of the various stainless Dharmas of the instructions of the kalyanamitras was like the variegated summit of the Trayastrimsha paradise. Just as Shakra and his entourage of the host of Trayastrimsha devas defeat the hosts of the lord of the asuras, the entourage of the host of the stainless qualities that arise from the instructions of the kalyanamitras cannot be surpassed but overwhelm others.⁹⁵³

16. 9 Eventually he arrived at the town called Samudra pratishthana. When he was searching for the upasika Prabhuta, a great crowd of people told him, "Noble one, the upasika Prabhuta is in her house in the middle of the city."

16. 10 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, went to the home of the upasika Prabhuta, and with his palms together in homage, he stood at the door.

16. 11 He saw that the upasika Prabhuta's house was encircled by a large and extensive precious wall. It had a gateway in each of the four directions and was adorned with countless measureless jewels that had been created from the ripening of merit.

16. 12 Sudhana entered the house, looked around, and saw the upasika Prabhuta seated on a precious throne. She was a very young maiden who had newly become an adult, having just reached puberty. She was surpassingly beautiful, attractive, and lovely to look at. Her skin was an excellent, perfect color. Her hair hung loose. She wore no jewelry. She wore a white robe and skirt.

16. 13 Every being who saw the upasika Prabhuta, whether deva or human, conceived of the upasika Prabhuta as being their teacher. [F.6.b]

16. 14 Apart from Budas and Bodhisattvas, everyone else who came into that house was overwhelmed by her body, the power of her mind, her majesty, and her color.

16. 15 Also, a hundred trillion seats had been arranged in that house. They were superior to any human or deva seat. They had been created through the ripening of a Bodhisattva's karma.956

16. 16 Sudhana did not see any store of food or drink in the house, nor did he see any store of clothing, jewelry, or possessions apart from a single small pot placed before her.

16. 17 Sudhana saw ten thousand maidens in front of her. They all had the skin color of apsaras, the bodies of apsaras, the manner of apsaras, the behavior of apsaras, the pleasures of apsaras, the courtesy of apsaras, the divine clothing of apsaras, the jewelry of apsaras, and the beautiful-sounding voices of apsaras, and their waists were like those of apsaras.⁹⁵⁷

958

16. 18 Her entourage of maidens was stationed before her, fulfilling all her instructions, gazing upon her, honoring her, venerating her, showing her respect, facing her, listening to her, looking upon her, gazing upon her, bowing down to her, making obeisance to her, and paying homage to her.

16. 19 The perfume that emanated from their bodies filled the entire surrounding town with its pleasant aroma, and when beings smelled that aroma, they all ceased to have malice in their minds, ceased to have animosity in their minds, ceased to have aggression in their minds, ceased to have jealousy and greed in their minds, ceased to have deception and deceit in their minds, ceased to have craving and anger in their minds, ceased to go back and forth between low and high spirits, and had loving minds, altruistic minds, self-controlled minds, and minds that did not wish to acquire the possessions of others.

16. 20 All those who heard the voices of those maidens [F.7.a] became delighted, reverent, and subdued.⁹⁵⁹

16. 21 Having seen this, Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the upasika Prabhuta, circumambulated her many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and sat before her. With his palms together in homage, Sudhana said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it. Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!"

16. 22 The upasika Prabhuta said, "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the unceasing display of the treasure of merit.

16. 23 "Noble one, from this small pot, beings with different wishes are satisfied by whatever foods they enjoy, with various kinds of broths, various flavors, various colors, and various aromas.⁹⁶⁰

16. 24 "Noble one, in that way, with this one small pot I can satisfy a hundred beings with the foods they enjoy. I can satisfy with the foods they enjoy a hundred thousand beings, ten million beings, a billion beings, a trillion beings, a quintillion beings, and an innumerably-beyond-an-innumerable number of beings with different wishes. I strengthen them, make them joyful, [F.7.b] please them, delight them, make them content, and make them happy. Nevertheless, this small pot is never diminished, depleted, emptied, used up, exhausted, spent, or finished, nor does it ever come to an end.

16. 25 "Noble one, in the same way, I can satisfy, make joyful, please, delight, make content, and make happy, with whatever foods they enjoy and with various kinds of broths, various flavors, various colors, and various aromas, beings with different wishes who are as numerous as the atoms in a world realm of four continents, as numerous as the atoms in a world realm of a thousand four-continent worlds, as numerous as the atoms in a world realm of a million four-continent worlds, as numerous as the atoms in a world realm of a billion four-continent worlds, and as numerous as the atoms in innumerably more numerous than innumerable Buda realms.

16. 26 ?Nevertheless, this small pot is never diminished, depleted, emptied, used up, exhausted, spent, or finished, nor does it ever come to an end.

16. 27 ?Noble one, if the beings in all world realms in the ten directions, all with different wishes and aspirations, were all to come here, they would all be satisfied and so on up to made happy by the food they enjoy. Just as it would be with various kinds of food, they would all be satisfied and so on up to made happy by various kinds of drinks, by various kinds of flavors, by various kinds of seats, by various kinds of beds, by various kinds of steeds, by various kinds of clothing, by various kinds of flowers, [F.8.a] by various kinds of garlands, by various kinds of perfume, by various kinds of incense, by various kinds of ointments, by various kinds of powders, by various kinds of jewels, by various kinds of jewelry, by various kinds of precious carriages, by various kinds of parasols, by various kinds of banners, by various kinds of flags, and by various kinds from among the entire range of utensils.

16. 28 ?Moreover, noble one, all the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas in a single world realm in the east, who are in their final life, attain the result of the Shravaka and pratyeka Buda enlightenments by eating my food. Just as it is in one realm in the east, so it is in a hundred world realms, a thousand world realms, a hundred thousand world realms, ten million world realms, a billion world realms, ten billion world realms, a hundred billion world realms, a quintillion world realms, and world realms as numerous as the atoms in the world realm of Jambudvīpa, as the atoms in a world realm of four continents, as the atoms in a world realm of a thousand four-continent worlds, as the atoms in a world realm of a million four-continent worlds, and as the atoms in a world realm of a billion four-continent worlds.

16. 29 ?In the same way, all the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas in world realms as numerous as the atoms in innumerably more numerous than innumerable Buda realms in the east, who are in their final life, will attain the result of the Shravaka and pratyeka Buda enlightenments by eating my food.

16. 30 ?Just as it is for those who are in the east, so it is for all of those who are in the south, in the west, in the north, [F.8.b] in the northeast, in the southeast, in the southwest, in the northwest, below, and above.

16. 31 ?Noble one, all those who are Bodhisattvas in their last life in a single world realm in the east will, by eating my food, be seated at the bodhimanda, defeat Mara and his armies, and attain the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood.

16. 32 ?Just as it is for those in one realm in the east, so it is in a hundred world realms, a thousand world realms, a hundred thousand world realms, ten million world realms, a billion world realms, ten billion world realms, a hundred billion world realms, a quintillion world realms, and world realms as numerous as the atoms in the world realm of Jambudvipa, as the atoms in a world realm of four continents, as the atoms in a world realm of a thousand four-continent worlds, as the atoms in a world realm of a million four-continent worlds, and as the atoms in a world realm of a billion four-continent worlds. Those and others up to all those who are Bodhisattvas in their last life in world realms as numerous as the atoms in innumerably more numerous than innumerable Buda realms in the east will, by eating my food, be seated at the bodhimanda, defeat Mara and his armies, and attain the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood.

16. 33 ?Just as it is for those who are in the east, in the same way all those who are Bodhisattvas in their last life in one world realm in the south, in the west, in the north, in the northeast, in the southeast, [F.9.a] in the southwest, in the northwest, below, and above will, by eating my food, be seated at the bodhimanda, defeat Mara and his armies, and attain the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood.

16. 34 ?Just as it for all those who are Bodhisattvas in their last life and so on up to those in one realm in the upward direction, so it is in a hundred world realms, a thousand world realms, a hundred thousand world realms, ten million world realms, a billion world realms, ten billion world realms, a hundred billion world realms, a quintillion world realms, and world realms as numerous as the atoms in the world realm of Jambudvipa, as the atoms in a world realm of four continents, as the atoms in a world realm of a thousand four-continent worlds, as the atoms in a world realm of a million four-continent worlds, as the atoms in a world realm of a billion four-continent worlds, and so on, up to all those who are Bodhisattvas in their last life in world realms in the upward direction that are as numerous as the atoms in innumerably more numerous than innumerable Buda realms in the east. All those who are Bodhisattvas in their last life will, by eating my food, be seated at the bodhimanda, defeat Mara and his armies, and attain the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood.⁹⁶¹

16. 35 ?Noble one, do you see these ten thousand maidens??

Sudhana replied, ?Arya, I see them.?

16. 36 The upasika Prabhuta said, ?Noble one, myself and these maidens [F.9.b] and countless millions of others have the same conduct, the same prayer, the same roots of merit, the same display of setting forth, the same pure path of aspiration, the same pure mindfulness, the same pure mode of being, the same measureless realization, the same attainment of the highest faculties, the same pervasion of mind, the same range of the scope of conduct, the same way of the Dharma, the same ascertainment of meaning, the same teaching of the meaning of the Dharma, the same pure form, the same measureless strengths, the same voicing of the words of the Dharma, the same pure voice in all our communication, the same pure qualities in all our conduct because we are praised for limitless qualities, the same purity of karma because of having the pure ripening of faultless karma, the same all-962

pervasive great love because of our protection of all beings, the same pervasive great compassion because of our tireless ripening of all beings, the same pure karma of body because we manifest the bodies that satisfy beings according to their wishes, the same pure karma of speech in communicating the meaning of the words in the realm of the Dharma, the same arrival into the circles of the followers of all the Budas, the same eagerness for all the Buda realms in order to serve and make offerings to all the Budas, the same directly perceived knowledge in comprehending all the ways of the Dharma, [F.10.a] and the same pure conduct in attaining all the Bodhisattva levels.

16. 37 ?Noble one, these ten thousand maidens, within one single instant, travel throughout the ten directions in order to offer food to the Bodhisattvas in their final life. They take food from this small pot and go throughout the ten directions in order to offer it as alms to Shravakas and pratyeka Budas in their final life. They take food from this small pot and go throughout the ten directions in order to satisfy all the hosts of pretas with the food.

16. 38 ?Noble one, in that way I satisfy the devas with divine food from this small pot, and I satisfy Nagas with Naga food, yakshas with yaksha food, gandharvas with gandharva food, asuras with asura food, garudas with garuda food, kinnaras with kinnara food, mahoragas with mahoraga food, humans with human food, and nonhumans with nonhuman food.

?Noble one, stay a moment and you will see a sight.?

16. 39 As soon as the upasika Prabhuta said those words, at that moment, having been invited by the upasika Prabhuta in the prayers she made in the past, countless beings came in through the eastern door. In the same way, countless beings, invited by the upasika Prabhuta in the prayers she made in the past, came in through the southern, the western, and the northern doors.

[F.10.b] Seated on her throne, the upasika Prabhuta satisfied, made joyful, pleased, delighted, made content, and made happy those beings who had arrived with whatever foods they enjoyed, in various kinds of broths, with various flavors, various colors, and various aromas.

16. 40 Just as with the food, she satisfied them and so on up to made them happy with various kinds of drinks, various kinds of flavors, various kinds of seats, various kinds of beds, various kinds of steeds, various kinds of clothing, various kinds of flowers, various kinds of garlands, various kinds of perfume, various kinds of incense, various kinds of ointments, various kinds of powders, various kinds of jewels, various kinds of jewelry, various kinds of precious carriages, various kinds of parasols, various kinds of banners, various kinds of flags, and various kinds from among the entire range of utensils.

16. 41 She satisfied and so on up to made happy devas with divine food, and she and satisfied Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans with their food.

Nevertheless, her small pot was never diminished, depleted, emptied, used up, exhausted, spent, or finished, and it never came to an end.

16. 42 Then the upasika Prabhuta said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, 'I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the unceasing display of the treasure of merit. How could I know or describe the qualities of the conduct of Bodhisattvas who have an inexhaustible ocean of merit, [F.11.a] who possess inexhaustible merit, who have accumulated a vast accumulation of merit and are therefore like space, who fulfill the prayers of all beings and are therefore like the king of wish-fulfilling jewels, who protect the roots of merit of all beings and are therefore like a Cakravala mountain range of merit, who send down a rain of jewels from their hands and are therefore like a great cloud of merit, who open the gate to the city of the Dharma and are therefore like the direct vision of a treasure of great merit, and who dispel the darkness of the poverty of all beings and are therefore like a lamp of great merit?

16. 43 'Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a town called Mahasambhava. There dwells a householder by the name of Vidvan. Go to him and ask him, 'How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? '

16. 44 Sudhana bowed his head to the feet of the upasika Prabhuta, circumambulated the upasika Prabhuta, keeping her to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, and, looking back again and again, departed from the upasika Prabhuta.

VIDVAN

17. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, had obtained the light of the liberation called the unceasing display of the treasure of merit. He contemplated that ocean of merit. He viewed that sky of merit. He obtained that heap of merit. He climbed that mountain of merit. He accumulated that store of merit. He immersed himself in that river of merit. [F.11.b] He descended the steps into the bathing place of that merit. He purified that field of merit. He looked at that treasure of merit. He thought of that way of merit. He paid attention to that tradition of merit. He purified that lineage of merit.⁹⁶⁴

17. 2 Eventually he arrived at the town called Mahasambhava and searched, sought, and looked around for the householder Vidvan.⁹⁶⁷

17. 3 He searched for the householder Vidvan while longing for kalyanamitras, with his being transformed by seeing kalyanamitras, with an aspiration that was the blessing of the kalyanamitras, with dedication to following kalyanamitras, with diligence in tireless service of the kalyanamitras, with all the roots of merit of relying on kalyanamitras, with all the accumulation of merit through being faithful to the kalyanamitras, with the practice of the skillful methods increased by the kalyanamitras, with skill in serving the kalyanamitras without relying on anyone else, and while increasing all his roots of merit, purifying the Bodhisattva motivation, increasing the Bodhisattva faculties, ripening all roots of merit, increasing the fulfillment of great prayers, making great compassion vast, seeing himself as coming close to omniscience, receiving the Dharma radiance of the completely good Bodhisattva conduct from all the Budas, and increasing the illumination of the ten strengths of the Tathagatas.⁹⁶⁸

17. 4 He saw the householder Vidvan at the crossroads in the center of the town. He was upon a dais made of the seven precious materials. He was seated upon an excellent throne made of countless jewels. [F.12.a] Its legs of precious jewels were adorned with various diamonds and sapphires. It was covered with a network of strings of gold. It contained stainless precious jewels. Its form was decorated with five hundred jewels. Various cushions of divine material were set upon it. Around it stood streamers, banners, and flags made of divine cloth. It was covered by a net of strings of many jewels. Overhead was a great bejeweled canopy, from which hung wreaths of flowers of gold and jewels.

17. 5 A parasol of Jambu River gold was held aloft by its stainless handle made of beryl. Vidvan was being fanned by precious stainless fans made of the feathers of the king of geese, and censers of various incenses perfumed the air around him.⁹⁶⁹

17. 6 There was an entourage of five thousand musicians to the right and left who played and beat on musical instruments, emitting a beautiful music that transcended that of the devas and filled the town of Mahasambhava in order to bring delight to beings. These ten thousand beings let fall a rain from clouds of divine flowers. Their bodies surpassed those of devas and humans. They had the complete Bodhisattva motivation and were adorned with jewelry that surpassed that of the devas.

17. 7 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, approached the householder Vidvan and, having come up to him, bowed his head to Vidvan's feet, circumambulated him, keeping him to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, and sat down before him. With his palms together in homage, Sudhana said, 'Arya, I have set out to attain the highest, complete enlightenment in order to end the suffering of all beings, [F.12.b] in order to bring all beings to happiness, in order to save all beings from the ocean of samsara, in order to take all beings across to the island of the jewels of the Dharma, in order to dry up the moisture of the cravings of all beings, in order to create the moisture of compassion in all beings, in order to expel all delight and craving of desire from all beings, in order to make all beings gain a craving for the wisdom of buddhahood, in order to make all beings pass through the jungle of samsara, in order to make all beings develop a delight and desire for the Dharma and the qualities of the Buddhas, in order to make all beings depart from the city of the three realms, and in order to lead all beings to the city of omniscience.⁹⁷¹

17. 8 ?However, I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it. Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how having trained in it they become supports for all beings!?

17. 9 The householder Vidvan said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, ?Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment!

17. 10 ?Noble one, it is rare to find a being who develops the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, who seeks the Bodhisattva conduct, [F.13.a] who never has enough of gazing upon a kalyanamitra, who never tires of coming into the presence of a kalyanamitra, who never becomes dispirited in serving a kalyanamitra, who never becomes unhappy with seeking a kalyanamitra, who never turns back from seeking a kalyanamitra, who never ceases to sincerely yearn for and be attracted to a kalyanamitra, who never turns away from gazing upon a kalyanamitra, who is never despondent in following the instructions of a kalyanamitra, and who never wearies of serving and honoring a kalyanamitra.

17. 11 ?Noble one, do you see those in my entourage??

Sudhana replied, ?Yes, Arya, I see them.?

17. 12 Vidvan said, ?Noble one, I made all of them develop the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. I have caused them to be reborn in the family of the Tathagatas. I have nourished them through the accumulation of the perfections. I have made them practice all the good qualities. I have made them develop the ten strengths of the Tathagatas. I have made them transcend the family of the world. I have established them in the family of the Tathagatas. I have made them turn away from the wheel of worldly existences. I have made them enter into the turning of the wheel of the Dharma. I have saved them from falling into lives in the three lower existences. I have established them in the understanding of the true nature of phenomena.

?Noble one, it is in that way that Bodhisattvas become a refuge for all beings.

17. 13 ?Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the merit that arises from the treasury of mind. Through its power I give food to those who wish for food; drink for those who wish for drink; [F.13.b] excellent flavors to those who wish for excellent flavors; hard food to those who wish for hard food; soft food to those who wish for soft food; food that is licked to those who wish for food that is licked; food that is sucked to those who wish for food that is sucked; clothes to those who wish for clothes; flowers to those who wish for flowers; garlands to those who wish for garlands; perfume to

?Noble one, stay a moment and you will see a sight.?

17. 14 As soon as the householder Vidvan said those words, at that moment, having been invited by the householder Vidvan in the prayers he had made in the past, there came countless beings from different directions, from different lands, from different districts, from different towns, from different markets, from different cities, from different villages, from different hamlets, from different houses, from different castes, from different families, from different levels of families, from different ways of life, and from different classifications of stations in life. These beings had various different sensory perceptions, wishing for various kinds of food, desiring various kinds of food, with various aspirations, desiring different aspirations and desires, desiring pure food and drink, desiring meat, wishing to consume contrasting kinds of different food, and remaining in various kinds of distinct sensory perceptions and different ways of life. In other words, among humans there were those who wished for such various kinds of food as boiled rice, sour gruel, broths, fish, and meat.

17. 15 Whatever were the different kinds of food and drink that were wished for by those with different ways of life among human beings, through the power of the Bodhisattva, the drumbeat of the unimpeded generosity of the Bodhisattva, and the invitation made by the past prayers of the Bodhisattva, all those human beings came there, and when they had arrived they entreated the householder Vidvan. They looked upon him, observed him, and addressed him.

17. 16 The householder Vidvan, knowing that the petitioners had all gathered there, [F.14.b] thought for a moment and then looked up into the sky. From the realm of the sky there came into the palms of his hands a great number of various kinds of food and drink, with various kinds of flavors, various kinds of colors, and various kinds of aromas. He gave these different kinds of food, drink, and utensils to all the petitioners gathered there, who had different aspirations and desires, in accordance with what they desired, so that they were satiated, pleased, contented, delighted, joyful, and overwhelmed with happiness.

17. 17 Having concluded satisfying them in that way, afterward he taught them the Dharma. He taught the Dharma that elucidated the cause of gathering a vast accumulation of wisdom, elucidated the cause that made it impossible for poverty to occur, elucidated the cause of the arising of perfect great enjoyment, elucidated the cause of the arising of the attainment of the Dharma's way of wisdom, elucidated the cause of the arising of gathering a vast accumulation of merit, elucidated the cause of the arising of the attainment of the enjoyment of the food of happiness, elucidated the cause of the arising of the attainment of a body adorned by the signs and features of a great being, elucidated the cause of the arising of the attainment of invincible strength, elucidated the cause of the arising of the attainment of the unsurpassable food of wisdom, and elucidated the cause of the arising of the attainment of the inexhaustible strength of merit that defeats the strength of all the maras.⁹⁷⁶

17. 18 When all those who came wishing for food were satisfied through having obtained various kinds of food from the realm of the sky, the householder Vidvan taught them the Dharma so that they could attain perfect lifespans, color, strength, happiness, and eloquence. [F.15.a]

17. 19 When all those who came wishing for drink were satisfied and delighted through having obtained many kinds of delicious, nontransgressive drinks, the householder Vidvan taught them the Dharma so that they would turn away from thirsting for samsara, from delighting in samsara, and would develop a delight in the Buddhadharma, a thirst for the Buddhadharma.⁹⁷⁸

17. 20 After all those who came wishing for excellent flavors had been satisfied by the different excellent flavors of sweetness, sourness, saltiness, spiciness, bitterness, and astringency, the householder Vidvan taught them the Dharma so that they would attain the supreme flavor of the physical signs of a great being.

17. 21 When all those who had come from all directions wishing for carriages had received the gifts of different kinds of carriages, the householder Vidvan taught them the Dharma so that they would ride upon the Mahayana.⁹⁷⁹

17. 22 When those wishing for clothes had come from all directions, the householder Vidvan, knowing that they had all gathered there, thought for a moment and then looked up into the sky. From the realm of the sky appeared many kinds of pure clothes in various colors -blue, yellow, red, white, madder, and transparent -that came into the palms of his hands. When the householder Vidvan had distributed these to the petitioners, he taught⁹⁸⁰ them the Dharma so that they would have the pure attainment of a Tathagata's unsurpassable sense of shame and conscience that is like the color of gold.

In that way, the householder Vidvan demonstrated the inconceivable scope of the Bodhisattva liberation.

17. 23 Then he said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, [F.15.b] ?I know only the Bodhisattva liberation called the merit that arises from the treasury of the mind. How could I know the conduct, describe the qualities, or teach the miraculous powers of the Bodhisattvas who have attained the power over requisites; who have attained jewel-producing hands; who can cover all world realms without exception with their hands in order to accomplish various offerings to the Budas; who can send down rain from clouds of jewels of various colors upon the circles of the followers of all the Tathagatas; and similarly can send down rain from clouds of jewelry of various colors, from clouds of crowns of various colors, from clouds of kutagaras of various colors, from clouds of clothing of various colors, from clouds of the various melodious sounds of divine musical instruments being played and beaten and beautiful songs, from clouds of flowers of various colors, from clouds of perfumes of various colors, from clouds of incense, garlands, ointments, powders, Dharma robes, parasols, banners, and flags of various colors, from clouds of every kind of offering to all the Budas, and from clouds of all requisites that fall upon all the circles of followers of the Tathagatas and all realms of beings in order to honor and make offerings to all the Budas and in order to ripen and guide all beings?

17. 24 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a town called Simhapota, where dwells a head-merchant patron of the Dharma by the name of Ratnacuda. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

17. 25 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, was pleased, delighted, enraptured, overjoyed, and filled with happiness. [F.16.a] He demonstrated to the householder Vidvan the respect of a Dharma pupil. Sudhana viewed him as someone through whose blessing one can receive all the Buddhadharma, viewed him as someone through reliance on whom one can attain omniscience; he demonstrated a continuous delight in the kalyanamitras; he had the determination to obey every instruction of the kalyanamitras; being under their power he followed the kalyanamitras; he longed to listen to the teachings and words of the kalyanamitras; he kept in mind the power of faith that came from the kalyanamitras; he sought the instructions of the kalyanamitras; and he aspired to follow and please the kalyanamitras.981

17. 26 Sudhana bowed his head to the feet of the householder Vidvan, circumambulated the householder Vidvan, keeping him to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, and, looking back again and again, departed from the householder Vidvan.

18. Chapter 18

Ratnacuda

18. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, had conviction in that river of merit. He viewed that field of merit. He purified that mountain of merit. He climbed down that stairway to the bathing place of merit. He opened that treasury of merit. He viewed that treasure of merit. He purified that domain of merit. He carried away that heap of merit. He developed that strength of merit. He increased that power of merit.984

18. 2 Sudhana eventually arrived at the town of Simhapota. He searched for Ratnacuda, the head-merchant patron of the Dharma. He saw him in the middle of a market. Sudhana bowed his head to Ratnacuda's feet, circumambulated Ratnacuda, keeping him to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, [F.16.b] and sat down before him. With his hands together in homage, he said, 'Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.985

18. 3 'Arya, will you not bestow on me the instruction for the Bodhisattva path, which is the path by which I will become omniscient??

Ratnacuda, the head-merchant patron of the Dharma, grasped the hands of Sudhana, the head merchant's son, led him to his home and, showing Sudhana his home, said, "Noble one, look at my home!"

18. 4 Sudhana looked at it. The house was made of pure, bright Jambu River gold. It was vast and tall and encircled by a wall of silver. It was beautified by arrangements of bright crystals. It was adorned by a hundred thousand clusters of beryls. There was an array of pillars of white coral. A lion throne made of red pearls had been erected. Lion banners made of asteria jewels were displayed. Overhead there was a shining canopy of jewels. It was draped in nets of gold adorned with wish-fulfilling jewels. There was an array of countless varieties of precious jewels. It was furnished with ponds made of emerald and filled with cool water. It was encircled by trees made of precious materials. It was massive. It was vast. It had ten stories. It was very tall. It had eight doors.

18. 5 Sudhana went inside and looked around.

On the first floor he saw food and drink being distributed.

On the second floor he saw clothing being given away. [F.17.a]

18. 6 On the third floor he saw jewelry and adornments being given away.

On the fourth floor he saw being given away the most precious, excellent maidens on the great earth who are the pleasures enjoyed in harems.

18. 7 On the fifth floor he saw an assembly of Bodhisattvas on the fifth bhumi who were dedicated to the pleasure of talking together about the Dharma, whose thoughts were concerned with the benefit and happiness of the world, who were accomplished in all treatises, who had the power of retention, who had the seal of samadhi, who rose from samadhi, who analyzed samadhi, and who had attained the light of wisdom.986

18. 8 On the sixth floor he saw Bodhisattvas who had attained the state of the perfection of wisdom, who had profound wisdom, who had clairvoyantly perceived the pacification of all phenomena, who came forth from all the gateways that were the essences and gateways of the samadhis and retentions, whose range of activity was free of obscuration, who practiced nonduality, who manifested discussions of the Dharma, and who followed the way of the perfection of wisdom, analyzed it, elucidated it, and discussed the many gateways to the perfection of wisdom. These included the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the essence of peace, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the categories of wisdom for all beings, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the unwavering turning, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the dust-free light, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the essence of invincibility, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the illumination of beings, [F.17.b] the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the field of the way that is followed, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the essence of the ocean, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the attainment of all-seeing equanimity, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the possession of inexhaustible treasure, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called the ocean of the ways of the Dharma, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called following the ocean of beings, the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called unimpeded eloquence, and the gateway to the perfection of wisdom called resting in objectlessness after focusing on the clouds of the Dharma. They discussed the perfection of wisdom through countless millions of such gateways to the perfection of wisdom in a countless array of separate gatherings of assemblies of Bodhisattvas.988

18. 9 On the seventh floor he saw an assembly of Bodhisattvas who had all attained the patience of perceiving everything as echoes, who had given rise to infallible wisdom and method, and who had received the clouds of the Dharma from all Tathagatas.

18. 10 On the eighth floor he saw an assembly of Bodhisattvas who had all attained clairvoyance that would never diminish, who moved within all world realms, whose images appeared within all the gathered assemblies, whose bodies were distributed throughout the entire realm of phenomena, whose field of experience never departed from being at the feet of all the Tathagatas, who encountered the bodies of all the Buddhas, and who were the first individuals to speak within the assemblies of the followers of all the Tathagatas. [F.18.a]

18. 11 On the ninth floor he saw an assembly of Bodhisattvas who were all in their final lifetime.

18. 12 On the tenth floor he saw when all the Tathagatas first developed the aspiration for enlightenment, their conduct, their setting forth, their oceans of prayers, the range of their Buddha miracles, their Buddha realms, all their circles of followers, their teaching the wheel of the Dharma, and their power to guide beings.

18. 13 When he had seen this, he asked Ratnacuda, the head-merchant patron of the Dharma, "Arya, how did you gain this pure good fortune? How did you plant the roots of merit that have ripened in this way?"992

18. 14 Ratnacuda answered, "Noble one, I remember that in the past, more kalpas ago than there are atoms in a Buda realm, there was a world realm called Cakravicitra, and in that world appeared a Tathagata, an arhat, a samyak sambuddha, one with wisdom and conduct, a sugata, one who knows the world's beings, an unsurpassable guide who tames beings, a teacher of devas and humans, a Buda, a bhagavat named Ananta rashmi-Dharma dhatu samalamkrita Dharma raja. That Tathagata, together with a billion Shravakas, such as Jnanavairocana, and a trillion Bodhisattvas, such as jnanasurya tejas, having been invited by King Dharmeshvara raja, went to the great park called Mani dhvaja vyuha raja.993

18. 15 "When the Tathagata had entered the town [F.18.b] and was passing through the market, in order to make an offering to the Tathagata and his sangha of Bodhisattvas and Shravakas, I played music and burned a pellet of incense to spread the aroma. By burning that pellet of incense, the entirety of Jambudvipa was covered for seven days with multicolored clouds of perfume that took on the forms of all beings.995

18. 16 "From those clouds of perfume came these words: "The Tathagatas have an inconceivable accumulation of the stainless knowledge of the three times. That omniscience is free of all obscuration. They have eliminated all the propensities for kleshas. All that is offered to the Tathagatas will bring the immeasurable great result of omniscience. It will unite you with omniscience."

18. 17 "Those words were emitted from those masses of clouds of incense through the blessing of the Buda in order to ripen my roots of merit and increase the power of the roots of merit of countless beings.996

18. 18 ?Noble one, I dedicated the roots of merit from the manifestation of that miracle to three objectives through the blessing of the Tathagata. What are those three? I made the dedication so that I would have the complete vision of all kalyanamitras, of all Budas, and of all Bodhisattvas.

18. 19 ?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the unimpeded display of the field of prayer. [F.19.a] How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who are the source of limitless good qualities, who have entered an unalloyed ocean of Buda bodies, who have received the rain from unalloyed Dharma clouds, who have entered an ocean of unalloyed qualities, who have extended the net of completely good conduct, who have entered the range of unalloyed samadhis, who have the unalloyed continuous roots of merit of all Bodhisattvas, who have the unalloyed nonconceptual conduct of all the Tathagatas, who have entered the unalloyed equality of the three times, who have the unalloyed ability to dwell tirelessly in all kalpas, and who reside on the level of an unalloyed complete range of vision?

18. 20 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a land called Vetramulaka. There, in a town called Samanta mukha, dwells a perfume-seller head merchant by the name of Samanta netra. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

18. 21 Sudhana bowed his head to the feet of Ratnacuda, the head-merchant patron of the Dharma, circumambulated Ratnacuda, the head-merchant patron of the Dharma, many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from Ratnacuda, the head-merchant patron of the Dharma. [B2]

19. Chapter 19

SAMANTA NETRA

19. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, had perceived the visions of infinite Buddhas. He had attained the companionship of infinite Bodhisattvas.

[F.19.b] He had been illuminated by the infinite ways of the paths of the Bodhisattvas. His mind had certainty through being saturated by the infinite ways of the Dharma of the Bodhisattvas. He purified the path of the infinite motivations of the Bodhisattvas. He had attained the brilliance of the infinite faculties of the Bodhisattvas. He dwelled in the infinite aspirations of the Bodhisattvas. His mind followed the example of the infinite conduct of the Bodhisattvas. He possessed the banner of the infinite invincibility of the Bodhisattvas. He possessed the movement of the infinite light of wisdom of the Bodhisattvas. He had attained the infinite illumination of the Dharma of the Bodhisattvas.⁹⁹⁷

19. 2 Sudhana eventually arrived in the land of Vetramulaka, and he searched everywhere for the town of Samanta mukha, unwearyingly, fearlessly, and with unflagging diligence and an inviolable determination. He searched in the principal and intermediate directions, the districts and subdistricts, high and low, up and down. He never forgot the instructions of the kalyanamitras, always keeping the perfect conduct of the kalyanamitras in his heart, possessing the faculties that were all observant, devoid of all carelessness, his eyes and his ears never distracted.

19. 3 Having searched everywhere, Sudhana finally saw, in the center of the land of Vetramulaka, the town of Samanta mukha. It was a town with ten thousand marketplaces. It was excellently built. It was encircled by a strong wall that was very high. It was beautified by having eight crossroads.

19. 4 In the middle of the town, Sudhana, the head merchant's son, saw the perfume seller Samanta netra in a perfume shop. [F.20.a] He approached the perfume seller Samanta netra, bowed his head to Samanta netra's feet, and sat down before him. With his hands together in homage, he said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it."

Samanta netra said, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment."

19. 5 "Noble one, I know the illnesses of all beings: those that come from air, those that come from bile, those that come from phlegm, those that come from their balance being disturbed, those that come from harm by others, and those that come from nonhuman beings, from drinking poison, from the effects of various mantras, weapons, and vetalas, from the agitation of water, and from various fears and terrors. I know them all. I also know how to cure all those illnesses. I know oiling, emetics, purgatives, enemas, bloodletting, inhalations, sweating, compresses, unguents, massaging, antidotes, exorcisms, nourishment, bathing, resting, causing growth, purifying the complexion, and increasing strength.

19. 6 "Noble one, I cure all the illnesses of all the beings who come to me from the ten directions. When I have healed them, I have them bathed, their bodies anointed with unguents, their limbs adorned with jewelry, and their bodies dressed in clothes; I satisfy them with foods that have various kinds of excellent flavors [F.20.b] and make them fortunate with immeasurable wealth.

19. 7 "Afterward I teach them the Dharma so that through being taught impurity they will eliminate desire.

?I teach them the Dharma so that through the praising of love they will eliminate anger.

19. 8 ?I teach them the Dharma so that through the teaching of the particular categories of phenomena they will eliminate ignorance.

?I teach them the Dharma so that through the teaching of the gateways to the ways of special realizations they will eliminate the conduct that comes from all kleshas equally.

19. 9 ?I elucidate for them the cause for the arising of the aspiration for enlightenment by relating to them descriptions of the phenomena that are the qualities of the Budas.

?I teach them the cause for the arising of great compassion by teaching them the immeasurable sufferings of samsara.

19. 10 ?I teach them the cause for the arising and attainment of measureless qualities by praising the gathering of a vast accumulation of merit and wisdom.

?I teach them the cause for the arising of Mahayana prayers by teaching them how all beings should be ripened and guided.

19. 11 ?I teach them the cause for the arising and attainment of the completely good conduct of the Bodhisattva by explaining the vast net of their conduct of dwelling in all Buda realms and all kalpas.

?I teach them the cause for the arising and attainment of a Buda's body adorned with the signs and features of a great being by praising the perfection of generosity.

19. 12 ?I teach them the cause for the arising and attainment of the pure Tathagata's body that can be anywhere by describing the perfection of good conduct.

?I teach them the cause for the arising and attainment of the Tathagata's body with its inconceivable, pure color by describing the perfection of patience. I teach them the cause for the arising and attainment of the Tathagata's invincible body by describing the perfection of diligence. [F.21.a]

19. 13 ?I teach them the cause for the arising and attainment of the Tathagata's pure body, which is unsurpassable and overwhelming, by describing the perfection of meditation.

?I teach the pure Dharma body by describing the perfection of wisdom.

19. 14 ?I teach the pure and pristine body manifesting to all beings by describing the perfection of skillful method.

?I teach the pure body that accompanies the minds of beings during all kalpas by describing the perfection of prayer.

19. 15 ?I teach the pure bodies that arise in all Buda realms by describing the perfection of strength.

?I teach the pure bodies that satisfy all beings in accordance with their wishes by describing the perfection of knowledge.

19. 16 ?I teach the pure body that is the highest goodness by describing the rejection of all bad qualities.

19. 17 ?In that way, those comprise the generosity of giving the Dharma. I also support them by distributing an accumulation of endless wealth and jewels.

19. 18 ?Noble one, I also know about all perfumes, incenses, aromas, infusions, ointments, and their combinations.⁹⁹⁸

19. 19 ?In that way, I know all combinations of perfumes: kings of perfumes such as sesame, kings of perfumes such as chaste tree, kings of perfumes such as ajivati, kings of perfumes such as vibodhana, kings of perfumes such as arunavati, kings of perfumes such as yellow sandalwood, kings of perfumes such as uragasara sandalwood, kings of perfumes such as cloud agarwood, and kings of perfumes such as akshobhyendriya. [F.21.b]

19. 20 ?Also, noble one, I know the kind of perfume that will satisfy all beings and through which one sees, makes offering to, and honors the Budas anywhere.

19. 21 ?Noble one, through this kind of perfume that will satisfy all beings and through which one sees, makes offering to, and honors the Budas anywhere, all of my wishes are fulfilled. Through its power I manifest clouds of adornments that will protect all beings. In that way, I manifest clouds of perfume that form aerial palaces and so on, up to clouds of adornments that venerate and make offerings to all the Tathagatas.⁹⁹⁹

19. 22 ?Thus, noble one, when I wish to make offerings to the Tathagatas, then from this form of perfume that will satisfy all beings and through which one sees, makes offering to, and honors the Budas anywhere, I manifest clouds of perfume that form countless kutagaras, and throughout the realm of phenomena I manifest clouds of perfume in the form of kutagaras that adorn the assemblies of the followers of the Tathagatas present throughout the realm of phenomena in the ten directions.

19. 23 ?All the pure Buda realms become adorned by clouds, an adornment of clouds as palaces of perfume, an adornment of clouds as walls of perfume, an adornment of clouds as ornamental roofs of perfume, an adornment of clouds as toranas of perfume, an adornment of clouds as windows of perfume, an adornment of clouds as balconies of perfume, an adornment of clouds as a crescent moon of perfume, an adornment of clouds as parasols of perfume, an adornment of clouds as erected banners of perfume, an adornment of clouds as flags of perfume, an adornment of clouds as canopies of perfume, an adornment of clouds as nets of strings of beads of perfume, [F.22.a] an adornment of clouds as lights of perfume, an adornment of clouds as a display of the stainless radiances of perfume, and an adornment of rain from clouds of all perfume.

19. 24 ?Noble one, I know only this Dharma gateway called the forms of perfume that satisfy all beings and through which in every way one sees, makes offerings to, and honors the Budas. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who are like kings of medicine, who are beneficial to see, who are beneficial to be with, who are beneficial to think of, whose self-discipline is beneficial to follow, whose names are beneficial to hear, the mere sight of whom causes the kleshas of all beings to cease, the mere sight of whom causes beings to turn away from the existences in the lower realms, the mere sight of whom causes all beings to gain the opportunity to receive the Buddhadharma, the mere sight of whom causes the mass of suffering of beings to end, the mere sight of whom causes all beings to be free of the fear of all the existences in samsara, the mere sight of whom causes all beings to be resolute in going in the direction of omniscience and therefore attain fearlessness, the mere sight of whom causes beings not to fall into the crevasse or chasm of old age and death, and the mere sight of whom causes beings to rest in the equality of the realm of phenomena and therefore attain the bliss of nirvana?

19. 25 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a town called Taladhvaja. There dwells a king by the name of Anala. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

19. 26 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the perfume-seller head merchant Samanta netra, [F.22.b] circumambulated the perfume-seller head merchant Samanta netra many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the perfume-seller head merchant Samanta netra.

20. Chapter 20

ANALA

20. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, remembered the succession of his kalyanamitras. He thought about the gateways of their instructions. He was content in his mind, thinking, 'I have been accepted as a pupil by the kalyanamitras.' He observed in his mind, 'I am under the protection of the kalyanamitras, and I will never regress in my progress toward the highest, complete enlightenment.' Thinking this, his mind was happy, his mind was serene, his mind was pleased, his mind was gladdened, his mind was delighted, his mind was joyful, his mind was strong, his mind was soothed, his mind was vast, his mind was adorned, his mind was unimpeded, his mind was unobscured, his mind was clear, his mind was composed, his mind had power, his mind had supremacy, his mind comprehended the Dharma, his mind pervaded the realms, his mind was adorned by the vision of the Buddhas, and his mind never stopped focusing on the ten strengths.1000 1001

20. 2 Sudhana went from land to land, town to town, district to district, and eventually he reached the town of Taladhvaja.

He asked, 'Where is King Anala?'

20. 3 People told him, 'Noble one, King Anala sits on the lion throne here performing the activities of a king in order to accomplish the duties of a king.'

He rules the realm. He penalizes those who deserve to be penalized. He favors those who should be favored. He condemns criminals to punishment. [F.23.a] He makes the decisions on legal disputes. He brings relief to those who are low. He humbles the arrogant. He turns the people away from killing. He dissuades them from theft. He causes them to cease yearning for those who belong to others. He makes them turn away from lying. He makes them desist from slander. He makes them cease speaking harshly. He makes them avoid idle talk. He causes their minds to be free from craving. He makes them dispel malice. He makes them disengage from false views.¹⁰⁰²

20. 4 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, went to where King Anala was. He saw King Anala seated on a great lion throne that was beautified by various powerful diamond jewels. It had legs that shone with countless and various kinds of jewels. It had a beautiful form adorned and beautified by numerous jewels. It was perfectly covered with a network of gold threads. It was illuminated by numerous precious lamps. It had a center of lotuses made from the precious jewels called the king of power. It had many layers of beautiful cushions made of precious divine materials. It was perfumed by the aroma of the various divine incenses arranged around it. It was made magnificent by a hundred thousand erected precious banners. It was beautified by a hundred thousand raised precious flags. It was beautified by arrangements of clusters of precious flowers. It was covered from above by various canopies made of precious divine materials.¹⁰⁰³

20. 5 King Anala was a youth who had reached adulthood. He was handsome and attractive. His hair was deep black and curled to the right. His head was like a parasol, with an ushnisha on the crown of his head. He had a broad forehead and wide, deep black eyes. [F.23.b] His eyelashes were like the eyelashes of a cow. His nose was lovely, high and prominent. His lips were the beautiful color of vermillion and perfectly proportioned. His teeth were even, without gaps, very white, and a full forty in number. He had jaws like a lion. His cheeks were full and wide. His eyebrows were long, beautiful, and curved like a bow. He had the mark of the urna hair the color of the moon. His earlobes were long and hung loosely. His face was bright and beautiful like the full moon. His throat was round and as beautiful as a conch. His heart area was adorned by the shrivatsa. His upper body was like the upper body of a lion. The flesh between his shoulder blades was muscular. His shoulders were bulky and rounded. His arms were long. His fingers were webbed. His hands and feet were adorned by wheels. His hands and feet were soft, young, and thick. He had the seven prominences. His waist was slim like a vajra's. His body was big and straight. His thighs were round. His penis was retracted into his body. His calves were like the calves of a female blackbuck. His fingers were long. The heels of his feet were wide. He had a halo a fathom in width. He was golden in color. Each of his body hairs was curled upward to the right. He had the circular symmetry of a king banyan tree. He was adorned by the signs and features of a superior being.¹⁰⁰⁴

20. 6 He wore a precious wish-fulfilling jewel as his topknot crest. His forehead was adorned by the adornment of a crescent moon made from Jambu River gold. Stainless sapphire jewel earrings hung from his ears. He had a wide, stainless upper body. His arms were beautified by armlets and bracelets made of sublime divine jewels.

20. 7 Held above him was a precious great parasol with a stainless precious handle of beryl; [F.24.a] with a covering made of Jambu River gold; with a pure, large, precious asteria jewel in the center; and with a string of precious little bells from which came sweet, pleasant sounds; the light from its precious jewels shone in all directions.1006

20. 8 He had attained the majesty and sovereignty of a king who could not be harmed by enemy armies. He had such power that he had no fear of enemy armies. He had an entourage of ten thousand ministers dedicated to accomplishing whatever the king required.

20. 9 Sudhana saw that in front of King Anala there were those who carried out his punishments. They resembled the guardians in the hells. They wore terrifying clothing like the servants of Yama. They were ferocious, horrible, and greatly terrifying. Their eyes were red, and they were biting their lower lips. Their faces had the threefold lines of frowning wrathfully. They were holding weapons and tools such as swords, axes, spears, short spears, clubs, long spears, and so on. They had ugly, terrifying faces. They were like a black cloud, emitting horrible, dreadful shouts of rage, unbearable to look at, inspiring great terror, and bringing fear into the hearts of a hundred thousand beings, and they were dedicated to punishing those deserving of punishment.

20. 10 He saw many hundreds of thousands of individuals who had committed various crimes, each bound tightly with five ropes, brought before King Anala. There were thieves; those who had seized others' property; those who had destroyed the property of others; those who had robbed travelers; those who had burned down villages, towns, and markets; those who had slain families; those who were burglars; those who had injured; those who had poisoned; those who had rioted; those who had murdered; those who had seduced the wives of others; those with a bad way of life; those with evil intentions; and those who were covetous. [F.24.b]1008

20. 11 Sudhana saw King Anala have them punished in various ways.

Sudhana saw, according to King Anala's commands, some having their hands and feet cut off, some their ears and noses cut off, some their eyes gouged out, and some their limbs and all the smaller parts of the bodies cut off. Some were decapitated, some were burned alive, some had their skin destroyed by boiling salt water being poured over their bodies, and there were various other punishments that were horrible, harsh, cruel, dreadful, and deadly.

20. 12 Sudhana saw that at the site of the executions there was a mound of the feet, hands, ears, eyes, noses, heads, limbs, and smaller parts of the bodies of those who had been executed that was as large as Sumeru.

20. 13 He saw a lake of blood that was three yojanas deep and many yojanas wide.

He saw there many hundreds of thousands of the skeletons of the dead, missing their limbs, smaller parts, and heads. The place was filled with many wolves, jackals, dogs, ravens, vultures, buzzards, and eagles.1009 1010

20. 14 He saw that some bodies were darkened to black, some were rotting, some were bloated, and some were filled with maggots, loathsome and terrifying.

20. 15 He heard the sounds of the loud, horrible screams of pain, the pitiful wailing being emitted by those being executed, being slain, and being slaughtered in various ways; the sounds of their horror and distress were like those of the beings in the great Samghata hell.1011

20. 16 When Sudhana saw this dreadful and terrifying violence, he thought, ?I am set on the highest, complete enlightenment and am dedicated to seeking the Bodhisattva conduct in order to benefit and bring happiness to all beings. The kalyanamitras always ask, ?What good actions has a Bodhisattva done? What bad actions have been avoided?? But this King Anala is devoid of the qualities of good actions. [F.25.a] He is engaged in great transgressive acts. He has wicked thoughts in his mind. He is engaged in taking the lives of others. He is dedicated to harming other beings. He has no concern for his next life. He is at the edge of the precipice of the lower realms. What Bodhisattva conduct could I hear from him??

20. 17 While Sudhana, who was motivated to protect the entire realm of beings, whose mind had developed great compassion, was thinking and contemplating in that way, devas who were up in the sky above him addressed him in this way: ?Noble one, do you not remember the instructions of the kalyanamitra Rishi Jayoshmayatana?? Sudhana looked up into the realm of the sky and answered, ?Yes, I remember.?

20. 18 The devas said, ?Noble one, do not doubt in this way the instruction of the kalyanamitra! Noble one, the kalyanamitras give correct guidance and never do so incorrectly. Noble one, the wisdom of the Bodhisattvas in practicing skillful methods is inconceivable. Their wisdom in gathering beings as pupils is inconceivable. Their wisdom in benefiting beings is inconceivable. Their wisdom in subjugating beings is inconceivable. Their wisdom in inspiring beings is inconceivable. Their wisdom in purifying beings is inconceivable. Their wisdom in protecting beings is inconceivable. Their wisdom in leading beings to understanding is inconceivable. Their wisdom in ripening beings is inconceivable. Their wisdom in guiding beings is inconceivable.¹⁰¹³

“Noble one, go and ask him about Bodhisattva conduct!”

20. 19 Sudhana, the head merchant’s son, listened to what the devas had said [F.25.b] and approached the king. When he had reached him, Sudhana bowed his head to the feet of King Anala, circumambulated him, keeping him to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times, and then sat before him and with palms together and said, “Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.

20. 20 “Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!”

20. 21 King Anala, having concluded his duties as a king, rose from his lion throne, and with his right hand he took hold of Sudhana, the head merchant’s son, and led him into the Taladhvaja Palace.

20. 22 When they had entered his residence, the king led Sudhana, the head merchant’s son, into the harem, where he sat upon a throne and said to Sudhana, “Noble one, look around at my home and possessions!”

20. 23 Sudhana looked around and saw that the building was huge and vast, encircled by walls made of the seven precious materials. It was beautified by a variety of palaces of precious jewels, adorned with many hundreds of thousands of precious kutagaras. It was brilliantly bright with the shining light of countless precious jewels. There were pillars made of red pearls that were beautified by arrangements of a shining variety of different precious jewels. Inside was a beautifully constructed lion throne made of white coral that was adorned with many hundreds of thousands of jewels. There were raised lion banners made of precious asteria jewels. Above the throne was a canopy of shining, precious jewels. The room was covered with nets of strings of various wish-fulfilling precious jewels. [F.26.a] It was adorned by an array of ornamental spires adorned by a countless variety of precious jewels. There were pools made from emeralds that were filled with cool water. It was encircled by trees made of various precious materials.¹⁰¹⁴

20. 24 Sudhana saw that the ten million women of the king's entourage were beautiful, attractive, and pretty; had the most perfect, magnificent color; had mastered all skills; rose before him and slept after him; had loving minds; did whatever they were told to do; and were obedient.

20. 25 Then King Anala asked Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, what do you think? Is there this kind of ripening of karma for those who have committed bad actions? Is there this kind of perfect body? Is there this kind of perfect great happiness? Is there this kind of perfect attainment of sovereignty and great power?"

Sudhana replied, "Arya, there are no such things."

20. 26 King Anala said, "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the attainment of illusions. Noble one, most of the inhabitants of my kingdom kill, steal, practice sexual misconduct, lie, slander, abuse, indulge in idle talk, are avaricious, are malicious, hold false views, commit bad actions, and are fierce, aggressive, and cruel, and they maintain a behavior consisting of all kinds of bad actions.

"There is no other way to instruct them to turn away, to desist, from that sinful behavior.

20. 27 ?Noble one, in order to guide, ripen, control, and benefit these beings, motivated by great compassion I manifest the illusory images of executioners, [F.26.b] through which I execute the illusory images of the condemned. I make the illusions of those who punish and execute in various ways the illusions of those who have followed a path of bad actions. I also emanate those who experience the unendurable sufferings of having their feet, hands, noses, ears, limbs, smaller parts, and heads cut off. When the beings who live in my realm see that, they become distressed, afraid, and terrified. After that, they are careful to avoid committing bad actions.

20. 28 ?Noble one, when in that way I have used that method and see that these beings are distressed, terrified, and alarmed, I then turn them away from the path of the ten bad actions, cause them to possess the path of the ten good actions, and establish them in the path to omniscience, which is the ultimate attainment of joy and happiness and the cessation of all suffering.

20. 29 ?Noble one, I do not cause harm to any being with my body, speech, or mind.

?Noble one, I would wander in the most extreme suffering of the Avici hell, but I would not even once have arise in my mind the wish to cause harm to even the smallest being, a minute insect seen on the tip of a blade of grass, existing in the realm of stupidity, which is rebirth as an animal, let alone to a human being in my realm, who has the ability to develop the path of good actions.

20. 30 ?Noble one, I do not generate the qualities of a bad action in my dreams, let alone deliberately.

20. 31 ?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the attainment of illusions. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who have attained the patience of the birthlessness of phenomena, who have realized that all states of existence are illusions, who have given rise to the Bodhisattva conduct that is like an illusion, who know that all worlds are like reflections, [F.27.a] who have realized that the nature of phenomena is like a dream, who follow the way of the unimpeded gateway to the realm of the Dharma, who have understood that the net of conduct is like a magical illusion, who have the scope of the range of 1015 unobscured wisdom, who have set forth on the path of unobscured samadhi, who have gained the power of retention that has an infinite capacity, and who comprehend the scope of the range of activity of the Buddhas? 1016

20. 32 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a city called Suprabha. There dwells a king by the name of Mahaprabha. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

20. 33 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of King Anala, circumambulated King Anala many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from King Anala.

21. Chapter 21

MAHAPRABHA

21. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, remembered that illusion of wisdom. He contemplated the Bodhisattva's liberation that had the form of illusion. He examined the illusory aspect of the nature of phenomena. He comprehended the equality of the illusions of actions. He reflected on the equality of the illusions of phenomena. He comprehended the equality of the emanations that are ripened by the Dharma. He followed the inconceivable appearances that arise from wisdom. He accomplished the accomplishment of the illusions of infinite prayer. He purified the unimpeded conduct that has the true nature of an illusory manifestation. He analyzed the three times as having the characteristics of being composed of illusions.

21. 2 In one land after another, he questioned, searched, and looked around, seeking without weariness of the mind or exhaustion of the body throughout all the main and intermediate directions, roads, [F.27.b] valleys, and plains, even and uneven ground, wet lands and dry lands, mountains and caves, villages and towns, markets, lands, kingdoms, and capitals. He reached the vicinity of the city of Suprabha and asked, "Where is King Mahaprabha?"

Many people told him, "Noble one, that over there is the city named Suprabha. King Mahaprabha lives there."

21. 3 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, approached the city of Suprabha and saw the great city of Suprabha. Seeing it, he was overjoyed, pleased, content, and happy. He thought, "I am looking at the place where my kalyanamitra lives. Today I will see the kalyanamitra. I will hear from him the Bodhisattva conduct, and I will hear from him the inconceivable gateways through which the Bodhisattva sets forth, the inconceivable true nature of a Bodhisattva, the inconceivable qualities of a Bodhisattva, the inconceivable range of activity of a Bodhisattva, the inconceivable powerful supremacy of a Bodhisattva, the inconceivable samadhis practiced by a Bodhisattva, the inconceivable liberations enjoyed by a Bodhisattva, and the inconceivable pure fulfillment of the undertakings of a Bodhisattva."

21. 4 Concentrating on those thoughts, Sudhana approached the city of Suprabha, and having arrived he looked at the city of Suprabha. It was encircled by seven wonderful and beautiful moats that were trenches of the seven precious materials -gold, silver, beryl, crystal, red pearls, emeralds, and white coral -filled with water, with a layer of gold sand at their bottoms, [F.28.a] their surfaces covered with divine blue lotuses, red lotuses, night lotuses, and white lotuses and the water made turbid with yellow sandalwood mud. It was encircled by seven rows of palm trees made of the seven precious materials. It was encircled by seven walls made of diamonds: these were a wall of lovely lion diamonds, a wall of undefeatable diamonds, a wall of powerfully penetrative diamonds, a wall of invincible diamonds, a strong wall of unimpedable, resolute diamonds, a wall that contained a network of the light rays of diamonds, and a wall of the array of the immaculate colors of diamonds. All those great walls of precious diamonds were studded with countless precious jewels. They were adorned with shining railings of Jambu River gold on which were strung strings of ivory beads, shining railings of silver jewels on which were strung strings of ivory beads, shining railings of beryl jewels on which were strung strings of ivory beads, shining railings of crystal jewels on which were strung strings of ivory beads, shining railings of coral jewels on which were strung strings of ivory beads, shining railings of red pearls on which were strung strings of ivory beads, and shining railings of pearl jewels, the essence of the oceans, on which were strung strings of ivory beads.¹⁰¹⁸

21. 5 The distance between each of the eight great gateways of the city was ten yojanas. The gates were multicolored, beautifully made of the seven precious materials.

21. 6 That great city was vast, huge, and divided into eight districts. The ground was made of blue beryl. There were a hundred million streets in that city, and on both sides of each street there were a hundred thousand well-built and arranged mansions in which many hundreds of billions of beings lived. All those houses were made of the seven precious materials, were adorned with an array of various jewels, [F.28.b] had precious parasols and banners erected upon them, and were endowed with all requisites.

21. 7 That great city was beautified by high buildings that had the countless colors of precious jewels: There were countless kutagaras of Jambu River gold, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of strings of beryl jewels. There were countless kutagaras of silver, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of strings of red pearls. There were countless kutagaras of beryl, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of strings of a treasure of precious jewels. There were countless kutagaras of crystal, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of strings of the kings of jewels called abundant essence. There were countless kutagaras of jewels that delight beings, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of strings of the kings of jewels called sunstones. There were countless kutagaras of sapphires, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of strings of the kings of jewels called light rays of splendor jewels. There were countless kutagaras of the precious jewel ocean of beings, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of strings of the kings of jewels called asterias. There were countless kutagaras of diamonds, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of strings of the kings of jewels called invincible banners. There were countless kutagaras of yellow sandalwood, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of divine coral tree flowers. [F.29.a] There were countless kutagaras of the unequalled king of perfumes, with an inconceivable array of jewels, covered in a network of a variety of divine flowers.¹⁰²⁰

21. 8 Each of those precious houses was adorned with many precious rooftop railings, was encircled by seven levels of precious balconies, and had seven rows of precious palm trees arranged around it. Precious strings connected all the precious rooftop railings and the precious palm trees. Lines of golden bells adorned all those precious strings. Hanging wreaths of flowers were fastened to all those golden bells, and a network of precious little spherical bells hung from all those wreaths of flowers.^{1023 1024}

21. 9 In that way, the entire great city was covered in countless networks of precious jewels, was covered in countless networks of precious bells and little spherical bells, was covered in countless networks of divine perfumes, was covered in countless networks of divine flowers, was covered in countless networks of precious spheres, was covered in countless diamond canopies, was covered in countless precious canopies, was covered in countless precious parasols, was covered in countless precious kutagara canopies, was covered in countless precious cloth canopies, and was covered in countless canopies of flower garlands. Precious parasols and banners had been erected throughout the great city.

21. 10 In the center of the great city of Suprabha was King Mahaprabha's palace.

[F.29.b] The palace was four yojanas wide on every side, was made of the seven precious materials, was encircled by seven levels of balconies, had seven levels of networks of precious little spherical bells that emitted a beautiful sound, was encircled by seven rows of palm trees made of the seven precious materials, and was adorned by an inconceivable hundred thousand kutagaras made of various precious materials.

21. 11 It had pools made of a variety of precious materials, with bottoms covered in gold sand, filled with water that had the eight excellent qualities, and its surface was covered with blue lotuses, night lotuses, and white lotuses.

They were beautified by trees that had flowers and fruits of every kind of precious material. On all four sides there were beautiful precious railings intersected by steps. There were the divine, sweet, and melodious songs of flocks of birds.

21. 12 In the center of this palace, which rivaled that of Devendra, there was a precious kutagara that shone on beings. It was adorned with a splendid display of countless, beautiful jewels. It was a treasury of the good Dharma that had been established by King Mahaprabha.¹⁰²⁵

21. 13 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, had no attachment toward the precious moats, he was not astonished by the precious walls, he had no craving for the rows of precious palm trees, he took no delight in the sounds from the networks of bells and little spherical bells, he had no clinging to the melodious sounds of the divine music and songs, he paid no attention to the delights of the celestial kutagaras composed of various shining jewels, he found no pleasure in the pleasurable qualities of the groups of young men and women, and he was detached from the pleasures of form, sound, smell, taste, and touch. [F.30.a]

21. 14 Focused on the contemplation of the Dharma, he asked whomever he met about the kalyanamitra. In that way, he eventually arrived at a place in the city where three roads met, and he looked around. He saw that not far from a caitya temple in the center of the junction of the three roads was a great throne with great adornments. It had legs of blue beryl, was supported by white beryl lions, was inlaid with a network of threads of Jambu River gold, and had various precious cushions, superior to divine materials, laid upon it. It was adorned by countless precious disks and covered with an inconceivable network of an array of precious jewels. Above it there was a canopy like a tent made of cloth of Jambu River gold, with a variety of divine precious materials and a central lotus made of the kings of wish-fulfilling jewels.

21. 15 Seated cross-legged on that great Dharma throne was King Mahaprabha, whose body was adorned by the thirty-two signs of a great being. His body was beautified by the complete variety of the eighty features of a great being. He was like a mountain of gold. He was adorned with an array of various jewels. He shone magnificently like the disk of the sun. He was lovely to look at like the disk of the full moon. He was beautiful like Brahma in the midst of his retinue of Brahma devas. He was like the ocean, possessing an accumulation of the jewels of the infinite qualities of the Dharma. Like a great cloud he emitted the thunder that was the nature of the Dharma. Like the sky he was adorned by the stars of the ways of the Dharma. Like Sumeru his image appeared in the minds of the ocean of the four classes of beings. Like an island of jewels he was a ground filled with the jewels of various knowledges.

21. 16 Sudhana saw that arranged in front of King Mahaprabha there was a precious heap of gold, jewels, pearls, beryls, conch, crystal, corals, gold ornaments, and silver; a heap of divine clothing in various colors; [F.30.b] a heap of various kinds of divine jewelry; a heap of food and various gifts; a heap of the various kinds of superior, supremely delicious flavors; and a heap of a range of all kinds of displays.

21. 17 Sudhana saw many trillions of precious divine carriages, many trillions of precious divine musical instruments, many trillions of different kinds of divine perfumes, many heaps of medicine for healing sickness, and heaps of all kinds of particular utensils that were suitable, faultless, and for beings to use as they wish.

21. 18 Sudhana saw a hundred thousand young milk-yielding cows with golden horns and hooves set out for poor people to obtain.

21. 19 Sudhana saw a quintillion precious maidens who had been assembled. They were beautiful, attractive, and lovely to look at. They were adorned in all jewelry and wore precious clothing of divine material, their bodies anointed with divine uragasara sandalwood. They had mastered the sixty-four skills and were expert in all the arts of lovemaking.

21. 20 Sudhana saw all these requisites gathered and arranged in front of the king for beings to collect, for beings to take, to bring happiness to beings, to bring joy to beings, to bring peace of mind to beings, to bring delight to beings, to cause the kleshas to cease within beings, to lead beings to the meaning of the nature of all phenomena, to direct beings to the meaning that is the same as omniscience, to turn beings away from ill will toward others, to turn beings away from bad physical and vocal actions, to extract the splinter of false views from beings, and for beings to purify their path of action. They were piled up and presented on two hundred million platforms at every crossroads of four streets, at every junction of three streets, and in front of the rows of doors and courtyards [F.31.a] on both sides of every street.¹⁰²⁶

21. 21 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, prostrated his whole body onto the ground in homage to King Mahaprabha, and he circumambulated King Mahaprabha, keeping him to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times. He then sat down before him, placed the palms of his hands together, and said, 'Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.

21. 22 'Arya, I have heard that you teach and give instructions to Bodhisattvas. Therefore, Arya, teach me how Bodhisattvas train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they practice it!'

21. 23 King Mahaprabha said, 'Noble one, I have purified and perfected the Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great love.

21. 24 'Noble one, I addressed questions about this Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great love to many hundreds of Budas, many thousands of Budas, many hundreds of thousands of Budas, many quintillions of Budas, and so on up to an innumerable number of innumerable numbers of Buda bhagavats. From them I received it, purified it, completely purified it, established it, viewed it, analyzed it, followed it, sought it, examined it, wrote it out, and promulgated it.1027 1028

21. 25 'Noble one, in that way I have remained in this Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great love, and I rule the kingdom in accord with the Dharma, I take care of the world in accord with the Dharma, I carry out conduct in the world in accord with the Dharma, I cause beings to be in accord with Dharma, [F.31.b] I bring beings into the domain of the Dharma, I bring beings into the way of the Dharma, I command beings in accord with Dharma, I make beings dedicate themselves to the practice of the Dharma, I establish beings in the understanding of the nature of the Dharma, and I establish beings in a loving state of mind, in the power of great love, in the strength of love, in an altruistic state of mind, in a happy state of mind, in a sympathetic state of mind, in a caring state of mind, in a protective state of mind, in a state of mind that never ceases to be protective of beings, and in a state of mind of continuously aspiring to eliminate all suffering, and I establish beings in a continuous conduct that leads them to the ultimate happiness.1030

1033

21. 26 ?I also bring physical ease to beings by giving rise to the happiness of serenity. I turn the continuums of their minds away from attachment to the pleasures of samsara. I bring beings to delight in the pleasures of the Dharma. I cleanse them of all the stains of the kleshas. I purify them of all bad qualities. I turn them away from the continuum of samsara. I turn them toward the ocean of the ways of the realm of Dharma. I burn away the ignorance in their minds in order to end all rebirths in the states of existence.
I cause light to arise in their minds so that they attain the result that is omniscience. I make the ocean of their minds clear so that they will give rise to the strength of unassailable faith.1034

21. 27 ?Noble one, in that way I have remained in this Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great love, and I rule the kingdom in accord with the Dharma.¹⁰³⁹

21. 28 ?Noble one, I do not cause the beings who dwell in my realm to be frightened, terrified, or [F.32.a] alarmed or to horripilate.

21. 29 ?Noble one, those beings who are poor and deprived of necessities, who wish for food, who wish for drink, who wish for clothes, and who wish for every kind of requisite all come before me. I open the door to the treasures that I have previously accumulated, and I say to them, ?Take whatever you wish -all those things for which you would otherwise engage in the bad actions of killing, taking what has not been given, sexual misconduct, lying, slander, harsh speech, idle talk, craving, malice, false views, and attachment to various incorrect views! All of those things have been provided by me, and they are heaped at the doors in the streets, in the courtyards, at the junctions of three streets, and at the crossroads of four streets in this great city of Suprabha -anyone may take whatever they wish!? I tell them this and give it to them.

21. 30 ?Noble one, all the beings who dwell in this great city are Bodhisattvas who follow the Mahayana.

21. 31 ?Noble one, this great city of Suprabha appears to them in accordance with their way of thinking: to some it appears small, while to some it appears vast; to some the ground appears to be made of earth, while to some the ground appears to be made of beryl jewels; to some it appears to be encircled by a wall of clay, while to some it appears to be encircled by a wall of precious diamonds and banners of invincibility; to some it appears to be filled with pebbles and potsherds, to be uphill and downhill, and to have many chasms and precipices, while to some it appears to have ground that is covered and adorned with countless excellent precious jewels and to be as flat as the palm of the hand; to some it appears to be made of earth, while to some it appears to be adorned by countless precious dwellings, aerial palaces, mansions, and kutagaras [F.32.b] adorned by roof decks with balustrades, spires, round windows, networks of strings of beads, crescent moons, and trellises of lion adornments.¹⁰⁴⁰

21. 32 ?Among the beings who live outside the city, there are those who, when I was practicing Bodhisattva conduct in past lives, gathered around me as pupils through the four methods of gathering pupils. They have pure motivation, have created the roots of merit, have served many Budas, aspire to omniscience, and are set on omniscience. To them the city appears to be made of jewels. To the others it appears to be made of earth.

21. 33 ?Noble one, when the beings who live in my realm, in the districts and subdistricts, in the villages, towns, and markets, in the country and the capital, are disturbed by the nature of the times in a world that has the five degenerations and want to practice the path of the ten bad actions, then at that time, wishing to benefit them, I enter the Bodhisattva samadhi called exercising power over the world through being motivated by great love.

21. 34 ?Noble one, as soon as I rest in that samadhi, the fears, misfortunes, hostilities, disputes, mental disturbances, and violent intentions of those beings cease, are extinguished, are eliminated, and are brought to an end through their attaining the nature of the Bodhisattva samadhi called exercising power over the world through being motivated by great love.

21. 35 ?Noble one, stay a moment and you will see a sight.?

Then King Mahaprabha entered the Bodhisattva samadhi called exercising power over the world through being motivated by great love. [F.33.a]

21. 36 As soon as he entered the Bodhisattva samadhi called exercising power over the world through being motivated by great love, the great city of Suprabha and its districts and subdistricts, its villages, towns, and markets, the land and the kingdom, the capital, and its environs all shook in six ways.¹⁰⁴³

21. 37 When they shook, the precious walls, precious mansions, precious interiors, precious houses, precious dwellings, precious aerial palaces, precious kutagaras, precious spires, precious balustrade rooftops, precious round windows, precious balconies, precious toranas, precious crescents, precious lattices of lion adornments, precious railings, precious disks, precious canopies, precious strings of little spherical bells, precious bells, precious banners, precious flags, and precious palm trees also shook, made loud sounds, and jingled. When they resounded, they emitted beautiful, delightful sounds, so that those people bowed and made obeisance in the direction of King Mahaprabha.

21. 38 All those beings who dwelled within the great city of Suprabha experienced increased happiness and joy, turned to face the direction of King Mahaprabha, and prostrated their entire bodies on the ground in homage.

21. 39 Those beings who lived in the villages, the towns, the marketplaces, the land, the kingdom, the capital, and its environs all became blissful in mind and body, and with happiness and joy they bowed down in the direction of King Mahaprabha.

21. 40 The beings who had been reborn as animals all became kind toward one another and wished to help one another. They all turned to look in the direction of King Mahaprabha and bowed down to him.

21. 41 Even the land, all the mountain peaks, and the other lofty lands [F.33.b] bowed toward King Mahaprabha.

21. 42 All the flowering trees, fruit trees, leafy trees, edible plants, vegetation, crops, grasses, bushes, herbs, and forests turned in the direction of King Mahaprabha and bowed down toward him.1044

1045 1046

21. 43 All the springs, lakes, ponds, reservoirs, waterfalls, rivers, lotus ponds, and wells in his realm turned and made the sounds of flowing in the direction of King Mahaprabha.1047

21. 44 Ten thousand Naga kings caused a mass of smoke of great black-agarwood incense to form a cloud of perfume, from which came the illumination of bright streaks of lightning, the roar of thunder, and a fine rain of perfumed water that fell in all four directions.1048

21. 45 Ten thousand devas, such as the deva lords Shakra, Suyama, Samtushita, Sunirmita, and Vashavartin gathered in the sky facing him and made offerings to King Mahaprabha:

21. 46 The entire expanse of the sky resounded with the vast melodious sound from clouds of a quintillion divine musical instruments.

21. 47 A gathering of countless apsaras created the adornment of sweet, beautiful sounds from clouds of divine songs.

There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of a variety of countless divine, precious flowers.

21. 48 There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of a variety of countless divine incenses of various colors.

There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of a variety of countless divine, precious garlands.

21. 49 There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of a variety of countless divine powders of various colors.

There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of a variety of countless divine, precious jewelry.

21. 50 There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of a variety of countless divine, delicate, stainless clothing.¹⁰⁴⁹

There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of a variety of countless divine [F.34.a] parasols of different kinds.

21. 51 There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of beautiful lion banners.

There was the adornment of the rain that fell from clouds of countless precious flags shining with the blazing light of divine jewels.

21. 52 Airavana and all the kings of elephants were in the sky, and through the inconceivable miraculous powers of the lords of the elephants, the leaders of the herds, they manifested in the sky clouds of a variety of countless divine, precious lotuses that covered the entire expanse of the sky; of countless divine, precious hanging strings of jewels; of countless divine, precious hanging clusters of streamers and wreaths; of hanging adornments of countless varieties of divine, precious flower garlands; of hanging adornments of countless varieties of divine, precious strings of jewelry; and of hanging adornments of countless varieties of divine, precious wreaths of flowers; the adornment of sky-covering clouds of perfume composed of countless varieties of divine, precious kinds of scents of different colors that filled all directions with a lovely aroma; the adornment of rain from clouds of divine, precious clothing of various colors; the adornment of rain from clouds of a divine mass of incense smoke; the adornment of a delicate rain from clouds of divine powders of different colors; and the adornment of rain from sky-covering clouds of the sweet and melodious music and songs of praise by a host of apsarases. [F.34.b]

21. 53 Countless hundreds of thousands of rakshasa lords who dwell in the sea and on the land, who dwell in our world realm of four continents, whose food is flesh and whose drink is blood, who steal the vitality of those creatures that live in the water and of deer, cattle, birds, oxen, horses, elephants, donkeys, men, and women, whose minds have thoughts of anger and who always harm and injure beings, all gained the highest motivation of love and altruism; their faces having become serene, they became dedicated to not causing violence or injury to any being, their thoughts upon the next world after death, and with their palms together in homage, with the highest happiness, they bowed in the direction of King Mahaprabha, experiencing an unequalled vast bliss of mind and body.

21. 54 Hundreds of thousands of lords of yakshas, mahoragas, pishacas, and bhutas with the highest motivation of love and altruism, their faces having become serene and their thoughts upon the next world after death, became dedicated to not causing violence or injury to any being. With their palms together in homage, with the highest happiness, they bowed in the direction of King Mahaprabha, experiencing an unequalled vast bliss of mind and body.

21. 55 In the same way, for all beings in the four-continent world realm, fear, misfortune, hostility, disputes, mental disturbances, and violent intentions ceased, were extinguished, were eliminated, were brought to an end, and were eradicated.

21. 56 In the same way as it was for the four-continent world realm, so it was that for all beings throughout the great universe of a billion worlds, [F.35.a] throughout a quintillion world realms in the ten directions, all fear, misfortune, hostility, disputes, mental disturbances, and sinful and violent intentions ceased, were extinguished, were eliminated, were brought to an end, and were eradicated through their attaining the nature of the Bodhisattva samadhi called exercising power over the world through being motivated by great love.

21. 57 Then King Mahaprabha arose from that samadhi and said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, I know only this wisdom of Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great love.

21. 58 "How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who hold the immeasurable parasol of great love; who pervade all the world realms with their motivation to bring happiness; who are attendants for all beings through continual attendance to them; who are dedicated to the protection of all beings applied equally to the highest, the middling, and the lowest beings; who have a loving motivation that is like the earth, for it is engaged in supporting all beings; who are like the disk of the full moon sending the light rays of merit and wisdom equally to all beings; who are like the disk of the sun because they shine the light of wisdom on everything that is to be known; who are like lamps because they dispel the deep darkness in the minds of all beings; who are like the precious jewel that purifies water because they clear away the turbidity of deceit and deception in the lakes of the minds of all beings; who are like the king of wish-fulfilling jewels because they fulfill the aspirations and prayers of all beings; who are like a great wind because they make them live in the dwelling place of resting in samadhi, which is the great city of omniscience? [F.35.b]1050

21. 59 ?How could I measure their mountain of merit? How could I view the sky that is adorned by the myriads of stars of their qualities? How could I know the circle of air that is their great prayers? How could I measure their power of the equality of all phenomena? How could I explain their praises of the array of the Mahayana? How could I describe their special way of completely good conduct? How could I reveal the gateway to the great samadhi of the Bodhisattvas? How could I describe their clouds of great compassion?1051

21. 60 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a capital city called Sthira. There dwells an upasika by the name of Acala. Go to her and ask her,
?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

21. 61 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of King Mahaprabha, circumambulated King Mahaprabha many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from King Mahaprabha. [B3]

22. Chapter 22

ACALA

22. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, left the city of Suprabha, and having followed the road for a little while, he contemplated the instruction given to him by King Mahaprabha: he remembered the way of Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great love; he meditated on the light of the great samadhi called exercising power over the world; he realized the variegated display of the lion throne and adornments of the pure Bodhisattva body; he increased the inconceivable power and strength of Bodhisattva aspiration and merit; [F.36.a] he made firm the inconceivable way of Bodhisattva wisdom that ripens beings; he reflected upon the inconceivable greatness of the general enjoyments of the Bodhisattvas; he considered the inconceivable different aspects of the Bodhisattvas; he remembered the inconceivable pure ripening of beings by Bodhisattvas; he thought about the inconceivable pure and perfect Bodhisattva assembly of pupils; he had conviction in the inconceivable radiance of the Bodhisattvas? dedication to their duty to beings; and he attained happiness, powerful attraction, delight, contentment, deep joy, clarity of mind, brightness of mind, stability of mind, vastness of mind, and inexhaustibility of mind. He was in that way dedicated to remembering and thinking of the kalyanamitra.1052

22. 2 With his face covered in tears, he thought ?Ah! Oh! Seeing the kalyanamitra is the source of all precious qualities. It perfects and purifies all Bodhisattva conduct. It makes pure all Bodhisattva mindfulness. It purifies all the domains of Bodhisattva retention. It gives rise to the radiance of all Bodhisattva samadhis. It accomplishes seeing all Budas. It brings down the rain from the Dharma clouds of all the Budas. It indicates the way of all Bodhisattva prayers. It gives rise to the inconceivable light of knowledge and wisdom. [F.36.b] It grows the sprouts of stable Bodhisattva faculties. The kalyanamitras save me from falling into the chasm of the lower existences. The kalyanamitras have brought me to the1055 realization of the way of the equality of phenomena. The kalyanamitras have shown me the paths to happiness and to unhappiness. The kalyanamitras have taught me the Mahayana. The kalyanamitras have given me the instructions on the completely good Bodhisattva conduct. The kalyanamitras have shown me the road to the city of omniscience. The kalyanamitras have guided me on the way to the town of omniscience. The kalyanamitras have made me enter the ocean of the ways of the realm of the Dharma. The kalyanamitras have taught me the ways of an ocean of what is to be known in the three times. The kalyanamitras have shown me all the circles of arya assemblies. The kalyanamitras have increased all my good qualities.¶1057

22. 3 While he thus wept and wailed, the devas who were assembled in the sky, who were Bodhisattva devas, emissaries of the Buddhas who continually followed him and inspired him, called down to him, "Noble one, the Bodhisattvas who follow the instructions of the kalyanamitras greatly please the Buddha bhagavats. The Bodhisattvas who never go against the words of the kalyanamitras come close to omniscience. The Bodhisattvas who do not doubt the words of the kalyanamitras [F.37.a] come close to the kalyanamitras. The Bodhisattvas who always have the kalyanamitras in their minds are approaching all their goals.

22. 4 "Noble one, go to the upasika Acala in the royal capital of Sthira! You will hear the Bodhisattva conduct from her."

22. 5 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, emerged from samadhi's light of wisdom and eventually arrived at Sthira, where the upasika Acala was.

22. 6 He searched and looked for the upasika Acala, and many people said to him, "Noble one, the upasika Acala is young and lives with her parents at home, where, surrounded by her family, she teaches the Dharma to a great gathering of people."

22. 7 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, his mind filled with great happiness, enthusiasm, and joy, went to the home of the upasika Acala. After arriving there, while he was waiting at the door he saw the entire house shining with a pervading golden light that brought ease to mind and body. The instant the light touched Sudhana, the head merchant's son, he entered, and there arose five hundred subtle and newly developed entrances to samadhi such as entrances to the samadhi called power over all sensations, entrances to the samadhi called the region of peace, entrances to the samadhi called apart from all beings, entrances to the samadhi called the all-seeing equanimity, and entrances to the samadhi called the treasure of the Tathagatas.

[F.37.b] Those samadhis were very subtle and newly developed like a consciousness that has just entered the womb.¹⁰⁵⁸

22. 8 Then Sudhana sensed a lovely scent of such a kind that male devas did not have, that female devas did not have, that male Nagas did not have, that female Nagas did not have, that male yakshas did not have, that female yakshas did not have, that male gandharvas did not have, that female gandharvas did not have, that male asuras did not have, that female asuras did not have, that male garudas did not have, that female garudas did not have, that male kinnaras did not have, that female kinnaras did not have, that male mahoragas did not have, that female mahoragas did not have, that male humans did not have, and that female humans did not have.

22. 9 There was no equal to that girl's body in the worlds in the ten directions, let alone one that was superior.

22. 10 Apart from the luster of the color of the bodies of the Tathagatas, and the luster of the color of consecrated Bodhisattvas, there was no one in the worlds in the ten directions who had a body with a luster of color that equaled the luster of color of her body, let alone one that was superior.

22. 11 Apart from the shape and figure of the bodies of the Tathagatas, and the shape and figure of consecrated Bodhisattvas, there was no one in the worlds in the ten directions who had a body with a shape and figure that equaled the shape and figure of her body, let alone one that was superior.

22. 12 Apart from the aura of light of the Tathagatas, and the aura of light of consecrated Bodhisattvas, there was no one in the worlds in the ten directions who had an aura of light that equaled her aura of light, let alone one that was superior.

22. 13 Apart from the Tathagatas and the consecrated Bodhisattvas, there was no one in the worlds in the ten directions, in the realms of devas, Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, or nonhumans, who had a scent that equaled the scent of the breath that came from her mouth, let alone one that was superior.

22. 14 Apart from the displays and enjoyments of the abodes of the Tathagatas, and the displays and enjoyments of the abodes of the consecrated Bodhisattvas, [F.38.a] there was no one in the worlds in the ten directions who could equal the displays and enjoyments of her abode, let alone anyone who could be her superior.

22. 15 Apart from the perfect entourage of attendants of the Tathagatas and the perfect entourage of attendants of the consecrated Bodhisattvas, there was no one in the worlds in the ten directions who could equal her perfect entourage of attendants, let alone anyone who could be her superior.

22. 16 There was no being among the classes of beings in the worlds in the ten directions who could look upon the upasika Acala with desire.

22. 17 There was no being among the classes of beings in the worlds in the ten directions whose kleshas did not cease as soon as they saw the upasika Acala.

22. 18 Just as the Mahabrahmas who have power over a million desire realms do not have kleshas arising within them, in the same way, the beings who saw the upasika Acala did not have kleshas arising within them.¹⁰⁶¹

22. 19 There was no being among the classes of beings in the worlds in the ten directions who had enough of looking upon the upasika Acala, apart from those who had the contentment of wisdom.

22. 20 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, saw the inconceivable majesty of the upasika Acala's body and her inconceivable form, color, shape, and figure; he saw the inconceivable network of unimpeded light rays from the entirety of the ground, city, and jewels; and he saw the accomplishment of inconceivable benefits for beings.

22. 21 He smelled the lovely scent that arose from all her pores, saw the infinite perfect assembly of her attendants, saw the perfect, unassailable display of the aerial palace that was her home, perceived the measureless ocean of its qualities, and praised the upasika Acala with this verse: [F.38.b]

22. 22 "You continually maintain a stainless good conduct.

You are completely pervaded by vast patience.¹⁰⁶²

You are established in diligence as firm as a vajra.

You are superior among beings like the shining lord of mountains."

{1}1063 1064

22. 23 After Sudhana, the head merchant's son, had praised the upasika Acala with that verse, he said to her, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.

Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?

22. 24 The upasika Acala spoke with a gentle, beautiful, delightful voice to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, with words that brought him joy, saying, 'Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment.

22. 25 'Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of wisdom that is difficult to attain. I train in the gateway of Bodhisattva conduct that possesses a strong commitment. I have attained the gateway of the power of retention of the level of the equality of all phenomena. I have attained the gateway called the light of the wisdom of eloquence that elucidates the basis of all phenomena, [F.39.a] and I have attained the gateway of the samadhi called the display of the tireless search for the Dharma.'1065

22. 26 Sudhana asked, 'Arya, what is the scope of the Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of the wisdom that is difficult to attain? What is the scope of the gateway of Bodhisattva conduct with a strong commitment, of the gateway of maintaining the level of the equality of all phenomena, of the gateway of the light of the wisdom of eloquence that elucidates the basis of all phenomena, and of the gateway of the samadhi called the display of the tireless search for the Dharma?'1066

Acala answered, 'Noble one, this is a subject that is difficult to believe.'1067

22. 27 Sudhana said, 'Arya, please teach me. Through the power of the Buddhas and being in the care of the kalyanamitras, I will believe it, comprehend it, know it, understand it, discern it, cognize it, reflect upon it as a focus of my attention, contemplate it, not deny it, not conceptualize it, not add to it, and be in accord with it.?

22. 28 Then the upasika Acala said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, in the past, during a kalpa called Stainless Light, appeared the Tathagata named Pralambabahu. At that time I was the only daughter of King Vidyuddatta. One night when I was not sleeping, the door of the royal residence was shut, my parents were asleep, the staff of men and women had gone to sleep, the sound of music being played had ceased, and the five hundred women that I spent time with were sleeping, I sat on my bed, looking at the constellations of stars in the sky. In the sky above I saw the Tathagata Arhat Samyak sambuddha Pralambabahu, who was like Sumeru, the lord of mountains. He was accompanied by an entourage of many Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, and mahoragas. His body spread a network of unimpeded light rays throughout all directions. From all the pores of the Tathagata's body came a beautiful scent [F.39.b] that brought ease to my mind and body and great happiness to my mind.1068

22. 29 "I arose from my bed and stood on the floor, and with my ten fingers placed together in homage, I bowed down to the Tathagata Pralambabahu. As I looked at the crown of his head there seemed to be no end to it, and I could not grasp his extent to the right or left. I could never have enough of contemplating his perfect signs and features of a great being.

22. 30 "At that time, I wondered, "Through what kind of karma can one obtain such a perfect body? Give rise to the perfect signs and features of a great bring? Have such a perfect display of light? Attain such a perfect entourage?

Have such a perfect residence and requisites that are of the nature of the mind? Develop such a perfection of merit? Have such purified wisdom?

Attain such perfect, inconceivable miracles from samadhi? Complete such perfect powers of retention? And have the power of such perfect eloquence??

22. 31 ?Noble one, the Bhagavat Tathagata Pralambabahu knew my thought and said, ?Girl, develop an invincible motivation for the defeat of all the kleshas.

Develop an undefeatable motivation for eliminating all attachment. Develop an unwearied motivation for comprehending the way of the profound Dharma. Develop an unshakable motivation for descending into the whirling ocean of the range of the thoughts of beings. Develop an unconfused motivation for the rebirth in all the states of existence within samsara.

Develop a never-satisfied motivation for the continuous aspiration to see all the Budas. [F.40.a] Develop a never-satiated motivation in order to obtain the clouds of Dharma of all the Budas. Develop a realized motivation in order to realize the light of the way of the Dharma of all the Budas.

Develop an acquisitive motivation for acquiring the Dharma wheels of all the Budas. Develop a motivation to be without delusion concerning even a small gesture, let alone to know that which comes from a Tathagata's mouth.

Girl, you should develop the motivation to distribute the precious Dharma in accordance with the aspirations of beings.?1071

22. 32 ?Noble one, I heard from the Bhagavat Tathagata Arhat Samyak-sambuddha Pralambabahu, that king of the gateways of instruction to the way of the Dharma, and I longed to attain omniscient wisdom. I aspired to the nature of the strengths. I wished for the words of the Buda. I wanted to have the purified display of light of a Buda. I wanted to attain the perfect body of a Buda. I longed to have a Buda's pure signs and features of a great being. I aspired to have the perfect assembly of followers of a Buda. I wished for the pure realms of a Buda. I longed for the perfect conduct of a Buda. I rejoiced in the perfect lifespan of a Buda. I had developed the motivation that could not be impaired by all the kleshas or by the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas, which like a vajra could not be defeated even by the strength of all mountains and weapons.¹⁰⁷²

22. 33 ?Noble one, from that time until now, through the power of having developed that motivation, throughout as many kalpas as there are atoms in Jambudvīpa, [F.40.b] I do not remember ever in my mind enjoying pleasures, let alone copulation.¹⁰⁷³

22. 34 ?Noble one, from that time until now, I have never had one thought of anger toward a kalyāṇamitra, let alone offended any other being.

22. 35 ?Noble one, from that time until now, I do not remember having ever given rise to a single thought that holds the view that there is a self, let alone having attachment to things that I think of as being mine.

22. 36 ?Even when I died and was reborn inside a womb, I do not remember being in a state of stupidity, having various concepts, or having a neutral state of mind, let alone having a state of mental fixation.

22. 37 ?Throughout those kalpas I do not remember ever forgetting seeing a Buda, even down to the perception of the sight of a Buda in a dream, let alone the perception of the visual images of the ten levels of Bodhisattvas.¹⁰⁷⁴

22. 38 ?From that time until now, while holding the clouds of Dharma of all the Tathagatas, I do not remember forgetting in my mind even a single word or term of the Dharma, even down to a single syllable, let alone what has emerged from the treasure of the mouths of the Tathagatas.¹⁰⁷⁵

22. 39 ?From that time until now, while I drank and drank from the ocean of the Dharma, I do not remember ever ignoring and not contemplating even any words of the worldly Dharmas.

22. 40 ?From that time until now, I do not remember not accomplishing the samadhi of a single gateway to the ways of the Dharma from among the ocean of the ways of the Dharma, even down to the ways of the knowledge of worldly crafts.

22. 41 ?From that time until now, while I held the wheels of Dharma of the Tathagatas in order to guide beings, I do not remember leaving out a single word or even a single syllable that was transmitted to me.

22. 42 ?From that time until now, there is not a single prayer from the ocean of the visions of Budas that I have not accomplished in order to purify the ocean of beings, even down to carrying out the prayer of a Buda who was an emanation. [F.41.a]

22. 43 ?From that time until now, I do not remember not practicing any Bodhisattva conduct from the ocean of the past Bodhisattva conduct of the ocean of Budas in order to purify my conduct.

22. 44 ?From that time until now, I do not remember creating a single motivation that was focused on being a Shravaka or a pratyeka Buda.

22. 45 ?Noble one, from that time until now, throughout as many kalpas as there are atoms in Jambudvipa, I do not remember ever having given rise to doubts, dualistic identification, conceptualized identification, variegated identification, obdurate identification, identification as inferior, or identification as appropriate or inappropriate concerning any single word or syllable.1076 1077

22. 46 ?Noble one, since that time, I have never been separated from the appearance of a Buda. I have never been separated from the Buda bhagavats. I have never been separated from the Bodhisattvas. I have never been separated from the true kalyanamitras. I have never been separated from hearing the prayers of the Budas. I have never been separated from hearing of the conduct of the Bodhisattvas. I have never been separated from hearing the way of the perfections of the Bodhisattvas. I have never been separated from hearing the way of the light of the wisdom of the level of the Bodhisattvas. I have never been separated from the attainment of hearing the inexhaustible treasures and treasures of the retentions and samadhis of the Bodhisattvas. I have never been separated from hearing of the comprehension of and entry into the centerless and endless network of world realms. I have never been separated from the attainment of hearing the causes for the arising of the centerless and endless [F.41.b] realms of beings. I have never been separated from the light of the wisdom of the cessation of the domain of the network of the kleshas of all beings. I have never been separated from the attainment of the wisdom of the causes that give rise to the roots of merit of all beings. I have never been separated from the manifestation of bodies in accordance with the aspirations of all beings. I have never been separated from the pure domain of the speech that brings knowledge to all beings.

22. 47 ?Noble one, I have accomplished this gateway of the Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of the wisdom that is difficult to attain and the gateway of the samadhi called the display of the tireless search for the Dharma; I have reflected on the gateway to Bodhisattva conduct with a firm commitment; I have contemplated the gateway called the power of retention of the level of the equality of all phenomena and the gateway called the light of the wisdom of eloquence that elucidates the basis of all phenomena; and therefore miraculous powers have arisen. Noble one, do you wish to see them??

Sudhana answered, ?I wish to do so.?

22. 48 The upasika Acala viewed, analyzed, followed, and realized gateways of Bodhisattva liberations such as the essence of wisdom that is difficult to attain and many millions of gateways of samadhis: gateways of samadhis such as the display of the tireless search for the Dharma, samadhis such as the display of the unfailing domain, samadhis such as facing the display of the domain of the wisdom of the ten strengths, and samadhis such as the inexhaustible treasure of the Buda family.

22. 49 As soon as the upasika Acala rested in those samadhis, Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, saw world realms as numerous as the atoms in ten anabhilapya Buda realms in the ten directions shake in six ways, [F.42.a] and he saw that they were formed of pure beryl. He saw in each world realm a billion Tathagatas in a billion four-continent world realms. He saw some dwelling in Tushita and so on, up to some passing away into nirvana. He saw that because those completely pure world realms of beryl were unobscured, each of those Tathagatas pervaded the entire realm of phenomena with their light rays and halos; each of those Tathagatas had their own ocean of separate assemblies of followers; and each of those Tathagatas taught the wheel of the entire Dharma, which was heard by all beings, who listened to the domains of their speech.

22. 50 Then the upasika Acala rose from that samadhi and said to Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, ?Noble one, did you see that? Did you hear that? Did you discern that??

He answered ?I saw it. I heard it. I discerned it.?

22. 51 The upasika Acala said, "Noble one, I have trained in the gateway of the Bodhisattva conduct called possessing a strong commitment; I have rested in the samadhi called the display of the tireless search for the Dharma; I have dwelled in the gateway of Bodhisattva liberations called the essence of the wisdom that is difficult to attain; I have realized the power of retention of the level of the equality of all phenomena; and through being skilled in describing the light of the wisdom of eloquence that elucidates the basis of all phenomena, I have taught beings and brought them satisfaction.

22. 52 "However, how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who possess measureless, inconceivable qualities; whose activity has no fixed location, like the lord of birds in the sky; who, like the great lord of the garudas, [F.42.b] dive into the ocean of beings in order to extract the ripened Bodhisattvas; who, like merchants, go to the island of the jewels of omniscience, longing for the jewel that is the wisdom of the ten strengths; who, like strong fishermen, go onto the ocean of samsara with the beautiful net of the domain of the wheel of the Dharma in their hands in order to draw ripened beings out from the water of craving; who, like the lord of the devas, move throughout the three realms, filling them in order to repel and subjugate the attacks of the asuras of the kleshas; who, like the disk of the sun, rise high in the sky of the realm of the Dharma in order to dry the water of the craving of beings and the mud of the kleshas; who, like the full moon, shine in the sky of wisdom in order to cause the night lotuses of the minds of those to be guided to blossom; who, like the surface of the Earth, support all equally without any distinction between those who are friends and not friends, or those who are high and those who are low, in order to cause the sprouts of the power of goodness in all beings to rise and grow; who, like a tempest, move everywhere without impediment in order to uproot the trees, vines, forests, and groves of the kleshas and false views of all beings; who, like a cakravartin, act within the world in order to gather all beings through conditions and requisites as methods of gathering pupils?¹⁰⁷⁸

22. 53 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, in a land called Amitatosala, there is a town named Tosala. There dwells the parivrajaka by the name of Sarvagamin. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

22. 54 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the upasika Acala, [F.43.a] circumambulated the upasika Acala a hundred thousand times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the presence of the upasika Acala.

SARVAGAMIN

23. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, visualizing in his mind the upasika Acala, remembering the instruction of the upasika Acala, with conviction in and no doubt about what the upasika Acala had taught, proclaimed, instructed, described, sanctioned, established, explicated, stated, and elaborated upon it; he followed it, contemplated it, comprehended it, meditated on it, was absorbed in it, was fixed upon it, understood it, illuminated it, and became equal to it.¹⁰⁸⁰

1081

23. 2 Eventually, traveling from district to district, going from land to land, Sudhana arrived at the land called Amitatosala. He searched for the town named Tosala, and at sunset he arrived at the town of Tosala. He entered the town of Tosala and went to the crossroads in the center of the town. He wandered from one street to another, from one crossroads to another, from one lane to another, searching and inquiring. When it was night and people were asleep, he saw to the north of the town of Tosala a hill called Sulabha. Its summit was adorned by a delightful variety of grasses, bushes, and herbs, and it shone as brightly as the sun. Seeing that light, he felt a powerful joy and thought, "I will without doubt see the kalyanamitra on the summit of that hill." He came out of the town [F.43.b] and went to Sulabha Hill, and he climbed up Sulabha Hill and arrived at the very bright summit of the hill. He saw in the distance the parivrajaka Sarvagamin, who shone with splendor and whose appearance was superior even to that of Mahabrahma, and ten thousand brahmins were walking in circumambulation around him.

23. 3 Sudhana approached him, bowed his head to his feet, circumambulated him many hundreds of thousands of times, and sat down before him. With his hands placed together in homage, he said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.

23. 4 "Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! Explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?"

23. 5 Sarvagamin said, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have in that way set out upon the highest, complete enlightenment!

23. 6 "Noble one, I, Sarvagamin, remain within the all-pervading Bodhisattva conduct. I am endowed with the gateway of the samadhi called the light of the practice of all gateways, with being established in the absence of existence, with noncomposite miraculous powers, and with the gateway of the knowledge of the perfection of wisdom that has reached the basis of the entire realm of the Dharma.

23. 7 ?Noble one, in that way I benefit beings in the entire array of worlds inhabited by beings, in all the states of existences that beings are in, in all the gateways of the deaths of beings, in all the gateways of the births of beings, in all the different existences, in the various different abodes, and in the worlds that are habitations -beings who have [F.44.a] various colors, shapes, heights, and widths and who have entered various kinds of rebirths, have different practices, and have different aspirations, which means those within existence as a deva, those within existence as a Naga, those within existence as a yaksha, those within existence as a gandharva, those within existence as an asura, those within existence as a garuda, those within existence as a kinnara, those within existence as a mahoraga, those within existence as a hell being, those within existence as an animal, those within existence in the world of Yama, those within existence as a human, those within existence as a nonhuman, those who have various false views, those who aspire to the Shravakayana, those who aspire to the Pratyeka-buddhayana, and those who aspire to the Mahayana -benefiting them through various methods and through various introductions to the way of wisdom.

23. 8 ?This means that I benefit some beings with the light of the power of mental retention that possesses all the knowledge of the various crafts so that they will learn the various worldly crafts.1083

23. 9 ?I benefit some beings through the application of the four methods of gathering pupils, which means leading them to omniscient wisdom.

?I benefit some beings by describing the perfections, thus generating the light of the gateway of the wisdom that transforms into omniscience.¹⁰⁸⁴

23. 10 ?I benefit some beings by describing the aspiration to enlightenment, thus developing an imperishable, strengthened seed of enlightenment.

?I benefit some beings by describing all the aspects of Bodhisattva conduct, thus generating the aspiration to purify all Buda realms and ripen all beings. [F.44.b]

23. 11 ?I benefit some beings by causing dismay, by teaching the sufferings experienced by beings in the hells caused by the ripening of their bad conduct.

?I benefit some beings by causing delight, by describing all the qualities that arise in the Tathagatas, which are the ultimate result of definite omniscience.¹⁰⁸⁵

23. 12 ?I benefit some beings by speaking praises of the qualities of all the Tathagatas, thus generating the aspiration to omniscience and the longing for the qualities and body of a Buda.

23. 13 ?I benefit some beings by describing the greatness of the Budas, thus generating the longing to attain the body of a Buda that possesses the power to undertake continuous, irresistible Buda activity.

23. 14 ?I benefit some beings by describing the dominance of the Budas, thus generating the aspiration to attain the perfect body of a Buda, which cannot be surpassed but surpasses all others.

23. 15 ?Moreover, noble one, I manifest a body of the size and shape that accords [F.45.a] with the aspirations, activities, powers, and conducts of all the men, women, boys, and girls who are gathered in all the crossroads, streets, junctions, side streets, houses, trades, districts, and dwellings in the districts of this town of Tosala, and I teach them the Dharma. Those beings do not know who has taught them or where he has come from, but otherwise having heard me, they all practice correctly.¹⁰⁸⁶

23. 16 ?Moreover, noble one, I go everywhere in this Jambudvipa in order to ripen those who are attached to the ninety-six varieties of heretical views.¹⁰⁸⁷

23. 17 ?Noble one, in the same way that I benefit beings in this town of Tosala, I benefit beings in all the villages, markets, towns, lands, kingdoms, and capitals in Jambudvipa. In the same way that I benefit beings in Jambudvipa, I do so in the entire four-continent world realm, and in a thousand such world realms, and in a million, and in the great world realms of a billion such world realms. In the same way, I benefit beings according to their aspirations in all the world realms in the ten directions, in all the habitations of beings, in all the dwellings of beings, in all the locations of beings, in all that are known as the abodes of beings, in all the residences of beings, in all the congregations of beings, in all the oceans of beings, in all the lineages of beings, in all the directions of beings, in all the intermediate directions of beings, and in all the conducts of beings. I benefit beings through various methods, various ways, various gateways, various kinds of logic, various connections, various ways of methods, and various actions. I benefit beings through the manifestation of various attractive physical forms and colors. I benefit beings through speaking in various languages. [F.45.b]¹⁰⁸⁸

23. 18 ?Noble one, in that way, I know this Bodhisattva conduct that is all-pervasive and omnipresent, but how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of those Bodhisattvas who possess bodies that are the same as those of all beings; who have attained the samadhi called identical to the bodies of all beings; who pervade all the classes of existence with a vast wheel of emanations; who perform in their own bodies all worldly births; who are dedicated to the wheel of beautiful emanations that all beings delight to see; who manifest births in the families, clans, and lives of all beings; who possess the unimpeded wheel of aspiration to dwell in all kalpas; who have attained the radiance of the display of conduct that is like an illusion; who are dedicated to benefiting all beings and yet remain stainless; who have realized the equality of all the realms of beings in the three times; who possess the essence of infinite compassion illuminated by the realm of the wisdom of selflessness; and who are dedicated to generating the roots of merit of all beings?¹⁰⁸⁹

23. 19 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, in a land called Prithurashtra, there dwells a perfume-seller head merchant by the name of Utpalabhuti. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

23. 20 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the parivrajaka Sarvagamin, circumambulated the parivrajaka Sarvagamin a hundred thousand times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the presence of the parivrajaka Sarvagamin.

UTPALABHUTI

24. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, had no regard for his life or body; he had no regard for engaging in dedication to obtaining and possessing the pleasures of existence; [F.46.a] he had no regard for the objects of perception that beings delight in; he had no regard for forms, sounds, smells, tastes, and textures; he had no concern for enjoying retinues and pleasures; he had no

regard for any of the pleasures of the power of kingship and sovereignty; he was focused on attaining the highest purification of a Buda realm for the pure ripening and guiding of all beings; he was focused on never being satisfied with the extent of his offering to, honoring, and serving all the Tathagatas; he was focused on all phenomena with the wisdom that knows their nature; he was focused on the qualities of Bodhisattvas so that there would be no decline in his practice, which had the entire ocean of those qualities as its goal; he was focused on the great prayers of all Bodhisattvas so as to maintain Bodhisattva conduct throughout all kalpas; he was focused on entering the ocean of the circles of the followers of all Tathagatas; he was focused on all gateways of Bodhisattva samadhis so as to manifest the attainment of all countless Bodhisattva samadhis through each samadhi gateway; he was focused on all the light of wisdom of all Dharma wheels so as to never be satisfied with the extent of his obtaining Dharma wheels from all the Tathagatas; and he was focused on the kalyanamitras, who are the source of qualities, because the kalyanamitras are the source of the qualities of the Budas, the Bodhisattvas, and others.1090

24. 2 Sudhana eventually arrived at the land called Prithurashtra. He looked and searched for the perfume-seller head merchant by the name of Utpalabhuti.

He saw the perfume-seller head merchant Utpalabhuti and approached him.

[F.46.b] After approaching him, Sudhana bowed his head to the perfume-seller head merchant Utpalabhuti's feet, circumambulated the perfume-seller head merchant Utpalabhuti many hundreds of thousands of times, and sat down before the perfume-seller head merchant Utpalabhuti. With his hands placed together in homage, he said, "Arya, I seek the wisdom that is the same as that of all the Budas. I rejoice in the fulfillment of the field of prayers made in the past by all the Budas, I rejoice in the accomplishment of the Dharma body of all the Budas, I seek the wisdom body of all the Budas, I rejoice in the purification of all the fields of Bodhisattva conduct, I rejoice in the light of all the fields of Bodhisattva samadhis, I rejoice in the stability of all the fields of the Bodhisattva power of mental retention, I rejoice in the dispelling of the entire field of kleshas, I seek to travel in all the fields of the realms, and I have set out upon the highest complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it, and how through having practiced in that way all Bodhisattvas become omniscient.?

24. 3 Utpalabhuti said to him, ?Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment.

24. 4 ?Noble one, I know all perfumes. I know about all combined perfumes, all incenses, all combinations of perfumes and incenses, all ointments, all combined ointments, all powders, all combinations of powders, and all perfumes, ointments, and powders. [F.47.a]

24. 5 I know the perfumes of the devas. I also know the perfumes of the Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans.

24. 6 ?I know the perfumes that heal sickness. I also know the perfumes that dispel unhappiness, the perfumes that give rise to worldly happiness, the perfumes that cause the kleshas to blaze, the perfumes that cause kleshas to cease, the perfumes that create various kinds of composite happiness and bliss, the perfumes that create composite sadness, the perfumes that dispel all intoxication and carelessness, the perfumes that accomplish a continuous focus on the Budas, the perfumes of understanding the way of the Dharma, the perfumes of arya conduct, the various Bodhisattva perfumes, and the perfumes of being established on all the Bodhisattva levels. I know the aspects of all those perfumes. I also know their origin, creation, accomplishment, perfection, purification, elimination, combination, usage, object, power, action, and cause.¹⁰⁹¹

24. 7 ?Noble one, in the world there is the perfume called elephant essence that disconcerts the Nagas. A pellet merely the size of a sesame seed will pervade the entire land of Prithurashtra with a thick net of a cloud of perfume. For seven days there will fall a fine rain of scented water. At that time, when that scented water falls on any being's body or clothing, all their bodies and clothing will become adorned with golden flowers. [F.47.b] Those beings who are indoors and smell the scent that is brought in by the breeze from¹⁰⁹² that net of clouds of perfume will all have increased happiness and aspiration for seven days and will experience various kinds of mental and physical happiness and pleasure, and they will have no illness that is caused by the disturbance of the elements in their bodies or is the result of harm caused by others. They will have no suffering or unhappiness. They will have no fear, no terror, no apprehension, no disturbance of mind, and no malice. For seven days there will arise happiness and joy, and they will be kind to one another.

24. 8 ?Noble one, in order to purify the thoughts of those who are experiencing happiness and joy, I teach them the Dharma so that they will definitely have the highest, complete enlightenment.

24. 9 ?Moreover, noble one, there is sandalwood called goshirsha that comes from the Malaya mountains. If you rub it on your body, you can jump into a great fire and you will not be burned.

24. 10 ?Noble one, there is a perfume called invincible that comes from the ends of the ocean. If you rub it on a drum or a horn, its sound will defeat all the followers of others.

24. 11 ?Noble one, there is the black agarwood called lotus essence that comes from Lake Anavatapta. The smell from a pellet the size of a sesame seed will fill all of Jambudvīpa. Every being that smells that perfume will renounce bad actions and gain a controlled mind.

24. 12 ?Noble one, there is a kind of perfume called luminescent that comes from the Himalaya, the king of mountains. If one smells its scent, the mind will become freed from desire. I teach them the Dharma so that they will attain the samadhi called the stainless field. [F.48.a]

24. 13 ?Noble one, there is a kind of perfume called the essence of the sea that comes from the land of the rakshasas and has been produced for the enjoyment of a cakravartin king. As soon as he is perfumed by it, the cakravartin's fourfold army appears in the sky.¹⁰⁹⁴

24. 14 ?Noble one, there is a kind of perfume called array of beauty that comes from Sudharma, the assembly hall of the devas. As soon as the devas are perfumed by it, they gain the memory of the pleasant aroma of the Budas.¹⁰⁹⁵

24. 15 ?Noble one, there is a kind of perfume called pure treasure in the paradise of Suyama, the king of devas. As soon as they are perfumed by it, all Suyama's devas come before deva king Suyama, and when they are in his presence, the deva king Suyama talks to them about the Dharma.

24. 16 ?Noble one, there is a kind of perfume called chaste tree in Tushita. When its aroma reaches Bodhisattvas with one life remaining and who are upon their Dharma seats, a great cloud of perfume fills the entire realm of phenomena, and from great Dharma clouds that have a variety of adornments a rain falls onto all the circles of followers of the Tathagatas.

24. 17 ?Noble one, there is a kind of perfume called captivating in the paradise of the deva king Sunirmita. When there is that aroma in the paradise of the deva king Sunirmita, there falls an inconceivable rain from clouds of Dharma for seven days.

24. 18 ?Noble one, I know how to combine perfumes, but how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of those Bodhisattvas who have no stain of faults and have transcended the entire realm of desire, who are free from the noose of the mara of the kleshas, who have transcended all the continuums of the states of existence, who perform conduct with bodies and the aspect of the illusion of wisdom, who are unstained by any world, [F.48.b] who have the state of being without desire, who have the pure field of wisdom that is unobscured, who have the range and scope of unimpeded wisdom, who do not dwell in any basis or location, and who know the conduct of those who move in all the bases and locations of existence? How could I elucidate the gateway of their pure practice of correct conduct? How could I describe their faultless conduct? How could I teach their continuum of body, speech, and mind that is devoid of harmful conduct?

24. 19 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, there is a town named Kutagara. There dwells a mariner by the name of Vaira. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

24. 20 ?Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the perfume-seller head merchant Utpalabhuti, circumambulated the perfume-seller head merchant Utpalabhuti a hundred thousand times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the presence of the perfume-seller head merchant Utpalabhuti.

25. Chapter 25

VAIRA

25. 1 When Sudhana set out on the path to Kutagara, he observed and contemplated how the path could be upward or downward, even or uneven, dusty or free of dust, safe or hazardous, difficult or unobstructed, and crooked or straight. He thought, "This journey to a kalyanamitra will be a cause for the practice of the Bodhisattva path, will be a cause of the practice of the path of the perfections, and will be a cause of the path of benefiting all beings, which will be a cause for turning all beings away from the precipice of attachment and aversion, [F.49.a] of elation and depression; will be a cause for turning all beings away from a perception of inequality; will be a cause for removing the dust of the kleshas from all beings; will be a cause for clearing away the tree trunks, thorns, pebbles, and gravel of the various bad views of all beings; and, through their entering the unobscured realm of the Dharma, will be a cause for bringing them without hindrance to the palace of omniscience."¹⁰⁹⁶ ¹⁰⁹⁷

¹⁰⁹⁸

¹¹⁰⁰

¹¹⁰¹

25. 2 "Why is that? Because the kalyanamitras are the source of all good Dharmas, and the attainment of omniscience is dependent on the kalyanamitras."

25. 3 With his mind focused on those thoughts, and undergoing a difficult journey, he eventually arrived at the city of Kutagara. He looked and searched for the mariner Vaira and saw him at the shore of the ocean in front of the gate of the great city. He was encircled by a hundred thousand merchants and many hundreds of thousands of people who all wished to listen to his various tales. As he told them tales of the sea, he was teaching the beings about the ocean of qualities of the Budas.

25. 4 When Sudhana saw the mariner Vaira, he approached him. Having approached him, Sudhana bowed his head to the mariner Vaira's feet, circumambulated the mariner Vaira many hundreds of thousands of times, and sat down before the mariner Vaira. With his hands placed together in homage, he said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it. Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! [F.49.b] I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?"

25. 5 Vaira said, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, that you have asked about the cause of great wisdom, the cause of the continuity of the various sufferings of samsara, the cause of journeying to the island of omniscience, the cause of the indivisible Mahayana, the cause of the practice of the path that is free from the fear of falling down to the level of the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas, the cause of the path of knowledge that comprehends engaging in the gateways of various samadhis of peace, the cause of the pure and unimpeded path of the wheels of the chariot of the aspiration to the practice of all-pervasive Bodhisattva conduct, the cause of the pure path of the way that is the nature of the display of all the majestic waves of Bodhisattva conduct, the cause of the pure ultimate path of all the aspects and gateways of the Dharma, and the cause that gives rise to the pure path for entering the ocean of omniscience.1102

25. 6 ?Noble one, I dwell at the city of Kutagara on the seashore, purifying the Bodhisattva conduct called the banner of great compassion.

25. 7 ?Noble one, when I see destitute beings in Jambudvipa, I undergo hardships for their sake, which means I will fulfill all their wishes. I will collect worldly goods for them. I will satisfy them with the enjoyment of the Dharma. I will teach them the instructions for the path of the accumulation of merit. I will cause them to increase their accumulation of wisdom. [F.50.a] I will increase the power of their roots of merit. I will cause them to develop the aspiration for enlightenment. I will purify their aspiration for enlightenment. I will cause them to have the enduring strength of great compassion. I will cause the suffering of samsara to cease. I will cause them to have an enduring strength for tireless conduct in samsara. I will provide these to the gathering of an ocean of beings. I will bring them into the gateways of the practice of an ocean of qualities. I will cause them to obtain the light of the wisdom of the ocean of the Dharma. I will cause them to see the entire ocean of Buddhas. I will cause them to enter the ocean of omniscience.1105

25. 8 ?Noble one, it is with such an aspiration and intention that I dwell in the city of Kutagara on the seashore.1106

25. 9 ?Noble one, dedicated in that way to the benefit and happiness of beings,

I know all the islands of jewels in the great ocean. I know all the jewel mines, all the classes of jewels, and all the sources of jewels.1107

25. 10 ?I know all the residences of the Nagas, all that disconcerts the Nagas, all the residences of the yakshas, all that disconcerts the yakshas, all the residences of the rakshasas, all that allays fear of the rakshasas, all the residences of the bhutas, all that allays fear of the bhutas, and all that eliminates the obstacles created by the bhutas.

?I know all whirlpools, the avoidance of whirlpools, and the avoidance of great waves.1108 1109

25. 11 ?I know the orbits of the sun, moon, planets, and constellations and the seconds, minutes, and hours of the days and nights.1110 1111

?I know the particular times to depart and arrive, safety and danger, whether a ship's rigging is reliable, what ships to reject, what ships to sail, [F.50.b] how to catch the winds, the coming of the wind, how to turn a ship, how to turn a ship around, how to anchor a ship, and how to launch a ship.1112

25. 12 ?Noble one, with that kind of knowledge I am constantly dedicated to necessary benefits for beings: I bring a group of merchants, just as they wish, to the island of jewels safely, peacefully, without fear, and in a reliable ship, and I talk to them about the Dharma in a way that delights them and brings them joy. When they have collected all the jewels and have attained good fortune, I bring them back again to Jambudvīpa.1113

1114 1115

25. 13 ?Noble one, no ship of mine has ever been in distress. Any being who sees me and any being who hears me teach the Dharma becomes free from all fear of sinking in the ocean of samsara, and they turn toward the wisdom of entering the ocean of omniscience. They become dedicated to drying up the ocean of craving, attain the light of the knowledge of the ocean of the three times, and make the aspiration to eliminate the ocean of the suffering of all beings. They become dedicated to purifying away the pollution in the ocean of the minds of all beings. They become dedicated to purifying the ocean of all realms. They never turn back from spreading throughout the ocean of all directions. They comprehend the ocean of the different capabilities of all beings. They follow the ocean of the conducts of all beings. They manifest appearances that accord with the ocean of the wishes of all beings.1116

1117 1118 1119

25. 14 ?Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called remembering to abide with the fruitful hearing and seeing of the banner of great compassion, [F.51.a] but how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who act within all the oceans of samsara, who are unstained by any of the oceans of samsara, who are free from the fear of the makaras of1120 1121 attachment in all the oceans of false views, who move among the nature and basis of all phenomena, who possess an ocean of the methods of gathering all the oceans of beings, who dwell within the ocean of omniscience, who churn the ocean of the attachments of all beings, who perform their conduct without differentiation in the oceans of all times, who have the clairvoyant knowledge of the nature of ripening the ocean of all beings, and who never miss the time for guiding the ocean of beings?1122

25. 15 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, in the town called Nandihara, dwells a head merchant by the name of Jayottama. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

25. 16 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, was overjoyed, pleased, happy, and content. He bowed his head to the feet of the mariner Vaira, circumambulated the mariner Vaira many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the mariner Vaira. 26. Chapter 26

JAYOTTAMA

26. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, whose mind spread great love throughout the immeasurable realm of beings; whose being was saturated with the tenderness of great compassion; who had accumulated a vast array of the accumulations of merit and wisdom; who had become free of all the dust, darkness, dirt, and mire of the kleshas; who had realized the equality of all phenomena; [F.51.b] who was devoted to the path that leads upward to omniscience; who had chosen the gateway for entering into immeasurable good qualities; who had the exertion of firm diligence that is unimpaired by any bad quality; who was filled with the vast calmness of inconceivable Bodhisattva samadhis; who shone with the light of the sun of wisdom that eliminated all the darkness of ignorance; who scattered flowers of wisdom brought by the pleasant, cool breezes of methods; who followed the way of wisdom that emerged from an ocean of great aspirations; and who possessed the wisdom that permeated without impediment the entire realm of the Dharma -he had approached entry into the city of faultless omniscience, and he yearned for the Bodhisattva path.1129

1135 1136

26. 2 He arrived at the town called Nandihara and looked and searched for the head merchant Jayottama. He saw him on the eastern edge of the town of Nandihara, in a forest of ashoka trees that was called Vicitra dhvaja. He was encircled by many thousands of householders deciding upon various kinds of civic duties, and in reference to those he talked about the Dharma.
He was teaching the Dharma for the sake of eliminating all egotism; abandoning all possessiveness; rejecting all attachment; forsaking all fixation on things; destroying all clinging; cutting through all the bondage of craving; breaking down the doors of all views; clearing away the darkness of doubt, uncertainty, and equivocation; cleansing away the dirt of illusion and deceit; purifying the stains of envy and miserliness; clarifying the lake of the1137 mind; bringing beings to a state of unpolluted mentality; giving rise to an unpolluted faith; [F.52.a] giving rise to the aspiration to see the Budas; eulogizing the power of Bodhisattvas; receiving the Dharma of the Budas;

aspiring to Bodhisattva conduct; giving rise to the power of Bodhisattva samadhi; teaching the power of Bodhisattva wisdom; and attaining the highest purity of the power of Bodhisattva memory.

This means that he was teaching the Dharma in order to inspire the aspiration to enlightenment.

26. 3 Then when the teaching was concluded, Sudhana, the head merchant's son, approached and bowed his head to the feet of the head merchant Jayottama. He bowed down to him for a long time and said, "Arya, I am Sudhana, I am Sudhana! I seek Bodhisattva conduct. Instruct me, Arya, on how I should train in Bodhisattva conduct and while training how I should aspire to guide and ripen all beings, not forsake seeing all the Buddhas, hear the Dharma of all the Buddhas, possess the rain from the clouds of the Dharma of all the Buddhas, practice in the way of all the Buddhas, practice Bodhisattva conduct in all world realms, never tire of Bodhisattva conduct while dwelling in all kalpas, comprehend the manifestations of all the Tathagatas, receive the blessing of all the Buddhas, and attain splendor in the power of all the Tathagatas." 1140

26. 4 Then the head merchant Jayottama said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, [F.52.b] "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment.

26. 5 "Noble one, I purify the gateway to omnipresent Bodhisattva conduct through the power of the attainment of noncomposite miracles while residing in the absence of existence. In that way, remaining in this gateway to omnipresent Bodhisattva conduct, in all billion-world universes, in all the Trayastrimsha paradises, in all the Yama paradises, in all the Tushita paradises, in all the Nirmanarati paradises, in all the Para nirmita vasha vartin paradises, in all the abodes of the maras, in all the places that are classed as paradises within all desire realms, in all the Naga worlds, in all the Naga abodes, in all the yaksha worlds, in all the yaksha abodes, in all the rakshasa worlds, in all the rakshasa abodes, in all the kumbhanda worlds, in all the kumbhanda abodes, in all the preta worlds, in all the preta abodes, in all the gandharva worlds, in all the gandharva abodes, in all the asura worlds, in all the asura abodes, in all the garuda worlds, in all the garuda abodes, in all the kinnara worlds, in all the kinnara abodes, in all the mahoraga worlds, in all the mahoraga abodes, in all the human worlds, in all the human abodes, villages, towns, market towns, districts, [F.53.a] countries, and capitals, and for all classes of beings that are within all desire realms I teach the Dharma, reject all that is not Dharma, pacify all disputes, dispel all conflict, pacify all quarrels, prevent all battles, pacify wars, pacify hostility, cut through all bondage, break open all prisons, dispel all fear, and end the practice of nonvirtuous activities. I turn beings away from killing and from taking what is not given, sexual misconduct, telling lies, slandering, harsh speech, idle speech, avariciousness, maliciousness, and wrong views. I turn beings away from all that should not be done and make them engage in all virtuous Dharma activity, and I make all beings train in all skills. I teach, prepare, elucidate, and present all the treatises that are beneficial to the world, so as to bring happiness to the world, to ripen beings, to follow false doctrines in order to describe the special higher wisdom, to dispel all wrong views, and to describe and teach all the Buddhadharma. I overwhelm and teach the Dharma to all the devas in the form realm as far up as the Brahma paradise.¹¹⁴⁷

26. 6 ?Just as I teach the Dharma in the world realms of this billion-world universe, I do so in world realms in the ten directions as numerous as the atoms in an indescribable quintillion Buda realms. I teach the Dharma of the Budas. [F.53.b] I teach the Dharma of the Bodhisattvas. I teach the Dharma of the Shravakas and the Dharma of the pratyeka Budas. I teach the hells. I teach the path that leads to the hells. I teach the unhappiness of beings in the hells. I teach the animal existences. I teach the different kinds of animal existences, the paths that lead to animal existences, and the suffering of animal existences. I teach the world of Yama. I teach the path that leads to the world of Yama. I teach the suffering in the world of Yama. I teach the higher existences. I teach the path that leads to the higher existences. I teach the practice and enjoyment of happiness in the higher existences. I teach the human world. I teach the path that leads to the human world. I teach the various experiences of happiness and suffering in the human world.¹¹⁴⁸

26. 7 ?In that way, noble one, I also teach the Dharma of the world, the creation of the world, the destruction of the world, the transgressions in the world, and the renunciation of the world.

26. 8 ?In this way, I teach the Dharma in order to explain the Bodhisattva path, reject the faults of samsara, teach the qualities of omniscience, pacify the delusion and sufferings of the existences, describe the unobscured true nature, illuminate the activities of being in the world, describe all the happiness and suffering of being in the world, contemplate the designations of the abodes of all beings, teach the Tathagata qualities that have no location, counter the wheel of all karma and kleshas, and describe the turning of the Tathagata's wheel of the Dharma. [F.54.a]

26. 9 ?Noble one, I know this gateway to pure, omnipresent Bodhisattva conduct, the stainless display of the noncomposite miracles based in the absence of existence, but how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who know all; who fill the surfaces of all realms with illusory bodies of wisdom; who have attained the level of the complete eyes of wisdom; who have the supreme hearing of the range of speech, sound, and communication; who have attained the power of the light of Dharma gateways that fill the three times; who are heroic beings who have the mastery of the power of the wisdom that includes all phenomena; who possess beautiful, fine tongues that are endowed with a domain of speech that is directed separately, according to their aspirations, to inconceivable, immeasurable beings; who have bodies that are like illusions and equal to all Bodhisattvas, with complexions and forms that accord with the various wishes of an ocean of beings; who possess inconceivable bodies that have a conduct no different from that of all the Tathagatas; who have bodies of wisdom that follow all three times; and who have a scope and field of conduct that is as immeasurable and vast as the expanse of space?

26. 10 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, in the land called Shronaparanta, there is a city by the name of Kalingavana where dwells a bhikshuni by the name of Simha vijrimbhita. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

26. 11 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the head merchant Jayottama, [F.54.b] circumambulated the head merchant Jayottama many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the head merchant Jayottama.

27. Chapter 27

SIMHA VIJRIMBHITA

27. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, set out for the town of Kalingavana in the land of Shronaparanta and then arrived there. Searching for the bhikshuni Simha vijrimbhita, as he roamed here and there he questioned the people he met. There were many hundreds of young men and many hundreds of young women assembling and following in the streets, crossroads, and street junctions, together with many hundreds of men and many hundreds of women.¹¹⁵⁴

27. 2 They said, "Noble one, the bhikshuni Simha vijrimbhita is in this town of Kalingavana, sitting in the great park called Surya prabha donated by Jayaprabha, where she is teaching the Dharma for the sake of countless beings."

27. 3 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, went to Surya prabha Park. Walking around it and looking about, he saw in the park many trees called candrodgata that had the shape of kutagaras, had various colors of light, and shone with light, illuminating everywhere around up to a yojana. He saw many leafy trees called sampracchada that had the shape of a parasol, and their leaves covered everywhere, like shining clouds the color of blue beryl. He saw many blossoming trees called kusuma kosha that had the varied beautiful shape of the Himalaya, king of mountains, and from which fell unceasing flows of a rain of flowers of various colors; they were an accumulation of all the adornments of the Trayastrimsha palace and could not be destroyed by anyone. He saw many fruit trees called anupama-svadu phala nicita, which had the form of gold mountain peaks and always had perfect fruit that was always ripe. [F.55.a] He saw many trees of kings of jewels called vairocanakosha that had the shapes of incomparable kings of jewels and possessed perfect divine strings of jewels, necklaces, and precious adornments that seemed to have come from the treasury of the kings of wish-fulfilling jewels and were the source of jewels of countless colors. He saw many cloth trees called prasadena, which were adorned by being strewn and hung with precious divine cloths of various colors. He saw many music trees called pramodana, which emitted the sounds of beautiful music from instruments superior to those of the devas. He saw many perfume trees called samanta shubha vyuha, from which arose pleasing perfumes of every kind of pleasant aroma spreading freely in all directions. There were springs, ponds, reservoirs, and pools that had balustrades made of the seven precious materials around them, with precious steps on all four sides, encircled by precious platforms perfumed with the pleasant aroma of yellow sandalwood, with perfectly laid bottoms made of precious blue beryl, the king of jewels, and which were spread with the sand of Jambu River gold and filled with aromatic divine water that had the eight qualities. Their waters were covered with the various colors and divine scents of precious lotuses, blue lotuses, night lotuses, and white lotuses; were filled with flocks of various birds, with beauty that transcended the divine, emitting beautiful sounds; and were beautified by being encircled with radiant trees made of various divine jewels. Arranged at the feet of all those trees of various jewels were precious lion thrones, with various beautiful forms, arrayed in inconceivable adornments of various jewels, [F.55.b] adorned and spread with divine precious cushions, perfumed by all kinds of scents and incenses, hung with precious, beyond-divine ribbons, canopied by canopies of various jewels, covered by nets of Jambu River gold and various jewels, adorned by many precious beautiful nets of bells that emitted beautiful sounds, and accompanied by many hundreds of thousands of seats made of divine jewels.1158

27. 4 He saw, arranged at the feet of some jewel trees, lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of jewels; at the feet of some, lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of the precious jewel king of perfumes; at the feet of some, lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of the king of jewels array of Nagas; at the feet of some, lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of the king of precious jewels lion's trunk; at the feet of some, lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of the king of precious jewels the sun; at the feet of some, lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of the king of precious jewels radiance; at the feet of some, lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of the king of precious jewels Indra's vajra; at the feet of some,

lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of the king of precious jewels beauty of the world; and he saw, arranged at the feet of some jewel trees, lion thrones with lotuses in their centers that were made of the king of precious jewels white light.¹¹⁶³

27. 5 He saw that the entire ground of that great park was covered with various jewels like an ocean covered by islands of jewels.

27. 6 He saw that the land was beautified by blue beryl dust, was adorned with various jewels, and was as pleasant and soft to the touch as down; it sank as one stepped on it and rose as one lifted the foot; [F.56.a] its surface was strewn with the petals of beautifully aromatic lotuses that were pleasant to the touch and made of diamond jewels; it was filled with ruddy shelducks, peacocks, cranes, snipes, avadavats, cuckoos, and partridges that emitted beautiful sounds; it was adorned by perfectly formed forests of many divine, precious sandalwood trees; there was a continuous rainfall from clouds of lotuses made of various jewels and a rain of various precious flowers; it was superior to Mishrakavana; there were kutagaras made of various jewels arrayed as adornments from within which constantly emanated the unequaled aromas of the kings of perfumes; it was a display superior to that of Sudharma, the meeting hall of the devas; they were covered with nets of various jewels that were superior to divine jewels; they were adorned by hanging bundles of pearls, jewels, and flowers; they were entirely adorned by shining gold nets arrayed with a variety of precious bells.¹¹⁶⁴

27. 7 Beautiful and pleasant music came from trees with a variety of musical instruments, precious palm trees, and nets of bells when they were stirred by the breeze. There arose the perfectly delightful sound of songs like those of the apsaras of the king of the Vashavartin devas. The park was beautified by a rain that fell from clouds of divine cloths, of various colors, that fulfilled all wishes. It resembled a vast ocean with a variety of colors and lusters so that one could not stop looking at it. It was adorned by countless hundreds of thousands of kutagaras adorned with jewels. It was as beautiful to behold as the residence of Indra in Trayastrimsha. It was adorned by an array of various jewels of every kind. There was the beautiful sight of an array of perfectly formed parasols standing erect. It was made beautiful by various pinnacles, like the realm of great Indra. [F.56.b] There shone constantly a great beautiful radiance of light. Like the divine palace of Mahabrahma, it was radiant with the light of the kings of jewels that brought delight to beings.1172

27. 8 That great park called Surya prabha, through the bhikshuni Simha-vijrimbhita's great, inconceivable, miraculous abilities and attainment of power, was as vast, immense, and extensive as the expanse of the sky over countless world realms.1179

27. 9 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, saw in that way the displays in the park of aggregations of measureless, inconceivable qualities, which were accomplished through the ripening of a Bodhisattva's karma; which were born from vast, transcendent roots of merit that appeared as the natural result of inconceivable offering and service to Budas; which all the roots of merit without exception in all worlds could not surpass; which were present as the illusory nature of phenomena; which originated from the ripening of the merit of vast, stainless virtue; which originated from the strength and power that is the natural result of the conduct perfectly accomplished in the past by the bhikshuni Simha vijrimbhita; which could not be surpassed by all the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas; which could not be destroyed by tirthikas and opponents; which could not be harmed by any of the activities of the path of the maras; and which could not be seen at all by ordinary, foolish beings.¹¹⁸⁰

27. 10 He saw seated upon lion thrones at the feet of all those various precious trees the bhikshuni Simha vijrimbhita surrounded by a great assembly. She had a beautiful body, the peaceful conduct of a mendicant, pacified senses, and a peaceful mind; she was perfectly self-controlled and had conquered her senses; she was as perfectly tamed as an elephant; her mind was as pure, clear, and unsullied as a lake; she fulfilled all wishes like a king of wish-fulfilling jewels; [F.57.a] she was as unstained by worldly concerns as a lotus by water; she was as free of fear and trepidation as a lion; because of her perfectly pure confidence she was as unshakable as the great king of mountains; because of her pure discipline she brought delight to beings like the king of entrancing perfumes; like Himalayan sandalwood, she extinguished the burning of the kleshas; like the beautiful king of herbs, she brought an end to the sufferings of all beings; like the noose of Varuna, she was a beneficial sight; like the light from a Tathagata, she brought peace and happiness to body and mind; like Mahabrahma, she was free from the arising of anger, desire, and ignorance; like the king of jewels that purifies water, she brought delight to the minds of beings that were turbid with kleshas; and like a fertile land, she multiplied the roots of merit. On the surrounding seats a diverse assembly was seated.¹¹⁸²

His mind was saturated by a vast cloud of Dharma, and with perfect motivation toward the bhikshuni Simha vijimbhita he thought, 'I shall circumambulate her to my right many hundreds of thousands of times.' In that instant, the bhikshuni Simha-vijimbhita filled the entire park and the assembly with light. He circumambulated her many hundreds of thousands of times and thought, 'As I circumambulated, the bhikshuni Simha vijimbhita was always seated before me.'

27. 45 With his hands together in homage he stood before her and said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it. Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?"

27. 46 She said, "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the eradication of all conceit." [F.60.b]

27. 47 Sudhana asked, "Arya, what is the scope of that Bodhisattva liberation called the eradication of all conceit?"

She replied, "Noble one, it is the light of wisdom; it has the nature of perceiving in a fraction of an instant of mind the displays that occur in the three times."

27. 48 Sudhana asked, "Arya, what is the scope of that light of wisdom?"

She replied, "Noble one, when I had striven for and accomplished this light of wisdom, there arose the samadhi called accordance with all Dharmas. With the attainment of that samadhi, I go in bodies that are made of mind to the Bodhisattvas with one life remaining who reside in Tushita palaces in all the world realms in all ten directions, so that with bodies as numerous as the atoms in an inexpressible number of Buddha realms I can engage in making offerings to each Bodhisattva with offerings that are as numerous as the atoms in an inexpressible number of Buddha realms. This means I go as the bodies of lords of devas and as the bodies of Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans, holding clouds of flowers, holding clouds of perfumes, holding clouds of incense, holding clouds of garlands, holding clouds of ointments, holding clouds of powders, holding clouds of clothing, holding clouds of parasols, holding clouds of banners, holding clouds of flags, holding clouds1200 of jewel ornamentations, holding clouds of arrays of nets of jewels, holding clouds of arrays of bejeweled canopies, [F.61.a] holding clouds of arrays of spread-out jewels, holding clouds of arrays of bejeweled lamps, and holding clouds of arrays of bejeweled seats so as to engage in making offerings.1203

27. 49 ?In the same way that I go to the Bodhisattvas with one life remaining who reside in Tushita so as to engage in making offerings, I go in bodies that are made of mind and in such forms engage in offerings to all the Tathagatas who have entered the bodies of their mothers, who are born, who reside within harems, who have gone forth into homelessness, who are going to the bodhimanda, who are present at the bodhimanda, who have attained the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood, who turn the wheel of the Dharma, and who are entering nirvana having satisfied the minds and wishes of those who reside in the dwellings of the devas and those who reside in the dwellings of the Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans and in the dwellings of all beings.

27. 50 ?Those beings who know my offerings and service to the Budas will all definitely attain the highest, complete enlightenment.

27. 51 ?I give the instructions on the teachings of the perfection of wisdom to all those beings who come to me.

27. 52 ?Noble one, I look upon all beings with wisdom eyes, but I do not give rise to the concept of ?beings,? and I do not become conceited. I listen to the ocean of the languages of all beings but do not become attached to any way of speaking, and I do not become conceited. I also see all the Tathagatas, but through knowing the body of [F.61.b] the Dharma, I do not become conceited. I possess the Dharma wheels of all the Tathagatas, but because I have realized the nature of phenomena, I do not become conceited. In each instant of mind I permeate the entire realm of phenomena, but because I have realized the illusory nature of phenomena, I do not become conceited.

27. 53 ?Noble one, I know this Bodhisattva liberation called the eradication of all conceit, but how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who have comprehended the endless and centerless realm of phenomena, who remain without conceit within all phenomena, who sitting cross-legged alone pervade the entire realm of phenomena, who reveal all Buda realms contained within their bodies, who in a single instant come into the presence of all the Tathagatas, within whose bodies all the miracles of the Budas take place, who manifest and introduce within a single pore-hair an anabhilapyanabhilapya of Buda realms, who manifest in their pores the kalpas of the creation and destruction of an anabhilapyanabhilapya of countless world realms, who in one instant enter into the equality of dwelling in an anabhilapyanabhilapya of kalpas, and who in one instant move through an anabhilapyanabhilapya of kalpas?

27. 54 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, in the land called Durga, in the city called Ratnavyuha, dwells a courtesan by the name of Vasumitra. Go to her and ask her, [F.62.a] ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

27. 55 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the bhikshuni Simha vijrimbhita, circumambulated the bhikshuni Simha vijrimbhita many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the bhikshuni Simha vijrimbhita.

28. Chapter 28

VASUMITRA

28. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, with his mind illuminated by that great light of wisdom, focusing upon the light of omniscience, regarding the light of the power of the true nature, strengthening the way of retention that is the treasure of what was known from the voices of all beings, increasing the way of retention that possesses the Dharma wheels of all the Tathagatas, supporting the power of the great compassion that is a refuge for all beings, realizing the strength of the omniscience that comes from the gateway of the light of the way of all Dharmas, following the pure aspiration that pervades the domain of the vast realm of phenomena, shining with the light of wisdom that illuminates all the directions of phenomena, accomplishing the power of the higher knowledge that pervades the array of world realms in the ten directions of all phenomena, and fulfilling the aspirations of accomplishing undertaking all the practices, memories, and actions of the Bodhisattvas, eventually arrived at the city of Ratnavyuha in the land of Durga and searched for the courtesan Vasumitra.¹²⁰⁴

28. 2 The people there who did not know the qualities of the courtesan Vasumitra [F.62.b] and lacked the knowledge of the scope of wisdom thought, "What does such a man -who has pacified and controlled senses, who is mindful, who is unconfused, whose mind is not agitated, who keeps his gaze the length of a yoke before him, whose mind is not overcome by sensations, who is not fixated on external features, whose eyes are averted from dwelling on any physical form, whose mind is free of preoccupations, who is wise, who is like an ocean, whose mind is unshakable and without weakness -want with the courtesan Vasumitra? Someone like this does not delight in sensual pleasures, and so his mind cannot possibly go astray. Someone like this does not engage in impure thoughts. It is not possible that someone like this would be a slave to desire. Someone like this does not fall under the power of a woman. It is not possible that someone like this is engaged in the field of conduct of the maras. Someone like this does not dwell in the field of conduct of the maras. It is not possible that someone like this is sinking into the mud of desire. Someone like this is not bound by the noose of the maras. He is not someone who would do what should not be done.?

28. 3 Those who did know the special qualities of the courtesan Vasumitra and directly perceived wisdom's range of conduct said to him, 'It is excellent, excellent, noble one, that you intend to ask questions of the courtesan Vasumitra; you have perfectly obtained a good outcome. You are certainly aspiring to buddhahood. You are certainly wishing to become a refuge for all beings. You are certainly wishing to remove from all beings the pain of desire. You are certainly wishing to dispel conceptions of beauty and purity.

28. 4 'Noble one, the courtesan Vasumitra is in her home, which is on the north side of the city's junction of three streets.?

28. 5 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, on hearing those words, was filled with joy, delighted, elated, pleased, and happy. He went to the home of the courtesan Vasumitra. He saw that her house was huge and vast and surrounded by ten successive precious walls. It was encircled by ten successive rows of precious palm trees. It was encircled by ten successive moats filled with water and covered with divine, precious red lotuses, blue lotuses, night lotuses, and white lotuses; they were filled with water that possessed the eight good qualities; they had bottoms that were covered with gold dust; they were filled with aromatic water mixed with beautiful scents; and they were adorned by numerous precious fences.¹²¹⁰

28. 6 He saw well-arranged buildings, palaces, kutagaras made from every jewel with high pinnacles, toranas, round windows, lattices, crescents, pavilions, shining banners, and so on, brilliant with various jewels. Her house was beautified by walls of countless various jewels. Its floor was formed of jewels inlaid with beryls. Its environs were perfumed by every aromatic divine incense. It was perfumed by the aroma of supreme black agarwood incense. Its environs were anointed with unguents. Rooftop railings made of various jewels adorned the walls. It was covered above by nets of Jambu River gold inlaid with various jewels. A hundred thousand networks of hundreds of golden bells were ringing as they were moved by the breeze, emitting a pleasant, beautiful sound. It was adorned by precious flowers scattered and dispersed from clouds of flowers made from every jewel. [F.63.b] The gateways were adorned by erected multicolored banners made of all precious materials. The light from the brilliant shining of¹²¹¹ various precious jewels shone outward without limit. There was an endless treasure of a perfect multitude of hundreds of thousands of precious trees of coral, diamonds, crystal, and so on, and it was beautified by ten parks.1215

28. 7 Sudhana saw there the courtesan Vasumitra, who was beautiful, attractive, and delightful to see. She was endowed with a magnificent, perfect color. She had golden skin and deep black hair. Her limbs and smaller features were all perfectly formed. She had a beautiful color, form, and shape that were superior to those of all humans and devas of the desire realm. The aspects of her voice were superior to those of Brahma. She was skilled in the languages of all beings. She had a beautiful voice that had the array of all sounds. She possessed the skill of the liberation called the array of the wheel of words. She had become skilled in all arts and treatises. She had trained to become wise in illusions through Dharma wisdom. She had attained all the methods and ways of the Bodhisattvas. She had a beautiful body adorned by various kinds of precious jewelry. Her body was adorned by a brightly shining network of all jewels. Her body shone brightly, being adorned by an array of jewelry made of countless divine precious jewels. She wore tied upon her head a king of wish-fulfilling, supreme, precious jewels. She wore at her throat a string of beryl jewels with its middle adorned by diamonds, a multicolored beautiful lion, and precious jewels. [F.64.a]1217

1218

28. 8 She had a beautiful assembly of followers that could not be divided, that had a single aspiration and a similar share of the practice of the roots of merit.

28. 9 She possessed an inexhaustible treasury of the treasure of the great accumulations of merit and wisdom.

28. 10 Sudhana saw that all those buildings, the entire array of precious dwellings and palaces, were illuminated and made bright by the light that came from her body, which caused delight, physical pleasure and bliss, and joy and happiness in the mind.

28. 11 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the courtesan Vasumitra, stood before her with hands placed together in homage, and said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it. Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?"

28. 12 Vasumitra said, "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the complete attainment of freedom from desire.

28. 13 "Noble one, in this way I appear to the devas in accordance with their wishes in the form, color, shape, and size of an apsaras with a brighter and purer color. In the same way, I appear in accordance with their wishes in a female form, color, shape, and size with a brighter and purer color to the Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, humans, and nonhumans. [F.64.b]

28. 14 "When beings whose minds are encircled by desire come before me, I teach all of them the Dharma so that they will become free from desire. When they hear the Dharma, they attain freedom from desire. They attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called the realm of nonattachment. Some become free from desire the instant they see me, and they attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called joyfulness. Some become free from desire when they hold my hand, and they attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called going to and residing in all the Buda realms. Some become free from desire when they are alone in my company, and they attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called the light of detachment. Some become free from desire just by gazing upon me, and they attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called the display of the form of peace. Some become free from desire just by yawning, and they attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called the disarraying of adversaries. Some become free from desire just by closing their eyes, and they attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called the light of the Buda domains. Some become free from desire just by embracing me, [F.65.a] and they attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called the essence of gathering and not abandoning all beings. Some become free from desire just by kissing me, and they attain the Bodhisattva samadhi called touching the treasure of the merit of all beings. In that way, I establish all the beings who come to me in the Bodhisattva liberation called the complete attainment of freedom from desire and the manifestation of the attachment-free level of omniscience.¹²¹⁹

28. 15 Sudhana asked, "Arya, what roots of merit did you develop? What kinds of activities did you accumulate so that you have attained this kind of perfection?"

Vasumitra replied, "Noble one, I remember that in a past time, there had appeared in the world a Tathagata, an arhat, a samyak sambuddha, one with wisdom and conduct, a sugata, one who knows the world's beings, an unsurpassable guide who tames beings, a teacher of devas and humans, a Buda, a bhagavat named Atyuccagamin.¹²²⁰

28. 16 "The Tathagata Atyuccagamin, because of his love for beings, went to the capital city named Sumukha. When he placed his foot upon the threshold of its gateway, the entire city shook and became huge, vast, and made of many jewels. In the sky above, there was the light of a display of many jewels; it was filled with various precious flowers, emitted the sound of various divine musical instruments, and was pervaded by vast, measureless clouds of deva bodies. [F.65.b]

28. 17 ?Noble one, at that time, I was the wife of a head merchant, and my name was Sumati. Inspired by the miracles of the Buda, my spouse and I ran and came to the Tathagata in a street in the middle of the city. Developing a fast faith, I offered to him one precious bell.¹²²¹

28. 18 ?At that time, Manjushri Kumara bhuta was an attendant of the Bhagavat, the Tathagata Atyuccagamin. Through him I developed the aspiration to the highest, complete enlightenment.

28. 19 ?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the complete attainment of freedom from desire. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of those Bodhisattvas who dwell in infinite method and wisdom, who have a vast, immense treasure of merit, and who are invincible in their scope of wisdom?¹²²³

28. 20 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region there is a city called Shubhaparamgama. There dwells a householder by the name of Veshthila who makes offerings to a sandalwood chair that is a Tathagata shrine. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

28. 21 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the courtesan Vasumitra, circumambulated the courtesan Vasumitra many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the courtesan Vasumitra.

29. Chapter 29

VEShTHILA

29. 1 Then Sudhana went to the town of Shubhaparamgama [F.66.a] and approached the householder Veshthila. He bowed his head to his feet, stood before him, and, with his hands placed together in homage, said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.

29. 2 "Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! Explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!?"

29. 3 Veshthila said, "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the attainment of the summit of inexhaustibility.

29. 4 "Noble one, from my mind's viewpoint, a Tathagata has not passed into nirvana, does not pass into nirvana, and will not pass into nirvana in any world other than as a way to bring beings who are to be guided under his control, not as a way to enter truly complete nirvana.

29. 5 "Noble one, in that way, when I opened the door of the sandalwood-throne shrine of the Tathagata, I attained, by opening the door of the shrine, the Bodhisattva samadhi called the display of the unceasing family of the Budas. "Noble one, in each instant of mind I rest in this samadhi, and I attain many special features."

29. 6 Sudhana asked, "Arya, what is the scope of that samadhi?"

Veshthila replied, "Noble one, when I am resting in this samadhi, [F.66.b]

there appear to me all the Tathagatas, such as Kashyapa, in a continuous succession of one Buda after another within the lineage of this world: all the Tathagatas such as Kanaka muni, Krakucchanda, Vishvabhuk, Shikhiṇ, Vipashyīn, Tishya, Pushya, Yashottara, and Padmottara. I see in the consecutive appearances of the Budas the unceasing succession of one Buda after another, a hundred Budas in one instant of mind. In the next instant of mind I perceive a thousand Budas. In the next instant of mind I perceive a hundred thousand Budas. In the same way I see ten million Budas, a thousand million Budas, ten thousand million Budas, a million million Budas, ten million billion Budas, ten million million billion Budas, a hundred thousand million billion Budas, and ten million million billion Budas, and so on, until in a subsequent moment of mind I perceive an inexpressible number of inexpressible numbers of Budas appearing in succession. In the next instant of mind I see Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in Jambudvīpa. In the next instant of mind I see Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in an inexpressible number of inexpressible numbers of Buda realms.^{1224 1225}

29. 7 ? I also perceive the successive accumulations for the first development of the aspiration to enlightenment by those Tathagatas. I perceive the miraculous powers they attain through their first development of the aspiration to enlightenment. I perceive their pure fulfillment of their different prayers. I perceive their pure conduct. I perceive their complete accomplishment of the perfections. I perceive their attainment of all the

Bodhisattva bhumis. I perceive their pure attainment of patience. I perceive their roaring that disperses the disturbances of the maras. I perceive the display of the miracles of their complete buddhahood. I perceive the purification of their different Buda realms. I perceive their different ripening of beings. I perceive their different gatherings of followers. I perceive their different halos of light. I perceive their supremacy in turning the wheel of the Dharma. I perceive their attainment of the miraculous powers, miracles, and miraculous manifestations of buddhahood.¹²³¹

29. 8 ?I remember and keep the Dharma teachings of these Tathagatas clearly and distinctly. Through my memory I possess them. With my intelligence I understand them. With reverence I distinguish among them. With my intellect I comprehend them. With my wisdom I illuminate them.¹²³²

29. 9 ?I also see and know the future succession of Budas, such as Maitreya. I see a hundred Budas in one instant of mind. In the next instant of mind I perceive a thousand Budas, and so on, up to the instant of mind in which I see Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in an inexpressible number of inexpressible numbers of Buda realms.

29. 10 ?I also perceive the successive accumulations for the first development of the aspiration to enlightenment by those Tathagatas. I perceive the miraculous powers they attain through their first development of the aspiration to enlightenment. I perceive their pure fulfillment of their different prayers. I perceive their pure conduct. I perceive their complete accomplishment of the perfections. [F.67.a] I perceive their attainment of all the Bodhisattva bhumis. I perceive their pure attainment of patience. I perceive their roaring that disperses the disturbances of the maras. I perceive the display of the miracles of their complete buddhahood. I perceive the purification of their different Buda realms. I perceive their different ripening of beings. I perceive their different gatherings of followers. I perceive their different halos of light. I perceive their supremacy in turning the wheel of the Dharma. I perceive their attainment of the miraculous powers, miracles, and miraculous manifestations of buddhahood.¹²³⁴

29. 11 ?I remember and keep the Dharma teachings of these Tathagatas clearly and distinctly. [F.67.b] Through my memory I possess them. With my intelligence I understand them. With reverence I distinguish among them. With my intellect I comprehend them. With my wisdom I illuminate them.^{1235 1236}

29. 12 ?Just as I see and know the succession of Budas in the past and in the future in the lineage of this world realm, I see and know in the lineage of world realms in the ten directions as numerous as the atoms in an inexpressible number of inexpressible numbers of Buda realms the succession of Tathagatas in the past and in the future.

29. 13 ?I also perceive the successive accumulations for the first development of the aspiration to enlightenment by those Tathagatas, and so on.

29. 14 ?I know and comprehend the unbroken, unceasing succession of the Budas. It is unequalled; it is known through faith, is known through the diligence and resolve of Bodhisattvas, augments the power of the diligence of Bodhisattvas, and cannot be overcome by the entire world, by all Shravakas and pratyeka Budas, or by Bodhisattvas who have not entered its scope.¹²³⁷

29. 15 ?I see and know the succession of the present Tathagatas that reside in world realms in the ten directions, such as Vairocana.

29. 16 ?I see a hundred Budas in one instant of mind. In the next instant of mind I perceive a thousand Budas, and so on, up to the instant of mind in which I see Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in an inexpressible number of inexpressible numbers of Buda realms.

29. 17 ?When I wish to see a certain Tathagata, I see him. [F.68.a] I hear all that has been taught, is being taught, and will be taught by those Budas, those bhagavats. When I have heard them, I retain them. Through my memory I possess them. With my intelligence I understand them. With reverence I distinguish among them. With my intellect I comprehend them. With my wisdom I illuminate them.¹²³⁸

29. 18 ?Noble one, I know this Bodhisattva liberation called the attainment of the summit of inexhaustibility, but how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the Bodhisattvas who know the three times in a single instant; who in one fraction of an instant of their practice dwell in an array of samadhis; who have entered into the sunlight of the Tathagatas; who¹²⁴⁰ understand the equality of all concepts and misconceptions; who have realized the samadhi that is equal to that of all the Budas; who act in the nonduality of self, beings, and Budas; who are in the domain of the display of the Dharma of natural luminosity; who have cut through the net of the world with the device of wisdom; who act without disturbing the seal of the Dharma of the Tathagatas; who have the scope of wisdom that understands the entire realm of phenomena; who have the scope of wisdom that understands the Dharma teaching of all the Tathagatas?¹²⁴¹

29. 19 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, there is the mountain named Potalaka. There dwells the Bodhisattva by the name of Avalokiteshvara. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct?

How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ? [F.68.b]

29. 20 Then he spoke these two verses:

?Depart, Sudhana! In the center of the glorious king of the waters¹²⁴²

Is beautiful Potalaka, king of mountains, the residence of heroes.

It has excellent trees made of jewels, is covered with flowers,

And is endowed with parks, lotus ponds, and flowing streams.

29. 21 ?Wise Avalokiteshvara who benefits beings -

That resolute one dwells on that supreme mountain.¹²⁴³

Go to him, Sudhana, and you will be taught

The qualities of the Guides, the entry into the way of vast goodness.?¹²⁴⁴

29. 22 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the householder Veshthila, circumambulated the householder Veshthila many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the householder Veshthila. [B5]

30. Chapter 30

Avalokiteshvara

30. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, contemplating the instruction of the householder Veshthila, knowing that treasury of Bodhisattva aspiration, remembering that power of Bodhisattva memory, keeping in his mind the power of that successive lineage of the way of the Budas, comprehending the continuous succession of the lineage of the Budas, remembering the names of the Budas that he had heard, being in accord with the way of the Dharma taught by the Budas, comprehending the array of attainments through the Dharma of the Budas, having confidence in the proclamation of complete buddhahood by the Budas, and focused on the inconceivable activity of the Tathagatas, eventually came to the Potalaka

Mountain. [F.69.a] He ascended the Potalaka Mountain and searched and searched for the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara.¹²⁴⁵

1247

30. 2 He saw Avalokiteshvara on the upper slope of the western side of the mountain. It was a fresh, gentle, verdant pasture like a circular area of blue beryl and was beautified by springs, waterfalls, and streams, an open grove within a great forest. He was teaching the Dharma, seated cross-legged upon a diamond rock encircled by a countless assembly of Bodhisattvas seated upon rocks that were various jewels. He was giving the Dharma teaching called The Clear Teaching of the Gateway to Love and Compassion, which has as its scope the gathering of all beings into the Dharma.¹²⁴⁸

1249

30. 3 On seeing him, Sudhana was filled with joy, delighted, elated, pleased, and happy. With increasing rapture, he kept his eyes wide open. He placed his hands together in homage. His mind was at peace through being endowed with the power of faith in kalyanamitras. He believed that to see kalyanamitras was to see all the Buddhas. He believed that the acquisition of the entire cloud of Dharma originated from the kalyanamitras. He believed that all qualities and practices depended on the kalyanamitras. He believed that it was difficult to encounter kalyanamitras. He believed that the attainment of the precious wisdom of the ten strengths came from the kalyanamitras. He believed that the inexhaustible light of wisdom came from the kalyanamitras. He believed that the continuous increase of merit was dependent on the kalyanamitras. He believed that the gateway to omniscience was revealed by the kalyanamitras. [F.69.b] He believed that entry into the great ocean of wisdom was taught by the kalyanamitras. He believed that the gathering of the accumulation of omniscience was born from the kalyanamitras.¹²⁵⁰

30. 4 He went toward the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara. The Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara could see Sudhana, the head merchant's son, coming in the distance and said, "Come here! You are welcome, you who have entered the inconceivable, vast Mahayana, which is beyond any analogy; you who have the motivation to be a refuge for all beings who are tormented by various sufferings that arise through being born and who have no refuge; you who wish to witness all the Dharmas of the Budas, which transcend the world, are beyond analogy, and are beyond measure; you who are filled with the power of great compassion and intend to liberate all beings; you in whom the completely good conduct is evidently seen; you who aspire to make pure a domain of great prayers; you who wish to possess the clouds of Dharma of all the Budas; you whose motivation to accumulate roots of merit is never satisfied; you who follow perfectly the instructions of kalyanamitras; you who are the source of a lotus of good qualities, arising from the ocean of the wisdom of Manjushri; you who are focused on attaining the blessing of the Budas; you who have attained the light and power of samadhi; you who aspire to obtain the rain from the clouds of Dharma of all the Budas; you whose mind is made happy by the power of faith and delight on seeing the Budas; [F.70.a] you whose mind is moistened by the power of immeasurable, inconceivable conduct; you who have become the lord of a treasure of pure merit and wisdom through the power of the practice of good qualities; you who are motivated to teach others the power of the path to seeing omniscient wisdom; you who possess the root that is the undiminishing power of great compassion; you who are intent on possessing the power of the light of the wisdom of the Tathagatas.?¹²⁵¹

1254

30. 5 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, approached the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara. He bowed his head to the feet of the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara. He circumambulated the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right. Then he stood before him and, with his hands placed together in homage, said, 'Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.

30. 6 'Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! Explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!'

30. 7 Then the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara extended his right hand, which was the color of gold from the Jambu River and emanated a display of clouds of countless networks of lights of various colors, and upon Sudhana's head he placed his hand, which had the multicolored light rays that shine from the signs and features of a great being and bring stainless, measureless physical and mental bliss. [F.70.b]

30. 8 The Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara said, 'Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have in that way developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment!

30. 9 ?Noble one, I know the gateway to Bodhisattva activity called the unimpeded gateway to great compassion.

30. 10 ?Noble one, my gateway to Bodhisattva activity called the unimpeded gateway to great compassion ripens and guides beings without making any distinctions among all beings, and it gathers and guides beings through their completely hearing and knowing this gateway.

30. 11 ?Noble one, in that way, being established in the gateway to Bodhisattva activity called the unimpeded gateway to great compassion, though I never depart from being at the feet of all the Tathagatas, I remain focused on what should be done for all beings. I gather beings through generosity. I gather beings through pleasant words, through benefiting them, and through practicing what I teach.

30. 12 ?I also ripen beings through manifesting physical bodies. I gladden and ripen beings through manifesting countless pure colors, shapes, and forms and through radiating a net of light rays. I speak to them in accordance with their aspirations. I manifest whatever path of conduct they delight in. I teach them the Dharma in accordance with their various wishes. I manifest various forms of miracles so as to inspire beings who have not been attentive in accumulating virtuous qualities. I manifest a variety of countless emanations in accordance with their wishes. I gather and ripen beings by manifesting forms that accord with the states of the beings born in the various classes of existence [F.71.a] and by living with them in the same place.¹²⁵⁵

30. 13 ?Noble one, in that way I have purified the gateway to Bodhisattva activity called the unimpeded gateway to great compassion and therefore prayed to be a support for all beings. I have accomplished the prayer to be a support for all beings in order that I end for all beings the fear of precipices, cause fears within all beings to cease, eliminate fear from confusion in all beings, eliminate in all beings the fear of being in bondage, dispel in all beings the fear of circumstances that cause loss of life, banish from all beings the fear of being deprived of material necessities, end in all beings the fear of being without a livelihood, dispel in all beings the fear of ill repute, dispel in all beings the fear of being in samsara, cause the fear of timidity within an assembly to cease in all beings, cause all beings to transcend the fear of death, dispel in all beings the fear of the lower existences, shine the light of irreversibility upon those whose path has degenerated in great darkness, completely eliminate in all beings the fear of meeting misfortune, extinguish in all beings the fear of being apart from what is liked, eliminate in all beings the fear of having to be with what is disliked, separate all beings from the fear of physical torment, free all beings from mental torment, [F.71.b] and cause all beings to transcend suffering, unhappiness, and disturbances.1256

1259

30. 14 ?I manifest the gateway to mindfulness in all worlds in order to dispel fear in all beings. I have made the wheel of my name known in all worlds in order to free all beings from fear. I miraculously manifest my body to be the same as the distinct forms of all endless beings in order to be perceived by beings at the appropriate times.1260

30. 15 ?Noble one, through this method, I liberate all beings from fear and cause them to develop an irreversible aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment so that they will attain all the Dharmas of the Budas.

30. 16 ?Noble one, I know this gateway to Bodhisattva activity called the unimpeded gateway to great compassion, but how could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of the completely good Bodhisattvas who have the pure domain of the prayers of all Buddhas; who have realized the completely good conduct of Bodhisattvas; who have an unbroken continuity of creating virtuous qualities; who are always resting in a continuity of the samadhi of all Bodhisattvas; who have nonregressing conduct while residing in all kalpas; who have the continuous understanding of the ways of all three times; who are skilled in the continuity of the turning of the cycle of all world realms; who have the continuity of ending nonvirtuous mentalities in all beings; who have a continuity of increasing the virtuous mentalities of all beings; [F.72.a] and who have the continuity of countering the continuity of samsara for all beings??

30. 17 Concerning this it is said:

Sudhana, who was self-disciplined, circumambulated,
Praised reverently, and departed on the southern road -
He saw, residing in a cleft in a precious mountain, Avalokiteshvara, a Rishi who abided in compassion. {1}

30. 18 The wise one was seated in the center of a lotus on a lion throne
On the side of the diamond mountain with various precious jewels.¹²⁶¹
He was teaching the Dharma to the devas, asuras, Nagas,¹²⁶²
Kinnaras, rakshasas, and Bodhisattvas who encircled him. {2}

30. 19 When Sudhana saw him, he was filled with unequalled joy,
Approached him, and bowed down to the feet of the ocean of qualities.
He said, ?Arya, have compassion and teach to me the training
So that I may attain good conduct.? {3}

30. 20 Extending his stainless hand, adorned by a hundred merits,

Which emitted excellent, vast networks of clouds of light,

And placing it upon Sudhana's head, that pure being,

The wise one Avalokiteshvara, spoke these words: {4}

30. 21 "Son of the Budas, I know one gateway to liberation,

Which is the mass of compassion, the essence of wisdom of all the jinas,

Which arises in order to gather and liberate all beings,

And my love for them thus courses everywhere. {5}

30. 22 "I protect all beings from every suffering.

Those who are tightly bound, who are in the hands of enemies,

Whose bodies are struck, and who are put into prisons

On hearing my name are freed from bondage. {6}

30. 23 "Those who have broken the law will escape execution

When at that time they remember my name.

Arrows that are fired will not hit their bodies.

Weapons that strike them will be not pierce them. {7} [F.72.b]

30. 24 "Those who remember my name will be invincible.

Though they enter the courts of lords, no matter who disputes with them,

They will be victorious over all adversaries and attain excellence,¹²⁶³

And their fame, friends, families, and wealth will increase. {8}

30. 25 "Anyone who remembers my name

Entering forests fearful with thieves, fearful with enemies,

With lions, bears, leopards, wild beasts, yaks, and snakes,

Will be free of fear and victorious over enemies. {9}

30. 26 "When anyone who remembers my name

Is malevolently thrown from the summit of a great mountain¹²⁶⁴

Or hurled into a blazing fire of coals,

The fire will transform into a treasure of water filled with lotuses. {10}

30. 27 ?Anyone who instantly remembers my name

When thrown into the sea will not die there.

They will not be swept away by rivers or burn in the midst of fire.

In everything they will not fail but will be successful. {11}

30. 28 ?Those who remember my name will attain liberation

From stocks, chains, manacles, and unjust punishments;

Dishonor, disrespect, constraints, and deception;

Abuse, beatings, threats, and scolding. {12}

30. 29 ?All those who are hostile and seek to harm,

Who are always angry and speak unpleasant words,

Will become friendly the moment they see

Those who have heard and remember my name and will praise them. {13}

30. 30 ?Anyone who remembers my name

Will always overpower those enemies

Who, in order to harm, practice vetala mantras and sorcery,

And they will not be harmed by any poison. {14}

30. 31 ?Those who have remembered my name will pacify

All Naga lords, hordes of rakshasas, garudas, pishacas,

Kumbhandas, and putanas who with wrathful minds cause harm,

Who steal vitality, and who terrify in dreams. {15}

30. 32 ?Those who remember my name for a moment

Will not become separated from parents, friends, and relatives, [F.73.a]

And will not be in the company of those who dislike them;

Their wealth will not be exhausted, and they will not become poor. {16}

30. 33 ?Anyone who remembers my name

Will not go to the Avici hell when they die

But will be reborn as a good being, a deva or human,

And not as an animal or a preta, or in an unfortunate existence. {17}

30. 34 ?Those who remember my name will become humans

Who are not blind, one-eyed, deaf, unable to walk,

Or with a limp, but who speak clearly and have a pleasant appearance,

And they will possess all faculties for many millions of kalpas. {18}

30. 35 {19}1265

30. 36 ?Anyone who remembers my name

Will be a pure being who on passing away will be reborn

In the presence of Budas in world realms in the ten directions,

Will see the Budas, and will hear their Dharma. {20}

30. 37 ?These and all my many other methods

For guiding beings in worlds are endless and innumerable.

Son of the Budas, I meditate on this one liberation,

But I do not know all the qualities of those with qualities.? {21}

30. 38 {22}1266

30. 39 At that time the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin came from the east through the sky and resided on a peak of the Cakravala mountain range in the Saha world realm. The moment that the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin's feet landed on a peak of the Cakravala mountain range in the Saha world realm, the Saha world realm shook in six ways and transformed into being composed of many jewels.

30. 40 The Bodhisattva Ananyagamin outshone the light of the sun and moon.

The light from his body outshone devas, Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, Shakra, Brahma, the world guardians, fire, jewels, lightning, and starlight. [F.73.b]

30. 41 He even illuminated the great hells. He illuminated all dark existences in the realm of animals and the world of Yama. He caused all the sufferings in the lower existences to instantly cease. All beings ceased to be tormented by the kleshas. Various kinds of misery, pain, and suffering were alleviated. Rain from clouds of jewels fell over all of this Buda realm, and there also fell rain from clouds of a variety of offerings, the entire display of flowers, perfumes, incense, garlands, ointments, powders, clothing, parasols, banners, and flags.

30. 42 He then went to where the Bhagavat was, and the image of his body appeared in the residences of all beings, appearing so as to satisfy them in accordance with their wishes. He also appeared to come before the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara.

30. 43 Then the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, did you see the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin coming to the gathering of this assembly?"

30. 44 "Depart, noble one. Go to the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin and ask him, 'How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?'"

30. 45 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara, circumambulated the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara. [F.74.a]

31. Chapter 31

ANANYAGAMIN

31. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, his mind having acquired Avalokiteshvara's verses of wisdom, had not had enough of gazing on the Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara, but so as not to disobey his instruction, Sudhana went to where the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin was.¹²⁶⁷

31. 2 He bowed his head to the feet of the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin. Then he stood before him and, with his hands placed together in homage, said, 'Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they should practice it.

31. 3 'Arya, I have heard that you give instruction and teachings to Bodhisattvas! Explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!'

31. 4 Then the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin said, 'Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of every gateway.'¹²⁶⁸

31. 5 Sudhana asked, 'Arya, at the feet of which Tathagata did you attain the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of every gateway? How far from here is that world realm? How long did it take to come from that world realm?'

31. 6 The Bodhisattva Ananyagamin said, 'Noble one, this is something that is difficult to comprehend for beings such as the Shramanas and brahmins in this world with its devas, humans, and asuras. It is the power of the Bodhisattvas, the irreversible diligence of the Bodhisattvas, and the unsurpassable conduct of the Bodhisattvas.

31. 7 'Noble one, those who are not in the care of a kalyanamitra, who are not regarded by the Buddhas, who have not accumulated the roots of merit, who do not have a pure motivation, who have not attained the faculties of a Bodhisattva, and who do not have the eyes of wisdom [F.74.b] will not be able to hear of it, grasp it, believe in it, or comprehend it.?

31. 8 Sudhana said, ?Tell it to me, for I am apprehended by the Budas and in the care of kalyanamitras, and I have faith and aspiration!?

31. 9 The Bodhisattva Ananyagamin said, ?Noble one, I have come from a world realm in the eastern direction that is called Shrigarbhavati, the Buda realm of the Tathagata Samanta shri sambhava. I obtained the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of every gateway at the feet of the Tathagata Samanta shri-sambhava.

31. 10 ?Noble one, as many kalpas as there are atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya of Buda realms passed while I came from the world realm Shrigarbhavati.

31. 11 ?With each development of an aspiration, I took as many steps as there are atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya of Buda realms. With each step, I passed as many Buda realms as there are atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya of Buda realms. There was a Tathagata in each of those Buda realms, and I perceived all those Buda bhagavats. To all those Tathagatas I made offerings that were authorized by the Tathagatas and were unsurpassable, composed of the mind, and sealed by the noncomposite nature of phenomena and gave rise to joy in Bodhisattvas.

31. 12 ?I saw in those world realms an ocean of beings, and I perceived the ocean of all their minds. I knew the wheels of all their faculties, and I manifested physical bodies in accord with their aspirations, proclaimed the words of the Dharma, radiated a halo of light, brought them the gift of various necessities, and empowered my own body, [F.75.a] so that I could continuously be engaged in ripening and guiding them.

31. 13 ?In the same way that I came from the east, I came from the south, from the west, from the north, from the northeast, from the southeast, from the southwest, from the northwest, from below, and from above.

31. 14 ?Noble one, I know only the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of every gateway. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who face in all directions; who have a scope of wisdom that is without division; who distribute their bodies throughout the realm of phenomena; who act in accord with the thoughts and aspirations of all beings; who pervade all realms with their bodies; who act in conformance with all phenomena; who have arrived at the equality of the three times; who have bodies that are equal to the range of phenomena in every direction; who illuminate every range of worlds of beings; who have no conceptualization of the range of Tathagatas; who enter all regions without impediment; and who dwell in the state that has no location?

31. 15 ?Depart, noble one. In this southern region, there is a city named Dvaravati. There dwells the deity by the name of Mahadeva. Go to him and ask him, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

31. 16 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin, circumambulated the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin. [F.75.b]

32. Chapter 32

MAHADEVA

32. 1 Sudhana had a mind that followed the vast conduct of Bodhisattvas. He had the nature of longing for the scope of the wisdom of the Bodhisattva Ananyagamin. He saw the special qualities of accomplishing great higher cognition. He had attained joy in the armor of stable diligence. He had the aspiration to follow the displays of inconceivable liberations. He practiced the qualities of the Bodhisattva level. He analyzed on the level of samadhi. He was established on the level of the power of retention. He engaged in the level of prayer. He trained in the level of discernment. He was accomplishing the level of power.¹²⁷⁰

32. 2 He eventually arrived at the city named Dvaravati. He inquired about the deity Mahadeva, and many people declared to him, "Noble one, this deva Mahadeva is in the temple at the crossroads of the city, and with greatness of being he is teaching the Dharma to beings."¹²⁷¹

32. 3 Then Sudhana went to where the deity Mahadeva was. He bowed his head to the feet of Mahadeva, stood before him with his hands together in homage, and said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. How does a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? In what way does a Bodhisattva practice it? Arya, I have heard that you teach and give instructions to Bodhisattvas. Therefore, Arya, teach me how Bodhisattvas train in Bodhisattva conduct and in what way they practice it!?"

32. 4 The deity Mahadeva extended his four arms, and from the four great oceans and with the power of great speed he brought water and washed his mouth. [F.76.a] He then scattered golden flowers on Sudhana, the head merchant's son, and said, "Noble one, it is very difficult to see the Bodhisattvas. It is difficult to hear them. The appearance of the white lotuses that are supreme beings is a great marvel because of its greatness; they are a support for the world, a refuge for beings; they create a great light for beings; they teach the path of truth to those on the path of ignorance; they are guides for those who follow the way of the Dharma; they are great guides for going to the city of omniscience.

32. 5 ?Noble one, this is what I think: the Bodhisattva mahasattvas are called the destroyers of wrong views because, with stainless minds, they manifest the appearance of their pure bodies; they manifest the activities of their pure bodies; they shine the light of eloquence of their faultless speech; and with a pure motivation they remain manifest at all times.¹²⁷³

32. 6 ?Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the net of clouds.?

Sudhana asked him, ?What is the scope of the Bodhisattva liberation called the net of clouds??

32. 7 In every direction in front of Sudhana, the head merchant's son, the deva Mahadeva manifested mountain-sized heaps of gold, heaps of silver, heaps of beryls, heaps of crystals, heaps of white corals, heaps of emeralds, heaps of precious asteria jewels, heaps of precious vimalagarbha jewels, heaps of precious Vairocana jewels, heaps of precious topknot jewels, heaps of crowns, heaps of necklaces made of various precious jewels, [F.76.b] heaps of armlets, heaps of earrings, heaps of bracelets, heaps of girdles, heaps of anklets, heaps of strings of red pearls, heaps of various precious jewels, heaps of adornment for the greater and smaller parts of the body, heaps of the kings of wish-fulfilling precious jewels, all flowers, all perfumes, all incenses, all garlands, all ointments, all powders, all cloths, all parasols, all banners, all flags, all musical instruments, all percussion instruments, all that is desirable, and countless trillions of maidens.¹²⁷⁵

32. 8 Mahadeva said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, take these, and with them perform acts of great generosity! Create much merit! Make offerings to the Tathagatas! Gather many beings through generosity as a method of gathering pupils! Practice the perfection of generosity! Teach the world through generosity! Give that which is difficult to give!"^{1276 1277}

32. 9 "Noble one, I gather for you this manner of things, and in that same way I establish in generosity an incalculable number of beings whose minds have an unceasing motivation to give. I cause them to generate roots of merit in the Buddha, Dharma, and Sangha and the Bodhisattvas and kalyanamitras, and I inspire them toward the highest, complete enlightenment.

32. 10 "Moreover, noble one, I bless with the ugliness of sensory objects those beings who are intoxicated by the joys of desire and have attachment to the enjoyment of sensory objects. [F.77.a]

32. 11 "I manifest terrifying wrathful bodies like rakshasas, eating flesh and drinking blood, to those who are possessed by anger, who are proud, arrogant, conceited, and haughty, and who are to be guided through destruction, pacifying all who are agitated by pride and arrogance."¹²⁷⁸

32. 12 "I manifest the danger of being harmed by fire, water, kings, and thieves for beings who are lazy and abandon diligence, causing them to be distressed and become diligent.

32. 13 "In that way, through those methods, I turn them away from that which is not virtuous and establish them in a perfection of virtue so that they may defeat all that is adverse to the perfections, gather all the accumulations of the perfections, transcend all the paths of the mountain precipices of obscurations, and enter the unobscured Dharma.

32. 14 "Noble one, I know only the Bodhisattva liberation called the net of clouds.

How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who are like Indra defeating the asuras of the kleshas, who are like water extinguishing the mass of fire of the suffering of all beings, who are like a mass of flames drying up the water of the cravings of all beings, who are like a wind scattering the mountain of all clinging to attachment, and who are like thunderbolts shattering the hard rock of the perception of a self?¹²⁷⁹

32. 15 ?Depart, noble one. In this Jambudvīpa, in the land of Magadhā, at the bodhimanda, there is the goddess of the earth who is named Sthavara. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct?

How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ? [F.77.b]

32. 16 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the deva Mahadeva, circumambulated the deva Mahadeva many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping him to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the deva Mahadeva.

33. Chapter 33

STHAVARA

33. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, eventually reached the goddess of the earth, Sthavara, in the land of Magadhā's bodhimanda. When he arrived there, one million earth goddesses proclaimed to one another, ?Someone who will be a refuge for all beings is coming here! Someone who has the essence of the Tathagatas and who will break open the enclosing egg of ignorance of all beings is coming here! Someone who is in the family of the kings of Dharma and will attain the state of an unimpeded, stainless king of the Dharma is coming here! Someone who is a hero with the thunderbolt weapon that has the great power of wisdom and who will subdue the circle of opponents is coming here!?

33. 2 At that moment, Sthavara and the other one million earth goddesses shook the great earth, caused a loud sound like deep thunder, and illuminated the world realm of a billion worlds with a vast light. Their bodies were adorned by all adornments and precious jewelry. They shone and moved in the sky like a mass of streaks of lightning.

33. 3 They rose up out of the ground, causing the seedlings of all trees to sprout; causing all flowering trees to blossom; causing all rivers to flow; causing lakes, ponds, and reservoirs to rise; causing a great rain of scented water to fall; causing a great wind that scattered a cloud of flowers to blow; causing a quintillion musical instruments to sound; [F.78.a] causing a multitude of divine aerial palaces and ornaments to spread; causing the lords of cows, bulls, elephants, tigers, and deer to make their cries; causing the leaders of devas, asuras, Nagas, and bhutas to roar; causing the great lords of mountains to clash together; and causing trillions of masses of treasures to emerge.¹²⁸⁰

33. 4 Then the earth goddess Sthavara said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, it is excellent that you have come here. This area is where in the past you dwelled and generated roots of merit, where I am the¹²⁸¹ witness for that. Do you wish to see just a fraction of their ripening?"

33. 5 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the earth goddess Sthavara. He circumambulated the earth goddess Sthavara many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right. Then he stood before her and, with his hands placed together in homage, said, "Arya, I do wish it!"

33. 6 Then the earth goddess Sthavara stamped on the ground with the sole of her foot and revealed an array of countless millions of millions of precious treasures and said, "Noble one, these millions of millions of precious treasures follow you. They go before you. You can use them as you like. They come from the ripening of your merit. They are protected by the power of your merit. You can take from among them whatever you need.

33. 7 "Noble one, moreover, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of invincible wisdom. [F.78.b] Through my possessing this Bodhisattva liberation, since the time of the Tathagata Dipankara I have constantly followed Bodhisattvas and always protected them. Since that time, noble one, I have practiced the mental conduct of the Bodhisattvas, been immersed within the scope of wisdom, entered the domain of prayer, realized pure Bodhisattva conduct, followed the ways of all samadhis, permeated the vast motivations and higher cognitions of all Bodhisattvas, and realized, possessed, and acquired mastery of the powers of all Bodhisattvas, the pervasion of the network of all realms, the acquisition of prophecies from all the Tathagatas, the sight at all times of the attainment of buddhahood, all the ways of turning the wheel of the Dharma, all the ways of the clouds of Dharma that elucidate the sutras, the way of illumination by the great radiance of the Dharma, the way of completely ripening all beings, and the way of the display of all the miraculous manifestations of the Buddhas.

33. 8 "Noble one, I received this Bodhisattva liberation, the essence of invincible wisdom, far beyond and even more beyond as many past kalpas as there are atoms in Sumeru, during a kalpa called Avabhasa vyuha, in a world realm called Candradhvaja, from the Tathagata Sunetra. [F.79.a]

33. 9 "Noble one, in that way, until this Bhadra kalpa, while cultivating, practicing, increasing, and augmenting this Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of invincible wisdom, I have never been deprived of the sight of the

33. 10 ?During that time, I have propitiated as many Tathagata arhat samyak-sambuddhas as there are atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya of Buda realms.

I have seen the miraculous manifestation of all those Tathagatas going to the bodhimanda. I have witnessed the roots of merit of all those Tathagatas.

33. 11 ?Noble one, I know only the Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of invincible wisdom. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who attend all Tathagatas, who follow the teaching of all Budas, who enter into the impenetrable wisdom of the Tathagatas, who have the power to pervade the entire realm of phenomena in one instant of mind, who have bodies that are the same as those of the Tathagatas, who have the essence of the stainless intention of all the Budas, who always realize all appearances of Budas, and who are emissaries inseparable from the activity of the Budas?1284

33. 12 ?Depart, noble one. In this Jambudvipa, in the land of Magadha, in the city of Kapilavastu, is the goddess of the night named Vasanti. [F.79.b] Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

33. 13 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the earth goddess Sthavara, circumambulated the earth goddess Sthavara many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the earth goddess Sthavara.

34. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, remembering the teaching of the earth goddess Sthavara, remembering the Bodhisattva liberation called the essence of invincible wisdom, becoming adept in the meditation of Bodhisattva samadhi, contemplating the way of the Bodhisattva Dharma, analyzing the displays of Bodhisattva liberation, viewing the very subtle wisdom of Bodhisattva liberation, entering the ocean of the wisdom of Bodhisattva liberation, with faith in the different wisdoms of Bodhisattva liberation, realizing the mastery of the wisdom of Bodhisattva liberation, and descending into the ocean of the wisdom of Bodhisattva liberation, arrived at the location of the town of Kapilavastu.

34. 2 He circumambulated the town of Kapilavastu, keeping it to his right, and entered the town through its eastern gate.

34. 3 He stayed at the town's central junction of three streets, where, soon after sunset, wishing to see Vasanti, the goddess of the night, while reverentially following the Bodhisattva teaching, having the definite understanding that the wisdom of buddhahood is attained through kalyanamitras, having the blessing of the scope of the view of the eyes of wisdom, facing every direction [F.80.a] with the aspiration to see the kalyanamitra, with a mind that perceives the essence of great wisdom, with eyes of wisdom that engage with all objects of perception, with eyes of samadhi that pervade the vast extent of the ocean of the wisdom of all the ways of the realm of phenomena, seeing the ocean of all that is to be known in all directions, with a single-pointed mind intent on attaining the eyes of wisdom resting with one-pointed thought, he saw Vasanti, the goddess of the night, in the realm of space above the great town of Kapilavastu. She was in a kutagara of various precious jewels beyond compare. She was seated upon a lotus that had every excellent aroma, in the center of a great precious lion throne. Her body was the color of gold. Her hair was soft, abundant, and deep black. Her eyes were deep black. She was beautiful, attractive, and lovely to the sight. Her body was beautified by all jewelry and adornments. She was wearing dyed clothing. She possessed a sacred topknot adorned by the disk of the moon as a crest. The constellations, the planets, and all the stars appeared in her body.1285

34. 4 He saw within her pores all the beings she had liberated who in the vast realm of beings had fallen into inopportune states, lower existences, and lower realms.

34. 5 He saw within her pores all those she had brought to the higher realms, all those she had ripened for the enlightenment of the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas, and those she had ripened for omniscience.

34. 6 He saw within her pores all her created bodies, [F.80.b] created forms, and created colors that were her various methods that ripened beings.

34. 7 He heard sounding from her pores the creation of sounds, the creation of the aspects of the voice, and their application to the various ways of speech through which she ripened beings.1287

34. 8 He perceived within her pores her creation of times, her Bodhisattva conduct, her Bodhisattva prowess, her entrances to Bodhisattva samadhis and transformations, her Bodhisattva power of leadership, her Bodhisattva states of being, her Bodhisattva view, her Bodhisattva observation, her Bodhisattva emanations, her Bodhisattva lion-like awesomeness of a great being, and her displays of Bodhisattva liberation through which she ripened beings in accordance with their motivations and aspirations.1288

34. 9 He saw and heard an ocean of the ways of the Dharma that employed various methods, and he was satisfied, joyful, pleased, delighted, content, and happy. He prostrated to the night goddess Vasanti with the full length of his body, got up, and circumambulated the night goddess Vasanti, keeping her to his right, many hundreds of thousands of times. Then he stood before her and, with his hands placed together in homage, said, "Goddess, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. I have seen that all the qualities of buddhahood arise through the blessing of a kalyanamitra. [F.81.a] I put myself in the hands of the kalyanamitra. Show me, goddess, the path to omniscience upon which a Bodhisattva will bring forth the ten strengths."

34. 10 The night goddess Vasanti said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you are thus in awe of kalyanamitras and wish to hear a kalyanamitra's words and practice the teaching of kalyanamitras."

34. 11 "Noble one, through thus practicing the teaching of the kalyanamitras, you will, without a doubt, approach the highest, complete enlightenment."

34. 12 "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the gateway to guiding beings through the radiance of the Dharma that eliminates the darkness of all beings. My mind has love for beings who have unstable minds. My mind has compassion for beings who follow the path of nonvirtuous actions. My mind rejoices in those who follow the path of virtuous actions. My mind does not discriminate between beings with stable and unstable minds. My motivation is to purify those afflicted by the kleshas. My motivation is to bring the pitiful to perfection. My motivation is to generate a vast aspiration in those with inferior aspiration. My motivation is to develop great diligence in those with inferior power. [F.81.b] My motivation is to turn away from existences in the cycle of samsara those whose aspiration is for samsara. My motivation is to establish on the path to omniscience those beings whose aspiration is for the Shravakayana and Pratyeka buddhayana.1289

34. 13 ?Noble one, those are the motivations and intentions that I have. I possess the Bodhisattva liberation called the gateway to guiding beings through the radiance of the Dharma that eliminates the darkness of all beings.

34. 14 ?When beings are in darkness, humans sleep, the hosts of spirits roam around, the numbers of thieves and robbers increase, dangerous beings are active in all directions, thick black clouds cover everything, there is a thick mass of smoke or dust, there is the assault of terrible wind and rain, the moon and stars are hidden, and the eyes are unable to see.

34. 15 ?Noble one, through various methods I protect those beings in the darkness who are on the ocean, on a plain, on mountains, in a remote wilderness, in a forest, in the countryside, in a town, in a direction, in an intermediate direction, or on a road; those on the ocean whose ship is sinking; those who are in distress; those on the plains; those who are falling down precipices in the mountains; those who have no food or drink in remote wildernesses; those caught in thickets of bamboo in dense forests; those whom calamitous wrongdoing has befallen; [F.82.a] those who are being slain by bandits in the countryside; those who perish from ruthless actions in towns; those who are bewildered in the directions; those who are confused in the intermediate directions; and those who encounter disaster on the road.1290 1291

34. 16 ?I do so in this way: for those on the great ocean, I dispel the black winds and clouds, I make troubled waters clear, I dispel the circle of cruel winds, I calm the huge powerful waves, I bring freedom from the danger of lightning,

I show the direction to go, I provide the correct course over the waters, I reveal the shore, and I show the way to reach the island of jewels. I protect them in the form of a gatherer of beings, the form of a merchant leader, the form of a great-maned king of horses, the form of a king of elephants, the¹²⁹² form of a king of turtles, the form of a king of the asuras, the form of a king of the garudas, the form of a king of the kinnaras, the form of a king of the mahoragas, the form of a deity of the sea, and the form of a ferryman.¹²⁹³

34. 17 ?I dedicate those roots of merit in this way: ?May I be a protector of all beings in order to free them from the entire mass of suffering!?

34. 18 ?When beings on the plains at night are in great darkness and the ground is covered with bamboo, thorns, pebbles, and potsherds; when there are numerous fierce poisonous snakes, uneven ground, and difficult paths, [F.82.b] and when dust and dirt swirl thickly; when there is the assault of fierce wind and rain, being stricken with the suffering of heat and cold, and the fear of snakes and wild beasts; and when bands of murderers and bandits are prowling around, I protect those beings who are confused in the dark, in the form of the sun, in the form of the moon, in the form of the rising of dawn, in the form of great shooting stars, in the form of flashes of lightning, in the form of the light of jewels, in the form of the circle of the planets, in the form of light from the aerial palaces of the constellations and stars, in the form of a deva, and in the form of a Bodhisattva.¹²⁹⁴

34. 19 ?In my mind there arose this aspiration: ?May I become a refuge for all beings through this root of merit, in order to dispel all the darkness of the kleshas.?

34. 20 ?I protect through various methods those on mountain precipices who are afraid of dying and who through clinging to life are under the power of the desire for fame, who desire the banner of words of renown, who have enjoyment as their goal, who are overpowered by desire, who are engaged in the pursuit of the prerequisites for life, who primarily yearn for worldly good fortune, who are tied by affection to children and wife, who are lost in the thicket of views, and who are oppressed by various kinds of suffering and fears.¹²⁹⁵

34. 21 ?I do so in this way: by providing them with caves and shelters, by providing them with fruit and roots to eat, by providing them with streams and springs, by providing them with protection against heat and cold, [F.83.a] by showing them correct pathways, by the sound of the song of the avadavat, by the sound of the cry of the king of peacocks, through the form of illumination from burning herbs, and through the form of light from the mountain deities.

34. 22 ?I become a protector of those in mountain caves, clefts, and chasms who are afflicted by various sufferings, by providing them with level ground, and to dispel the blinding darkness those beings are in.

34. 23 ?In my mind there arises this thought: ?Just as I have protected these beings who are in the mountains, may I become a protector for those who have fallen into the chasms of the mountain of samsara and have been seized by the demons of old age and death.?

34. 24 ?I become someone who shows the correct path to follow for those beings who are trapped in the net of a dense forest and blinded by the darkness of the night; who are in distress within a tangle of trees and shrubs; whose path is blocked by grass, rivers, thorns, trees, and vines; who have entered a dense forest of numerous trees and vines; who have fear in their hearts on hearing the roaring of tigers; who are distressed at being unable to accomplish their goals; who are afflicted by various dangers, misfortunes, and troubles; and who do not know the way out of a thick forest.1296

1297 1298

34. 25 ?In my mind there arises this thought: ?Through this root of merit, may I free from all suffering those beings who are in the thicket of various views, who are caught in the net of craving, and who are oppressed by the various sufferings and dangers of samsara.?

34. 26 ?Through various methods I bring happiness to those beings who are confused in darkness in remote wildernesses. [F.83.b] I show them the path and bring them to a safe and pleasant place.

34. 27 ?In my mind there arises this thought: ?Through this root of merit, may I free from all suffering and bring to the great good fortune of the path to happiness and omniscience those beings who are lost in the remote wilderness of samsara and are following the path to all the lower realms.?

34. 28 ?Noble one, through various methods that bring disillusionment, I free from attachment to their homeland those beings in homelands who experience suffering caused by that attachment.

34. 29 ?In my mind there arises this aspiration: ?Through this root of merit, may I free all beings from attachment to the skandhas and bring them to the wisdom of omniscience that has no location.?

34. 30 ?Noble one, the beings who dwell in villages, who are destroyed by their bondage to house and home, who are bewildered in the darkness of the night, and who suffer because of the various demands of their homes - through various ways of causing distress, I bring them to disillusionment. I cause them to develop a mind free of attachment. I care for them through the gift of the Dharma. I make them perfectly content and establish them in the Dharma that has no home.

34. 31 ?In my mind there arises this thought: ?Through this root of merit, may I free all beings dwelling in the town of their six ayatanas from the realm of activity that is existence in samsara, and may I establish them in the realm of activity of the wisdom of omniscience.?

34. 32 ?Noble one, through various methods I bring illumination to those beings who are bewildered in the darkness of night in the east and other directions and intermediate directions, [F.84.a] who see level areas as being uneven with chasms, who perceive high ground as depressions and depressions as high ground, and who are bewildered as to the directions of paths and areas. I reveal a door to those who wish to exit. I reveal a path to those who wish to go upon it. I reveal a ford to those who wish to cross a river. I reveal a ship to those who wish to cross the sea. I reveal a house to those who wish to go inside. I reveal a region to those who wish to see it. I reveal the high ground and the low ground. I reveal the areas that are level, those that are not level, and their various forms. I reveal villages, towns, markets, kingdoms, and capitals to exhausted travelers. I reveal springs, ponds, lakes, reservoirs, lotus ponds, rivers, forests, orchards, and gardens to those afflicted by heat and thirst. I reveal pleasant forms of various kinds such as father, mother, children, wives, friends, families, and relatives to those who wish to meet the beloved they are separated from.1299

1303

1304

34. 33 ?In my mind there arises this thought: ?May I bring light and illumination, so that they will perceive the various forms around them, to those who are bewildered in the darkness of night, whose eyes are afflicted by blindness, and who are bewildered as to directions.

34. 34 ? ? Similarly, there are beings who have dwelled in the darkness of samsara for a long time who are confused concerning the right direction; who are bewildered in the darkness of ignorance; whose eyes of wisdom are clouded by the cataracts of ignorance; [F.84.b] who have incorrect perception, mind, and view; who perceive the impermanent as permanent; who perceive suffering as happiness; who perceive the absence of a self as a self; who perceive the unpleasant as pleasant; who believe in an enduring self, being, soul, person, or individual; who rely on the skandhas, dhatus, and ayatanas; who are confused about cause and result; who follow the path of nonvirtuous actions; who kill; who steal; who engage in sexual misconduct; who lie; who slander; who speak harsh words; who speak meaninglessly; who are covetous; who are malicious; who hold wrong views; who do not respect their fathers; who do not respect their mothers; who do not respect Shramanas and brahmins; who do not respect the powerful; who do not respect holy beings; who have passion and devotion for what is not the Dharma; who are overcome by inappropriate desires; who are in the bondage of wrong views; who malign the Tathagatas; who engage in bringing the wheel of the Dharma to an end; who hold the banner of Mara; who harm Bodhisattvas; who have anger toward the Mahayana; who are engaged in reviling the aspiration to enlightenment; who criticize Bodhisattvas; who harm or injure their mothers; who are harmful and hostile; who malign the aryas; who practice a religious conduct that is not that of good people; who damage that which belongs to stupas and the

1310

34. 35 ? ?May I dispel the darkness of their ignorance with the great light of wisdom, inspire them toward the highest, complete enlightenment, and reveal to them, through the completely good Mahayana, the path to the level of the wisdom of the ten strengths, [F.85.a] the level of the Tathagatas, the scope of the omniscient wisdom of the Tathagatas, the ocean of the ways of omniscient wisdom, the range of activity of the wisdom of the Budas, the scope of the Budas, the accomplishment of the ten strengths, and the strength of the power of retention of the Budas and the single body of all the Budas. Having revealed that, may I establish them in the knowledge of the equality of all the Budas.?1311

1312

34. 36 ?Noble one, I am present to save those beings who are sick, who are depressed by being ill for a long time, whose bodies are weakened, who are old, who have been overpowered by old age, who have no protector, who are destitute, who are poor, who are ruined, who have gone astray into another land, who are going in the wrong direction, who are in prison, who are being punished, who are criminals, who are being led to execution, and who are afraid of losing their lives.

34. 37 ?Noble one, I am dedicated to using every method to heal all the illnesses of sick beings. I serve and attend those who are old, who are overpowered by old age. I collect the necessities for life for those who are without them. I am a protector for beings who have no protector. I gather a mass of wealth and gold for those who are destitute and poor. I gather what is needed for those who are ruined. I lead those who have gone astray in other lands back to their homelands. I take into the correct direction those who follow the wrong direction. [F.85.b] I free from prison those who are in prison. I free from the suffering of punishment those who are being punished. I save the lives of those who are criminals being led to execution.

34. 38 ?In my mind there arises this thought: ?May I protect and save these beings from these various kinds of fear and harm. Similarly, may I free them from all the kleshas through gathering a collection of the highest Dharmas. May I cause them to transcend birth, aging, illness, death, misery, wailing, suffering, unhappiness, and torment. May I liberate them from all fear of falling into the lower realms. May I bring them into the care of kalyanamitras. May I gather a collection of the gift of the precious Dharma. May I establish them in nontransgressive conduct. May I inspire them toward the pure body of the Tathagatas. May I establish them in the realization of the essence that is completely free of aging and death.?

34. 39 ?Noble one, through various methods I become the protector of those beings who follow wrong paths; who are attached to various dark views; who have the range of activity of incorrect concepts; who engage in dreadful physical, vocal, and mental conduct; who follow various kinds of discipline and asceticism; who view that which is not complete buddhahood as complete buddhahood; who are engaged in paining and tormenting their bodies; who bow down to, pay homage to, and place their trust in lakes, ponds, springs, reservoirs, rivers, precipitous mountains, the directions, and the intermediate directions; and who are under the power of bad companions. [F.86.a]

34. 40 ?I turn them away from evil views and all paths that lead to falling into the abyss of the lower realms. I establish them in the correct worldly view. I establish them in the good fortune of humans and devas.

34. 41 ?In my mind there arises this thought: ?May I liberate these beings from dreadful practices and suffering. Similarly, may I establish all beings in the noble, transcendent path of the perfections. May I cause them to progress irreversibly toward omniscience and through completely good great prayer bring them to omniscience. And may I never depart from the level of a Bodhisattva until all realms of beings have been guided.? ?1314

34. 42 At that time, Vasanti, the goddess of the night, in order to teach further the Bodhisattva liberation called the gateway to guiding beings through the radiance of the Dharma that eliminates the darkness of all beings, through the blessing of the Budas looked into the ten directions and then recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant?s son:

34. 43 ?I teach the Dharma so as to benefit beings,1315
In order to dispel the darkness of ignorance and stupidity.
I observe the time and bring happiness to beings.

This is my supreme way of liberation, of peace. {1}

34. 44 ?I have perfectly practiced vast love,1316
Meditating throughout limitless kalpas in the past.
In that way, I have filled the world with illumination.
Sudhana, know this way well. {2}1317

34. 45 ?My ocean of compassion is measureless.
Through it the jinas of the three times appear in the world. [F.86.b]

Through it the suffering of beings is quelled.

Sudhana, know this way well. {3}

34. 46 ?Creating worldly happiness

And noncomposite, higher bliss

Pleases, delights, and gladdens me.

Jinaputra, understand this way of mine. {4}

34. 47 ?Always turned away from composite faults

And the wisdom, liberation, and results of the Shravakas,

I purify the strengths of the Budas.

Jinaputra, understand this way of mine. {5}

34. 48 ?My eyesight is vast and completely pure.

With it I see many realms in the ten directions.

I see the self-originated ones in those realms

Seated under the lords of Bodhi trees. {6}

34. 49 ?I see the Budas and their assemblies,

The Budas? bodies beautified by signs,

Emanating multicolored beautiful light rays,

A multitude of light rays emanating from all their pores. {7}

34. 50 ?I see the beings within those realms

And their entrances into death and rebirth,

Those foolish ones who in those oceans of existences

Continue in samsara and experience the results of their actions. {8}

34. 51 ?Completely pure is the ocean of my hearing

In which are gathered all sounds without exception.

I hear and hold in my memory

The entire ocean of the languages in all worlds. {9}

34. 52 ?The speech beyond analogy or equal,

Adorned by all aspects of speech and all sounds,

The wheel that is turned by the jinas

I hear and hold in my memory. {10}

34. 53 ?My power of smell also is completely pure.

Jinaputra, understand this way that is

The entrance to dwelling in all liberations,

Without impediment, in the ocean of the ways of the Dharma. {11}

34. 54 ?My tongue is vast and extensive,

Subtle, red, and shining like a jewel.

Jinaputra, understand this way through which

I know the thoughts of beings. {12}

34. 55 ?My Dharma body is completely pure. [F.87.a]

I remain in its brilliance throughout the three times,¹³¹⁸

In a form of body in accordance with the wishes of beings,

Which they all see through the power of their faith. {13}

34. 56 ?My mind is without attachment, undefiled.

The sound of speech is like the roaring of the clouds.

Though all lords of humans are contained in it,

I have no conceptualization concerning that. {14}

34. 57 ?I know the ocean of the minds

Of the countless beings in the realms.

I know their faculties and aspirations,

But in this I have no conceptualization. {15}

34. 58 ?My miracles are vast and perfectly performed.

They are inconceivable and shake the realms.

Similarly, the light and power of my body

Subdue the beings who are difficult to subdue. {16}

34. 59 ?My merit is vast and completely pure,

An inexhaustible treasure completely displayed,

Through which offerings are made to the jinas

And all beings are sustained. {17}

34. 60 ?Vast and completely pure is my wisdom,

Through which I know an ocean of Dharma

And cut through the doubts of all beings.

Jinaputra, understand this way of mine. {18}

34. 61 ?Comprehending all three times,

I see and know an ocean of Budas

And comprehend their prayers.

This way is measureless and perfect. {19}1319

34. 62 ?I see an ocean of realms within all atoms

And their entry into the three times.

I see within them an ocean of Budas

And the level of their way that is present everywhere. {20}1320

34. 63 ?See how the enlightenment, the buddhahood, of Vairocana

Pervades the realms in all directions.

Within every atom, at the foot of a Bodhi tree,

He is speaking of the Dharma of peace.? {21}

34. 64 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, asked Vasanti, the goddess of the night, ?Goddess, how long has it been since you have been established in the highest, complete enlightenment? [F.87.b] How long has it been since you attained this liberation through which you have become established in accomplishing the benefit of beings in this way??

34. 65 Vasanti, the goddess of the night, answered, ?Noble one, beyond and even more beyond as many past kalpas as there are atoms in Sumeru, during a kalpa called Prashantaprabha, there was a world realm called Ratna shri-sambhava in which there appeared five thousand million Budas. Within that world realm there was a medium-sized four-continent world called Ratna candra pradipa prabha, the capital of which was called Padmaprabha. In that capital city there was King Sudharmatirtha, who was a cakravartin Dharma king who ruled over the four continents and possessed the seven jewels. He spread the Dharma over the mountains and seas of that great world up to its edges and made it happy. King Sudharmatirtha had a queen named Dharma mati candra. At dusk, intoxicated by desire and exhausted by bliss, she returned to the harem at midnight and went to sleep. To the east of the capital city of Padmaprabha there was a great forest called Shamatha shri-sambhava, in which appeared a Tathagata by the name of Sarva Dharma-nigarjita raja, whose body shone with the light of all kinds of jewels and was the miraculous manifestation of all the Budas. At the foot of a Bodhi tree, he attained the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood. Through the power of that, a great light of many colors filled the world realm of Ratna shri sambhava. In the capital city of Padmaprabha there was a goddess of the night called Suvishuddha candrabha. [F.88.a] She approached Dharma-mati candra, the king?s queen, woke her with the sound of rattling her jewelry, and said to her, ?Know this, queen of the king! The Tathagata Sarva-Dharma nigarjita raja has attained the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood in the great forest Shamatha shri sambhava.? Then, in front of the king?s queen she praised the qualities of the Buda and described at length the miraculous manifestations of the Budas and the completely good conduct and prayer of the Bodhisattvas.

34. 66 ?Noble one, the king?s queen was illuminated by the light from that Tathagata, and she sincerely entered into the path to the highest, complete enlightenment. She made offerings to that Tathagata and his sangha of Bodhisattvas and Shravakas.

34. 67 ?What do you think, noble one? At that time, in that time, who was that king?s queen, Dharma mati candra? Do not think that it was anyone else, for at that time, in that time, I was the king?s queen, Dharma mati candra.

34. 68 ?Noble one, under that Tathagata I developed the motivation of aspiration and created roots of merit so that for kalpas as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru I never fell into rebirth in the lower realms. I was never reborn as a denizen of hell, as an animal, or as a preta. I was never reborn in an inferior family. I was never reborn as someone without sensory faculties. I was never someone who suffered. I always attained the state of a great deity among deities, [F.88.b] and a great human among humans. In this way, I was never apart from Budas and Bodhisattva kalyanamitras. I was never reborn in a bad time.

34. 69 ?Noble one, in that way, I created roots of merit under one Buda after another, and for as many kalpas as there are atoms in Sumeru, I traveled on easy and level paths without any impediment, but I had not yet accomplished the powers of a Bodhisattva. When those kalpas as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru had passed, ten thousand great kalpas before this Bhadra kalpa, at the time of the first of those kalpas, which was called Ashokaviraja, there was a world realm called Rajovimala tejahshri.

34. 70 ?Noble one, that world realm Rajovimala tejahshri was completely pure of the kleshas, and five hundred Budas appeared within it. The first of those five hundred Budas was a Tathagata, an arhat, a samyak sambuddha, one with wisdom and conduct, a sugata, one who knows the world's beings, an unsurpassable guide who tames beings, a teacher of devas and humans, a Buda, a bhagavat, who was named Sumeru dhvajayatana shanta netra shri. At that time, I was Prajnavabhasa shri, the daughter of the head merchant Vighushtakirti. I was beautiful and attractive, a delight to see, with a very beautiful, perfect complexion.¹³²¹

34. 71 ?The goddess of the night called Suvishuddha candrabha, through the power of her prayers, had become the goddess of the night called Vishuddha-netrabha in Vicitra dhvaja, the capital of the four-continent world realm named Virajovati. At night, while I was not yet asleep and my parents were asleep, [F.89.a] she shook our house, illuminated it with a great light, revealed her own form to me, and praised the qualities of the Budas. She revealed the Tathagata residing at the bodhimanda seven days after he had attained buddhahood.

34. 72 ?Then, accompanied by my parents and a great crowd of my family, and preceded by Vishuddha netrabha, the goddess of the night, I went into the presence of that Tathagata. I then made vast offerings to the Tathagata, and as soon as I saw the Tathagata's face, I attained the samadhi called guiding beings and seeing the Buda's face and the samadhi called the domain illuminated by the wisdom of the range of the three times. Through attaining them I remembered as many kalpas as there are atoms in Sumeru. My aspiration to enlightenment manifested. In that way, I heard the Dharma from that Tathagata, and I attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the gateway to guiding beings through the radiance of the Dharma that eliminates the darkness of all beings. Through attaining that, I pervaded with my body as many worlds as there are atoms in ten Buda realms, and there appeared to my sight all the Budas who were present in those worlds, and I knew that I was present at the feet of all of them. All of the beings who had been born in those world realms appeared to my sight, and I knew all the symbols of their different languages. I knew their minds, thoughts, faculties, and aspirations. [F.89.b] I knew the past kalyanamitras in whose presence they were ripened. I manifested to them the bodies that satisfied them according to their aspirations. That liberation of mine increased with each instant of the mind. Through the instant of mind that followed that instant of mind of liberation, my body pervaded as many Buda realms as there are atoms in a hundred world realms. Through the next instant of mind, my body pervaded as many Buda realms as there are atoms in a thousand world realms. Through the next instant of mind, my body pervaded as many Buda realms as there are atoms in a hundred thousand world realms, and so on, up to my body pervading, in each instant of mind, as many Buda realms as there are atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya of world realms. There appeared to my sight all the Budas that were present in those worlds, and I knew that I was present at the feet of all of them. I obtained all the Dharma that was taught by those Buda bhagavats. I possessed it, kept it, preserved it. I comprehended the past ocean of ways and ocean of prayers of those Tathagatas. All those Buda realms purified by those Tathagatas were created in order to purify their own Buda realms. All of the beings who had been born in those world realms appeared to my sight. I blessed my body in order to ripen and guide all of their different minds, thoughts, faculties, and aspirations. [F.90.a]

34. 73 ?Thus, the way in which my liberation pervaded the entire extent of the realm of phenomena increased with each instant of mind.

34. 74 ?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the gateway to guiding beings through the radiance of the Dharma that eliminates the darkness of all beings. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who have arisen from the completely good Bodhisattva conduct and prayers that have no middle or edge; who have the power to enter the entire extent of the ways of the ocean of the realm of phenomena; who play in the samadhi called the glorious vajra of wisdom, which is attained by Bodhisattvas who have arisen from the great prayers to be in the care of all the families of Tathagatas in all world realms; who have accomplished a great ocean of merit that purified in an instant of mind the vast extent of world realms; who in each instant of mind ripen all the realms of beings; who have the eyes of the sun of wisdom that dispels all the darkness of the obscurations of all beings in all the world realms that are under the power of their guiding wisdom; who have the power to communicate the Mahayana to all the realms of beings; who possess the moon of intelligence that dispels the darkness of doubt, uncertainty, and equivocation within all beings; who have the pure domain of speech that lifts beings from attachment to the entire ocean of existence; who have the power to manifest emanations in the atoms throughout the entire realm of phenomena; [F.90.b] and who are inseparable from the domain of the knowledge of the entire range of the three times?

34. 75 ?Depart, noble one. At the bodhimanda in this land of Magadha there is the goddess of the night called Samanta gambhira shri vimala prabha, whom I have inspired again and again to develop the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. Go to her and ask her, "How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?"

34. 76 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, praised the night goddess Vasanti with these verses:

34. 77 "I see the purity of your body

Adorned by signs, like Meru,

Superior to all worlds; within the world

You have a perfect body as beautiful as Manjushri's. {22}

34. 78 "Your Dharma body is completely pure,

The same in all three times, without conceptualization.

Every world without exception is contained within it

Without creation, destruction, or abiding. {23}

34. 79 "I see the image of your body dispersed

Throughout the whole extent of existences,

And I see within the pores of your body

The constellations of stars with the moon and planets. {24}

34. 80 "Your mind also is completely pure,

Pervading the realm of space in all directions.

Even the supreme among humans are all included within it.

You possess the supreme wisdom free of concepts. {25}

34. 81 "Multicolored clouds as numerous as the atoms in a realm

Arise out of all the pores of your body, [F.91.a]

Spread to the Buddhas in the ten directions,

And send down a rainfall of all adornments. {26}

34. 82 "The endless number of the bodies as numerous as beings

Arise out of the pores of your body.

They pervade and fill the worlds in the ten directions

And purify beings through various methods. {27}1323

34. 83 ?I see an inconceivable number of realms

With various different displays in all your pores.

They appear in accordance with all the aspirations

Of those you purify in the various existences of beings. {28}

34. 84 ?Whoever rejoices on hearing your name

Will easily attain their goals and live well.

Whatever being sees your body

Will be facing the path to enlightenment. {29}

34. 85 ?Merely seeing you causes the kleshas to cease

In one who rejoices on hearing your name.

I would endure countless kalpas in the lower realms

So that I could see your face. {30}

34. 86 ?If I were to create as many bodies as there are atoms in a thousand realms,

And for the duration of that same number of kalpas

They were to describe the qualities of just one of your pores,

They would never be able to reach the end of that description.? {31}

34. 87 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the night goddess Vasanti, circumambulated the night goddess Vasanti many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again with unfulfilled longing, departed from the night goddess

Vasanti. [B6] [F.91.b]

35. Chapter 35

SAMANTA GAMBHIRA ShRI VIMALA PRABHA

35. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, contemplating the night goddess

Vasanti's first entry into the pure domain of aspiration to enlightenment, analyzing the arising of the essence of a Bodhisattva, comprehending the ocean of Bodhisattva prayer, purifying the Bodhisattva path of perfections, overcoming the domain of the Bodhisattva levels, augmenting the domain of Bodhisattva conduct, following an ocean of the setting-forth of Bodhisattvas, looking at the ocean of the great illumination of omniscience, increasing the Bodhisattva clouds of great compassion intent on saving all beings, and attaining the blessing of the completely good Bodhisattva conduct and prayer of the night goddess Vasanti that extends to the limits of all realms, went to the location of the night goddess Samanta gambhira shri-vimala prabha. Having reached her, he bowed his head to the feet of the night goddess Samanta gambhira shri vimala prabha, circumambulated the night goddess Samanta gambhira shri vimala prabha many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and then stood before her and, with palms together, said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. However, I do not know how a Bodhisattva practices on the level of a Bodhisattva, how a Bodhisattva sets forth, how a Bodhisattva accomplishes." [F.92.a]1324

35. 2 She answered, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment and that you ask how to practice, set forth, and accomplish on the level of a Bodhisattva. It is through possessing ten qualities that Bodhisattvas accomplish Bodhisattva conduct. What are these ten? They are (1) the pure attainment of the samadhi that directly perceives all the Tathagatas; (2) the pure eyesight that sees the bodies, endowed with the various signs, of all the Buddhas; (3) realizing the perception of the centerless, endless ocean of the colors of the Tathagatas; (4) comprehending the extent of the entire realm of phenomena and the measureless ocean of the domain of the radiant qualities of the Budas; (5) comprehending the ocean of light rays from the pores of all the Tathagatas that are as numerous as all beings and radiate to benefit the variety of beings; (6) seeing an ocean of light rays, the colors of all jewels, coming from each pore; (7) comprehending the ocean of emanations of the Budas that in each instant of mind pervade the entire realm of phenomena and give the blessing that guides beings; (8) comprehending the domain of thunder from the clouds of all the sutras through possessing the speech of the Tathagatas, which has the aspects of the voices of all beings, and the sound of the wheel of the Dharma appearing in the three times; (9) comprehending the centerless and endless ocean of the signs of the Budas; and (10) comprehending the guiding of beings through the manifestation of the inconceivable emanations of the Budas.

35. 3 ?Noble one, the Bodhisattvas who possess these ten qualities [F.92.b] accomplish Bodhisattva conduct.

35. 4 ?Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called complete subjugation through the bliss of the peace of shamatha.

35. 5 ?Noble one, through its power I see all the Tathagatas who are in the three times, and I perceive the completely pure Buda realms of those Tathagatas.

I perceive the ocean of their assemblies of followers, the ocean of their centerless and endless miraculous manifestations from samadhi, the ocean of their past practices, and the ocean of their names. I also perceive each separate turning of the wheel of the Dharma by those Tathagatas. I perceive the various lifespans and different aspects of voice of those Tathagatas and the bodies of those Tathagatas who have the nature of the centerless and limitless realm of phenomena.

35. 6 ?Those Tathagatas are not attached to things as being existent. Why is that? Those Tathagatas do not go because of their cessation of going through all worlds. Those Tathagatas do not arrive because their nature has no arising. Those Tathagatas are unborn because they have a body that is the same as the birthless true nature. Those Tathagatas are unceasing because they have the characteristic of birthlessness. Those Tathagatas are not true because of perceiving and seeing phenomena to be illusions. Those Tathagatas are not false because there arises benefit for all beings. Those Tathagatas do not pass away because they have transcended death, passing, and birth. [F.93.a] Those Tathagatas are not destroyed because the indestructible true nature is the nature of phenomena. All those Tathagatas have a single characteristic because of their transcendence of all paths of speech. Those Tathagatas do not have characteristics because they are the termination of the nature of the characteristics of phenomena.¹³²⁵

35. 7 ?Noble one, I perceive all Tathagatas in that way, and through the radiance of the Tathagatas? domain of dhyana, I increase this Bodhisattva liberation called complete subjugation through the bliss of the peace of shamatha; I make it vast, perceive it, realize it, make it even, accomplish it, make it level, enter it, augment it, contemplate it, reflect upon it, am mindful of it, make it my field of practice, make it firm, illuminate it, explain it, divide it, categorize it, unite it, and have conviction in it.

35. 8 ?I meditate on the first dhyana in order to remain in that great compassion in which there is no movement of any thought and in order to have a single-pointed mind for engaging in saving all beings.

35. 9 ?I meditate on the second dhyana in order to pacify all mental activity and, through the strength and power of wisdom, to have a one-pointed mind with joy of bliss in gathering all beings.

35. 10 ?I meditate on the third dhyana in order to have equanimity toward the distress of samsara and to realize the nature of all beings. [F.93.b]1326

35. 11 ?I meditate on the fourth dhyana in order to bring an end to the kleshas and suffering of all beings.

35. 12 ?I purify the way of the wisdom that enters the realm of phenomena through every gateway and thus meditate on this Bodhisattva liberation called complete subjugation through the bliss of the peace of shamatha in order to increase the domain of aspiration for omniscience, to become skilled in the accomplishment of an ocean of samadhis, to realize the ways of the ocean of all Bodhisattva liberations, and to have the higher cognition of all the wisdoms displayed by Bodhisattvas.1327

35. 13 ?Noble one, in that way I meditate on this liberation and ripen beings through various methods: I instill in the beings who enjoy carnal pleasure in the peace of the night the perception of it as ugliness, the perception of it as lack of pleasure, the perception of it as wearying, the perception of it as an obstacle, the perception of it as bondage, the perception of it as a rakshasi, the perception of impermanence, the perception of suffering, the perception of no self, the perception of no ownership, the perception of dependence on others, the perception of aging and death, and the perception of a lack of joy in all indulgence in desires. When those beings meditate on that state of mind, they will take no delight in any indulgence in carnal pleasure and will instead aspire to enjoy the delights of the Dharma and leave home for homelessness. When they dwell in solitude, [F.94.a] I instill in them the faith that accords with the Dharma. I cause all loud, frightening, unpleasant sounds to cease, and in the peace of the night I teach the profound Dharma of the Budas.1328

35. 14 ?I gather the conditions necessary for renunciation. I open the door of the house for their departure. I show them the path. I illuminate it. I dispel the darkness. I free them from fear. I praise departure from home. I describe the qualities of buddhahood. I explain the excellence of the Dharma, the excellence of the sangha, and the excellence of the kalyanamitra. I praise going to a kalyanamitra.1329

35. 15 ?Noble one, meditating on this liberation, I eliminate in beings the passion and desire for what is not Dharma, and thoughts of desire for what is not Dharma. I dispel the thoughts and notions of those overpowered by inappropriate desires, and those whose conduct comes from wrong thoughts.

35. 16 ?I create the conditions for those who have not developed evil thoughts and bad qualities to not develop them, and for those who think evil thoughts to eliminate them.

35. 17 ?I create in various ways the supporting conditions for those who have virtuous thoughts, who practice the perfections, who are engaged in good conduct, who are engaged in accomplishing prayers for the arising of omniscient wisdom, who are engaged in the ways of love, who are pervaded by great compassion for beings, who are engaged in creating the various kinds of happiness of devas and humans, and who have given rise to such thoughts, [F.94.b] and I create the conditions that support omniscience.

35. 18 ?Noble one, I know only the Bodhisattva liberation called complete subjugation through the bliss of the peace of shamatha. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who have arisen through completely good Bodhisattva conduct and prayers, who have attained the wisdom of the infinite realm of phenomena, who have minds that increase all roots of merit, who have attained illumination of their minds through the power of the wisdom of all the Tathagatas, who have minds that maintain the same scope as that of all the Tathagatas, whose minds are unobscured in all situations, whose minds have perfected the aspiration for omniscience, whose minds perceive the entire ocean of realms, whose minds are focused on the vision of the entire ocean of Buddhas, whose minds have received the clouds of the Dharma of all the Tathagatas, who dispel the darkness of ignorance of all beings, and who have minds that have given rise to the illumination of omniscience through the path of the final cessation of delight in and craving for samsara?

35. 19 ?Depart, noble one. Here, not far from me, to the south of Vairocana's bodhimanda, there is the goddess of the night named Pramudita nayana-jagad virocana. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

35. 20 Then at that time, the night goddess Samanta gambhira shri vimala prabha, [F.95.a] in order to emphasize and teach this Bodhisattva liberation called complete subjugation through the bliss of the peace of shamatha, recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant's son:

35. 21 ?Those with a mind that aspires to be in the presence
Of the sugatas that appear in the three times¹³³⁰
Will have a vast and pure eyesight
And will see an ocean of the Buddhas. {1}

35. 22 ?See the bright, stainless body of the Jina Beautifully adorned by the signs of a great being!

See the Jina's miraculous manifestations

That in an instant fill the realm of phenomena! {2}

35. 23 ?The Sugata, the perfect Buda, Vairocana

Is upon the Buda throne under the Bodhi tree.

He pervades the vast realm of phenomena,

Turning the wheel in accordance with the aspirations of beings. {3}

35. 24 ?The Jina has realized the true nature, which is bodiless,

Complete peace, nondual, with no own nature.

His physical body, beautiful and adorned by signs,

Pervades and teaches in every world without exception. {4}

35. 25 ?The Buda's body is inconceivably vast.

It fills the entirety of the realm of phenomena.

It appears equally everywhere,

Revealing all the jinas everywhere. {5}

35. 26 ?Bodies of the Buda, with halos of light,

As numerous as the atoms in all realms,

Their beautiful color appearing here and there,

Fill the realm of phenomena in every instant. {6}

35. 27 ?Clouds of light rays appear from the Jina's pores.

They are vast, inconceivable, and unending.

They fill every world without exception

And dispel the torment of the kleshas in beings. {7}

35. 28 ?The Buda's inexhaustible ocean of emanations

Appear from the circles of the Jina's pores [F.95.b]

And spread and fill the vast realm of phenomena,

Dispelling the suffering of beings in the lower realms. {8}

35. 29 ?The sound of the Buda?s voice resounds

With the light of an ocean of aspects of speech,

Sending down a great rain of the Dharma,

Causing the aspiration to enlightenment to grow in beings. {9}

35. 30 ?He has in the past taken care of those Practicing Bodhisattva conduct during an ocean of kalpas.

They have all seen in all the worlds

The characteristics of the visual form of the Jina Vairocana. {10}

35. 31 ?The Tathagata has appeared in all worlds

In the presence of each and every being

With this and that conduct according to their aspirations,

And those are beyond my ability to know. {11}

35. 32 ?All the perfect Bodhisattvas without exception

Have appeared from a single pore of the Sugata.

That liberation is inconceivable

And is beyond my ability to know. {12}

35. 33 ?This goddess who is nearby to me

Delights in the presence of the Lord of the World.

Her name is Jyotirarci nayana.

Ask her, what is the practice for enlightenment!? {13}

35. 34 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the night goddess Samanta gambhira shri vimala prabha, circumambulated the night goddess Samanta gambhira shri vimala prabha many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the night goddess Samanta gambhira shri vimala prabha.

36. Chapter 36

36. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, was blessed by the instruction of the kalyanamitra; his mind practiced the words of the kalyanamitra; his mind had the perception of the kalyanamitra as a physician and himself as a patient; [F.96.a] his mind was contented by focusing on the vision of the kalyanamitra; his mind had obtained the opportunity to disperse the mountain of obscurations to the vision of the kalyanamitra; his mind had attained, through seeing the kalyanamitra, entry into the ocean of the ways of the great compassion that saves all the realms of beings; his mind had attained, through seeing the kalyanamitra, the illumination by wisdom of the ocean of the ways of the realm of phenomena.

Thus, he approached the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana.

36. 2 The night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana, in order to further increase the ripening of his accumulation of the roots of merit through approaching a kalyanamitra, blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as arising from a great accumulation, blessed going to a kalyanamitra as great prowess, blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as diligence in actions that is difficult to realize, blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as reliance throughout a long time, blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as going into centerless and limitless directions, blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as the source for dwelling together for a long time, blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as the source of perceiving infinite tasks being completed, blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as the prowess of an accumulation of centerless and limitless displays of the path, blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as prowess through every gateway, [F.96.b] and blessed approaching a kalyanamitra as the prowess of undeviating arrival.¹³³¹

36. 3 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, approached the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana in this way: approaching a kalyanamitra with diligent dedication in the accumulation of omniscience; approaching a kalyanamitra with the prowess of accomplishing an ocean of great prayers; approaching a kalyanamitra with the resolve to undergo suffering for the sake of a single being until the conclusion of the last future kalpa; approaching a kalyanamitra with the prowess of remaining for a long time within a single atom, emitting sound throughout the entire realm of phenomena while wearing the armor of diligence; approaching a kalyanamitra while moving at great speed through the entire extent of the ocean of directions; approaching a kalyanamitra while maintaining all Bodhisattva conduct of future kalpas in a single pore of the body; approaching a kalyanamitra with the attainment of Bodhisattva conduct and in each instant of mind dwelling in omniscient wisdom; approaching a kalyanamitra while intent on following the path and the display of miracles of the Tathagatas of the three times; approaching a kalyanamitra while following the path of entering the stream of all the ways of the realm of phenomena; and approaching a kalyanamitra without deviating from being focused on all the ways of the realm of phenomena and pervading the entire realm of phenomena. [F.97.a]1332 1333

36. 4 He saw the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana seated on a flower in the center of a lion throne within the circle of the assembly of the Bhagavat, resting in the Bodhisattva samadhi called the banner of the power of vast, stainless, completely good joy.

36. 5 He saw emanating from all her pores clouds of manifestations of the practice of the perfections, such as generosity, which delighted all beings, which brought pleasure to all beings, and which were various kinds of beauty for all beings.

36. 6 They were like this: he saw clouds of manifestations of the practice of generosity in accord with the aspirations, perceptions, and languages of all beings, in order to benefit beings without causing discord, in order for there to be no concern for all material things, in order to give equally to all beings, in order for there to be impartiality toward all beings, in order to give respectfully to all beings, in order to give all inner and outer things, in order to manifest the generosity that is difficult, and in order to manifest in all worlds the practice of generosity according to the wishes of beings.¹³³⁴

36. 7 He saw clouds of manifestations of the countless difficult acts of generosity by the Bodhisattvas that appear in the three times, [F.97.b] which being emanated were perceived by all beings within the vast extent of the worlds in the ten directions.

36. 8 It was like this: because of her attainment of the inconceivable miraculous powers of the might of Bodhisattvas, he saw, issuing forth from all her pores, clouds of emanated bodies of various beings, equal in number to that of all beings, which spread throughout all beings within all world realms, demonstrating directly to them the unwavering commitment to vows of discipline; demonstrating throughout the realms of beings the field of the various vows of discipline of asceticism; demonstrating nondependence on all worlds, no concern for all fields of perception, and the rejection of all locations in samsara; demonstrating entering the gateway to the decline of the good fortune of devas and humans; demonstrating the field of unattractiveness; dispelling the incorrect perception of attractiveness in the world; revealing the nature of phenomena to be impermanence, instability,

36. 10 He saw, issuing forth from all her pores, clouds of emanated bodies of various colors, shapes, and sizes, equal in number to that of all beings, which spread everywhere in accordance with the aspirations of beings, teaching exertion in diligence for the great accumulation of omniscience; [F.98.b] the diligence that puts to flight all discord from the maras; the diligence that is constant and unwavering in undertaking the attainment of enlightenment; the diligence for rescuing all beings from the ocean of samsara; the diligence that turns beings away from all the paths that lead to unfortunate existences, calamitous existences, terrible existences, and downfalls; the diligence for shattering to pieces the mountain of ignorance; the diligence that never wearies in serving and making offerings to all the Tathagatas; the diligence for receiving and holding the Dharma wheel of all the Budas; the diligence for shattering and scattering the mountain of all obscurations; the diligence that never wearies of ripening and guiding all beings; and the diligence for purifying all Buda realms and teaching the pure, unsurpassable diligence of the Tathagatas, and he saw them ripening beings.

unhappiness; caused the attainment of faultless minds; made minds skillful; purified thoughts; clarified the senses; brought physical bliss; magnified the power of delight in the Dharma; and thus ripened beings.1340

36. 12 He saw, issuing forth from all her pores, clouds of various bodies resembling all bodies that appear, in order to appear in accordance with the wishes of all beings within all realms, demonstrating unwearyingly going into the presence of kalyanamitras; demonstrating unwearying service and attendance to acaryas, gurus, and kalyanamitras; demonstrating the diligence that never wearies of receiving and holding the turning of the Dharma wheel of all the Tathagatas; describing the way of comprehending the ocean of all the Budas; [F.99.b] contemplating the ocean of all Dharma entrances; explaining the characteristics, natures, and ways of all Dharmas; teaching the entrances into the samadhis of all Dharmas; teaching the range of wisdom that dispels the ocean of questions and doubts of all beings; teaching the vajra of wisdom that destroys the mountains of wrong views of all beings; teaching, with every instant of mind, the rising of the disk of the sun of wisdom that dispels the darkness of the ignorance of all beings; and ripening beings by bringing happiness to all beings.1342

36. 13 He saw, issuing forth from all her pores, clouds of emanations of many bodies of inconceivable colors and shapes, equal to those of all beings, becoming present before all beings in accordance with their motivations and aspirations, and teaching, giving instructions by having mastered various languages, the knowledge of what is meritorious in the world and what is not meritorious. He saw the worldly deeds that should be accomplished,¹³⁴⁷ the description of the origin of all three realms, the explanation of the direction that leads to leaving all three realms, the teaching of the direction that leads to leaving the unendurable misery of wrong views, and thereby the teaching of the unique path to omniscience, the teaching of the transcending of the path of the Shravaka and pratyeka Buda levels, the teaching of being unstained by anger or love toward those who show respect and those who disrespect, the teaching of nonengagement with the gateways to either samsara or nirvana, the teaching of the unceasing successive passage from one place to another such as the Tushita paradise, [F.100.a] the teaching of the unceasing succession of going to the bodhimanda and attaining complete buddhahood, and the ripening of beings for omniscience.¹³⁴⁸

36. 14 He saw, issuing forth from all her pores, clouds of emanated bodies as numerous as the atoms in all Buda realms and visibly present in all worlds of beings. They were describing the completely good Bodhisattva conduct and prayer; describing the special prayer for the perfect purification of the entire realm of phenomena; describing the purification of the entire ocean of world realms in each instant of mind; describing continuous service and offering to all the Tathagatas; teaching the continuous entry into the ocean of all the ways of the Dharma in each instant of mind; describing the continuous entry into the ocean of the ways of the realm of phenomena, which are as numerous as the atoms in the entire ocean of world realms, in kalpas with unwearying Bodhisattva conduct; teaching the Bodhisattva strength that brings happiness to all beings by shuddering and shaking all Buda realms; teaching the Bodhisattva strength that defeats all the hosts of maras and adversaries; and elucidating in the world the great strength of the wisdom of turning the Dharma wheel and thus ripening all beings for omniscience. [F.101.a]

36. 16 He saw, issuing forth from all her pores, clouds of emanated bodies, as numerous as the minds of all beings, which spread throughout the infinite realms of beings in the ten directions, teaching in accordance with the motivations and aspirations of beings the prowess of Bodhisattva conduct and wisdom; teaching the wisdom that comprehends the ocean of all the realms of beings; teaching the wisdom that comprehends the ocean of the minds of all beings; teaching the wisdom that knows the ocean of the faculties of all beings; teaching the wisdom that comprehends the ocean of the conducts of all beings; teaching the wisdom that always knows the time for ripening and guiding all beings; teaching the wisdom that resounds throughout the entire realm of phenomena; teaching the wisdom that pervades everywhere, in each instant of mind, the ocean of all the ways of knowing the entire realm of phenomena; teaching the knowledge of the formation and destruction of the ocean of all world realms; teaching the knowledge of the basis, shape, and arrayed displays of all world realms; and teaching the knowledge of emanating offerings to all the Tathagatas, going into their presence, making offerings, rendering service, and possessing clouds of Dharma wheels. And by teaching in that way the practice of the perfection of knowledge, they were bringing happiness to beings, making their minds clear, creating joy, increasing aspiration, dispelling unhappiness, purifying the mind, [F.101.b] creating a faultless mind, clarifying the senses, creating the power of aspiration, and causing irreversible progress toward omniscience.¹³⁵²

36. 17 In the same way that he saw beings being ripened in worlds through the teaching of the practice of the perfections, he saw the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana proclaiming all the Bodhisattva Dharmas:

the initial accumulation of developed motivation; the methods for serving and venerating kalyanamitras; approaching the feet of Tathagatas and making offerings to them and attending them; every method for practicing good qualities; making the most difficult of gifts through the practice of the perfection of generosity; the methods for training in the perfection of correct conduct; all the methods for giving up the great power of kingship, retinues, and great power over enjoyments and becoming a renunciate; all the accomplishments of patience in the domain of vows of discipline and great asceticism that are difficult to undertake in this world; all resolute engagement in the Bodhisattva vows of discipline; the ocean of the qualities of firm Bodhisattva commitments; the endurance of the bad actions, bad speech, and bad thoughts of all realms of beings; the endurance of harm to the body and the mind; the patience of the nonperishing nature of the Dharma; the patience of belief in all Dharmas; [F.102.a] the patience of realizing the nature of the Dharma; the diligence for engaging in undertaking omniscience; the diligence for accomplishing all the qualities of buddhahood; the practice of the perfection of diligence; the accumulation of the perfection of meditation; dedication to the perfection of meditation; the pure practices that accomplish the perfection of meditation; the miraculous powers from the attainment of Bodhisattva samadhis; the entry through an ocean of samadhi gateways; the practices of the perfection of meditation; the accumulation of the perfection of wisdom; the ways of purifying the sun disk of great Bodhisattva wisdom; the ways of accumulating the clouds of great wisdom; the accumulations of the great treasure of wisdom; the ways of analyzing the great ocean of wisdom; dedication to purification and skill in great methods; the bodies from the perfection of great Bodhisattva

36. 35 In the same way, he saw clouds of Bodhisattva bodies with various kinds of Bodhisattva speech and clouds of emanated Tathagatas, with the ways of the aspects of voice of the different kinds of speech of each Tathagata and describing to all beings the range of the liberation of the night goddess

Pramudita nayana jagad virocana, including the first occurrence of developing the aspiration to enlightenment and the accumulation of accomplishments.

[F.106.b]1373

36. 36 He saw that each of those clouds of emanated forms purified, in each instant of mind, an anabhilapyanabhilapya of Buda realms in the world realms in the ten directions.

36. 37 He saw them liberating an infinite ocean of beings from all the sufferings of the lower realms.1374

He saw them establishing realms of beings, without limit or center, in the good fortune of devas and humans.1375

36. 38 He saw them freeing an ocean of beings, without limit or center, from the ocean of samsara.

He saw them establishing an ocean of beings without limit or center on the Shravaka and pratyeka Buda levels.

36. 39 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, saw them bringing, in each instant of mind, an ocean of beings, without limit or center, to the level of the ten strengths.

36. 40 He heard them, contemplated them, scrutinized them, comprehended them, understood them, knew them, followed them, fathomed them, and was resolved as to their equality.

36. 41 This was because of the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana's having become an appropriate vessel for the completely good Bodhisattva conduct, her supremacy through the miracles of the Bodhisattva liberation called the vast banner of inconceivable, completely good joy, her corresponding practice in the past, her being blessed by the blessings of the Tathagatas, and the ripening of her countless roots of merit.1376

36. 42 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, who had attained the illumination of an ocean of the power of great Bodhisattva joy, who had been blessed by all the Tathagatas in the ten directions, [F.107.a] placed his hands together in homage and praised the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad-virocana with these appropriate verses:

36. 43 ?The Dharma of the jinas is profound.1377

You trained in it for countless kalpas.

In successive forms that accord with dispositions,

You pervade all beings and appear in worlds. {1}

36. 44 ?Knowing that they have no self and no protector,

Have incorrect conceptions, and are continually deluded,

You guide beings by manifesting bodies and powers

Through various kinds of miracles. {2}

36. 45 ?Completely free from fevers, in perfect peace,

You have a pure, nondual Dharma body.

You guide through the thunder of clouds of emanations

All beings, without exception, who are dependent on duality. {3}

36. 46 ?You are never dependent, never reliant

On the skandhas, ayatanas, and dhatus.

You have a perfect form with all limbs complete,

And you guide with your roar of supremacy. {4}

36. 47 ?You are liberated internally and externally.

You have risen above the ocean of duality,

Yet you manifest illusory forms for beings

In the infinite ocean of samsara. {5}

36. 48 ?You do not vacillate.

You are not complicated by pride or hurry.

You teach the nature of phenomena

And guide the fools in the world who delight in complication. {6}

36. 49 ?Through remaining in an ocean of samadhis,

Your mind is one-pointed for many kalpas,

Yet you emit clouds of emanations from your pores

So as to make offerings to the sugatas in the ten directions. {7}

36. 50 ?In every single instant of mind, you comprehend

The ways of entering into the strengths of the Budas.

According to individual circumstances, you manifest

The undertakings that will gather beings around you. {8} [F.107.b]1378

36. 51 ?You see the oceans of existence

And the various forms painted by karma.

You purify all beings by showing them

The unobscured path of the Dharma. {9}

36. 52 ?Your body is beautified by the signs of a great being,

But through the pure, perfectly good conduct,

You manifest in the world the form of a goddess

In accordance with the dispositions of beings.? {10}

36. 53 Having praised the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana with those verses, Sudhana asked, ?Goddess, how long has it been since you entered into attaining the highest, complete enlightenment? Goddess, how long has it been since you attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of the power of vast, stainless, completely good joy??

36. 54 The night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant's son:

36. 55 ?I remember, in the past, as many kalpas ago

As there are atoms in a realm,

There was the realm Mani prabha sukhabha

In a kalpa called Prashantaghosha. {11}

36. 56 ?It was filled with ten thousand quintillion¹³⁷⁹

Four-continent world realms.

The central four-continent world, beautifully formed,

Resembled a measureless mountain of jewels. {12}

36. 57 ?It was filled by the king's cities

Numbering ten thousand quintillion.¹³⁸⁰

The beautiful central royal city,

Gandhadhvaja, shone with jewels. {13}¹³⁸¹

36. 58 ?There a lord of the directions, sovereign of the land,

A cakravartin with a handsome body, appeared.

He had the thirty-two signs of a great being,

And the features of a great being also adorned his body. {14}

36. 59 ?He was miraculously born from inside a lotus.

His body was golden and shone with light. [F.108.a]

He moved through the sky and filled with light

The entirety of Jambudhvaja. {15}

36. 60 ?He had a full thousand sons,

All of whom had bodies with excellent limbs.

He had many millions of ministers

Who were wise, intelligent, learned, and honest. {16}

36. 61 ?He had a full hundred million queens

Who resembled apsaras, were skilled in the art of pleasure,
And with loving minds, caring minds,1382
Affectionately attended that king. {17}

36. 62 ?That king, through the power of the Dharma, Caused that great land, the entirety of the four continents
As far as the Cakravala mountain range,1383
To remain in a state of good fortune. {18}

36. 63 ?I was that cakravartin?s principal queen.1384
I had the voice of Brahma and a bejeweled body,1385
With a bright halo the color of gold
That illuminated for a thousand yojanas. {19}

36. 64 ?After the sun had set
And the king and his sons were asleep
And the sound of music had ceased,
I slept comfortably on my bed. {20}

36. 65 ?In the middle of the night,
The Buda Shrisamudra appeared.
The Jina manifested limitless miracles1386
That spread throughout the ten directions. {21}

36. 66 ?That ocean of the Jina?s light
Spread through worlds as numerous a realm?s atoms.
Various kinds of emanated bodies
Filled all ten directions without exception. {22}

36. 67 ?The earth and its mountains shook,
And a voice proclaimed, ?A jina has come!
Devas, asuras, humans, and Nagas

Were all delighted that a Buda had appeared. {23}

36. 68 ?Many oceans of emanations appeared

From all the pores of the Buda.

They spread throughout the ten directions

And taught the Dharma in accordance with the aspirations of beings. {24}

36. 69 ?The Jina revealed to me in a dream

All those limitless miraculous manifestations. [F.108.b]

When I heard the profound thunderous sound,

I understood its meaning and was delighted. {25}

36. 70 ?Ten thousand night goddesses¹³⁸⁷

Residing in the sky above me

Spoke to me, waking me from sleep,

Praising the excellence of the Jina. {26}

36. 71 ? ?Arise, wise queen of His Majesty,

A jina has appeared in your kingdom.

This kind of good fortune is difficult to find¹³⁸⁸

Even in a hundred oceans of kalpas.? {27}

36. 72 ?I awoke with happiness

And saw the clear, pure light.

I looked to see where this good light came from

And saw the Jina at the foot of the Bodhi tree. {28}

36. 73 ?He was adorned by the thirty-two signs of a great being,

And an ocean of light rays shone from all his pores.

Just like Sumeru he was above all,

And the Jina was the same on the right and the left. {29}

36. 74 ?When I saw him I was overjoyed,

And in my mind rose the aspiration to be like him.

Having seen the manifestations of the Buda,

I made a very vast prayer. {30}

36. 75 ?I requested the king to arise,

And his court and his wives also got up.

When they saw the vast light from the Buda,

They all experienced physical pleasure. {31}

36. 76 ?I proceeded to the presence of the Jina

Together with the king and his armed forces

And accompanied by ten million carriages¹³⁸⁹

And many quintillions of beings. {32}¹³⁹⁰

36. 77 ?For twenty thousand years

I made offerings to the Jina.

I presented him with the seven jewels¹³⁹¹

And the earth and its oceans. {33}

36. 78 ?The clouds of the qualities of an ocean of sutras,

Which were a display arisen from an ocean of prayers,

Had all appeared from the Tathagata

And were taught to beings according to their dispositions. {34}

36. 79 ?Those night goddesses, wishing to benefit me,¹³⁹² ¹³⁹³

With compassion woke me at that time. [F.109.a]¹³⁹⁴

There arose an aspiration in me toward them:¹³⁹⁵

?May I become like them, awakening the intoxicated.? {35}¹³⁹⁶

36. 80 ?That was the prayer that I made in my mind,

My first development of the aspiration for the highest enlightenment,

Which my residing in the ocean of samsara,

The ocean of existences, has not destroyed. {36}

36. 81 ?I had faith in and offered to Ten million trillion Budas.1397

While in the midst of samsara?s devas and humans,

I desired the scope of pleasure and bliss. {37}

36. 82 ?The first was Shrisamudra.

After him came Guna pradipa.

The third was the Jina Ratnaketu.

The fourth was the Buda Gagana prajna. {38}

36. 83 ?The fifth jina was Kusumagarbha.

The sixth jina was Asanga mati candra.

The seventh jina was Dharma candra prabhu raja.

The eighth was jnana mandala prabhasa. {39}

36. 84 ?Then came the time of the ninth jina,

Racanarci parvata pradipa.1398

The tenth was Tryadhva prabha ghosha.

With faith, I made offerings to them all. {40}

36. 85 ?I made offerings to those ten

And all the other lords of humans.

But I did not at that time attain

The vision of entering the ocean of ways. {41}

36. 86 ?After that there followed the realm

That was called Sarvaratnabha

In the kalpa called Devashri,

In which five hundred Budas appeared. {42}

36. 87 ?The first was Shashimandala.

The second born was Bhaskara pradipa.

The third Buda was Jyotidhvaja,

And after him there were Manisumeru, {43}

36. 88 ?Kusumarci Sagara pradipa,

Jvalanashrisha, Devashrigarbha,

Avabhasa raja, and Prabha ketu.

The tenth was Samanta jnana prabha raja. {44}

36. 89 ?I made offerings to those ten

And all the rest of those lords of humans.

But I delighted in being located in the body.1399

I had a mind dwelling in the Dharma that has no location. {45}

36. 90 ?Following that, there was [F.109.b]

The beautiful world realm

Called Dharma pradipa megha shri

In the kalpa called Brahmaprabha. {46}

36. 91 ?In that there were countless jinas.

I made offerings to them and their followers.

From all of those sugatas1400

I heard the Dharma with great respect. {47}

36. 92 ?The first jina was Ratnameru.

After him were Guna samudra

And the Jina Dharma dhatu svara ketu.

The fourth was Dharma samudra garjana. {48}

36. 93 ?Then there were Dharmadhvaja, Dharani tejas,

Dharma bala prabha, Gagana buddhi,

And Dharmarici meru shikha rabha,

And after them was Meghashri. {49}1401

36. 94 ?I made offerings to those ten

And all the rest of those lords of humans.

But I did not understand the true nature1402

By which one enters the ocean of jinas. {50}

36. 95 ?After that came the Sugata1403

Surya pradipa ketu shri

In a realm called Buddhamati,

In a kalpa called Somashri. {51}

36. 96 ?I made offerings to all eight hundred million1404

Of those with the ten strengths who were present there,

With a variety of limitless, vast,

Numerous beautiful offerings. {52}1405

36. 97 ?The first after him was Gandharva raja,1406

Second was the Buda Druma raja,

The third jina was Guna sumeru,

And after him were Ratnanetra, {53}

36. 98 ?Vairocana prabha vyuha,

Dharma samudra, the Buda Tejashri,1407

Lokendra teja shri bhadra,

And after them Sarva Dharma prabha raja. {54}

36. 99 ?I made offerings to those ten

And all the rest of those sugatas.

But I did not attain the knowledge

That comprehended that ocean of Dharma. {55}

36. 100?After that, there was a perfectly pure realm

Called Vajra manyabhedyadridha tejas, 1408

In which there were constant clouds of light

And the presence of numerous beautiful displays. {56}

36. 101? Within it there were many pure beings

With few afflictions from the stains of kleshas. [F.110.a]

The kalpa was called Prashanta mati tejas

With the display of the appearance of a thousand Budas. {57}

36. 102? The first jina was Vajranabhi,

And after them was Prashanta prabha raja.

I made offerings to those ten

And all the rest of those lords of humans. {60}

36. 105? But I did not realize this nature of phenomena, 1409

The pure nature that is the same as space,

In which one should remain while practicing

In the entire vast extent of realms. {61}

36. 106? After that, there was the beautiful realm

Called Gandha pradipa megha shri,

Completely purified of all the kleshas,

In the kalpa that was called Susambhava. {62}

36. 107?During that time there appeared ten million jinas

Who were all arrayed throughout that kalpa.1410

Those guides taught the Dharma,

And I retained it through the power of memory. {63}

36. 108?The first jina was Vipulakirti,

Then there were Dharma samudra vega shri raja,

Of those lords of two-legged beings.

The eighth jina was Gagana ghosha,

And the ninth was Samanta sambhava pradipa. {65}

36. 110?The Buda that came after them

Was Urna shri prabhasa mati.

I made offerings to all those lords of humans,

But I did not purify the path free of attachment. {66}

36. 111?After that there was the well-arranged world realm

Called Ratna dhvajagra mati,

Which was an excellent display

Formed from all kinds of jewels. {67} [F.110.b]

36. 112?During that kalpa, called Sarocaya,

I made offerings to those ten

And all the rest of those jinas. {70}1415

36. 115?All the jinas have followed

The purifying path of the jinas.

However, I had still not attained

The patience for entering this way of the jinas. {71}

36. 116?After that there was a completely pure

World realm of very beautiful lights

Called Shanta nirghosha hara mati,1416

Where dwelled beings with few kleshas. {72}

36. 119?Dharmadhvaja, and Vacanashri,

And after them there was Jnanamati.

I made offerings to those ten

And all the rest of those lords of devas and humans. {75}1417

36. 120?After that, there was the realm

Called Sunirmita dhvaja pradipa,

In the kalpa called Sahasrashri,

In which there were six quintillion Budas. {76}

36. 121?There were Shanta dhvaja, Shamathaketu,

Shanta pradipa megha shri raja, [F.111.a]

Avabhasa yanta prabha raja,

Meghivilambita, Suryatejas, {77}

36. 122?Dharma pradipa shri, Mervarcishri,

And also Deva shri garbha.

After all those there appeared

Simha vinardita Vidu pradipa. {78}

36. 123?I made offerings to those ten

And all the rest of those sugata moons,

But I did not attain the patience

For entering this ocean of ways. {79}

36. 124?Following that there was the realm

Called Samantabhashri,

During the kalpa called Analayavyuha,

In which there were three hundred and sixty million Budas. {80}

36. 125?The first was Samanta guna megha.

Then there were the Buda Gagana citta,

The Buda Susambhava vyuha,

Garjita Dharma Sagara nirghosha, {81}

36. 126?The Jina Dharma dhatu svara ghosha,

Nirmita megha susvara shri,

The Buda Samanta disha tejas,

And Dharma samudra sambhava ruta, {82}

36. 127?Then there was the ninth of the jina suns,

Guna Sagara shri pradipa.1418

Following those there came

Ratna shri pradipa guna ketu. {83}

36. 128?When Ratna shri pradipa guna ketu,

The lord of two-legged beings, set forth,

I was the goddess Shashivakra,

And I made offerings to the lord of humans as he set forth. {84}

36. 129?That jina proclaimed to me1419 1420

Sutras that were displays without location,

Displays that arose from an ocean of prayers,

Which I heard and retained through the power of memory. {85}

36. 130?I attained at that time vast vision,

Samadhis, and the power of retention.

In each instant I saw oceans of jinas

And a succession of realms. {86}

36. 131?There arose in me the essence of compassion,

The completely illuminating clouds of the way of kindness,

The aspiration to enlightenment, as vast as space,

And the vast beauty of the immeasurable Buda strengths. {87} [F.111.b]1421

36. 132?I saw beings who were in a state of delusion,

Attached to permanence, happiness, purity, and self,1422

Blinded by stupidity, obscured by ignorance,1423

Disturbed by the kleshas, and having misperceptions. {88}

36. 133?They performed actions in a thicket of wrong views,

Following frightening paths under the power of craving.1424

Many various forms appearing

Were painted by karma. {89}1425

36. 134?Those who appeared through being born

Through the gateways to rebirth in all existences

Had bodies and minds that experienced

The torments of birth, aging, and death. {90}

36. 135?Seeing that, in order to bring them benefit and happiness

I developed the supreme motivation

Wherever those with the ten strengths appeared,

Anywhere throughout the vast extent of realms. {91}

36. 136?From that arose clouds of prayers,

Perfect dedication to the happiness of beings,

The arising of limitless accumulations,

And the understanding of the ways of an ocean of paths. {92}

36. 137?I obtained vast clouds of practices,

The power of clear gateways to all paths,

Vast clouds of the perfections,

And the opening of the entire extent of the realm of Dharma. {93}

36. 138?With the vast power to ascend the bhumis,

Practicing without attachment on the bhumis,

In the ways of the ocean of the three times,

In each instant I came into the presence of all jinas. {94}

36. 139?What is more, I also mastered

The completely good jinaputra conduct,1426

And I realized the ways of the ocean

Of the ten aspects of the realm of the Dharma. {95}

36. 140? Noble one, do you think that the cakravartin king, that sovereign, who at that time, in that time, [F.112.a] was established in the unbroken lineage of the family of the Budas is anyone else? Noble one, do not see him in that way. Manjushri Kumara bhuta was at that time, in that time, that king, that sovereign, who was the cakravartin, established in the unbroken lineage of the family of the Budas. The night goddess who awoke me was an emanation of the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra.

36. 141 ? Noble one, what do you think? If you think that Bhadramati, the precious woman who was the queen of the cakravartin in that time, at that time, was anyone else, do not see her in that way. At that time, in that time, I was Bhadramati, the precious woman who was the queen of the cakravartin. I was awoken by that night goddess and inspired by her to go see the Buda.

36. 142 ? Noble one, I developed in that one existence the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment. In that way, through the power of that development of aspiration, I have, throughout kalpas as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm, never fallen into rebirth in the lower realms but have always continuously depended on existence as a human or deva, and in all those existences I have seen Tathagatas. Finally, through just seeing the Bhagavat Arhat Samyak sambuddha Ratna shri pradipa guna ketu, I attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of the power of vast, stainless, completely good joy. When I had attained it, I took on this kind of form in order to ripen and guide beings.1427

36. 143 ?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of the power of vast, stainless, completely good joy. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who, at the feet of all the Tathagatas [F.112.b] in each instant of mind, attain a great ocean of the power for setting out upon omniscience; who, in each instant of mind, have completed the attainment of an ocean of great prayers within all the entrances for setting out upon omniscience; who, in each instant of mind, are skilled, through the ways of making an ocean of prayers, in accomplishing a domain of conduct in future kalpas; who are skilled in accomplishing, within each conduct, as many bodies as there are atoms in all Buda realms; who are skilled in pervading, with each body, the entire ocean of different ways in the realm of1429 phenomena; who are skilled in manifesting, in each ocean of different ways in the realm of phenomena, a perceivable conduct of the body that accords with the dispositions of beings throughout all the Buda realms; who are skilled in comprehending, in each ocean of different ways in the realm of phenomena, an ocean of Tathagatas, without limit or center, within all the atoms of a realm in all realms; who are skilled in comprehending each Tathagata?s miraculous Tathagata manifestations that pervade the entire extent of the realm of phenomena; who are skilled in comprehending each Tathagata?s accomplishment of gathering the accumulation of Bodhisattva conduct in past kalpas; who are skilled in obtaining and possessing each Tathagata?s vast wheel of the Dharma; and who are skilled in comprehending the ocean of the different ways of miraculous manifestations by the Tathagatas in the three times?1430

36. 144 ?Depart, noble one. In this circle of the Tathagata?s assembly, not far from me, there is the goddess of the night named Samanta sattva tranojah shri.

[F.113.a] Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

36. 145 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the feet of the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana, circumambulated the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana. [B7]

37. Chapter 37

SAMANTA SATTVA TRANOJAH ShRI

37. 1 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, aspiring to the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana?s samadhi of the Bodhisattva liberation called the banner of the power of vast, stainless, completely good joy, comprehending it, understanding it, knowing it, believing in it, undertaking it, pervading it, recollecting it, remembering it, and meditating on it, practicing the instruction of the kalyanamitra and memorizing the instruction given by the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana in order to maintain the continuity of the teaching of instruction, approached the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri. Through contemplating seeing a kalyanamitra, through the domain of all his faculties, by going from place to place to obtain the sight of a kalyanamitra, through looking in all directions, through being intent on searching for a kalyanamitra, through being free from all pride, [F.113.b] through the prowess of pleasing a kalyanamitra, through being resolved to create a great accumulation of merit, through having become single-mindedly intent upon a kalyanamitra, and through all his roots of merit, he had gained the unwavering motivation for a kalyanamitra's conduct of skillful methods, had developed an ocean of the power of diligence for increasing reliance on a kalyanamitra, and had prayed to dwell with and follow kalyanamitras equally in all kalpas.¹⁴³¹

1434

1435

1437 1438

37. 2 As he approached her, the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri, in order to demonstrate the supreme might of the limitless Bodhisattva liberation called the manifestations that guide beings that appear in all worlds, revealed her body, which had the complete beautiful signs and features of a great being. She then radiated from her urna hair a ray of light called the banner of stainless light that is a lamp of the complete radiance of wisdom, accompanied by light rays without end or center. They illuminated all worlds and then descended into the crown of the head of Sudhana, the head merchant's son, and spread throughout his entire body.

37. 3 As soon as Sudhana, the head merchant's son, was touched by those light rays, he instantly attained the samadhi called the area that is completely free of particles.¹⁴³⁹

37. 4 Because he had attained that, he saw the area of ground that was the route between the night goddess Pramudita nayana jagad virocana and the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri as being made of atoms of fire; or atoms of water; or atoms of earth; or atoms of diamond; or atoms of various great kings of precious jewels; or atoms of flowers, incense, and powders; [F.114.a] or atoms of all precious arrays; or atoms of all locations. In each atom there were world realms as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm.

37. 5 He saw that they had aggregations of water, had aggregations of fire, had aggregations of air, had aggregations of earth, had world-realm boundaries, had bases, had foundations, had different shapes, had surfaces of various kinds of different forms, had different kinds of encircling mountains, had various kinds of encircling oceans, had arrays of various kinds of buildings made of divine materials, had various kinds of trees, had various adornments in the sky, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of devas, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of Nagas, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of yakshas, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of gandharvas, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of the asuras, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of garudas, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of kinnaras, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of mahoragas, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of humans, had the adornment of the buildings of the cities of all beings in the main and intermediate directions, had the realm of the world of hells, had the realm of the world of animals, had the realm of the world of Yama, had the realm of the death and rebirth of humans and nonhumans, had various kinds of births, and had the accumulation and destruction of various kinds of existences.1440

37. 6 He saw various kinds of differences between those worlds: he saw some worlds that were defiled, [F.114.b] some that were pure, some that were completely defiled, some that were purified of ordinary existences, some that were purified of defilements, some that were both pure and defiled, some that were completely pure, some that were a flat surface, some that were upside-down, and some that were disordered, and he saw how in all the existences of beings, in all the births of beings in those world realms, the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri became present for all those beings in order to guide them according to their circumstances.

37. 7 He saw her becoming present separately for every being in order to ripen and guide them in accordance with their lifespans; the various scopes of their aspirations; the forms of their bodies; their languages, terminology, and established definitions; the forms of their practices; and their dominance.

37. 8 This means that he saw her becoming present separately for every being in order to dispel the fear of the various sufferings of hell for the beings who were in hell existences; in order to dispel in beings among the various animals the fear of being eaten by one another; in order to dispel the fear of the suffering of hunger, thirst, and so on for beings within Yama's realm; in order to dispel all fear of the suffering of Nagas for those in Naga existences; [F.115.a] in order to dispel all fear of the sufferings of the desire realm for all beings within the desire realms; in order to dispel in those who existed in the human world all fear of being bewildered in the darkness of night; in order to dispel the fear of blame and infamy for those who were preoccupied with criticism, blame, and infamy; in order to dispel the fear of anxiety before an assembly for those beings who had the fear of anxiety before an assembly; in order to dispel the fear of death in those beings who were frightened and terrified of death; in order to dispel the fear of the abyss of the lower existences for those beings who were frightened and terrified of the abyss of the lower realms; in order to dispel the fear of having no livelihood for those beings who were frightened and terrified of having no livelihood; in order to dispel the fear of the loss of their roots of merit for those beings who were frightened of losing their roots of merit; in order to dispel the fear of a diminution of the aspiration for enlightenment for those beings who were afraid of a diminution of their aspiration for enlightenment; in order to dispel the fear of meeting bad companions for those beings who were frightened of meeting bad companions; in order to dispel the fear of separation from kalyanamitras in those beings who were frightened of separation from kalyanamitras; [F.115.b] in order to dispel the fear of falling to the level of Shravakas and pratyeka Budas in those beings who were frightened of falling to the level of Shravakas and pratyeka Budas; in order to dispel the fear of the various kinds of suffering in samsara for those beings who were afraid of the various kinds of suffering in samsara; in order to dispel the fear of meeting contrary beings for those beings who were frightened and afraid of meeting contrary beings; in order to dispel the fear of unfortunate times in those beings who were frightened and afraid of unfortunate times; in order to dispel the fear of rebirth into unfortunate families in those beings who were frightened and afraid of rebirth into unfortunate families; in order to dispel the fear of committing bad actions for those beings who were frightened and afraid of committing bad actions; in order to dispel the fear of the obscurations of karma and kleshas for those beings who were frightened and afraid of the obscurations of karma and kleshas; and in order to dispel the fear of the bondage of remaining fixed in a variety of conceptions for those beings who were frightened and afraid of remaining fixed in a variety of conceptions.

37. 9 This means he saw her, being present in and purifying all realms, through possessing the supremacy of the vast miraculous powers of Bodhisattva liberation and through the accomplishment of the power of the prayer to protect all beings: beings born from eggs, born from wombs, born from warm moisture, born spontaneously, and with form, without form, with perception, without perception, and neither with perception nor without perception; through the vast prowess of the power of Bodhisattva samadhi; [F.116.a] through the power of the great higher cognitions of a Bodhisattva; through the power of attaining the completely good conduct and prayer of a Bodhisattva; and through developing the power of an ocean of the ways of compassion; in order to spread everywhere the great love for all beings that is free of attachment; in order to create happiness for all beings and increase the power of their joy; and so that all beings will accomplish the accumulation of wisdom.¹⁴⁴²

37. 10 He saw her focused on knowing the knowledge of all Dharmas; being present there focused on making offerings and honoring all Buddhas; focused on holding the teachings of all the Tathagatas; focused on the accumulation of all roots of merit; focused on the increase of all Bodhisattva conduct; focused on the minds of all beings being free of obscurations; focused on ripening the faculties of all beings; focused on purifying the ocean of the aspirations of all beings; focused on dispelling obscuring qualities in all beings; focused on dispersing the darkness of ignorance in all beings; and focused on creating the light of omniscient wisdom. [F.116.b]¹⁴⁴³

37. 11 When Sudhana, the head merchant's son, had seen this miraculous prowess of the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri's inconceivable Bodhisattva liberation called the manifestations that guide beings that appear in all worlds, he was overjoyed and acquired an ocean of the power of great delight.

37. 12 He prostrated with his entire body before the night goddess Samanta-sattva tranojah shri and then stood and gazed upon her.1444

37. 13 Then the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri made her appearance in the pure form and physical signs of a Bodhisattva vanish, and she remained in the form of a night goddess emanating all miraculous manifestations.

37. 14 At that time, Sudhana, the head merchant's son, standing with hands together in homage before the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri, recited these verses to her:

37. 15 ?I have seen your vast body1445

Adorned by the excellent, beautiful signs1446

And the wonderful special features,

Like the sky adorned by stars. {1}

37. 16 ?Your perfect, beautiful body's halo of light rays

As numerous as the atoms in infinite realms,

With its multicolored, incomparable radiance,1447

Spreads throughout the extent of every direction. {2}

37. 17 ?From the pores of your body shine

As many networks of light rays as there are minds of beings.

At the tip of each light ray an emanation of yours,

Seated upon a beautiful lotus, eliminates the sufferings of beings. {3}

37. 18 ?Clouds of incense mists are emitted,

Taking on the forms of beautiful beings.

Flowers spread out everywhere [F.117.a]

To all the jinas in the realm of phenomena. {4}

37. 19 ?The vast, sublime mass of your shoulders1448

Shines with stainless jewel light, the size of Mount Meru,
With which you illuminate all beings,
Dispelling the darkness of ignorance. {5}

37. 20 ?Vast masses of clouds of suns are emanated1449

From your beautifully colored, stainless face.1450

Your wonderful light, which is like the disk of the sun,
Is emanated throughout Vairocana?s vast field of activity. {6}

37. 21 ?Clouds of the stainless light of the moon and the stars

Are constantly emanated from your eyes.

They spread throughout the ten directions,

Illuminating beings and eliminating the world?s blindness. {7}

37. 22 ?An ocean of emanations as numerous as the bodies of beings

Is emanated into all directions from your physical signs of a great being.

They spread throughout the vast realm of phenomena

And guide the immeasurable multitudes of beings. {8}1451

37. 23 ?Your body appears throughout the extent of the directions,

Appearing to all beings and bringing them happiness,

Dispelling and alleviating all fears

Created by kings, fire, thieves, and water. {9}

37. 24 ?When I was sent into your presence,

I approached you contemplating good qualities.

At that time a beautiful, stainless mass of light rays

Radiated from between your eyebrows. {10}

37. 25 ?They illuminated hundreds of oceans of directions

And created a vast radiance in the world.

They revealed many miraculous manifestations,

And at that time they entered into my body. {11}

37. 26 ?When that mass of light touched me,

At that time I experienced a marvelous bliss.

I gained mastery of many hundreds of dharanis and samadhis,

And I saw limitless jinas in the ten directions. {12}

37. 27 ?Wherever I stepped with my feet

I could perceive the number of atoms there,

And I saw in every single atom

Realms as numerous as a realm's atoms. {13} [F.117.b]

37. 28 ?There were many hundreds of defiled realms

Of many different kinds, located in atoms

In which beings experienced suffering,

Crying out with the sounds of lamentation and wailing. {14}

37. 29 ?There were also many realms both defiled and pure,

In which there was much suffering and little happiness,

In which the compassionate jinas took birth,

As did the jinas? Shravakas and pratyeka Budas. {15}1452

37. 30 ?There were some realms, purified of defilements,

That were ornamented by the presence of many Bodhisattvas

And adorned by beautiful men and women,

And the brilliant family of the jinas resided there. {16}

37. 31 ?There were vast, stainless oceans of realms,

With level surfaces, that were located in atoms,

Where for many hundreds of kalpas

Vairocana purified his conduct in the past. {17}

37. 32 ?Within that entire vast extent of realms,

Jinas were revealed going to the lord of trees,
Attaining enlightenment, manifesting miracles,
Turning the wheel of the Dharma, and guiding beings. {18}

37. 33 ?And I saw you also following

In the vast scope of Vairocana?s activity

And making offerings equally to all the jinas

With countless millions of billions of offerings.? {19}

37. 34 When Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, had recited those verses, he said to the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri, ?Goddess, that profound Bodhisattva liberation is a great wonder. What is the name of that liberation? How long ago did you attain it? How does a Bodhisattva practice in order to purify that Bodhisattva liberation??

37. 35 The night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri said, ?Noble one, this subject is difficult to believe in for the world and its devas, as well as for the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas. Why is that? Because it is the field of practice of those Bodhisattvas who follow the completely good conduct and prayer of the Bodhisattvas; [F.118.a] who are dedicated to the essence of compassion; who are engaged in saving all beings; who purify the paths that lead to all unfortunate and lower realms; who purify all realms to become the highest Buda realms; who create the unbroken continuity of the Buda?s family in all Buda realms; who hold the teachings of all the Budas; who have oceans of great prayers for remaining in the practice of Bodhisattva conduct throughout all kalpas; and who create the pure light of wisdom, free of darkness, for all the oceans of Dharma; and those Bodhisattvas who in each instant have attained the state of remaining in the light of wisdom of the entire ocean of the ways of the three times. However, through the blessing of the Tathagata, I will teach it.

37. 36 ?Noble one, in the past beyond kalpas as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm, there was a world realm called Vairocana tejahshri during a kalpa called Virajomandala. In that kalpa there appeared as many Budas as there are atoms in Sumeru. In that world realm called Vairocana tejahshri there was an array of clouds of all jewels, and it was beautified by aerial palaces made of diamonds.

37. 37 ?That world realm was situated on a foundation of an ocean of the kings of jewels possessing stainless light. Its solid body was formed from precious jewels possessing all the kings of perfumes. It was completely round in shape. It was both pure and defiled. It was covered by a canopy of clouds of every adornment. [F.118.b] It had the array of a thousand precious Cakravala mountains. It was adorned by a quintillion four-continent worlds. Some four-continent worlds were defiled and were the dwelling places of beings who had defiled karma. Some were the dwelling places of beings who had a mixture of both defiled and pure karma. Some were the dwelling places of beings who were pure and also defiled, who had pure good actions and few blameworthy actions. Some were the dwelling places of pure Bodhisattvas.¹⁴⁵³

37. 38 ?To the east of the world realm Vairocana tejahshri, next to the Cakravala mountains, there was a four-continent world called Ratna kusuma pradipadhva. It was pure but defiled. There beings enjoyed the unplowed harvests. They lived in kutagaras and aerial palaces that were created by the ripening of their past karma. It was encircled by wish-fulfilling trees. There were various kinds of aromatic trees that continually released clouds of perfume.

There were various kinds of garland trees that continually released clouds of garlands. There were various kinds of flowering trees from which fell a continuous rain of clouds of flowers with inconceivable colors and scents.

There were various kinds of colored-powder trees from which fell a continuous rain of the powders of all the kinds of precious scents. There were various kinds of jewel trees from which fell many jewel seed-pods that shone with various colors. [F.119.a] There were trees of various kinds of divine music from which were emanated clouds of the sound of music. From the sky came melodious sounds. Day and night, there was the pleasant light of the sun and moon. The ground, which shone with all precious jewels, was level.1455

37. 39 ?In those four continents there were a quintillion royal cities. Each of those royal cities was encircled by a thousand rivers. All those rivers were filled with the petals of divine flowers. They emitted the melodious, beautiful sounds of divine music and song. Their banks were adorned by beautiful precious trees. Boats adorned by various jewels crossed back and forth. Every kind of happiness that could be delighted in was enjoyed there. In between each river a quintillion towns had been established. Each of those towns was encircled by a quintillion markets. All those villages, cities, and markets were encircled by a quintillion divine parks, aerial palaces, and mansions. In the center of the Jambudvīpa of that four-continent world was the central royal city, which was called Ratna kusuma pradīpa.

37. 40 ?This was a place that was prosperous and wealthy, with an abundance of food; it had every kind of happiness and was filled with many devas and humans, and the beings there followed the path of the ten good actions.

[F.119.b]1456

37. 41 ?Here dwelled King Vairocana ratna padma garbha shri cuda, a cakravartin who was sovereign over the four continents. He had been spontaneously born from the center of a lotus flower, was adorned by the thirty-two signs of a great being, was a follower of the Dharma, a Dharma king, and possessed the seven jewels of a cakravartin.

37. 42 ?He had a full thousand sons who were courageous and heroic, who had perfectly formed bodies, who crushed the armies of enemies and had perfect bodies fully formed in all aspects.¹⁴⁵⁷

37. 43 ?In his harem there were a quintillion women, all of whom had originated from roots of merit that corresponded to those of the cakravartin, who had the same conduct as he had, were born adorned with jewels, had virtuous minds, and had bodies that were no different from those of goddesses, bodies that were the color of Jambu River gold, that emitted various divine scents from the pores of their bodies, and that shone with a pure, aromatic, divine light.¹⁴⁵⁹

?He had millions of ministers such as the precious prime minister.¹⁴⁶⁰

37. 44 ?The cakravartin king Vairocana ratna padma garbha shri cuda?s queen named Sampurna shrivakra was the precious woman. She was beautiful, attractive, and lovely to look at. She possessed an excellent, magnificent, perfect color. Her hair was deep black. She had deep black eyes. She had golden skin. She had the voice of Brahma. Light continually shone from her body. She spread lights of various colors and divine aromas for a thousand yojanas around her.¹⁴⁶¹

37. 45 ?Sampurna shrivakra, the king?s queen, [F.120.a] had the cakravartin?s daughter named Padma bhadrabhirama netra shri candra. She had a completely perfect body. She was beautiful, attractive, and lovely to look at.

The whole world never had enough of looking at her. For example, noble one, just as no one was ever satisfied that they had seen enough of the cakravartin, in the same way no one was ever satisfied that they had seen enough of the cakravartin's daughter Padma bhadrabhīrama netra śrī, except for those who had gained the satisfaction of wisdom.¹⁴⁶²

37. 46 ?At that time, in that time, beings had an immeasurable lifespan. There was no definite lifespan, so death occurred during it. At that time, beings had various shapes, various colors, various voices, various names, various families, various lifespans, and different sizes; different aspirations, strengths, diligences, and powers; different beautiful and ugly appearances; and various higher and lower aspirations.¹⁴⁶³

37. 47 ?Those beings who had good color, high aspirations, and perfect bodies and were beautiful and lovely to look at said, ?Oh! We have a much better color than you!?

37. 48 ?In the same way, those beings who had an excellent body shape were dismissive and arrogant toward those beings who had ugly body shapes. In that way, they did not care about each other, so that through the roots of demerit, their lifespans diminished. Even their color, strength, and happiness diminished.

37. 49 ?To the north of the royal capital Ratna kusuma pradīpa there was the bodhimanda tree called Samantavabhasana Dharma megha nirghoṣa dhvaja that manifested in each instant the display of the bodhimandas of all Tathagatas. [F.120.b] Its roots were as hard and indestructible as diamond, the king of jewels. Its bulk was made from all precious jewels and was vast and huge. Its trunk, branches, leaves, flowers, and fruit were made from all jewels. It was perfectly symmetrical. It had branches that spread everywhere.

It was a spreading, unceasing display. It shone with the lights of various jewels, its light rays shining everywhere. It resounded with descriptions of the miraculous manifestations that were the scope of all the Tathagatas.

37. 50 ?In front of that bodhimanda there was a lake of scented water called Ratna kusuma vidyuddharma nigarjita megha ghosha. It was encircled by a quintillion precious trees, and all those precious trees had the same form as the Bodhi tree.

37. 51 ?All the banks of that great lake of scented water called Ratna kusuma-vidyuddharma nigarjita megha ghosha were covered with a splendid array of all precious jewels, decorated by various strings of all jewels, adorned by an array of mansions made of pure jewels, and beautified by an array of all pure adornments.

?All around the bodhimanda were countless kutagaras made of precious jewels, with lotuses in their centers.

37. 52 ?In the center of the great lake of scented water called Ratna kusuma-vidyuddharma nigarjita megha ghosha there was a great king of lotuses called Sarva tryadhva Tathagata vishaya patra samdhi vidyotita megha vyuha. On that great lotus appeared a Tathagata named Samanta jnana ratnarci shri guna-ketu raja, who was the very first from among Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru. He would be the first of all of them to attain the highest, complete enlightenment in that kalpa. [F.121.a] Having ripened beings by teaching the Dharma for many thousands of years, he was ripening beings for ten thousand years through the miraculous manifestation of the radiance of light rays, and then after ten thousand years that Tathagata would appear there.1464

37. 53 ?At that time, the great king of lotuses, Sarva tryadhva Tathagata vishaya-patra samdhi vidyotita megha vyuha, radiated a ray of light called Sarva sattva-virajahpradipa. The beings who were touched by that ray of light knew that in ten thousand years a Tathagata would come.

37. 54 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in nine thousand years, the Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Virajovati shri garbha. The beings who were touched by that ray of light saw all subtle forms.

37. 55 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in eight thousand years, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Sarva sattva karma vipaka-nirghosha. The beings who were touched by that ray of light comprehended the ocean of their own karma and attained the wisdom that remembers karma.

37. 56 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in seven thousand years, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Sarva kushala mula sambhava-nirghosha. The beings who were touched by that ray of light gained unimpaired complete faculties.

37. 57 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in six thousand years, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Acintya Buda vishaya nidarshana-nirghosha. The beings who were touched by that ray of light made emanations with a vast motivation.

37. 58 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in five thousand years, [F.121.b] the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Sarva Buda kshetra-parishuddhi nigarjita pratibhasa vijnapana. The beings who were touched by that ray of light saw with complete purity all Buda realms.

37. 59 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in four thousand years, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Sarva Tathagata vishayasambheda-pradipa. The beings who were touched by that ray of light comprehended the all-pervading miraculous manifestations of the Tathagatas.

37. 60 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in three thousand years, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Sarva jagad abhimukha pradipa. The beings who were touched by that ray of light directly saw, through their aspiration, the Tathagatas.

37. 61 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in two thousand years, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Tryadhva jnana vidyut pradipa. The beings who were touched by that ray of light realized and comprehended the ocean of the past ways of the Tathagatas.

37. 62 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in a thousand years, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Vitimira jnana Tathagata pradipa. The beings who were touched by that ray of light attained the all-seeing view of the vision that sees all the manifestations of the Tathagatas, all realms, and all beings.

37. 63 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in a hundred years, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Sarva jagad Buda darshana vipaka-kushala mula sambhava. The beings who were touched by that ray of light attained the perception of the arising of the Tathagatas. [F.122.a]

37. 64 ?At the time when the Tathagata would come in seven days, the great Bodhi tree shined a ray of light called Sarva sattva praharsha priti pramodya-samudaya nirghosha. The beings who were touched by that ray of light developed the great power of the joy of seeing the Tathagatas.

37. 65 ?Noble one, he ripened beings through that kind of immeasurable method of ripening through light rays for a thousand years. Then, on reaching the seventh day, he blessed the entire world realm as completely pure by shaking it through an immeasurable method for shaking it. In each instant of mind, all the pure Buda realms of all the Tathagatas in the ten directions with their various inconceivable displays appeared in that Buda realm.

37. 66 ?On the last, seventh, day, the beings in that world realm had been ripened by the sight of the Budas, and they all came to face the bodhimanda.

37. 67 ?Then, from all that world realm?s Cakravala mountains, from all the Sumeru mountains, from all mountains, from all rivers, from all oceans, from all trees, from all the surface of the ground, from all towns, from all walls, from all dwellings, from all aerial palaces, from all clothes, jewelry, and enjoyments, from all musical trees, from all sounds of musical instruments, from all emanated displays, from each perceived thing, there came the description of the range of activity and the power of all Tathagatas, and there issued forth clouds of all incenses and perfumes; clouds of lights shining from jewels; clouds of lights shining from all perfumes and incenses; [F.122.b] clouds in the form of all perfume and jewels; clouds of all clothing, jewels, and precious jewelry; clouds of Sumerus of various precious flowers; many clouds of various powders; and clouds of the light rays of all the Tathagatas. The Cakravala mountains and so forth emitted clouds of the halos of light of all the Tathagatas. They resounded with clouds of the music of all instruments and drums. They emitted clouds of the sound of the prayers of all the Tathagatas. They resounded with clouds of the aspects of voice and the oceans of speech of all the Tathagatas. They manifested clouds of various images of the signs and features of a great being possessed by all the Tathagatas. They revealed countless omens of the coming of a Tathagata.¹⁴⁶⁷

37. 68 ?The lotus Sarva tryadhva Tathagata vishaya patra samdhi vidyotita megha-vyuha had a retinue of great lotuses that were all made of the kings of jewels. On the filaments and pericarps of the great lotuses that were the retinue of the great lotus made of the kings of jewels, there were precious lion thrones with great lotuses in their centers. They were as numerous as the atoms in ten Buda realms. As many Bodhisattvas as there are atoms in ten Buda realms were seated cross-legged around those thrones with a precious center.

37. 69 ?The moment that Tathagata, the Bhagavat Samanta jnana ratnarci shri guna-ketu raja, attained the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood, many Tathagatas in world realms in the ten directions also attained the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood and, in accordance with the dispositions of beings, turned the wheel of the Dharma. [F.123.a]

37. 70 ?The countless beings in those world realms were turned away from all lower realms and downfalls. Countless beings were brought to rebirth in the higher realms. Countless beings were established on the level of the Shravakas. Countless beings were ripened for the enlightenment of the pratyeka Budas. Countless beings were ripened for the enlightenment that arises in the light of power. Countless beings were ripened for enlightenment in the banner of stainless diligence. Countless beings were established in the enlightenment that arises in dwelling in meditation on the Dharma. Countless beings were ripened for the enlightenment that arises in meditation on the purification of the faculties. Countless beings were ripened for the enlightenment that arises in comprehending the practice of the equanimity of strength. Countless beings were established in the enlightenment that arises in the emergence of the yana with its field of attention turned toward the city of the Dharma. Countless beings were established in the enlightenment that arises in the yana of the ways of various miraculous manifestations that pervade everywhere. Countless beings were established in the enlightenment that arises in the way of being dedicated to practice. Countless beings were established in the enlightenment that arises in the ways of entering samadhi. Countless beings developed the aspiration for the enlightenment of the Bodhisattvas. Countless beings were established on the Bodhisattva path. Countless beings were established on the pure path of the perfections. [F.123.b] Countless beings were established on the first Bodhisattva bhumi. Countless beings were established on the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth Bodhisattva bhumis. Countless beings were established on the tenth bhumi. Countless beings were brought into the preeminent conduct and prayers of the Bodhisattvas. Countless beings were established in the completely good conduct and prayers of the Bodhisattvas.¹⁴⁶⁸

37. 71 ?In that way, the Tathagata turned the wheel of the Dharma through the inconceivable miraculous manifestations and the power of the preeminence of a Buda, so that in each instant of mind he guided realms of beings without end or center.

37. 72 ?All the beings of that world realm understood the Dharma taught by that Tathagata through various bodies and the accomplishment of various skillful methods.

37. 73 ?In order to guide those beings in the royal capital Ratna kusuma pradipa, who were proud and arrogant because of their form, color, scope, and enjoyments and had no care for one another, the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra manifested a supreme color and form and went to the royal capital. His halo was so vast that it illuminated the entire royal capital.¹⁴⁶⁹

37. 74 ?The light of the royal capital, the light from the body of the cakravartin king Vairocana ratna padma garbha shri cuda, the light from the precious queen, the light from the precious trees, the light from the precious jewels, the light from the sun, moon, planets, and stars, and whatever lights there were in Jambudvipa all ceased to shine.

37. 75 ?For example, [F.124.a] when the sun shines, darkness and the light of the moon, planets, stars, and constellations vanish, and the light from fire and jewels vanishes. In the same way, through being outshined by the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra, all the lights in Jambudvipa vanished.

37. 76 ?It is just as if, for example, you were to place some lampblack in front of a lump of Jambu River gold, it would not be beautiful, would not be bright, would not glow, and would not shine. In the same way, when the physical forms of those beings were in front of the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra, they were not beautiful, were not bright, were not glowing, and were not shining.¹⁴⁷⁰

37. 77 ?They thought, ?In front of him our bodies, light, color, and brilliance are not beautiful, not bright, not glowing, and they do not shine. Is this a deva or Brahma whose attributes we are unable to comprehend??

37. 78 ?Then the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra stood in the sky above the aerial palace of the cakravartin king Vairocana ratna padma garbha shri cuda, which was in the center of the royal capital Ratna kusuma pradipa. He said to the cakravartin king Vairocana ratna padma garbha shri cuda, ?Great king, know this! A Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha has appeared in this world. He is dwelling in your land, at the bodhimanda called Samantavabhasana Dharma-megha nirghosha dhvaja.?¹⁴⁷¹

37. 79 ?When the king's daughter, Samanta jnanarici padma bhadrabhirama netra-shri candra, saw the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra's body, light, miracles, and adornments and heard his voice, she experienced a powerful happiness and delight. [F.124.b]1472

37. 80 ?At that time, she thought, ?May I, through whatever roots of merit I accumulate, attain a body like that! May I have that kind of jewelry, those kinds of characteristics, that kind of conduct, and those kinds of miraculous powers! Just as he has brought a great light for beings in the darkness of night and told them of the birth of a Buda, so may I dispel the darkness of ignorance in beings and bring them the light of great wisdom! Wherever I am reborn, may I never in all those lives be separated from this kalyanamitra!?

37. 81 ?Then, noble one, the cakravartin king Vairocana ratna padma garbha shri-cuda, with the four divisions of his army, with his seven jewels, with his retinue of women, and with his ministers and the people of his land, through the king's miraculous powers, through the great might of the king, rose up into the sky above the royal capital Ratna kusuma pradipa to a height of one yojana. He filled the whole of Jambudvipa and the entire four-continent world with a great light. In order to encourage all beings to come and see the1474 Buda, he manifested his image on all the precious mountains and became present before all beings in the four-continent world realm and sang a song of verses that praised seeing the Buda:

37. 82 ? ?Into the world has come a Buda

Who will be a savior for all who have bodies.

Everyone should rise and set forth

In order to see that lord of the world! {20}

37. 83 ? ?The appearance of a Tathagata,

Someone who teaches the Dharma

In order to benefit all who have bodies,

May occur only once in a billion kalpas. {21}1475

37. 84 ? ?He developed compassion on seeing

The world having gone astray,

Obscured by the darkness of ignorance [F.125.a]

And experiencing the suffering of samsara. {22}

37. 85 ? ?In order to ripen beings

So as to extinguish all suffering,

He practiced enlightened conduct

For countless millions of kalpas. {23}

37. 86 ? ?For limitless, endless kalpas,

For the sake of the supreme enlightenment of buddhahood,

He gave away his legs and his arms,

And he also gave away his eyes, ears, and head. {24}

37. 87 ? ?To see him, honor him,

And hear him will be beneficial.

It is rare even in ten million kalpas

For a lord of the world to appear in the world. {25}

37. 88 ? ?He is dwelling at the seat of enlightenment.

He is there like a supreme secret.

He has subjugated Mara and his armies

And attained the supreme enlightenment of buddhahood. {26}

37. 89 ? ?There is an infinite aura of light

That radiates from the Buddha's body.

Come see its various colors

That bring satisfaction to beings. {27}

37. 90 ? ?There are countless clouds of light rays

That come from the Buda's body.

Those beings upon whom they shine

Attain an unparalleled happiness. {28}

37. 91 ? ?Develop great diligence.

And each according to your wishes,

Make offerings to that protector.

Come! And go into his presence!? {29}

37. 92 ?After King Vairocana ratna padma garbha shri cuda had thus encouraged all the beings in his realm with those verses, the cakravartin's roots of merit created a rain of a million clouds of various offerings that descended onto the bodhimanda Samantavabhasana Dharma megha nirghosha dhvaja.

Clouds of precious parasols covered the entire sky. Clouds of canopies of all flowers were spread above. Clouds of all kinds of food covered and adorned the sky. Clouds of nets of bells of various jewels adorned the expanse of the sky. [F.125.b] The adornment of clouds of light rays of perfume that had been perfumed by an ocean of various perfumes was present throughout the expanse of the sky. The adornment of clouds of thrones made of all jewels with seats that were precious cushions was present throughout the expanse of the sky. The adornment of clouds of upright banners, made of all jewels, was present throughout the expanse of the sky. The all-covering adornment of clouds of mansions and aerial palaces was present throughout the sky.

The all-covering adornment of clouds of various flowers was present throughout the sky. The adornment of rain from clouds of every display of offerings was present throughout the sky.1476

1477

37. 93 ?The king approached the location of the Bhagavat Samanta jnana ratnarci-shri guna ketu raja. Having arrived, he bowed his head to the feet of the Bhagavat Samanta jnana ratnarci shri guna ketu raja. Then with the Bhagavat to his right, he circumambulated him many hundreds of thousands of times. He then sat before the Bhagavat upon a seat that had as its center a great lotus of precious jewels that shined light into the ten directions.

37. 94 ?Then the cakravartin?s daughter, Padma bhadrabhiraama netra shri candra, removed the jewelry from her body and scattered it over the Bhagavat Samanta jnana ratnarci shri guna ketu raja.

37. 95 ?She saw that the jewelry became a great parasol of jewelry made of precious jewels that was situated in the air above the crown of the Bhagavat?s head. Around its border hung a net of various jewels, it was held by a lord of the Nagas, its round form was composed of all the jewelry, and it was surrounded by a circle of ten parasols made of jewelry. [F.126.a] There was also a beautiful display of a completely pure variety of kutagaras. There was a covering of clouds of every jewel adornment. There was a covering of an array of trees made of all king jewels. There was the adornment of all the king jewels of an ocean of perfume. In their center there was a great Bodhi tree called Dharma dhatu prabhava sarva ratna mani shakha pralamba. This was a display with no end or center to its description, a variety of displays that were revealed with each instant.

37. 96 ?She saw at the foot of that tree the Tathagata named Vairocana.

?She saw Bodhisattvas as numerous as the atoms in countless Buda realms, who had all arisen through the completely good Bodhisattva conduct and prayer and practiced many countless various different Bodhisattva displays surrounding him and in front of him.

37. 97 ?She also saw all the lords of the world present there.

?She saw the Bhagavat Vairocana?s Buda miracles that were without end or center.

37. 98 ?She comprehended his past Bodhisattva conduct through a succession of kalpas. She comprehended that world realm?s kalpas of formation and destruction. She comprehended the succession of past Budas in that world realm.

?She saw the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra diligently making offerings at the feet of all the Tathagatas. She saw his ripening and guiding of all beings.

37. 99 ?She saw all Bodhisattvas becoming images within the body of the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra, [F.126.b] and that she herself followed them there.

?She saw the image of the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra appearing everywhere -at the feet of all the Tathagatas, in the dwelling places of all beings, and in every one of the world realms.

37. 100 ?She saw that in each of those world realms there were as many worlds as there are atoms in a Buda realm, with the extent of their arrays and with their foundations, their shapes, their forms, their various pure arrays, their being covered by clouds of various displays, their various names and numbers, the descriptions of their various Buda lineages and their various appearances within the three times, their pervasion throughout the extent of the directions, their various presences throughout the extent of the realm of phenomena, their appearance within the various areas of the realm of phenomena, their various locations within areas in space, their displays of various bodhimandas, the arising of the various miracles of the Tathagatas, the display of the various lion thrones of the Budas, the various oceans of the assemblies of followers of the Tathagatas, the various activities of the followers of the Tathagatas, the revelation of the skillful methods of the Tathagatas, the various ways of the turning of the Dharma¹⁴⁷⁸ wheels of the Tathagatas, the arising of the various aspects of speech and the sound of the voices of the Tathagatas, the teaching through an ocean of various languages, and the roar of clouds of various sutras.

37. 101 ?When she saw that, she attained a powerful happiness and delight.

[F.127.a] After she had given rise to powerful happiness, that Tathagata, the Bhagavat Samanta jnana ratnarci shri guna ketu raja, taught the sutra called The Resounding of the Dharma Wheels of All the Tathagatas and as many accompanying sutras as there are atoms in ten Buda realms. When she heard that sutra, she attained the bliss of reaching ten thousand subtle gateways to samadhi. This was like the day a consciousness enters the mother's womb, to give an analogy. This was like the completed karma of beings. This was like a day in which a seed or seedling that is the cause of an excellent sal tree is planted.¹⁴⁷⁹

1481

1482 1483 1484

37. 102 ?She attained these gentle and pleasant samadhis: the samadhi called directly perceiving all Tathagatas, the samadhi called the radiance that goes through the entire extent of all the realms, the samadhi called entry into comprehending all the ways of the three times, the samadhi called the resounding of the Dharma wheels of all the Tathagatas, the samadhi called perceiving the ocean of prayers by all the

Budas, the samadhi called the perception of the resounding of the roaring that saves beings afflicted by the suffering of samsara, the samadhi called the array of prayers to dispel the darkness of all beings, the samadhi called the perception of the prayers for all beings to be free from suffering, the samadhi called the origin of the attainment of happiness by all beings, the samadhi called the essence of never wearying in ripening and guiding all beings, [F.127.b] the samadhi called the banner of entering the path of all Bodhisattvas, the samadhi of the display of reaching all the bhumis of the Bodhisattvas, and the other ten thousand gateways to samadhi.

37. 103 ?She had a mind that rested in subtle equanimity, a mind that was unwavering, a mind that was filled with joy, a mind that was relieved, a mind that was immeasurable, a mind that followed the kalyanamitras, a mind that was focused on profound omniscience, a mind that had entered an ocean of the ways of kindness, a mind that had risen above all attachments, a mind that did not dwell within the scope of the world, a mind that had entered the scope of the Tathagatas, a mind that was illuminated by the forms and colors of all the Budas, a mind that was undisturbed, a mind that was immovable, a mind that was without anger, a mind that was without instability, a mind that was without weariness, a mind that was without regression, a mind that was without dejection, a mind that understood the nature of all phenomena, a mind that had the understanding of the analysis of all phenomena, a mind that comprehended the ocean of all beings, a mind that wished to save all beings, a mind that gave rise to the

1488

illumination of the ocean of multitudes of Budas, a mind that comprehended the ocean of prayers of all the Tathagatas, a mind that shattered the mountain of all obscurations, [F.128.a] a mind that accomplished a vast accumulation of merit, a mind that was directed toward attaining the ten strengths of the Tathagatas, a mind that had attained the illumination of the range of all Bodhisattvas, a mind that increased the accumulations of all Bodhisattvas, and a mind that pervaded throughout all directions.1489

37. 104 ?With an ocean of prayers as numerous as the atoms in ten Buda realms, she made the past prayers of all Tathagatas, so that she could acquire completely good great prayers and purify her own Buda realm.1490

37. 105 ?They included prayers to ripen and guide all realms of beings, to know the entire extent of the realm of phenomena, to comprehend the ocean of the ways of the realm of phenomena, to practice Bodhisattva conduct in all Buda realms throughout future kalpas, to remain in the domain of Bodhisattva conduct throughout all future kalpas, to go into the presence of all Tathagatas, to please all kalyanamitras, to perfectly make offerings to and be an attendant for all Tathagatas, to attain omniscient wisdom in every instant, and to have continuous Bodhisattva conduct in order to attain buddhahood.

37. 106 ?Through accomplishing an ocean of gateways to prayers, as numerous as the atoms in ten Buda realms, she was making the prayer for completely good Bodhisattva conduct.

37. 107 ?In order for her to accomplish the completely good Bodhisattva conduct and prayer, the Bhagavat [F.128.b] Samanta jnana ratnarci shri guna ketu raja encouraged her and inspired her with past roots of virtue that he taught, revealed, explained, displayed, made stable so they would not be lost, increased so that they would spread greatly, and caused to remain so that there would be dedication to omniscience.

37. 108 ?This concerned the first development of her aspiration to enlightenment and her acquiring an ocean of the countless prayers of past Tathagatas.

37. 109 ?Noble one, in a past time, ten kalpas before that, the daughter Samanta-jnanarci padma bhadrabhiraṃ netra śrī candra was following the teaching of the Tathagata Candra dhvaja śrī ketu in a world realm called Mani surya-candra vidyotita prabha. The Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra instigated her to repair a broken statue of the Tathagata seated upon a lotus. When she had repaired it, she painted it. When she had painted it, she adorned it with jewels. Through following the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra she developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment.

37. 110 ?As a result of that root of merit, she became a Dharma follower free of downfalls. She was always born into a family of lords of devas or a family of lords of humans. In all her lives she had a body that was attractive and lovely to look at and had an excellent, beautiful color. She always saw Tathagatas [F.129.a] and was never separated from the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra. That Bodhisattva ripened her in every lifetime and made her remember. She always honored the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra and was always devoted to him.

37. 111 ?Noble one, who do you think was the cakravartin king Vairocana ratna-padma garbha śrī cūḍa at that time, in that time? Do not think that it was anyone else. It was the Bodhisattva Maitreya who was Vairocana ratna-padma garbha śrī cūḍa at that time, in that time.

37. 112 ?Noble one, who do you think was the king's queen, Sampurna śrīvakra, at that time, in that time? Do not think that it was anyone else. It was this night goddess, Prashanta ruta Sagara vati, who is before me.

37. 113 ?Noble one, who do you think was the king's daughter, Samanta jnanarci-padma bhadrabhiraṃa netra śhri candra, at that time, in that time? Do not think that it was anyone else. I was at that time, in that time, the king's daughter, Samanta jnanarci padma bhadrabhiraṃa netra śhri candra. When I was a young girl in the time of the teaching of the Tathagata Candra dhvaja śhri ketu and repaired the statue of the Tathagata seated upon a lotus, that was the cause for my highest, complete enlightenment. At that time, the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra inspired me toward the highest, complete enlightenment, and that was my first development of that aspiration. [F.129.b]

37. 114 ?I went into the presence of the Bhagavat Samanta jnana ratnarci śhri guna-ketu raja and scattered my jewelry over him and then saw the Tathagata's miraculous manifestations. Then when I heard the Dharma from that bhagavat, I attained this Bodhisattva liberation called the manifestations that guide beings that appear in all worlds.

37. 115 ?I have honored Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru. I have honored them by all the activities of offering them necessary articles and attending upon them. I have heard all the Dharma that those Tathagatas have taught, and I have followed the instructions and teachings of those Tathagatas. I have greatly venerated those Tathagatas so that through that veneration I have seen in an instant of mind all Tathagatas, their assemblies of Bodhisattvas, and all their Buda realms.

37. 116 ?The world realm Vairocana tejahśhri passed away, and the kalpa called Virajomandala came to an end. They were followed by the world realm called Mani cakra vicitra pratimandita vyuha and the kalpa called Mahaprabha, in which appeared five hundred Budas, and I honored all of them. The very1491 first of them in the Mahaprabha kalpa was the Tathagata whose name was Maha karuna megha dhvaja. When he set forth into homelessness, I was a night goddess who made offerings to him.

37. 117 ?After that, there was the Tathagata whose name was Vajra narayana ketu. I was a cakravartin who made offerings to him. [F.130.a] That Tathagata taught me the sutra called The Birth and Arising of All Budas, together with accompanying sutras as numerous as the atoms in ten Buda realms. I heard it and retained it.

37. 118 ?After that, there was the Tathagata whose name was Jvalanarcih parvata-shri vyuha. I was a head merchant's daughter and made offerings to him. That Tathagata taught me the sutra called The Essence of the Light of the Three Times, together with accompanying sutras as numerous as the atoms in Jambudvipa. I heard it and retained it.

37. 119 ?After that, there was the Tathagata whose name was Sarva Dharma-samudrabhyudgata vega raja. I was a king of devas and made offerings to him. That Tathagata taught me the sutra called The Categories of the Knowledge of All the Bases of the Realm of Phenomena, together with five hundred accompanying sutras. I heard it and retained it.

37. 120 ?After that, there was the Tathagata whose name was Gambhira Dharma shri-samudra prabha. I was the daughter of a lord of the Nagas and made an offering to him of the rain from a cloud of kings of precious wish-fulfilling jewels. That Tathagata taught me the sutra called The Power of an Increasing Ocean of Delight, together with a million accompanying sutras. I heard it and retained it.

37. 121 ?After that, there was the Tathagata whose name was Ratna shikhararcih-parvata pradipa. I was an ocean goddess who approached him and made an offering of the rain from a cloud of precious lotuses. [F.130.b] That Tathagata taught me the sutra called Ways of the Ocean of Phenomena, together with accompanying sutras as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm. I heard it and retained it, memorized it, and kept it.

37. 122 ?After that, there was the Tathagata whose name was Guna-samudravabhasa mandala shri. I was a Rishi with the five higher cognitions who was encircled by sixty thousand Rishis and manifested great miracles. I approached him and made an offering of the rain from a mountain-sized cloud of perfumed lotuses. That Tathagata taught me the sutra called The Lamp of Phenomena Being without Location, together with ten thousand accompanying sutras. I heard it and retained it.

37. 123 ?After that, there was the Tathagata whose name was Vairocana shri garbha. I was an earth goddess named Samatartha sambhava. Together with a countless retinue of earth goddesses, I approached him to make an offering of the rain falling from a cloud of precious flowers and a cloud of strings of jewels that had arisen from the trunks of trees made of all jewels. That Tathagata taught me the sutra called The Essence of the Source of the Wisdom That Is the Origin of All the Tathagatas, together with countless accompanying sutras. I heard it, retained it, and did not lose it.¹⁴⁹²

37. 124 ?Noble one, the last of all those five hundred Tathagatas was the Tathagata Dharma dhatu gagana purna ratna shikhara shri pradipa who appeared in the world. At that time, I was the daughter of a dancer [F.131.a] and had the name Abhirama shrivakra. The Tathagata came to the city, and when the dancers were playing music, through the power of the Buda I rose up into the air and praised the Tathagata with a thousand verses. Then I went to him. From the Tathagata's urna hair shined a ray of light called the display of the radiance of the realm of the Dharma, which illuminated my entire body. The instant that light touched my body, I obtained the liberation called the concentrated essence of the way of the realm of Dharma.

37. 125 ?Noble one, in that way I pleased and made offerings to all those Tathagatas, the five hundred Budas that appeared in the world realm called Mani cakra vicitra pratimandita vyuha during the kalpa called Mahaprabha. Those Tathagatas taught me the Dharma, and I remembered it all. I did not forget a single letter or a single word of those ways of the Dharma.

37. 126 ?When I went before each of those Tathagatas, I recited the Buda?s Dharma, and in that way I benefited countless beings.

37. 127 ?From each of those Tathagatas I obtained an ocean of the contents of the realm of the Dharma, an illumination from the lightning of omniscience, [F.131.b] which was called The Extensive Realm of the Dharma That Is the Essence of the Knowledge of the Three Times, and I followed and continued all the completely good conduct.

37. 128 ?In that way, noble one, in each instant of mind there appear Tathagatas without outer limit or center. When I see those Tathagatas, there is the illumination of the lightning of omniscience, and that which I had not previously attained, which I had not previously seen, becomes present within the continuum of my mind, without ever deviating from the completely good conduct of the Bodhisattva.

37. 129 ?Why is that? This attainment of the illumination from the lightning of omniscience is a teaching that has no outer limit or center.?

37. 130 At that time, the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri, in order to teach further and classify the Bodhisattva liberation called the manifestations that guide beings that appear in all worlds, through the blessing of the Buda recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant's son:

37. 131?The profound view is difficult; it is difficult to comprehend

The different ways of the extents of the three times

And the completely shining domain of Dharma light.

Listen to these words of mine, Sudhana. {30}

37. 132?Listen to me as I reveal the way,

Wishing for the qualities of buddhahood,

I first developed the aspiration for enlightenment

And how it was I attained this liberation. {31}

37. 133?In the past, beyond kalpa after kalpa,

As many as there are atoms in a Buda realm,

There was a vast, stainless, faultless world realm

Called Vairocana dhvaja pradipa shri. {32}

37. 134?There had arisen the kalpa Virajomandala,

In which there was a succession of Budas.

At that time those with the faultless ten strengths

Appeared as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru. {33}

37. 135?The first of those sugatas was

Samanta jnana ratnarci shri guna ketu raja,

Then there was the Jina Dharmadhvaja, then Shrisumeru,

And the fourth jina was Guna kesharishvara. {34}

The Jina Abhyudgata, Sumerushri,

And the Sugata Dharmarci parvata shri, {36}

37. 138?Then Karunika, and ninth was Padmodgata.1493

The tenth Buda was Dharma dhatu kusuma.

In that way, these were the second ten

From the description of the ocean of Budas. {37}

37. 139?Then there were Prabha ketu raja mati, Jnanamati,1494

Citrarthendra, Shridevamati,

Jina Vegarajamati, jnana shri,

And Avabhasa raja, and Prabha ketu shri, {38}

37. 140?Then the Jina Vikranta deva gati,

And likewise Dharma dhatu padma.

In that way, those were the third ten

Within the way of this vast teaching. {39}

37. 141?Then there was the Bhagavat Ratnarci parvata shri,

And following him were Guna samudra shri,

Dharmaprabha, Padma garbha shri,

And the Sugata Gati candra netra nayana, {40}

37. 142?Then Gandhaprabha, Manisumerushri,

Gandharva kaya prabha raja, and Mani garbha raja shri teja vatin,

And the tenth jina was Prashama rupa gati. {41}

37. 143?Following them were the Jina Vipulabuddhi,

Ratnaprabha, and Gagana megha shri.

Then there were the Jina Vara lakshana shri,
Vratamandala, and Svasharira prabha, {42}

37. 144?Then Narayana vrata sumeru shri,
The Jina Guna cakravala shri raja,
The Bhagavat Aparajita vrata dhvaja,
And Druma parvata, the tenth of those jinas. {43}

37. 145?Then there were the Jina Salendra raja shri garbha, Lokendra kaya pratibhasa prabha,
The Bhagavat Abhyudgata prabha shri,
Vajraprabha, and Dharani teja shri, {44}1495

37. 146?Then the Jina Gambhira Dharma guna raja shri, Dharma Sagara nirghosha mati,
Merudhvajashri, Prabhasamati,
And the tenth jina, Ratnarajashri. {45}

37. 147?Then there were Brahmaprabha, the Jina Gagana ghosha, [F.132.b]
Dharma dhatu pratibhasa shri,
The Bhagavat Aloka mandala prabha,
And Dishabheda jnana prabha ketu mati, {46}

37. 148?Then Gagana pradipa, Abhiramashri,
The Sugata Vairocana prabha shri, and Punya prabhasa shri shanta shri,
And the tenth was Maha karuna megha shri. {47}

37. 149?Then there were Tathataprabha, Bala prabhasa mati,
And the Jina Sarva jagadabhi mukha rupa;
Then there was Abhyudgata,
And after him was Samasharira. {48}

37. 150?In the same way, there was the Sugata Dharmodgata,
And after him came Anilavegashri,
Shuradhvaja, and Ratna gatra shri,
And the tenth was Tryadhva pratibhasa prabha. {49}

37. 151?Then there was Pranidhana Sagara prabhasa shri,
The second was Vajrashaya giri shri,
The third jina was Harisumerushri,
And then there were Smriti ketu raja shri and Dharmamati, {50}

37. 152?Then Prajnapradipa, Prabha ketu shri,
And after them the Jina Vipulabuddhi,
The Jina Dharma dhatu naya jnana gati,
And Dharma samudra mati jnana shri. {51}

37. 153?Then there were Dharmadhara, Ratnadanashri,

And the Jina Vega prabha shamatha ghosha, {52}

Sattvashaya sama shariri shri, [F.133.a]

The Buda Parartha savihara shri,

And the Jina Prakritisharira shri bhadra. {55}

37. 157?Those jinas and the others appeared there.

When they appeared, they were lamps for the world.

I made offerings to that ocean of jinas

For as many kalpas as there are atoms in Sumeru. {56}

37. 158?Whatever jinas have appeared in kalpas

As numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm,

I have made offerings to all those sugatas

And followed this way of liberation. {57}

37. 159?I have practiced throughout endless past kalpas,

Meditating on this way of liberation.

Having heard it, practice it quickly,

And you will attain this way before long. {58}

37. 160?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the manifestations that guide beings that appear in all worlds. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who remain in the aspiration to an ocean of Bodhisattva conduct that has no outer limit or center, who have bodies in accordance with the various dispositions of beings, who accomplish an ocean of various faculties, and who have the realization of the various kinds of Bodhisattva conduct and prayers?

37. 161 ?Depart, noble one. Here in the bodhimanda, there is the goddess of the night named Prashanta ruta Sagara vati.

?She is seated on a lotus throne with the adornment of shining banners of kings of jewels in its center, and with an entourage of countless millions of night goddesses. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

37. 162 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri, circumambulated the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, [F.133.b] and, looking back again and again, departed from the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri. [B8]

38. Chapter 38

PRASHANTA RUTA Sagara VATI

38. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, meditating on the night goddess Samanta sattva tranojah shri's Bodhisattva liberation called the manifestations that guide beings that appear in all worlds, and contemplating it, having faith in it, engaging in it, increasing it, expanding it, augmenting it, gaining power over it, illuminating it, and being absorbed in it, approached the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati.1497

38. 2 He bowed his head to the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati's feet, circumambulated the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati many hundreds of thousands of times, and then stood before the night goddess Prashanta-ruta Sagara vati.

38. 3 With his hands placed together in homage, he said, 'Arya, I have entered upon the highest, complete enlightenment, and through relying on kalyanamitras I am training in Bodhisattva conduct. I have entered into Bodhisattva conduct, and I am practicing Bodhisattva conduct. I wish to bring forth omniscience through being established in Bodhisattva conduct. Therefore, Arya, goddess, I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct and how they should practice it!'

[F.134.a]

38. 4 The night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that in this way you seek Bodhisattva conduct by relying on kalyanamitras. Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight."

38. 5 Sudhana asked, "Arya, what kind of activity do you accomplish? What kind of range do you have? What is your practice? What do you contemplate? What is the range of the Bodhisattva liberation called the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight?"

38. 6 She replied, "Noble one, I have entered the equanimity of the purification of the ocean of mind and thought. I have attained the aspiration for an inviolable display that is clear of all worldly dust and dirt. I have a mind that will not regress or turn back from this undertaking. I gain satisfaction through bringing to happiness all beings in villages, towns, countrysides, kingdoms, realms, and capital cities, and in ways that accord with the Dharma I guard them, protect them, and help them.1498

38. 7 ?I gradually ripen them for omniscience in this way: I develop nonattachment within beings who dwell in mansions and aerial palaces. I dispel their unhappiness. I bring an end to all attachments. I teach them the Dharma so that they will know the nature of all phenomena. I teach the Dharma to those who for a long time have been close and affectionate with fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, relatives, and friends, so that they will meet Budas and Bodhisattvas. I teach the Dharma so that beings who go to parks will obtain the cause for dedication to seeking the Buddha's Dharma. I teach the Dharma so that beings who are on the road will follow the road to omniscience. I teach the Dharma so that beings who are in villages will depart from the three realms altogether. I teach the Dharma so that beings who are in the countryside will surpass the paths of the Shravakas and pratyeka Buddhas and be established on the level of the Tathagatas. Seeing them, I feel an ocean of various powerful joys.¹⁵⁰⁴

38. 10 ?Moreover, noble one, I see the inconceivable, completely pure form body of the Bhagavat Vairocana, which is adorned by the physical signs of a great being, and attain a great joy, delight, and happiness.

38. 11 ?I see, in each instant of mind, his aura of light, which is as vast as the realm of phenomena and is an ocean of colors without limit or center, and in each instant I attain an ocean of the power of great joy.

?This liberation is like an emanation because it is an emanation of Bodhisattva conduct.

38. 35 ?This liberation is like the great earth because it is a support for all beings.

?This liberation is like a mass of water because it saturates all beings with compassion.

38. 36 ?This liberation is like a mass of fire because it dries up the liquid of craving in all beings.

?This liberation is like a mass of air because it reveals omniscience to all beings.1508

38. 37 ?This liberation is like an ocean because it is the basis for the adornment of good qualities for all beings.

?This liberation is like Meru, the king of mountains, because it rises up from the ocean of the precious knowledge of the entire Dharma.

38. 38 ?This liberation is like the circle of the wind because it is the practice of the aerial palace of liberation of all the Dharma. [F.140.b]1509

?This liberation is like space because it provides room for all the miraculous manifestations of the Tathagatas who appear in the three times.

38. 39 ?This liberation is like a great cloud because it sends down a rain of Dharma on all beings.

?This liberation is like the sun because it dispels the darkness of ignorance in all beings.

38. 40 ?This liberation is like the moon because it is produced by a great ocean of merit and wisdom.

?This liberation is like the true nature because it is omnipresent.

38. 41 ?This liberation is like one's shadow because it is emanated through the Dharma of karma.

?This liberation is like an echo because it resounds the words of the Dharma in accordance with the dispositions of beings.

38. 42 ?This liberation is like a reflection because it is perceived by all beings in accordance with their dispositions.

?This liberation is like the king of trees because it blossoms with the miraculous manifestations of all the Buddhas.

38. 43 ?This liberation is like a vajra because it has the quality of indestructibility.

?This liberation is like the king of wish-fulfilling jewels because it creates a limitless, centerless ocean of miraculous manifestations.

38. 44 ?This liberation is like the essence of a stainless king of jewels because of its unobscured perception of the miraculous manifestations of the Tathagatas in the three times.

38. 45 ?This liberation is like the precious jewel of a banner of happiness because it emits the sound of the Dharma wheels of all Buddhas equally.

38. 46 ?Thus, noble one, the Bodhisattva liberation the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight [F.141.a] is taught by following an array of limitless examples.?

38. 47 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, said to the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati, ?Arya, goddess, how does a Bodhisattva practice in order to accomplish such a liberation??

38. 48 She answered, ?Noble one, there are these ten: a great accumulation, a great abundance of qualities, a great vastness, a great brightness, a great illumination, a great brilliance, a great portion, a great share, a great becoming, and the great fortune of the Bodhisattvas.¹⁵¹⁰

?If Bodhisattvas practice them, they will attain a perfect result such as this liberation.

38. 49 ?What are these ten? (1) Engaging in the generosity of a Bodhisattva, which satisfies all beings in accordance with their aspirations, is a vast quality. (2) Engaging in the practice of the correct conduct of a Bodhisattva, which enters an ocean of the qualities of the Tathagatas, is a vast quality. (3) Engaging in the patience of a Bodhisattva, which realizes the nature of all phenomena, is a vast quality. (4) Engaging in the diligence of a Bodhisattva, which undertakes attaining omniscience, is an extensive quality. (5)

Engaging in the meditation of a Bodhisattva, which pacifies the torment of the kleshas in all beings, is an extensive quality. (6) Engaging in the wisdom of a Bodhisattva, which is knowing the entire ocean of the Dharma, is an extensive quality. (7) Engaging in the methods of a Bodhisattva, which guides and ripens the entire ocean of beings, is an extensive quality. (8)

Engaging in the prayer of a Bodhisattva, which is entering the entire ocean of realms in order to perform Bodhisattva conduct in all Buda realms throughout the endless future kalpas, is an extensive quality. [F.141.b] (9)

Engaging in the strength of a Bodhisattva, which is to enter an ocean of the ways of the realm of the Dharma so as to continuously manifest the attainment of buddhahood in each instant in all Buda realms, is an extensive quality. (10) Engaging in the knowledge of a Bodhisattva, which is to gain the strengths of the Tathagatas so as to attain the unobscured knowledge of all phenomena in the three times, is an extensive quality.

38. 50 ?Noble one, those ten are the great accumulations, the vast qualities of the Bodhisattvas. The Bodhisattvas who remain within them will obtain this kind of Bodhisattva liberation. They will make it pure, cause it to arise, increase it, elevate it, manifest it, accomplish it, make it enduring, make it vast, perfect it, and establish it.?

38. 51 Sudhana asked, ?Arya, goddess, how long has it been since you set out for the highest, complete enlightenment??

38. 52 She replied, ?Noble one, to the east of this ocean of world realms called Kusuma tala garbha vyuhalamkara, beyond a hundred thousand oceans of world realms, there is an ocean of world realms called Sarva ratna vimalaprabha vyuha. In its center there is a group of world realms called Sarva-

Tathagata prabha pranidhi nirghosha. In its center is a world realm called Kanaka vimala prabha vyuha, which has multicolored clouds made of every jewel; [F.142.a] its base is a firm ocean of a network of garlands of every jewel; its main body is a display of every perfumed diamond, the king of jewels; it has the shape of a kutagara; it is both pure and defiled and covered over with clouds of aerial palaces and dwellings made of divine materials.1511

38. 53 ?There, during a kalpa called Samantavabhasa dhvaja, in that world, there was a bodhimanda called Sarva ratna garbha vicitrabha. There a Tathagata, who was called the Bhagavat Avivartya Dharma dhatu nirghosha, attained the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood.

38. 54 ?At that time, in that time, I was a goddess of the bodhimanda, named Punya pradipa sampatketu prabha, who dwelled at the Bodhi tree. When I saw that Tathagata's miraculous manifestation of buddhahood, I developed the aspiration to attain the highest, complete enlightenment, and on seeing that Tathagata I attained a samadhi called the light of an ocean of qualities.

38. 55 ?Subsequently, the Tathagata Dharma drumavata tejas attained buddhahood at that bodhimanda, by that world's royal capital called Samanta sampurna shri garbha. I had passed away and become a night goddess, by the name of jnana shri punya prabha, who dwelled at the bodhimanda.

38. 56 ?There I saw the Tathagata Dharma drumavata tejas' miraculous manifestation of turning the wheel of the Dharma, and I attained a samadhi called the range of the light of an ocean of qualities. [F.142.b]

38. 57 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Sarva Dharma Sagara nirghosha raja at that bodhimanda. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the state of enhancing the levels of all dharmas.1512

38. 58 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Ratna rashmi pradipa dhvaja raja at that bodhimanda. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called clouds of the complete light of the tree.

38. 59 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Guna sumeru prabha tejas at that bodhimanda. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the radiance of the ocean of Budas.1513

38. 60 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Dharma megha nirghosha raja at that bodhimanda. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the lamp of the ocean of all dharmas.

38. 61 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Jnanolkavabhasa raja at that bodhimanda. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the light of the lamp that ends the suffering of all beings.

38. 62 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Dharma vikurvita vega dhvaja shri at that bodhimanda. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the light of the essence of comprehending all the Tathagatas in the three times.

38. 63 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Dharma pradipa vikrama jnana-simha at that bodhimanda. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the brilliance of the light of the wheel of unimpeded knowledge of all world realms.1514

38. 64 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata jnana bala parvata tejas at that bodhimanda. [F.143.a] As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the illumination of the conduct and faculties of beings in the three times.

38. 65 ?In that way, noble one, in the world realm called Kanaka vimala prabhavyuha, during the kalpa called Samantavabhasa dhvaja, I venerated as many Tathagatas as there are atoms in ten Buda realms. Sometimes I venerated them when I was a lord of devas; sometimes, when I was a lord of Nagas; sometimes, when I was a lord of yakshas; sometimes, when I was a lord of gandharvas; sometimes, when I was a lord of asuras; sometimes, when I was a lord of kinnaras; sometimes, when I was a lord of mahoragas; sometimes, when I was a lord of humans; sometimes, when I was a lord of Brahmas; sometimes, when I was a deva; sometimes, when I was a human; sometimes, when I was a woman; sometimes, when I was a man; sometimes, when I was a boy; and sometimes, when I was a girl. To all those Tathagatas I made offerings and offered whatever I possessed. I attended to all those Tathagatas. I heard the Dharma that all those Tathagatas taught.

38. 66 ?After I passed away, I practiced Bodhisattva conduct in that world realm for as many kalpas as there are atoms in a Buda realm.

38. 67 ?Then, when I passed away, I was reborn in this Saha world realm in the ocean of world realms called Kusuma tala garbha vyuhalamkara.

38. 68 ?I venerated the Tathagata Krakucchanda. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the radiance that is free of all darkening dust.

38. 69 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Kanaka muni. [F.143.b] As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the radiance that spreads throughout all the ocean of realms.

38. 70 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Kashyapa. As soon as I saw that Tathagata, I attained a samadhi called the thunder of the sounds of the ocean of the languages of all beings.

38. 71 ?Subsequently, I venerated the Tathagata Vairocana. At the bodhimanda, he manifested in each instant of mind an ocean of the gateways to the miraculous manifestations of a Tathagata's buddhahood. As soon as I saw that, I attained this Bodhisattva liberation called the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight. As soon as I had attained it, I entered an ocean of the ways of the realm of phenomena that were as numerous as the atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya of Buda realms. I saw that in each of the atoms that were all the atoms within all Buda realms in that ocean of all the ways of the realm of phenomena, there were Buda realms as numerous as the atoms in an anabhilapyanabhilapya of Buda realms.

38. 72 ?I saw that among all those Buda realms, in each Buda realm there was the Bhagavat Vairocana going to the bodhimanda and in each instant of mind manifesting the miraculous manifestation of the attainment of buddhahood. Each miraculous manifestation of the attainment of buddhahood completely pervaded the ocean of ways of the realm of phenomena.

38. 73 ?I perceived that among all those Tathagatas, I was seated at the feet of every one of those Tathagatas. [F.144.a] I heard all the Dharma that was taught by all those Tathagatas seated at the bodhimanda in those world realms.

38. 74 ?An ocean of emanations came from each pore of all those Tathagatas, roaring out an ocean of clouds of Dharma, manifesting various miraculous manifestations, and turning the wheel of the Dharma according to the various dispositions of beings born into various kinds of existences, the entire extent of all beings in all the ocean of realms, in all successions of world realms, in the entire extent of world realms within the ocean of every direction in the realm of phenomena.

38. 75 ?I possess all those turnings of the Dharma wheel, comprehend them, understand them, and keep them through the power of mental retention that has the prowess of maintaining all their meaning, words, and letters. I purify them with wisdom that understands the essence of the pure domain of all the Dharmas. I understand their categories through skill in the analysis of the ocean of all Dharmas. I permeate them with an understanding that is as vast as the three times. I perceive them as equal through the wisdom that comprehends the equality of the Tathagatas. I accomplish all the ways of the Dharma. I attain clouds of sutras within all the Dharmas. I am established in an ocean of Dharma within the clouds of all sutras. I am established in the categories of Dharma in the ocean of all Dharmas. I know clouds of Dharma within the categories of all Dharmas. [F.144.b] I give rise to waves of Dharma within the clouds of all Dharmas. I attain an ocean of the power of delight in the Dharma within the waves of all Dharmas. I accomplish the power of attaining the bhumis within the power of delight in all Dharmas. I accomplish the power of an ocean of samadhis within the power of all the bhumis. I attain an ocean of visions of the Budas within the clouds of oceans of all samadhis. I attain an ocean of light within the ocean of all visions of the Budas. I am established on the level of the domain of the knowledge of the three times within the ocean of all lights.1515

38. 76 ?I comprehend and know the first development of aspiration by those Tathagatas and so on until the cessation of their Dharma. I do so by pervading the ocean of directions without limit or center; by comprehending the immeasurable ocean of the past conduct of the Tathagatas; through the illuminating knowledge of the immeasurable ocean of the past practices of the Tathagatas; through attaining the immeasurable light of knowledge of the Tathagatas; through illuminating the immeasurable domain of the purified correct conduct of the Tathagatas; through the immeasurable level of the purified patience of the Tathagatas; through having attained the illuminating knowledge of the prowess of the tathagatas¹⁵¹⁸ to increase the immeasurable power of their great diligence; through having attained the illumination of the ways the Tathagatas purify the immeasurable ocean of the domain of meditation and the branches of meditation; through the illuminating perception of the purification by the Tathagatas of the immeasurable ocean of the perfection of wisdom; through comprehending the immeasurable ocean of the ways of the Tathagatas in the perfection of skillful methods; [F.145.a] through comprehending the immeasurable ocean of the ways of the Tathagatas in the perfection of prayers; through having attained the knowledge of the Tathagatas remaining in and increasing the immeasurable perfection of the power of merit and wisdom; through having attained the knowledge of the ways of practice by the Tathagatas in the immeasurable ocean of the perfection of knowledge; through having attained the illuminating knowledge of the Tathagatas in the past ascending immeasurable Bodhisattva bhumis; through being present in an ocean of kalpas of immeasurable miraculous manifestations by the Tathagatas on ascending the bhumis; through the past ascent by the Tathagatas through the immeasurable domain of the Bodhisattva bhumis; through the past dwelling by the Tathagatas in immeasurable Bodhisattva bhumis; through the past purification by the Tathagatas of immeasurable Bodhisattva bhumis; through contemplating the ocean of knowledge of the immeasurable bhumis of the Tathagatas; through having attained the illuminating knowledge of immeasurable Tathagatas; through perceiving the immeasurable seeing and following of every past Buda by the Tathagatas when they were Bodhisattvas; through perceiving the immeasurable repeated presence of the Tathagatas, when they were Bodhisattvas, in an ocean of kalpas, and seeing the entire ocean of all the Budas in the past; through having attained the illuminating knowledge of the Tathagatas as Bodhisattvas having the immeasurable accomplishment of their bodies pervading the entire ocean of realms; [F.145.b] through the immeasurable, vast Bodhisattva conduct of the Tathagatas pervading the entire realm of phenomena; through the vision of the past immeasurable Bodhisattva conduct by the Tathagatas of ripening and guiding all beings through various methods; through the immeasurable radiating light of the Tathagatas pervading the entire ocean of directions; through the Tathagatas' immeasurable display of miraculous manifestations directly to beings; through having attained the illuminating knowledge of the ascent to the immeasurable level of the knowledge of the Tathagatas; through having attained the illuminating knowledge of the immeasurable miraculous manifestation of the attainment of buddhahood by the Tathagatas; through having obtained and possessed the entirety of all the immeasurable clouds of Dharma from the turnings of the wheel of the Dharma by the Tathagatas; through having attained the illuminating knowledge that perceives the immeasurable ocean of the characteristics of the Tathagatas; through having attained the illuminating knowledge that perceives the immeasurable ocean of the activities of the bodies of the Tathagatas; and through having attained the illuminating knowledge of the immeasurable, vast scope of the Tathagatas.¹⁵²⁴

1525

38. 77 ?You ask me how long it has been since I attained this Bodhisattva liberation called the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight? [F.146.a] It was like this: As many kalpas ago as there are atoms in two Buda realms, in the world realm called Kanaka vimala prabha, I was a Bodhi-tree goddess by the name of Punya pradipa sampatsamanta ketu-prabha. When I heard the Dharma taught by the Tathagata Avivartya-Dharma dhatu nirghosha, I developed that aspiration to attain the highest, complete enlightenment. I practiced Bodhisattva conduct for as many kalpas as there are atoms in two Buda realms and was then reborn in this world realm called Saha. I venerated the Tathagatas of the Bhadra kalpa, from Krakucchanda to Shakyamuni, and I will also venerate its future Budas. And just as in this world realm, I will venerate and make offerings to the future succession of Budas in all world realms.

38. 78 ?Noble one, there continues even now to be a succession of Budas in the world realm Kanaka vimala prabha.

?Therefore, noble one, you should dedicate yourself to this way with the fortitude of the Bodhisattva.?

38. 79 At that time, the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati, in order to teach further the Bodhisattva liberation called the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight, recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant's son:

38. 80 ?Listen, Sudhana, to these words of mine
About how I obtained this good liberation.

Hearing them will give rise to great delight,

And you must comprehend this liberation. {1}

38. 81 ?I purified my mind and my thoughts,

And I developed a vast, powerful aspiration. [F.146.b]

Intent on the city of omniscient wisdom,

I practiced for many oceans of past kalpas. {2}

38. 82 ?I listened to the sugatas in the three times

And developed an aspiration toward them all.

Through the passage of many hundreds of kalpas,

I attended on them and their assemblies. {3}

38. 83 ?I saw the sugatas of the past and made offerings to them

Over a long time, so as to bring benefit to beings.

Having developed a powerful enthusiasm,

I listened to their Dharma without weariness. {4}1526

38. 84 ?On following the way of this liberation,

I continually and respectfully attended

Those who were my father, mother, and guru,

Venerating them and bringing them happiness and benefit. {5}

38. 85 ?Through hundreds of lifetimes and with a loving mind,

I was a wealthy protector who brought happiness

To many people who were old, who were sick, and who were poor,

Who had impaired faculties, were in suffering, and had no protector. {6}

38. 86 ?During my Bodhisattva conduct in past lives,

I saved beings from an ocean of various dangers

Caused by kings, fire, and bandits1527

And by lions, elephants, and enemies. {7}

38. 87 ?During my Bodhisattva conduct in past lives,
I saved beings afflicted by kleshas in the three realms
From the various terrors of the ocean of existence
That arise through their bad actions. {8}

38. 88 ?I protected those classes of beings
Who have fallen into the abyss of samsara,
Terrified by the sufferings of the lower realms,
Which are always overwhelmingly dreadful.
As I practiced Bodhisattva conduct in the world,
I ended the terrors of birth, old age, sickness, and death. {9}1528

38. 89 ?My prayer is that until the last kalpa
I will bring an end to the suffering of samsara;
I will bring happiness to all beings
And give rise to the ultimate happiness of buddhahood. {10}

38. 90 ?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight. [F.147.a] How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who have comprehend the entire realm of phenomena, who are liberated from every outer and inner suffering, who know the names of all kalpas, who are wise in the creation of the ocean of all worlds and their destruction?

38. 91 ?Depart, noble one. Here in this very bodhimanda, within the assembly of the Bhagavat Vairocana, there is the goddess of the night who has the name Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva train in Bodhisattva conduct? How should a Bodhisattva practice it?? ?

38. 92 Then Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, recited these appropriate verses to the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati:

38. 93 ?The kalyanamitra instructed me correctly,
And therefore I came into your presence, goddess.

I saw you seated upon your throne

With a body that knows no limit or center. {11}

38. 94 ?Those who rely on existence and believe things to be real,
Whose fields of perception are colors, shapes, and characteristics,
Inferior beings who hold wrong views,
Cannot know this field of activity of yours. {12}

38. 95 ?The vision of your body is infinite.

The world and its devas could not know

The characteristics of your form and color

Even by examining them for endless kalpas. {13}

38. 96 ?Goddess, you are above the basis of the skandhas.

You are not located within the ayatanas.

There is no doubt that you have transcended the world

And manifest miracles within the world. {14}

38. 97 ?You are unshakable, without fault, without impediment.

You have purified your eyes of wisdom.

You see in an atom as many Budas

As there are atoms, performing miracles. {15}

38. 98 ?Your body has the essence of the Dharma body. [F.147.b]

Your mind consists of unobstructed wisdom.

You shine with the radiance of all-pervading light,

Illuminating the endless beings in the world. {16}

38. 99 ?Endless karma arises from the mind.

All the worlds are paintings by karma.

You know directly the minds of beings,

And the manifestations of your body are as numerous as beings. {17}

38. 100?You know this world to be like a dream

And that all the Budas are like reflections,

That every single Dharma is like an echo,

And without impediment you act within all worlds. {18}

38. 101?You manifest your body in each instant

To all the beings dwelling in the three times.

With no duality in your mind,

You teach the Dharma throughout all directions. {19}

38. 102?The ocean of atoms is without end,

And the ocean of beings is also measureless.

The ocean of the Budas has no edge or center,

And they are all within the scope of your liberation.? {20}

38. 103Sudhana, the head merchant's son, having praised the night goddess

Prashanta ruta Sagara vati with these appropriate verses, circumambulated the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati. [B9]

39. Chapter 39

SARVA NAGARA RAKShA SAMBHAVA TEJAH ShRI

39. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, was meditating on, familiarizing himself with, and cultivating the Bodhisattva liberation called the display in each instant of mind of the arising of the power of vast delight. He was following, remembering, [F.148.a] and comprehending the instruction and teachings of the night goddess Prashanta ruta Sagara vati, remembering each word and letter, the numerous countless aspects, the knowledge of the aspects of the nature of phenomena, and he was relying on it through his memory, analyzing it with his intelligence, comprehending it with his understanding, increasing it with his intellect, feeling it with his body, practicing it, and engaging in it, and eventually he arrived where the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri was.¹⁵²⁹

1530

39. 2 He saw the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri seated upon a great lotus throne containing the kings of precious jewels that illuminate towns and dwellings, with an entourage of countless night goddesses, with a body that appeared in all directions to all beings, with a body that had the forms of those of all beings, with a body that appeared before all beings, with a body that was unstained by all beings, with a body that had the same nature as that of all beings, with a body that was superior to those of all beings, with a body of the kind that could ripen and guide all beings, with a body through which she spoke to all beings, with a body that did not pass away among all beings, with a body that had vanquished all obscurations, with a body that had the nature of the ultimate nature of things, with a body that had reached the conclusion of guiding all beings.¹⁵³¹

39. 3 When Sudhana saw her, he was filled with joy, delighted, elated, pleased, and happy. He bowed his head to the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha-sambhava tejah shri's feet, circumambulated the night goddess Sarva nagara-raksha sambhava tejah shri many hundreds of thousands of times, and then stood before the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri.

39. 4 With his hands placed together in homage, [F.148.b] he said, "Goddess! I have entered upon the highest, complete enlightenment. Goddess, I pray that you explain to me how Bodhisattvas should train in Bodhisattva conduct so that they will be a medicine for beings. How do Bodhisattvas gather beings into the highest gathering? How do Bodhisattvas, authorized by the Tathagatas, dedicate themselves to Bodhisattva conduct so that, having become dedicated, they become kings of the Dharma.¹⁵³²

39. 5 The night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you ask about conduct that is a rain from clouds of Dharma that accords with the aspiration of the entire ocean of beings, so as to reach the conclusion of ripening and guiding all beings; so as to reach the conclusion of joining and maintaining the family of the Tathagatas; so as to conjoin with the wisdom that pervades throughout the extent of the directions; so as to focus on comprehending the entire ocean of the ways of the realm of the Dharma; so as to pervade the infinity of all that can be known, which is as vast as the extent of space; and so as to obtain and possess the wheels of Dharma of all the Tathagatas.

39. 6 "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations.

39. 7 "Noble one, through this liberation I undertake being on the unimpeded level of a dharmabhanaka. I have the aspiration to make a gift of the Dharma treasure of all the Tathagatas. I have attained the power of great love and compassion. [F.149.a] I am dedicated to activities that benefit all beings in order to bring all beings to the aspiration for enlightenment. I remain on the level of a guide for beings so that they will continuously gather the accumulation of the roots of merit of the aspiration for enlightenment. In order to bring all beings onto the path to omniscience, I engage in causing the sun of the Dharma to appear out of the clouds of the Dharma in the world. I continuously engage in a motivation that regards all beings as equal in order to illuminate all worlds with countless roots of merit. I am conjoined with a pure motivation so that all beings will know the accomplishment of accumulating roots of merit. I engage in being a leader of the caravan of all beings so that they will appropriately accomplish all the paths of good actions; I am engaged in the activity of causing all beings to reject all paths of bad actions and be established in the Dharma of good actions. I am engaged in teaching the path to happiness to all beings. I bring all beings to the beginning of the array of the yanas. I am engaged in establishing all beings in all virtuous Dharma practices. I am engaged in providing unceasing service and veneration to all kalyanamitras. I am engaged in establishing all beings in the teaching of the Tathagatas. I am engaged in causing all beings to commence upon good qualities through receiving the very first gift of the Dharma. I cause the arising of an aspiration for omniscience that is enduring and indestructible. I have the vast domain of the aspiration focused on the strengths of the Buda, which is as enduring and solid as the most powerful vajra, [F.149.b] and I practice by relying on a kalyanamitra.

39. 8 ?I have a mind that shatters the mountain of all the obscurations from karma and kleshas. I am dedicated to the accumulation of omniscience. I am engaged in accomplishing all good qualities. I am dedicated to being engaged in a mind that is focused on and aspires for omniscience that has no end or center.

39. 9 ?Noble one, in that way, I am purifying the revelation to all beings of the gateway to the light of the Dharma, and I am establishing them in gathering the accumulation of roots of merit.

39. 10 ?I look upon, comprehend, and fathom the realm of phenomena in ten ways. What are those ten? (1) I comprehend the realm of phenomena because I have attained the vast light of wisdom. (2) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as having no end and no center in order to perceive the miraculous manifestations of all the Tathagatas. (3) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as limitless in order to reach all Buda realms and to make offerings and show veneration to the Tathagatas. (4) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as having no boundary in order to have the vision of Bodhisattva activities within the ocean of all worlds. (5) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as being without division in order to enter the undivided domain of wisdom of the Tathagatas. (6) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as singleness [F.150.a] in order to enter the domain of speech of the Tathagatas, which is perceived by all beings in accordance with their aspirations. (7) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as having a nature of vastness in order to realize the ultimate conclusion of the past prayers of the Tathagatas to reach the conclusion of guiding all beings. (8) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as having the equality of all beings in order to realize the vast extent of completely good Bodhisattva conduct. (9) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as a single adornment in order to comprehend the adornment of the miraculous manifestations of completely good conduct. (10) I comprehend the realm of phenomena as being indestructible in order for the pure pervasion of the realm of phenomena by all good actions to have the nature of indestructibility.¹⁵³³

39. 11 ?Noble one, I look upon, comprehend, and fathom the entire realm of phenomena in those ten ways in order to gather all the accumulations of good karma, in order to comprehend the greatness of the Budas, and in order to realize the inconceivable scope of the Budas.

39. 12 ?Moreover, noble one, I teach the Dharma to beings with my mind fixed upon the greatness of the Tathagatas and through ten-thousandfold domains of the activity of mental retention. What are those ten? They are (1) the domain of mental retention called the gathering of the entire ocean of the Dharma, (2) the domain of mental retention called the blessing of all dharmas, (3) the domain of mental retention called the holding of all dharmas, (4) the domain of mental retention called the lamp of the intention of all the Tathagatas, (5) the domain of mental retention called the essence that illuminates the ocean of the karma of all beings, [F.150.b] (6) the domain of mental retention called the fathoming of the entire stainless ocean of the ways of the yanas, (7) the domain of mental retention called the proclamation of the turning of the wheel of the names of all the Budas, (8) the domain of mental retention called the fathoming of the teaching of the ocean of the past prayers of the Budas in the three times, (9) the domain of mental retention called the intense power of the gathering of all dharmas, and (10) the domain of mental retention called the arising of the power of omniscience.1535

39. 13 ?Noble one, I teach the Dharma to beings through these ten domains of mental retention and the rest of the ten thousand domains of mental retention.

39. 14 ?Moreover, noble one, I teach the Dharma to beings through the wisdom that comes from hearing the Dharma. I teach the Dharma to beings through the wisdom from contemplation and the wisdom from meditation.

39. 15 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with one existence. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with all existences.

39. 16 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of the wheel of names of one Tathagata. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of the wheel of names of all Tathagatas.

39. 17 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with one ocean of world realms. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with all oceans of world realms.

39. 18 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of prophecies of one Buda. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of prophecies of all Tathagatas.

39. 19 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of the community of the followers of one Tathagata. [F.151.a] I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of the communities of the followers of all Tathagatas.

39. 20 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the Dharma wheel of one Tathagata. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of the Dharma wheels of all Tathagatas.

39. 21 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with one sutra. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the sutras that are present within the Dharma wheels of all Tathagatas.

39. 22 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the gathering of the community of followers of one Tathagata. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of the gatherings of the communities of followers of all Tathagatas.

39. 23 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with one aspiration to omniscience. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the entire ocean of the aspects of the aspiration to enlightenment.

39. 24 ?I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with one yana. I teach the Dharma to beings beginning with the ocean of the arising of all yanās.

39. 25 ?Noble one, in that way, I teach the Dharma to beings through comprehending that in the way of the realm of the Dharma there is no differentiation in the ocean of the Tathagatas. Thereby I create an unsurpassable accumulation of the Dharma, continue with the Bodhisattva's completely good conduct throughout all future kalpas, and meditate on this Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations, expanding with each instant of mind the way of meditation on the vista of this liberation, with each instant of mind expanding throughout the entire realm of phenomena the way of meditation on the vista of this liberation.? [F.151.b]

39. 26 Sudhana said, ?Goddess, it is wonderful that this Bodhisattva liberation is so profound. Arya, how long has it been since you attained this Bodhisattva liberation??

She replied, ?Noble one, in the past, in time gone by, beyond as many kalpas as there are atoms in a world realm, there was a world realm called Dharmarajī nagara Megha, which had as many clouds of perfumed jewels as there are atoms in a four-continent world realm. It was bordered with lotuses that had been proclaimed in the past prayers of all the Tathagatas. Its body was formed from the ocean as the king of precious jewels, having arisen from the ocean of the karma of all beings. It had the shape of a great lotus. It was both pure and defiled. It had as many encircling Cakravala mountain ranges of lotuses as there are atoms in Sumeru. It was adorned by as many risen Sumerus of perfumed jewels as there are atoms in Sumeru. It was adorned by as many great four-continent worlds as there are atoms in Sumeru. In each four-continent world there was an anabhilapyanabhilapya of quintillions of cities.¹⁵³⁷

39. 27 ?Noble one, there was in that world realm a kalpa called Vimalabha. During that kalpa there appeared as many Tathagatas as there are atoms in Sumeru. In the center of that world realm called Dharmarci nagara megha¹⁵³⁸ there was a four-continent world called Vicitra dhvaja, in the center of which was the royal capital called Samanta ratna kusuma prabha.

39. 28 ?Not far from that royal capital was a bodhimanda called Dharma raja-bhavana pratibhasa. [F.152.a] At that bodhimanda there appeared the Tathagata Sarva Dharma Sagara nirghosha prabha raja, the first of the Tathagatas of that kalpa, who were as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru.

39. 29 ?At that time there was a cakravartin king by the name of Vimala-vakrabhanu prabha, who received from the Tathagata Sarva Dharma Sagara-nirghosha prabha raja the sutra called The Ocean of All Dharmas. After he had received it, after the Dharma wheel was turned, and after the passing into nirvana, the king entered homelessness and possessed all the teaching.

39. 30 ?At the time when the teaching was reaching its end, it divided into a thousand teachings, and in each teaching there was a division into a thousand ways of teaching. During the intermediate kalpa of deterioration, beings were obscured by the obscurations of karma and kleshas, and they were engaged in fighting, quarreling, and disruption. Bikshus were not concerned with the good qualities of the Buddha's teachings but were dedicated to delighting in the objects of the senses, engaged in conversations about kings and thieves, were interested in stories about women and countries and oceans, and used the words of the Lokayatas.

39. 31 ?The follower of the Dharma cried out, ?Oh! The great lamp of the Dharma, which has been established for many kalpas, is close to being extinguished!?

Having said these sad words, he rose into the air to the height of seven palm trees and emanated clouds of light of infinite colors. When he had emanated that great display of a net of light rays of various colors, [F.152.b] those multicolored lights pacified the torment of the kleshas in the world and established beings without end or center in enlightenment, which revived the teachings of the Tathagata so that it remained for a further sixty thousand years.

39. 32 ?At that time, the cakravartin king Vimala vakrabhanu prabha?s daughter, a bhikshuni by the name of Dharma cakra nirmana prabha, had an entourage of a hundred thousand bhikshunis. When she heard those sad words and saw that miraculous manifestation, she and her entourage developed the aspiration for enlightenment, and the hundred thousand bhikshunis became irreversible on the path to the highest, complete enlightenment and attained the samadhi called the manifest presence of the Tathagatas. They also obtained the power of mental retention called the light emanated from the Dharma wheel of all the Tathagatas. They also attained the perfection of wisdom called the entry into all the ways of the ocean of the Dharma. The bhikshuni Dharma cakra nirmana-prabha attained the samadhi called the lamp of the light that arises from the teachings of all the Tathagatas, and she attained in a subtle and gentle way this Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations. When she had attained that, she directly perceived all the miraculous manifestations of the Tathagata Sarva Dharma Sagara nirghosha-prabha raja.

39. 33 ?Noble one, what do you think? At that time, in that time, who do you think was the cakravartin king Vimala vakrabhanu prabha, who entered homelessness in the teaching of the Tathagata Sarva Dharma Sagara nirghosha-prabha raja [F.153.a] and, after the turning of the wheel of the Dharma and the passing into nirvana, when the teachings were coming to an end, lit the Dharma lamp of holding the teaching? Noble one, do not think that he was anyone else; at that time, in that time, the Bodhisattva Samanta bhadra was the cakravartin king Vimala vakrabhanu prabha.

39. 34 ?Noble one, what do you think? At that time, in that time, who do you think was the bhikshuni Dharma cakra nirmana prabha, the daughter of the cakravartin king Vimala vakrabhanu prabha, who had an entourage of a hundred thousand bhikshunis? Noble one, do not think that she was anyone else; at that time, in that time, I was the bhikshuni Dharma cakra nirmana-prabha. In that way, I held the teaching of the Tathagata Sarva Dharma-Sagara nirghosha prabha raja. I caused those hundred thousand bhikshunis to progress irreversibly toward the highest, complete enlightenment. I established them in the samadhi called the manifest presence of the Tathagatas. I also established them in the power of mental retention called the light emanated from the Dharma wheel of all Tathagatas and the perfection of wisdom called the entry into all the ways of the ocean of the Dharma.

39. 36 ?In that way, noble one, there were these hundred Budas and the other Tathagatas, as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru, who appeared in the kalpa called Vimalabha.

39. 37 ?Noble one, the last of those Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru was a Tathagata by the name of Dharma dhatu nagarabha jnanapradipa raja. [F.156.b]

39. 38 ?In that way, noble one, I made offerings to those Tathagatas as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru, beginning with Sarva Dharma Sagara nirghosha prabharaja and ending with Dharma dhatu nagarabha jnana pradipa raja. I attended to all those Tathagatas. I heard the Dharma taught by them all. I entered homelessness in the teachings of all those Tathagatas. I possessed the teachings of all those Tathagatas. I obtained the Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations from all those Tathagatas, obtaining it in various ways. At the feet of all those Tathagatas I ripened an ocean of beings without edge or center.

39. 39 ?Since then, in practicing the Dharma I have made offerings to as many Budas as have appeared throughout as many kalpas as there are atoms in a Buda realm.

39. 40 ?Noble one, during that time, I have watched over beings as they slept in ignorance in the darkness of samsara. I have guarded the cities of their minds. I have brought them up out of the city of the three realms and brought them into the city of omniscience.

39. 41 ?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations, which prevents meaningless worldly talk, establishes speech that is not dishonest, and concludes with it being firmly established in truth. [F.157.a] How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who know without impediment all languages, who understand all Dharma in each instant of mind, who comprehend all the words and languages of all beings, who are skilled in accumulating the entire ocean of languages, who are skilled in the ways and practices of an ocean of numbers and terms in all Dharmas, who have the power of an ocean of mental retention that engages with all the Dharma, who are skilled in creating clouds of Dharma that accord with the dispositions of all beings, and who have fully attained ripening and guiding all beings? How could I know their practice of gathering all beings, their application to undertaking supreme Bodhisattva activity, their comprehension of very subtle Bodhisattva knowledge, their power of supremacy in opening the treasures and treasuries of Bodhisattva Dharma, or their ascending the lion throne for teaching the Bodhisattva Dharma?1541

39. 42 ?Why is that? It is because those excellent beings have all attained the retention of the domain of the level of the entire Dharma.

39. 43 ?Depart, noble one. Here at the feet of the Bhagavat Vairocana, there is the goddess of the night who has the name Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha-samvasa. She is not far from me, so go to her and ask her, ?How should Bodhisattvas train in omniscience? How should they practice it so as to bring all beings to omniscience?? ? [F.157.b]1543

39. 44 Then at that time, the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri, in order to teach further the Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations, recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant's son:

39. 45 ?Profound and difficult to see is the Bodhisattvas' liberation
By which they know every jina in the three times,
The entire realm of phenomena without edge or center,
And the complete extent of the characteristics of all cognition. {1}1544

39. 46 ?The ways of the liberation that arise from the accumulations are infinite.
They are inconceivable and immeasurable, for they attain the true nature.1545
You should enter into the paths of the ways of love in the three times
That completely increase power that is unimpeded. {2}

39. 47 ?There was a realm in the past, beyond as many kalpas
As there are atoms that exist in a Buda realm;
That glorious world realm was Dharmarci megha nagara,1546
And there was a very bright kalpa called Vimalabha. {3}

39. 48 ?In that one kalpa there appeared an unbroken succession of jinas,
As many Budas as there are atoms in Sumeru.
First to appear, the first in that kalpa,

Was the Sugata Dharma samudra prabha garjita raja. {4}

39. 49 ?The last of those Tathagatas to appear in the world

Was the Jina Dharma megha nagarabha pradipa raja.

I came before them all and made offerings to them.

From them all I heard the Dharma with great joy. {5}

39. 50 ?First I saw, having a golden light,

Dharma samudra prabha garjita raja,

Adorned with the thirty-two signs and resembling Meru,

And seeing him I thought, ?I shall become a sugata!? {6}

39. 51 ?The very moment I saw that Tathagata,

There arose the powerful first aspiration to become a jina

Who had the character of the true nature, as vast as space, [F.158.a]1547

Because of the all-pervading arising of omniscience. {7}

39. 52 ?All of the sugatas within the three times,

Encircled by oceans of all the Bodhisattvas,

The extensive ocean of realms with their oceans of beings,

Have arisen from the great ocean of the amrita of compassion. {8}

39. 53 ?I also aspired that in order to ripen beings

I would pervade every single realm with my body,

Manifest a body to beings in accordance with their aspirations,

And illuminate and shake every single realm. {9}

39. 54 ?I also came before the second Buda

And saw jina lords in ten oceans of realms.

I saw the last jina within an ocean of realms

As numerous as the atoms in an ocean of realms. {10}

39. 55 ?Since then, during kalpas as numerous as a realm?s atoms,

I have gone before and made offerings to

All of the jinas, the lamps of the world, who appeared

And purified an ocean of ways of liberation.? {11}

39. 56 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, attained this Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations, attained an endless, centerless ocean of samadhis, gained an understanding that arose from a vast ocean of gateways to retention, attained the great illumination of a Bodhisattva's higher cognitions, and entered an ocean of great discernment, and in his mind spread a vast ocean of powerful delight.¹⁵⁴⁸

39. 57 He then praised the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri by reciting these appropriate verses:

39. 58 ?Your wisdom is active in a vast ocean of the Dharma.

You practice in the centerless, endless ocean of existences.

The essence of your perfect wisdom body lives long without illness. [F.158.b]

Goddess, you have come and beautified this assembly. {12}

39. 59 ?You have realized the nature of phenomena to be like space.

You realize without impediment the ways of all three times.

In each instant of mind there are inconceivable, countless Perceptions, all of which are without conceptualization. {13}

39. 60 ?With your wisdom eyes you see the true nature in which there are no beings,

Yet you perceive with compassion the infinite ocean of beings.

You enter the very vast liberation of your mind,¹⁵⁴⁹

And you guide and ripen countless beings. {14}

39. 61 ?You know through analyzing the field of phenomena.

You have realized the way of knowing the nature of phenomena.

You meditate on all the stainless paths of the aryas.

You purify all beings without exception and liberate them. {15}

39. 62 ?You have realized the stainless wisdom of omniscience.

Goddess, you have become the supreme guide of beings.1550

You pervade all beings within the realm of phenomena

And teach them the Dharma and end all fear in the world. {16}

39. 63 ?Goddess, through the way of the prayers of Vairocana,

You have a vast, stainless, unimpeded, exact understanding.1551

You have understood the power of the omnipresent jinas,1552

And you see the miraculous manifestation of the jinas in all realms. {17}

39. 64 ?Your mind is as invincible as space.

You are primordially pure, unstained by the stains of the kleshas.

Within it appear all the realms of the three times

And the assemblies of all Budas and Bodhisattvas. {18}

39. 65 ?Within each instant there are days and nights and months,

In each moment years and the creation and destruction of kalpas.

You know an ocean of kalpas, their ocean of names and numbers,

And the ocean of the perceptions of beings, within each instant. {19}

39. 66 ?You know the births and deaths of beings in all directions,

Those with and without form, with and without perception, [F.159.a]

Those who follow the way of belief in reality.

You show them the path and bring them to supreme enlightenment. {20}

39. 67 ?Manifesting from the family of Vairocana?s net of prayers,1553

Born from the single body of all the sugatas,

Your unimpeded mind is the pure Dharma body,

And you manifest your form body in all worlds according to aspirations.?

{21}

39. 68 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, having praised the night goddess Sarva-nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri with these appropriate verses, bowed his head to the feet of the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri, circumambulated the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha sambhava tejah shri many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the night goddess Sarva nagara raksha-sambhava tejah shri. [B10]

40. Chapter 40

SARVA VRiKShPRAPHULLANA SUKHA-SAMVASA

40. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, further meditating on, believing in, and increasing the Bodhisattva liberation called the entry into beautiful sounds and profound manifestations, went to where the night goddess Sarva-vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa was. He saw the night goddess Sarva-vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa seated upon a lion throne consisting of the saplings of precious trees, inside a kutagara made from the branches of all perfumed precious trees and encircled by an entourage of ten thousand night goddesses. [F.159.b]1554

40. 2 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa and then stood before her.

With his hands placed together in homage, he said, "Goddess, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, and so I pray that you explain how Bodhisattvas should practice Bodhisattva conduct, how they should train in it, and how, having practiced and trained in it, they proceed toward omniscience!?"

40. 3 The night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, through my power, when the sun sets in the Saha world realm, the lotus blossoms close, the men and women who are dedicated to delighting in pleasures in parks have the wish to return to their homes, the beings who travel along roads and narrow paths think of finding somewhere to stay for the night, and they turn their attention to all the safe dwellings for beings. Those who dwell in forests, in mountain clefts, and in caves enter their forests, clefts, and caves. Those beings who dwell in trees think of returning to their homes in the trees. Those beings who dwell in holes return to their holes. Those beings who dwell in villages, towns, districts, and lands return to their villages, towns, districts, and lands. Those beings who dwell in water enter the water. Those¹⁵⁵⁵ beings who have gone to lands in other directions begin to think of the directions of their own lands in order to remain in a feeling of happiness during the night.

40. 4 "Moreover, noble one, to the young men and women in the prime of life who are intoxicated by youthfulness, intoxicated by the delights of singing, dancing, and music, [F.160.a] who are dedicated to delighting in sensory pleasures, to them I praise dedication to creating roots of merit as a remedy for the fear of birth, old age, death, and the great darkness of ignorance. I bring beings who are miserly to the practice of generosity. I bring beings who have bad conduct to the practice of correct conduct. I praise love to beings who have malicious minds. I establish beings with disturbed minds in the practice of patience. I establish beings who are lazy in the practice of undertaking Bodhisattva diligence. I establish beings who have intoxicated minds in the practice of dhyana. I bring beings with poor wisdom to the practice of the perfection of wisdom. I establish beings who aspire to the lower yanas in the practice of the Mahayana. I establish beings who have attachment to the three realms in the Bodhisattva perfection of prayer, the field of the ultimate conclusion of the paths of existence. I establish in the perfection of Bodhisattva strength those beings who are overpowered by their objects of perception, are tormented by karma and kleshas, and have weak merit and wisdom. I establish in the perfection of Bodhisattva knowledge those beings who are overwhelmed by the darkness of ignorance and enveloped in the darkness of believing in a self and possessions.¹⁵⁵⁶

40. 5 ?Moreover, noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of the vast radiating light of joy.?

40. 6 Sudhana asked, ?Goddess, what is this Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of the vast radiating light of joy like?? [F.160.b]

40. 7 She answered, ?Noble one, this Bodhisattva liberation has the radiance of the knowledge and methods of gathering beings through the merit of the Tathagatas. Why is that?

40. 8 ?Noble one, it is because all happiness that beings experience occurs through the power of the merit of the Tathagatas, through the path of instruction of the Tathagatas, through practicing the words of the Tathagatas, through following the example of the Tathagatas, through the blessing of the Tathagatas, through practicing the path taught by the Tathagatas, through creating roots of merit in the same way the Tathagatas have, through the power of the natural result of the Dharma that is taught by the Tathagatas, and through illumination from the sun of the wisdom of the Tathagatas.¹⁵⁵⁷

40. 9 ?Noble one, the happiness of beings arises from the light of the disk of good qualities of the family of the Tathagatas. Why is that?1558

40. 10 ?Noble one, it is like this: I realized this Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of the vast radiating light of joy when I remembered, comprehended, and understood the ocean of the past Bodhisattva conduct of the Bhagavat Tathagata Arhat Samyak sambuddha Vairocana.

40. 11 ?When, in the past, the Bhagavat was on the Bodhisattva bhumis, he developed a motivation of great compassion on seeing beings with the belief in a self, with the belief in possessions, enveloped in the darkness of ignorance, wandering in the wilderness of thickets of wrong views, under the power of craving, [F.161.a] imprisoned within the bondage of desire, having thoughts of hatred caused by anger, with their minds disturbed by ignorance, ensnared by jealousy and greed, with their minds disturbed by kleshas, experiencing great suffering in samsara, afflicted by the suffering of poverty in samsara, and having turned away from the sight of a Buddha.1559

40. 12 ?He developed a motivation to benefit all beings through the accumulation and possession of precious requisites in the world, a motivation to produce necessary requisites for all beings, a motivation that was without attachment to anything, a motivation that had no yearning for anything in the entire field of perceptions, a motivation that had no clinging to any pleasure, a motivation that had no longing for any enjoyment, a motivation that had no wish for results ripening from generosity, a motivation that had no longing for any worldly prosperity, a motivation that was not oblivious of causes and conditions, a motivation that had the understanding of the Dharma that was being sought, and a motivation that had attained dedication to the benefit of all beings.1560

40. 13 ?In that way, he had a mind that understood the nature of all phenomena, the realization of the impartiality of great love toward all realms of beings. He had the activity of spreading clouds of great compassion over all worlds of beings. He possessed a great round parasol of the Dharma that sheltered all worlds of beings. [F.161.b] He possessed the thunderbolt weapon of great wisdom that destroys the mountains of obscurations of all beings. His mind had the increasing power of contentment through bringing happiness to all beings. His mind prayed that all beings would attain the ultimate happiness; he intended to send down a rain of wealth on all beings in accordance with their wishes and aspirations. His mind never abandoned beings but was focused on them all equally. He intended to satisfy all beings with the wealth of the aryas. He intended that they attain the supreme, stainless, precious knowledge of the ten strengths. He had attained the strength of the higher cognitions of a Bodhisattva. He filled the entirety of the realms of beings and the vast realm of phenomena, as far as space extends, with great clouds of various miraculous Bodhisattva manifestations. He manifested his presence before all beings and sent down a gift of great rain from a cloud of every form and every kind of object of perception. He sent down rain from a great cloud of every kind of precious jewelry.

40. 14 ?In that way, so that all beings could have enjoyment according to their own kind, he accomplished giving infinite, different kinds of things, practiced countless different kinds of assistance, engaged in accumulating all the many various kinds of gifts, practiced the conduct of giving away a numerous variety of things, produced an indescribable array of different kinds of requisites, and realized the way of infinite generosity that satisfies beings according to their aspirations with an accumulation of various gifts with various characteristics. [F.162.a]

40. 15 ?Thus he gave, conferred, and bestowed all the things that would bring contentment to beings according to their aspirations. He engaged in saving all beings from continuous composite suffering. He had no wish for any being to repay his kindness. He possessed the realization of the equality of all beings, so that he purified the precious minds of all beings, and through the methods of gathering beings that have arisen from the roots of merit of all Buddhas as a single ocean, he sent down a rain of requisites in accordance with the wishes of all beings, and he increased the power of the ocean of the merit of omniscience for all beings.

40. 16 ?He accomplished this in order to purify the successive ripening and guiding of all beings without exception in each instant of mind; in order in each instant of mind to cover and adorn the succession of all realms without exception with the pure adornments of the highest, undefiled Buddha realms; in order in each instant of mind to pervade and purify the ocean of the ways of all phenomena without exception; in order in each instant of mind to complete the way of wisdom that pervades the entire extent of space without exception; in order in each instant of mind to purify the way of the wisdom that comprehends all beings and times without exception; in order in each instant of mind to attain the illumination of the way of the wisdom that guides all beings without exception; [F.162.b] in order in each instant of mind to irreversibly turn the wheel of the Dharma in all times without exception; and in order in each instant of mind to benefit all beings through revealing all skills, without exception, that are the blessing of omniscient wisdom.¹⁵⁶¹

40. 17 ?He performed Bodhisattva conduct in each instant of mind in all the numbers of world realms without exception; in the arisen ocean of all world realms; in the congregation of the ocean of all world realms; in the vast extent of world realms of various descriptions; within the array of the boundaries of various differentiated families of world realms with boundaries; with descriptions of various bases and masses; in world realms¹⁵⁶² with descriptions of various divisions into kalpas; in world realms that were defiled but also pure, pure but also defiled, entirely pure, and entirely defiled, that were immense, vast, measureless, narrow, minute, and huge, high, level, sideways, upside-down, facing the principal directions and the intermediate directions, and located in the ocean of various directions; and in an array of various shapes and entrances described in various ways.

40. 18 ?He entered a Bodhisattva?s faultlessness in order to spread widely his Bodhisattva conduct and miraculous manifestations, in order that in each instant of mind other beings would perceive in their minds and thoughts all the activity of the Buddhas of the three times without exception, so that all beings would accomplish increasing the ocean of merit of omniscience. I know and I remember his accomplishment. [F.163.a]¹⁵⁶⁴

40. 19 ?Noble one, in that way, when the Bhagavat Vairocana was previously practicing Bodhisattva conduct, he had compassion for those dwelling in the world, who were devoid of the accumulations of merit and wisdom, who were filled with ingratitude toward other beings, who were enveloped by the darkness of ignorance, who were attached to belief in a self and belief in possessions, who were obscured by the darkness and blindness of ignorance, who had inappropriate thoughts, who were deep in the wilderness of thickets of wrong views, who were ignorant of cause and results, who were under the power of kleshas and karma, who had fallen into the underground world of the great suffering of samsara's wilderness and were experiencing the various sufferings of poverty.¹⁵⁶⁶

40. 20 ?Having compassion for them, he praised establishing strong roots of merit through a vast cloud of the practice of the perfections, dispelled samsara's suffering of poverty in all beings, inspired them toward a great accumulation of merit and wisdom, elucidated the aspect of the field of causes, explained the aspect of actions that are in accord with the Dharma, illuminated the aspect of understanding the domain of the Buddhadharma, elucidated the aspect of the aspirations of beings, taught the aspect of the creation of the realms of beings, followed the aspect of the uninterrupted family of all the Buddhas, held the aspect of the teaching of all the Buddhas, dispelled the aspect of all bad qualities, described the aspect of the accumulation of omniscience, [F.163.b] and filled all the realms of beings with the great cloud of the perfections. Having accomplished that, he satisfied beings in accordance with their aspirations, establishing beings in the compilation of the Dharma; he inspired them toward the accumulation of omniscience; he brought them to the great perfections of a Bodhisattva; he increased the ocean of the roots of merit of beings; he strengthened them¹⁵⁶⁸ through the attainment of the wealth of the aryas; and he increased the ocean of the roots of merit of beings through the power of their aspiration for omniscience.

40. 21 ?He brought them to enter the gateways to the miraculous manifestations of the Tathagatas, gathered them through possessing the bliss of the pacification of the skandhas, made them aspire to the greatness that is the nature of the Tathagatas, and established them in the wisdom possessed by the Bodhisattvas.?

40. 22 Sudhana asked, "Arya, how long has it been since you entered upon the highest, complete enlightenment?"

40. 23 She answered, "Noble one, this is a subject that is difficult to believe in, difficult to know, difficult to aspire to, difficult to comprehend, difficult to describe, and difficult to understand; the world and its devas and the Shravakas and pratyeka Budas are unable to comprehend it. However, through the blessing of the Tathagatas, through being in the care of a kalyanamitra, those beings who have no yearning for any bliss in samsara, who are focused on the bliss of the Tathagatas, who are engaged in ending the suffering and unhappiness of all beings, who aspire to the knowledge that comprehends the ocean of the qualities of the Tathagatas, [F.164.a] who have realized the nature of all phenomena and have space as their field of activity, who are purified by the path of a vast aspiration, who have turned away from the course of samsara, who aspire to the ocean of wisdom of all the Tathagatas, who are determined to go to the city of the Dharma, who have the diligence to attain the field of activity of the Tathagatas, who have the prowess to reach the level of the Budas, who aspire to the perfection of the power of omniscience, and who have fully attained the ten strengths, with a mind supported by a vast accumulation of merit and wisdom, with a pure motivation, with a mind that is not disheartened, is not defiled, is not insincere, is unimpaired, has not narrowed, and is not in darkness, with a mind that is illuminated by the light of completely illuminating wisdom, with a mind intent on bringing happiness and benefit to all beings, with a mind that cannot be defeated by the kleshas and all Mara's entourage, and with a mind that has the opportunity to attain omniscient wisdom, are able to understand, comprehend, believe in, grasp, follow, and know this subject.¹⁵⁶⁹

1572

40. 24 ?Why is that? Noble one, this subject is the field of the knowledge of the Tathagatas. All Bodhisattvas, let alone all other beings, cannot reach it. Nevertheless, through the blessing of the Tathagatas, I teach it so that noble beings will have a perfectly pure motivation, so that beings with a conduct of roots of virtue will have a superior motivation, and so that you will obtain the arising of the true answer to your sincere question.? [F.164.b]¹⁵⁷³

40. 25 Then, at that time, the night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha-samvasa, in order to teach this meaning further, looking into the field of knowledge of the Tathagatas of the three times, recited these verses:

40. 26 ?The profound, inconceivable field of knowledge of the Budas
About which you, son of the Budas, have asked a question
Cannot be entirely explained, even in as many kalpas
As there are atoms in countless realms. {1}

40. 27 ?Beings who have desiring minds and those with angry minds,
And similarly those obscured by the darkness of ignorance
And those who are afflicted by hypocrisy and arrogance,
Are unable to know the peace of the true nature of the jinas. {2}

40. 28 ?Those who are overpowered by and follow envy and jealousy,
Those who are polluted by thoughts of deception and deceit,
And those who are obscured by the obscuration of kleshas and karma

Are unable to know this field of the Budas. {3}

40. 29 ?Those who are established in the skandhas, dhatus, and ayatanas,
Those who are dependent on the destructible accumulation,
And those whose minds and views are aberrant
Are unable to know this level of the Budas. {4}

40. 30 ?The field of the jinas is a peace that is difficult to comprehend.
Its nature is stainless, and it is without conceptualization.
Those who are dependent on existence and cling to samsara
Are not able to know this Dharma. {5}

40. 31 ?This is the field for those Rishis
Of the family and born in the family of the Budas, 1574
Who have been consecrated by all the Tathagatas
And are holders of the lineage of the Dharma king. {6}

40. 32 ?Those who are never satisfied by an ocean of good qualities,
Who have been taken into the care of kalyanamitras,
And who have a cloud of aspiration focused on the strengths of the munis
Attain peace when they hear this. {7}

40. 33 ?Those who have stainless, nonconceptual motivation,
Whose understanding is like a cloud of lamps ending darkness -
Those stainless ones have this field of activity
Throughout the main and intermediate directions, to the extent of space. {8}

[F.165.a]

40. 34 ?They who have a motivation of compassion for the ocean of beings -
Their presence pervades the entire three times.
They follow every single being with love,
Entering this way of the jinas. {9}

40. 35 ?Those who have a rapturous mind that is free of grasping

Are constantly dedicated to giving away everything.

They engage in activity with all beings equally

And have no attachment to this level of conduct. {10}

40. 36 ?Those who are without defilements, with conduct free of transgressions,

Who are dedicated to practicing the teaching of the Budas

And whose minds have repentance of wrongdoing -1575

Those stainless ones have this field of activity. {11}

40. 37 ?Those who have unshakable, steadfast minds,

Whose minds have realized the nature of phenomena,

Who have minds unhindered by an ocean of karma -

For them this liberation is inexhaustible. {12}

40. 38 ?For those with minds that are never disheartened, never turn back,1576

Those who have strong and powerful diligence,

With endless diligence for the accumulation of omniscience -

For those with excellent discipline, there is this field of activity. {13}

40. 39 ?Those with minds of peace, minds at rest,

Who are in complete peace, unfevered,

Practicing an ocean of omniscient dhyana -

For those who have become peaceful, there is this way. {14}

40. 40 ?Those whose minds are freed from all attachment,

Whose minds have understood the nature of phenomena,

Who have realized the Dharma realm of the jinas -

For those who are lamps of wisdom, there is this way. {15}

40. 41 ?Those whose minds have realized the nature of beings,

Whose minds have no attachment to the ocean of existence,

Who appear to the minds of beings like the reflections of the moon -

For those who are wise in the path, there is this liberation. {16}

40. 42 ?Those who practice in all future realms

That arise from the ocean of the family of prayers [F.165.b]

Of the ocean of jinas who are in the three times -

For those who are completely good, there is this way. {17}

40. 43 ?Those who through an ocean of the ways of the realm of Dharma

Enter into the entire ocean of worlds

In all the kalpas of creation and destruction -

For those who are free of conceptualization, there is this liberation. {18}

40. 44 ?Those who see, in the atoms of the realms in all directions,

Countless Budas at the foot of the kings of trees

Attaining enlightenment and guiding beings -

For those with vision free of attachment, there is this way. {19}

40. 45 ?You have served kalyanamitras

Through a great ocean of kalpas

And so have come here, unwearyingly seeking the Dharma.

You are able to hold this when you have heard it. {20}

40. 46 ?In order to purify your motivation,

Through the inconceivable blessing of the sugatas¹⁵⁷⁷

This immeasurable field of Vairocana

Will arise without impediment from my words. {21}

40. 47 ?Noble one, in a time in the past even beyond as many kalpas as there are atoms in a world realm, there was an ocean of world realms called Manikanaka parvata shikhara Vairocana.

40. 48 ?Noble one, in that ocean of world realms called Mani kanaka parvata-shikhara Vairocana there was a Tathagata by the name of jnana parvata Dharma-dhatu dikpratapana tejoraja. The Tathagata jnana parvata Dharma dhatu-dikpratapana tejoraja, through his previous Bodhisattva conduct, had purified the ocean of world realms called Mani kanaka parvata shikhara-Vairocana.1578

40. 49 ?In that ocean of world realms called Mani kanaka parvata shikhara Vairocana appeared as many ranges of world realms as there are atoms in the earth and the mountains. In each range of world realms appeared as many groups of world realms as there are atoms in a multitude of world realms. In each world realm appeared as many kalpas as there are atoms in a world realm. In each kalpa appeared numerous intermediate kalpas. [F.166.a] In each intermediate kalpa appeared numerous world realms with different appearances. In those appeared various occurrences of Tathagatas and their miraculous manifestations. During each appearance of a Buddha appeared as many sutras as there are atoms in a world realm. Within each sutra appeared as many prophecies to Bodhisattvas as there are atoms in a world realm. There appeared a vast extent of guided beings, without edge or center, accomplishment through the ways of various yanas, and guidance through various miraculous manifestations.1579

40. 50 ?Noble one, in that ocean of world realms called Mani kanaka parvata-shikhara Vairocana there was a central group of world realms called Samantadigabhimukha dhara dhvaja vyuha.

40. 51 ?Noble one, in that central group of world realms called Samantadigabhimukha dhara dhvaja vyuha there was the world realm called Sarvaratna varna samanta prabhasa shri.

40. 52 ?It had a display of basis and borders of world realms. It had the shining bodhimandas of all the Tathagatas that were made of kings of jewels. It resided upon an ocean of flowers of various jewels. Its main mass was made of kings of precious jewels in which appeared the images of the emanations of all the Tathagatas. It had the form of a city of devas. It was both pure and defiled.1580

40. 53 ?In that world realm there were as many four-continent world realms as there are atoms in Sumeru. The central four continents among those four continents that were as numerous as the atoms in Sumeru was called Sarva-ratna shikhara dhvaja. In that four-continent world called Sarva ratna shikhara-dhvaja, each of the four continents was a hundred thousand yojanas wide.

[F.166.b] In each of those continents there were a thousand great cities. In the center of the Jambudvipa of that four-continent world there was a royal capital called Ratna sala vyuha megha pradipa, which was encircled by ten thousand cities.

40. 54 ?At that time, the people of that Jambudvipa had a lifespan of ten thousand years. In the royal capital called Ratna sala vyuha megha pradipa there was a cakravartin king by the name of Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra-mandala nirghosha. The cakravartin king Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra-mandala nirghosha had five hundred ministers. He had sixty thousand queens. He had seven hundred sons who were all courageous and heroic, with perfectly formed bodies, handsome and magnificent, and very strong.

40. 55 ?During the time of King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha, he protected all of Jambudvipa under one parasol and vanquished all enemies and opponents. During that time, in that world realm, as the intermediate kalpa was ending, the five degenerations appeared, the path of the ten good actions vanished, beings practiced the path of the ten bad actions, and most went to the lower realms. Their following the path of bad actions became the cause for lifespans to become short, pleasures to be few, and bodies to be ugly, have a bad color, and be misshapen. There was little happiness and the experience of many kinds of suffering. They deceived and betrayed one another. They caused divisions between one another. They engaged in harsh speech. They spoke incoherently. They were overcome by overpowering desires. [F.167.a] They had the thoughts of angry minds. They wandered in a wilderness of various thickets of wrong views. They clung to desires that were contrary to the Dharma, and they were overcome by those overpowering desires. They were encompassed by false Dharma. Therefore, trees, plants, and harvests of food did not grow from the ground. The rain did not come on time. For those beings, the grass, herbs, shrubs, forests, orchards, and trees withered. They were afflicted by various illnesses. Throughout the main and intermediate directions they had no protector, and so they disrespected and were in contention with one another.

40. 56 ?They all gathered together and went to the royal capital Ratna sala vyuhamegha pradipa. They surrounded it, some with their arms upraised, some with hands clasped together, some with their bodies trembling, some collapsing, some falling with their heads on the ground, some with their bodies stretched out on the ground prostrate, some kneeling, some waving their arms in the air, some naked without clothes, some with an ugly expression of the face and eyes. They stared at King Sarva Dharma-nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha and cried out in a great piteous clamor, ?Your Majesty! We are in distress! The suffering of hunger and thirst pains us! We are afflicted by various fears! We have no refuge! We have no protector or last resort! We are walled around by suffering! We are losing our lives! We are facing death!?"1581

40. 57 ?In that way they wailed in various ways, crying out with various kinds of voices, with various words, various unpleasant facial expressions, various verbal expressions, terms of speech, and words from various dialects and in various accents. [F.167.b].1582

40. 58 ?All the men and women, boys and girls of that royal capital, who were tormented by hunger and thirst, whose bodies were devoid of jewelry, who had no clothes and were naked, who were unsightly and discolored, whose skin was cracked and rough, and who were suffering and unhappy, were in distress, yearning for happiness, and afraid of suffering. Therefore, they sought protection from the great wise being King Sarva Dharma-nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha as a refuge, perceiving him to be someone through whom they could obtain happiness, perceiving him to be someone through whom they could become free of suffering, perceiving him to be someone through whom they could gain sustenance and obtain treasure, perceiving him to be like the sight of a ford, perceiving him to be a ship, perceiving him to be a great island of wisdom, perceiving him to be someone through whom they could attain a great benefit, and perceiving him to be someone through whom they could obtain all the joys and happiness of higher existences.1583

40. 59 ?When King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha heard the great clamor of the wailing of numerous piteous cries from all around him, he entered countless millions of gateways into great compassion. His mind resting in the mental state that is the way of great compassion, he contemplated one-pointedly for a moment and then spoke ten sentences of great compassion. What were those ten? They were:

40. 60 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see these beings have fallen into the abyss of samsara and are without a support. When can I become a refuge for these beings, who have fallen into the great abyss of samsara, and bring them to the level of the Tathagatas?

40. 61 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see these beings are oppressed by the torment of the kleshas and have no refuge. When can I become a refuge for these beings, who are frightened by various kleshas, without a refuge, and oppressed by the torment of the kleshas, and establish them in irreproachable actions? [F.168.a]

40. 62 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see these beings are overcome by the fear of old age and death in this world and have no refuge. When can I become a refuge for these beings, who have no refuge, and dispel all their fear of samsara?

40. 63 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see these beings are tormented by the various fears in this world and have no recourse. When can I become a recourse for these beings, who are tormented by the various fears in the world, and establish them on the very happy and faultless path to omniscience?

40. 64 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see these beings are enveloped in the darkness of ignorance in the world, and their sight is obscured by doubts and uncertainty. When can I become a lamp for these beings who have no refuge and dispel all the darkness of their ignorance?

40. 65 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see these beings who are deprived of light. When can I provide them with the light of great wisdom by revealing to them the undarkened gateway to wisdom?

40. 66 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see beings, deprived of the brilliant light of wisdom, who are polluted by envy and jealousy, deception and deceit. When can I establish all beings in perfect purity and illuminate them with the brilliant light of the highest wisdom?

40. 67 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see the world of beings, who are without guidance, without a guide. When can I bring all beings into the ways of the ocean of the Dharma and become their guide?

40. 68 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see the world of beings, within the current of the ocean of samsara, who are without a guide. When can I ripen and guide all beings in every way, without missing the time for the blessing of the Tathagatas, and become their guide? [F.168.b]

40. 69 ? ?Oh! Alas! I see the world of beings is blind and without a guide. When can I bring all beings into the way of unobscured omniscient wisdom and become their guide??

40. 70 ?After he had spoken these ten sentences of great compassion, the great bell of the royal capital was rung, and the great drum of the great gift-giving was beaten. He declared, ?I shall give whatever anyone desires, and I shall bring satisfaction to all beings.?

40. 71 ?In all the royal capitals throughout Jambudvīpa, and in all the villages, towns, market towns, districts, countries, and cities, all the stores of requisites were opened, and many different kinds of requisites were arranged at all crossroads, at the junctions of three roads, and in streets, and all beings were provided with the necessities of life.

40. 72 ?All treasure houses and treasuries were opened, and a great accumulation of a treasure of jewels was displayed. Many piles of various jewels were heaped up.

40. 73 ?Storehouses of food and drink, clothes, vehicles, flowers, garlands, incense and perfume, powders, jewelry, and precious clothes of various colors were opened.

40. 74 ?There were mansions, divine palaces, and houses, adorned by beds, seats, and clothing, with a perfection of all wealth and treasure, and a display of kings of jewels that dispelled darkness with their brilliant radiance.1585

40. 75 ?He emanated and displayed in each of those houses an emanation that resembled his body, so that he could fulfill all the wishes and desires of those beings.

40. 76 ?In order to heal all the illnesses of all beings, he arranged the perfect conditions of medicines, doctors, treatments, and the various requisites for sustaining life. [F.169.a]

40. 77 ?He also set out containers of different shapes, made of various precious materials, that contained every kind of the variety of requisites: There were containers made of diamond jewels that were filled with various kinds of perfumed precious jewels. There were containers made of various perfumed precious jewels that were filled with clothes of various excellent colors.

There were many chariots, set out throughout all the regions of the land, that were of various shapes and colors and adorned with various jewels, that had thoroughbred horses, oxen, and elephants -various precious chariots that were worthy of a king, made enjoyable with all adornments and jewels, set with various kinds of cushions, adorned with various jewels, covered with various canopies, hung with strings of precious bells, and adorned with upright parasols, banners, and flags. He commanded that villages, towns, countrysides, and regions were to be given away.1586 1587

40. 78 ?He gave away various orchards, parks, and forests for ascetics. He gave away all his homes, wives, sons, and daughters. He gave away all his priceless jewels. He gave away his own heart, marrow, intestines, kidneys, fat, flesh, blood, skin, arms, legs, nose, eyes, ears, tongue, teeth, lips, and head. He commanded that every kind of every outer and inner thing was to be given away. He had assembled and set out the many kinds of such gifts of requisites.

40. 79 To the east of the royal capital Ratna sala vyuha megha pradipa, in front of the city called Mani shikhara tejas, there was a vast level area of immense breadth, without any rise or fall. [F.169.b] It was pure and level ground free of ravines, crevasses, tree stumps, thorns, pebbles, and gravel. It consisted of a realm of all jewels. The ground was made from all jewels. All kinds of jewels were strewn over it. It was adorned by many adornments of precious jewels. It was filled with various jewel flowers. Various extremely aromatic powders rose up from it as dust. There was a mist of perfumes and incense, and clouds of them formed an adornment that covered the entire sky. It was beautifully adorned by perfectly arranged lines of trees made of various precious materials. It was adorned by a variety of mansions, divine palaces, and kutagaras. The cloth of precious parasols, banners, and flags fluttered. It was covered with a network of shining flowers of various jewels. It had a network of the circular shapes of parasols made of the kinds of all precious incenses. It had jingling golden strings of precious bells. It was canopied over and beautified by various precious canopies. It was strewn with powders of the various kinds of incenses. It was delightfully filled with the petals of jewels made of various jewels. It emitted the beautiful sound of a quintillion musical instruments being played and beaten. 1594

40. 81 ?Seated upon it was King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha.

He was very handsome, with an excellent body, and delightful to look at. He possessed a completely excellent, beautiful color. [F.170.b] He had attained the pure signs of a great being. He wore a crown that shone with jewels. His body was as solid and indestructible as a powerful thunderbolt. His well-aligned ribs were strongly connected. The larger and smaller parts of his body were perfectly formed, completely excellent, completely beautiful, and completely splendid. He had obtained every perfect physical feature. He had been born into a great family of Dharma kings. He had obtained power over all requisites. He had the completely pure power of the Dharma. He had power over his own mind. He had an unimpeded range of speech. He had unshakable knowledge. He had perfectly established, unmistaken practice of the Dharma. He revealed endless qualities and excellencies.1595

40. 82 ?King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha was seated upon the great lion throne and shaded, in the air directly above his head, by a great round parasol with a handle made of a blend of various precious materials and a treasure of excellent precious jewels in its center. It was adorned by a hundred thousand spokes of various jewels. It displayed shining, brilliant splendor, radiating the lights of many jewels. It was pure and bright, shining with Jambu River gold. [F.171.a]1596

40. 83 ?King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha was being fanned with precious yak-tail fans. He was beautiful, shining with a majesty that surpassed that of Shakra, the lord of the devas.

40. 84 ?As soon as he was seated upon the lion throne, many beings stood before him with palms together in homage.

40. 85 ?The quintillion beings standing before King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra-mandala nirghosha wished to obtain various necessities and various things.

They came from various families, they were various kinds of beings, they had minds with various desires, they had various aspirations and wishes, they had gathered from various regions, they were accustomed to various ranges of enjoyments, they had minds that aspired for various kinds of enjoyment, they had various kinds of intentions and ideas, they were from various classes of humans, they had been born into various families, they had come from various lands, they spoke various languages and with various vocabularies, they gave rise to various fields of speech, they supplicated for various things, and they spoke in various words and voices.

40. 86 ?They all thought with certainty, ?This great Sumeru of merit that we are looking at -he alone is a great man of wisdom.?

40. 87 ?In expectation they thought, ?He is supported by great merit, he is a moon that is a great man, and he intends to perform a great act of generosity.?

40. 88 ?When he saw the great gathering of supplicants who had been gathered by a mind with the aspiration of a Bodhisattva, who had been manifested by a mind with the aspiration of a Bodhisattva, he felt in his mind affection, delight, and benevolence toward them. He perceived them to be his kalyanamitras. [F.171.b] There arose in him a vast and powerful great compassion. He also developed the powerful diligence that would never turn back from satisfying all supplicants throughout future kalpas. There also arose all-pervading clouds of the aspiration to be equally engaged in generosity toward all beings.1597

40. 89 ?As soon as King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha saw those supplicants, it caused him to experience a joy greater than attaining the sovereignty of a cakravartin king of a billion-world universe for endless kalpas; a joy greater than attaining the throne of the sovereignty of Shakra for many quintillions of kalpas; a joy greater than attaining the throne of the sovereignty of the lord of devas, Suyama, for many quintillions of kalpas; a joy greater than attaining the throne of the sovereignty of the lord of devas, Samtushita, for many quintillions of kalpas; a joy greater than attaining the throne of the sovereignty of the lord of devas, Sunirmita, for endless kalpas; a joy greater than attaining the throne of the sovereignty of the lord of devas, Vashavartin, and being honored by beautiful, delightful apsaras for countless kalpas; a joy greater than attaining the throne of Brahma and enjoying the bliss of dwelling in the Brahma paradise for endless kalpas; a joy greater than attaining the bliss of the Abhasvara devas for endless kalpas; a joy greater than attaining the bliss of the Shubhakritsna devas for an unceasing, unequalled number of kalpas; and a joy greater than attaining the bliss of peaceful liberation of the Shuddhava devas for kalpas without end.

40. 90 ?Noble one, it was like [F.172.a] a solitary man, filled with longing, who has been separated for a long time from his father, mother, brothers, sisters, friends, relatives, sons, daughters, and wife and is wandering in a wilderness. He longs and longs to see them, and when he meets them he never has enough of looking at them, and a great joy and affection arises within him.1598

40. 91 ?Noble one, in the same way, the instant King Sarva Dharma-nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha saw those supplicants, a great powerful joy arose in him. His mind was overpowered by bliss and happiness. He experienced an intensely powerful delight. The power of a great joy arose in him. The great strength of the power of faith in and aspiration for the enlightenment of buddhahood increased. The heartfelt faith in omniscience increased. The strength of his pure, superior aspiration for the Dharma of all the Budas increased. He became capable of attaining the powers of a Bodhisattva. There arose the great power of aspiration through his mind being pervaded with joy. Through the vast power of his rapture, he became deeply reverential in faculties and thoughts toward kalyanamitras.1600

1601

40. 92 ?Why was that? Because King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala-nirghosha was engaged in undertaking attaining omniscience; he had set out for omniscience; he was turned toward the gateway to omniscience; he was engaged in focusing on bringing satisfaction to all beings; he was intent on practicing entry into the ocean of the qualities of all the Budas; he was dedicated to destroying the mountain of all the obscurations from maras, karma, and kleshas; he was prepared to respectfully obtain the teachings of all the Tathagatas; [F.172.b] from his heart he was dedicated to accumulating completely and totally an ocean of the roots of merit; the continuum of his mind had transcended all attachment; he had no attachment to any sensory object in the world; his field of activity was space, which is the nature of phenomena; he perceived them to be worthy of offerings; he perceived them to be kalyanamitras; he perceived them to be rare; he perceived them to be those who do what is difficult; he perceived them to be those who do much; he perceived them to be of the highest benefit; he perceived them to be teachers of the path to enlightenment; he perceived them to be acaryas; and he perceived them to be teachers.¹⁶⁰²

40. 93 ?In that way, wherever they came from, for whatever reason, whenever they had assembled, however long they had been present, whatever the things they were asking for, whatever their longings, whatever they wished for, whatever they yearned for, whatever they desired,¹⁶⁰³ ¹⁶⁰⁴ whatever the things they sought, he satisfied those supplicants through the gateway of generosity that was without any disapproval, that had a great range of love, that was not dependent on what the supplicants would do with what they received, that had the light rays of great generosity, and that was united with the equality of all beings.

40. 94 ?He gave food to those who wanted food. He gave drink to those who wanted drink. He gave clothes to those who wanted clothes. He gave flowers to those who wanted flowers. In the same way, he gave perfumes, garlands, ointments, powders, robes, parasols, banners, flags, precious materials, jewelry, seats, beds, houses, divine palaces, temples, orchards, parks, forests for ascetics, cavalry, elephants, [F.173.a] chariots, infantry, carriages, palanquins, steeds, gold, treasures, jewels, pearls, conches, crystals, corals, gold nuggets, and silver.1605

40. 95 ?He opened, shared, and gave away all his own dwellings, divine palaces, harem, court, and royal treasures. He said, ?Take whatever you want!? If they wanted a land, he gave them a land; if they wanted a city, he gave them a city; if they wanted a town, he gave them a town. Treating all beings equally, he gave away everything he owned to those supplicants, and in giving away everything presented it to them. [B11]1606

40. 96 ?At that time, there was a head merchant?s daughter by the name of Ratnaprabha, who had an entourage of sixty girls and had arrived at the site of the great offering. She was beautiful, attractive, and pretty; she had the most perfectly formed, magnificent color; she was the color of gold; her hair was deep black; her eyes were a contrasting deep black and white; she had a pleasant, beautiful aroma; she had the voice of Brahma; she wore excellent clothing; she was perfectly adorned in jewelry; she had mindfulness and intelligence; she had joy and a sense of shame; she had perfect conduct and costume; she had respect for the gurus; she acted with perfect mindfulness; she had profound activities; she had received, retained, and comprehended the Dharma; she was honest; she had created excellent roots of merit in the past; the continuum of her mind was clear, as it had been moistened by the Dharma; she had pure, virtuous thoughts; she had a vast aspiration; she had space as her field of activity; she had a mind that rejoiced in benefiting others; [F.173.b] she was turned toward the direction of seeing the Budas; and she aspired to omniscience.

40. 97 ?Ratnaprabha, the head merchant?s daughter, was standing with palms together in homage, not far away, on the right-hand side of the lion throne of King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha. She bowed down to the king but did not take anything from him. Then she went to one side and thought, "That I have been able to see and to be with this kind of kalyanamitra is an excellent attainment."

40. 98 "She perceived King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha to be a kalyanamitra, perceived him to be a teacher, perceived him to be compassionate, perceived him to be someone who benefits others, and perceived him to be a Buddha.

40. 99 "She attained the power of joy, aspiration, and enthusiasm, and with a mind that was free of dissimulation, she removed her jewelry and, gazing at King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha, threw it toward him, scattering it on the platform at the foot of the lion throne. When she had in that way scattered her jewelry, she made this prayer: "May I in the future become the same as King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha, who is a refuge for beings who have no protector and are enveloped in darkness. May I know whatever Dharma he knows. May I set forth through whatever yana he has set forth. May I follow whatever path he has followed; may I become just like him whose body gives unending pleasure when gazed upon, who has a limitless entourage [F.174.a] and is undefeatable, invincible, and unconquerable. Wherever he is born, may I also be reborn there."

40. 100 "King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha knew what her mind was focused on and engaged with, and he said to her, "Girl, take whatever you need! Girl, I am giving away all my possessions. I am engaged in satisfying all beings."

40. 101 "She thought, "King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha has understood me," and gained an even greater faith in him. With that faith in him, giving rise to the power of immense vast roots of merit, she recited these verses to King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha:

40. 102? ?In the past, in Sala vyuha megha,

Before you, the lion king, were born,

There was no delight, no magnificence.1607

It was like the dreadful land of the pretas. {22}

40. 103? ?All the people wished to kill.

They stole and acted inappropriately.

They told lies and spoke harshly

And spoke slanderous and meaningless words. {23}

40. 104? ?They had minds that craved the wealth of others.

They thought maliciously of all other people.

They had wrong views and a field of sinful activity.

Through misleading practices they fell into the lower existences. {24}

40. 105? ?The people practiced what was not Dharma,

Obscured by the darkness of ignorance and stupidity,

Following wrong views, and having heretical viewpoints,

And therefore for many years the rains did not fall. {25}

40. 106? ?When the rains did not fall, seeds died,1608

The harvests did not grow, trees did not grow,

Lakes, ponds, and streams dried up, [F.174.b]

And it was the same for all the forests and plants. {26}

40. 107? ?When you, who have pure eyes, had not been born,

Every river, without exception, had dried up.

All orchards resembled desolate mountains,

And the ground was covered with white bones. {27}

40. 108? ?When you gathered together a multitude of supplicants

And brought satisfaction to all those supplicants,

Great clouds gathered from all four directions,

Bringing satisfaction to all plains and lowlands. {28}

40. 109? ?Since then there has been no thieving, robbery, or fraud.

There has been no murder and no executions.1609

No one has died because they had no protector.

You have become the protector for all beings who have none. {29}

40. 110? ?Those humans who delighted in killing,

Who slew others and then drank their blood,

And those who ate one another?s flesh,

Through your great generosity now have benevolent minds. {30}

40. 111? ?At that time, those who possessed clothes

Numbered no more than one hundred thousand.

The others covered their bodies with clothing of straw and leaves,

And at that time, all were tormented by hunger as pretas are. {31}

40. 112? ?You were born as a protector for those without a protector.

Now even rice grows without being planted, without plowing.

Treasures are obtained from wish-fulfilling trees,

And men and women have become learned. {32}

40. 113? ?In the past, for a month or half a month they would Follow bad ways, working to accumulate to no avail.1610

But nowadays they have much jewelry and excellent clothing

And are always happy, like devas amusing themselves. {33}

40. 114? ?Previously, passionate men, with dreadful wrong conduct,1611

Because of their desires and contrary to the Dharma,

Would forcefully take away and rape young maidens

Who were under the protection of others. {34}

40. 115? ?Today, just on seeing the perfumed wives of others,1612

With the bodies and complexions of beautiful apsaras,

Wearing splendid clothes and adorned in jewelry,

They become satisfied as if by their own wives in Tushita. {35} [F.175.a]1613

40. 116? ?In the past, people spoke for the purpose of deception.

They lied, spoke harshly, slandered, and spoke meaninglessly.

Nowadays they have abandoned those four faults of speech,

Have abandoned wrong views, and completely practice the Dharma. {36}

40. 117? ?Even the most melodious music

And this divine singing do not come close

To a fraction of your supreme speech,

Which emerges as the sound of Brahma's voice or of the avadavat. {37}

40. 118? ?Above the crown of your head floats a parasol

Made of precious materials and covered by a net of gold,

With a glorious center of treasure and a handle of beryl

And encircled by completely precious, excellent bells. {38}

40. 119? ?All the sounds that come from those bells

Outshine all the music in this world.

They emit sounds like the aspects of the Buda's speech,

Resounding with the peaceful sounds of the Dharma. {39}

40. 120? ?The kleshas cease in all beings who hear

The wheels of the names of the ocean of wise ones,

Of the ocean of sugatas in the ocean of successive kalpas

In the realms in all directions, without exception. {40}

40. 121? ?Through your blessing, the bells sound out

In correct sequence whatever the names

Of those who have appeared in the past, in one realm after another,

And turned the wheel of the Dharma in all directions without exception. {41}

40. 122? ?For as long as your bells continue to ring,

They will resound throughout Jambudhvaja,

Describing the nature of the karma of each one

Of the lords of Brahmas, the lords of devas, and the lords of humans. {42}

40. 123? ?From the sound of the bells, each deva and human

Hears the nature of their individual karma,

So they give up bad actions, adopt good conduct,

And are all directed to the supreme enlightenment of buddhahood. {43}

40. 124? ?Your father was the sovereign over humans, Jyotishprabha,

And his Queen, Padmaprabha, was your mother.

In the time when the five deteriorations spread,

He had inherited the Dharma kingdom. {44} [F.175.b]

40. 125? ?His royal gardens were vast,

Arrayed with blossoming flowers and precious lamps,

Beautified by five hundred lotus ponds,

Encircled by many hundreds of trees. {45}

40. 126? ?And each of them had on every side

A palace with a thousand pillars,

A variegated array of a thousand balconies,

And beautifying nets of crescents everywhere. {46}1614

40. 127? ?The power of bad qualities became widespread,

So that for many years the rain did not fall.

At that time, the water in all the lotus ponds,

And the trees with all their leaves, dried up. {47}

40. 128? ?For seven nights before you were born,

There were marvelous, wonderful omens.

When beings saw them, they said with certainty,

?Our savior has definitely arrived.? {48}

40. 129? ?At the midnights of those nights,

The entire surface of the world shook in six ways.

In the center of the supreme lotus pond,

There appeared a light as bright as the sun. {49}1615

40. 130? ?All five hundred lotus ponds were filled

With excellent water that had the eight qualities.

On the branches of the trees grew leaves

And magnificent flowers and fruits. {50}

40. 131? ?Those lotus ponds filled with water

Satisfied entire forests without exception.

The great rivers that flowed from them

Filled Jambudhvaja with their water. {51}

40. 132? ?The trees, herbs, crops, and plants grew.

Trees were covered with flowers and fruits.

The many kinds of seeds on the surface of the world

Were all moistened by the water and sprouted. {52}

40. 133? ?The surface of the earth was saturated with water,

So at that time it became completely level.

All the upland and downland in all directions

On the world's surface became level. {53}

40. 134? ?At that time, chasms, precipices, and rugged places

All became level, everywhere in an instant.

Thorns and pebbles and so on ceased to exist, [F.176.a]

And sources of excellent jewels appeared. {54}

40. 135? ?Crowds of men and women were rapturous,

And all who were afflicted by thirst had plenty of water.

With happy voices they cried out in joy,

?Ah! Through whose power has today?s happiness come?? {55}

40. 136? ?At that time, the ruler of the earth, Jyotihprabha, and his son,

Together with his daughters and a crowd of his ministers

And encircled by a thousand million people,

Proceeded to the gardens with delight. {56}

40. 137? ?Together with his queen he came up onto

The terrace of the staircase of righteousness¹⁶¹⁶

Of the charming, preeminent, central

Lotus pond filled with scented water. {57}

40. 138? ?For the duration of seven nights,

Each night the water rose upward,

And at that time the entire surface of the earth,

With its mountains and garlands of palaces, was shaken. {58}

40. 139? ?In the center of the preeminent pond

Appeared a great lotus with a thousand petals

And a net of clouds of the light of a thousand suns

Spreading upward as far as Sumeru?s summit. {59}

40. 140? ?It had a diamond stem and an aromatic center.

Its multitude of pure petals were lords of jewels.

Its pericarp was splendid Jambu River gold.

It had a perfection of bright stamens with an excellent aroma. {60}

40. 141? ?You, lord, were born upon that pericarp.

You appeared sitting cross-legged,1617

Your beautiful body adorned by the signs of a great being,

With hundreds of devas making offerings to you. {61}

40. 142? ?The king descended from the terrace?s platform.1618

He reached out with his arms and lifted you up,

Gave you to the supreme queen, and said these words:1619

?This is your son! Be of happy mind!? {62}

40. 143? ?When you, protector of the world, were thus born,

Ten million treasures appeared,

The buds of all trees opened,

And the sound of music came from the sky. {63} [F.176.b]

40. 144? ?All the beings in Jambudhvaja

Gazed upon you, bowed, and paid homage.

With palms together they said with joy,

?Oh! You have come as a protector for the helpless!? {64}

40. 145? ?From your body you radiated light rays

That illuminated the entire world,

Eliminating all the darkness in beings

And bringing to an end every kind of illness. {65}

40. 146? ?Those gatherings of yakshas, kumbhandas, and pishacas

Who were causing harm were dispelled.

All poisonous snakes, who with malicious intent

Killed beings, were rendered immobile. {66}

40. 147? ?The suffering of misfortune and disgrace,
Being afflicted by illness, harmed by many illnesses
All these were, in brief, brought to an end, ceased to exist,
And there was great happiness throughout the entire world. {67}

40. 148? ?At that time, all beings had loving minds,
Perceiving one another as being like their mother.
Without aggression and without violence,
They practiced the path to omniscience. {68}

40. 149? ?They were turned away from the lower existences,
Turned toward the great path to higher existences,
And shown the path toward omniscience.
In that way you created a vast benefit for beings. {69}

40. 150? ?Your generosity has been as vast as an ocean.
I have attained the excellent attainment of seeing you.1620
You have come to be a marvelous guide
For those who have been helplessly lost for a long time.? {70}

40. 151?The head merchant's daughter, Ratnaprabha, praised King Sarva Dharma-nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha with those verses. Having honored and praised him, she circumambulated him, keeping him to her right, a hundred thousand times. Having paid homage, she reverently went to sit to one side.

40. 152 ?King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha looked at the merchant's daughter Ratnaprabha and said these words: ?Girl, it is excellent, excellent, that you have thus set out for the higher knowledge that knows the special qualities of other beings. [F.177.a]

40. 153 ? ?Girl, beings who aspire for the good qualities in other beings are rare in all worlds.

? ?Girl, beings who are obscured by darkness, who are ungrateful, who have wrong judgment, who have disturbed minds, whose trains of thought are in disorder, whose minds are in darkness, whose thoughts are naturally ruinous, who do not practice, and who do not know the special qualities of other beings are unable to comprehend the qualities of Bodhisattvas, to conceive the qualities of the Tathagatas, or to attain the higher cognition that is the unique knowledge of all qualities.

40. 154 ? ?Therefore, girl, as you comprehend the qualities of the Bodhisattvas through a higher cognition of great beings, you are, without doubt, established in the way to enlightenment.

40. 155 ? ?My prowess in gathering together the beings of Jambudvīpa has proved meaningful because someone like you, with your kind of knowledge, has been born in my realm.?

40. 156 ?Then King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha picked up with his own hands a great, priceless, precious jewel, a multicolored precious jewel that contained the lights of the stars, and priceless, precious clothing, and gave them to the head merchant's daughter Ratnaprabha. He gave various precious clothing to each of the girls in Ratnaprabha's entourage. [F.177.b] He said, ?Girl, take this precious clothing, keep it, and wear it yourself!?

40. 157 ?Then the head merchant's daughter, Ratnaprabha, accompanied by her entourage, knelt with both knees on the ground, took up the precious clothing with both hands, placed it on her head, withdrew, and put on that precious clothing. All the girls in the entourage also each put on their own precious clothing. When she had put on that precious clothing, accompanied by her entourage of girls, she circumambulated King Sarva Dharma-nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha, keeping him to her right. The images of all constellations and stars appeared on those precious clothes. When the gathering of people saw her, they said, "Girl, your entourage of girls is as beautiful as a night goddess adorned by the stars. You, encircled by them, are even more beautiful." ?

40. 158 Then the night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa said to Sudhana, "Noble one, what do you think? At that time, in that time, who was King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha? Do not think that it was anyone else, for at that time, in that time, it was this bhagavat Tathagata arhat samyak sambuddha Vairocana who was King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra-mandala nirghosha.

40. 159 "What do you think, noble one? At that time, in that time, who was Padmaprabha, the queen of King Jyotishprabha and the mother of King Sarva-Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha? Do not think that it was anyone else, for at that time, in that time, Mayadevi was Padmaprabha, the king's queen who took the miraculously born prince onto her lap.1621

40. 160 "Also, what do you think, noble one? At that time, in that time, who was Jyotishprabha, the father of King Sarva Dharma nirnadacchatra mandala-nirghosha? Do not think that it was anyone else, for at that time, in that time, Shuddhodana was the king named Jyotishprabha. [F.178.a]

40. 161 "Also, what do you think, noble one? At that time, in that time, who was Ratnaprabha, the head merchant's daughter? Do not think that it was anyone else, for at that time, in that time, I was Ratnaprabha, the head merchant's daughter.

40. 162 "Also, what do you think, noble one? At that time, in that time, who were the beings who had been born in Jambudvipa and whom King Sarva Dharma-nirnadacchatra mandala nirghosha had gathered together through the four methods of gathering pupils? Do not think that it was anyone else, for they are those who are gathered in this assembly of the followers of the Bhagavat, have been established on the Bodhisattva path, and are progressing irreversibly toward the highest, complete enlightenment. Some are established on the first bhumi, some on the second bhumi, some on the third bhumi, some on the fourth bhumi, some on the fifth bhumi, some on the sixth bhumi, some on the seventh bhumi, some on the eighth bhumi, some on the ninth bhumi, and some are established on the tenth Bodhisattva bhumi.

40. 163 ?They are Bodhisattvas who have their attainments through various kinds of prayers, various ways of setting out toward omniscience, various accumulations, various accomplishments, various conducts, various setting forths, various pure displays of the path, various supremacies in miraculous manifestations, and different kinds of displays of the path.1622 1623

40. 164 ?They are these practitioners who are dwelling and practicing within various divine palaces of the Dharma in this assembly of followers through their practice of various kinds of liberations.?

40. 165 The night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa, in order to teach further the Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of the vast radiating light of joy, recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant's son: [F.178.b]

40. 166?Son of the jinas, with my vast sight

I am looking into all directions

At the vast ocean of realms of various kinds

And also the ocean of beings in samsara. {71}

40. 167?I see the spotless jinas in the vast extent of all realms

Present everywhere throughout the ten directions

Seated at the feet of Bodhi trees,

Teaching the Dharma and guiding beings. {72}

40. 168?With the pure ocean of my hearing,

I hear all sounds without exception.

All the Dharma that is taught by the sugatas

I hear with delight again and again. {73}

40. 169?My nondual, unimpeded knowledge

Enters the field of the minds of other beings.

I comprehend the entirety of the characteristics¹⁶²⁴

Of the vast ocean of the minds of other beings. {74}

40. 170?Through the power of memory and samadhi

I know the ocean of countless kalpas in the past.

And similarly I know the ocean of the successions

Of the many lifetimes of myself and of others. {75}

40. 171?I know in a single instant kalpas

As numerous as the atoms in an ocean of realms,

The existences of beings within samsara,

And the Budas and their hosts of miraculous manifestations. {76}

40. 172?I also remember the first aspirations

Made by the knowers of the world,

Their vast ways of attainment and engagement,

And how through conduct they accomplished the accumulations. {77}

40. 173?In a single instant of mind I comprehend

The vast ways of enlightenment and buddhahood

Of all those who have reached the level of empowerment

Of having an ocean of unequalled, immeasurable qualities. {78}

40. 174?I know how the sugatas, through various methods,

Turn the supreme wheel for beings,

The measureless qualities of their nirvanas,

And the length of time their Dharma remains. {79}

40. 175?I comprehend individually, through various ways,

The ocean of the ways of their stainless yantras,

All their vast guidance for beings,

And the teachings they give to beings. {80} [F.179.a]

40. 176?I have meditated for many hundreds of kalpas

On the way of this liberation of the illumination

Of the treasure of delight and the wealth of aspiration.1625

You too should quickly comprehend this way. {81}

40. 177?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the arising of the vast radiating light of joy. How could I know the conduct or describe the qualities of Bodhisattvas who at the feet of all the Tathagatas engage in an ocean of prayers to enter omniscience; who complete the fulfillment of the ocean of the past prayers by the Tathagatas; who are skilled in reaching the ocean of all Bodhisattva bhūmis through reaching one Bodhisattva bhūmi; who have pure prayer and conduct in which there is an ocean of all Bodhisattva conducts included within each conduct; who have the power of practice of the entire ocean of Bodhisattva liberations being included within each Bodhisattva liberation?

40. 178 ?Depart, noble one. The goddess of the night who has the name Sarvajagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha has come to this bodhimanda and is in the presence of the Bhagavat. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva ripen beings for the highest, complete enlightenment? How should a Bodhisattva purify all Buda realms? How should a Bodhisattva honor and serve all Tathagatas so as to please them? How should a Bodhisattva be dedicated to the Dharma of all the Budas?? ? [F.179.b]1626

40. 179 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa, circumambulated the night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, looking back again and again, departed from the night goddess Sarva vrikshpraphullana sukha samvasa.

41. Chapter 41

SARVA JAGAD RAKSHA PRANIDHANA VIRYA-PRABHA

41. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, went to where the night goddess Sarva-jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha was. He saw the night goddess Sarva-jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha in the center of her entourage, seated upon a throne that contained kings of jewels that illuminated the dwellings of all beings. She had a body covered completely in a net of jewels that illuminated the ways of the realm of phenomena. Her body revealed the images of the sun, the moon, and all the planets, stars, and constellations. She had a body that manifested to the perception of beings in accordance with their wishes. She had a body such that her own body was perceived by all beings as having the same form as their bodies. She had a body that manifested perceptions of a vast, centerless, edgeless ocean of skin colors. She had a body that manifested practicing all paths of the practice of conduct. She had a body that could be perceived from every kind of orientation. She had a body that was present in all worlds, filling all directions with the sound of thunder from the cloud of the Dharma and with various miraculous manifestations. She had a body that reached throughout the realm of space, at all times looking at how to benefit all beings. She had a body that paid homage and bowed down at the feet of all Tathagatas. She had a body that came before all beings, aiding them in the accumulation of roots of merit. [F.180.a] She had a body that possessed the mindfulness of keeping and never deviating from the motivation to accomplish and fulfill the prayer to receive and possess clouds of Dharma directly from all the Tathagatas. She had a body that filled all principal and intermediate directions with light that had no edge or center. She had a body that manifested the illumination and the spreading light of the lamp of Dharma, dispelling the darkness in all beings. She had a body that manifested as a stainless body of the wisdom that phenomena are like illusions. She had a1627 body that manifested as a Dharma body free of darkness and dust. She had a body that appeared with the nature of being an illusion. She had a mind free of darkness that had realized the true nature. She had attained the illumination in all aspects of the light of wisdom. She had a mental body that was completely free of illness and had no pain. She had appeared from the realm of the enduring and indestructible Dharma body. She had a body that was the pure body of the stainless true nature, the state completely without kleshas, and which had the nature of the unlocated blessing of the Tathagatas.

41. 2 When he had seen her, he bowed his head, and, remembering the ways of seeing her, which were as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm, he bowed down to the ground, prostrating himself for a long time. Sudhana, the head merchant's son, then stood up from the ground, placed his palms together, and, looking at the body of the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha-pranidhana virya prabha, he gained ten pure perceptions, and through gaining them he gained commonality with all kalyanamitras.1628

41. 3 What were those ten? [F.180.b] (1) He gained the perception of his own mind being among the kalyanamitras in order to have all the diligence for undertaking the attainment of omniscience. (2) He gained the perception of the pure nature of the ripening of his own karma so as to attain the accomplishment of vast roots of merit from honoring kalyanamitras. (3) He gained the perception of the adornment of Bodhisattva conduct so as to remain in the conduct that is the adornment of all prayers. (4) He gained the perception of the accomplishment of all the Dharmas of the Budas so as to practice the path of the instructions of all the Tathagatas. (5) He gained the perception of the arising of sensations so as to see the radiance of practicing the unsurpassable Dharma that is the field of all Budas. (6) He gained the perception of a single setting forth so as to have the pure conduct and prayer of setting forth through the completely good conduct. (7) He gained the perception of the origin of the ocean of the merit of omniscience so as to increase the accumulation of all good qualities. (8) He gained the perception of protecting, increasing, and completing incomplete good qualities so as to increase the power of diligence for omniscience in the enlightenment of buddhahood. (9) He gained the perception of the completion of all roots of merit so as to fulfill the wishes of all beings. (10) He gained the perception of the accomplishment of all goals among kalyanamitras so as to be established in having the power of the qualities of all Bodhisattvas. [F.181.a]1630

41. 6 In that way, Sudhana, the head merchant's son, gained a state of delight. He attained those pure perceptions through looking at the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha. He attained these and other commonalities, as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm, from the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha.

41. 7 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, because of the night goddess Sarva-jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha, entered ways of seeing that were as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm; [F.184.b] he attained pure perceptions, without end or center, of the kalyanamitras; and he entered ways of commonality that were as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm.

41. 8 With his upper robe removed from one shoulder and with his palms together, he bowed in the direction of the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha-pranidhana virya prabha and recited these verses:

41. 9 ?I regard my own mind and my aspiration
To enlightenment to be firm and irreversible.

As it is in your mind, so it is in mine.

And that which is mine has today become firm. {1}

41. 10 ?I have been purified of everything that is sinful;

I have attained the unequalled ripening of good karma.1641

When I look and see you, beautiful one,

I accumulate inexhaustible good qualities. {2}1642

41. 11 ?My mind is adorned by a river of qualities.

Through dedication to benefiting beings in various ways,

I practice a conduct that is thus adorned

Within all realms until the last of future kalpas. {3}

41. 12 ?Arya, in order to show your kindness to me,

You have revealed the accomplishment of all Dharmas.

I pray that for my benefit you will decide to care for me1643

And bestow on me the highest teaching of the Dharma. {4}

41. 13 ?You have repelled the path of falling into lower existences.

You have shown the pure path to the higher existences.

You have taught the path to omniscience,1644

Which is the way followed by every sugata. {5}

41. 14 ?Incomparable, marvelous one, I have in your presence1645

Developed the supreme conception of setting forth.

The pure entranceway to the Dharma of omniscience

Is immeasurable and stainless, like space. {6}

41. 15 ?Today I have developed the immeasurable perception of you

As the excellent source of immeasurable omniscience.

An ocean of merit as immeasurable as space

Arises in the mind with every instant. {7} [F.185.a]

41. 16 ?Arya, I pray you empower me with the perfections.

I pray that you augment inconceivable merit.

Having augmented all goodness and qualities,

Cause me to quickly attain the level of omniscience. {8}

41. 17 ?I constantly perceive the kalyanamitras

As the complete path to omniscience.

Therefore they will be made content

By my quickly perfecting all good qualities. {9}1646

41. 18 ?Therefore, from this come all benefits

And the accomplishment of good qualities.

I shall accomplish this path to omniscience

And proclaim it to beings through infinite praises. {10}

41. 19 ?You are my teacher of immeasurable qualities.

You are my guide toward the qualities of omniscience.

Arya, even in countless quintillions of kalpas

I will not be able to repay your kindness.? {11}

41. 20 Then Sudhana, the head merchant's son, having recited those verses, said to the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha, ?Goddess, if you teach me this inconceivable scope of your Bodhisattva liberation, then, goddess, what is the name of this liberation? Goddess, how long has it been since you entered upon attaining the highest, complete enlightenment?

How long will it be before you attain the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood??

41. 21 The night goddess Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, ?Noble one, this liberation is called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire the ripening of all beings. Noble one, through possessing this liberation, having realized the equal nature of all phenomena, [F.185.b] having comprehended the nature of all phenomena, and having relied on the Dharma that has no location, I have risen above all worlds, understood the differentiation of the forms of all phenomena, and, understanding the true nature that has no distinct color, no variation of color, no separate aspect of color, no concept of color, no blue color, no yellow color, no red color, no white color, no dissimilarities, no variety, no different aspects, no concepts, no blue, no yellow, no red, and no white colors, I have form bodies of many categories of color; various kinds of color; numerous colors; countless colors; pure colors; every display of manifested colors; all-illuminating colors; colors that resemble those of all beings; colors that manifest and are superior in all worlds; colors of completely illuminated images; colors that are not inimical; the colors of the completely purified signs and features of a great being; colors that have the light of nontransgressive conduct; colors that manifest prowess through great strength; profound colors that are difficult to attain; colors that the entire world cannot defeat; colors that cannot be exhausted by the words of all beings; colors that vary with each instant; colors that are the manifestations of various clouds of colors; colors in various forms and shapes; the colors of the appearance of countless miraculous manifestations; beautiful, shining colors; colors that increase all excellence and beauty; colors that accord with the ripening of all beings; colors of goodness that directly manifest to guide beings according to their aspirations; [F.186.a] colors that illuminate without obscuration; pure and unsullied colors of pure brightness; colors that manifest countless ways of the Dharma; unsurpassable colors that surpass and overwhelm all; colors that have no darkness or dimness; colors that are accomplished through all goodness; colors that are an ocean of qualities of greatness; colors created by past veneration of gurus; colors that create the pure space of superior motivation; colors that are perfect, sublime, wonderful, and vast; colors that manifest an ocean of insuperable, inexhaustible qualities; colors that do not dwell in and are not mixed in with the world; colors that pervade all directions without impediment; colors that manifest the numerous varieties of the colors of the vast extent of countless realms in each instant; colors that increase the great power of joy in all beings; colors that gather together all the great ocean of beings; colors that resound with clouds of the entire ocean of qualities of the Budas within every pore; colors that purify the ocean of wishes and aspirations of all beings; colors that teach with certainty all Dharmas; colors that shine with multicolored fields of networks of light rays; [F.186.b] colors with a stainless radiance like space; colors that are based on lights unstained by dust that are like pure kings of jewels; colors of the lights of the stainless true nature; colors that manifest the ocean of the different ways of countless colors; colors that illuminate all directions; distinct colors that are revealed to beings at the appropriate times; colors that arise from the direction of pacification and self-control; colors that pacify all kleshas; colors that are revealed within all the fields of merit of beings; colors that dispel all treasures of powders and pervade throughout the ten directions of the ocean of the ways of the entire realm of phenomena, and through having acquired

1648

1649

1651

1652

1653

1654

the blessing of the Tathagatas I manifest to beings who are guided through seeing, who are guided through hearing, who are guided through remembering, who are guided through creating emanations of Dharma wheels, who are guided through the time having come for their ripening, who are guided through the manifestation of form bodies, who are guided through acts of veneration, who are guided through realization, who are guided through manifesting various miracles and emanations, and who are guided through manifesting the perception of countless miracles and emanations, through the power of their aspirations, the power of the time, the power of turning them away from bad actions, the power of establishing them in the accomplishment of good actions, the power of accomplishing the karma of great prayers of the past, the power of the might of omniscience, the power of the qualities of attaining the miraculous manifestations of vast Bodhisattva liberations, the power of the arising of the strength of great compassion that creates a refuge for all beings, and the power of the aspiration that creates a pure ocean of great love.

41. 22 ?Noble one, in that way I am established in this Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire the ripening of all beings, and comprehending the true nature of phenomena to be without division, I manifest the shapes and colors of bodies without limit or center, [F.188.a] and from each manifested body come the perceptions within worlds of an endless and centerless ocean of colors, and from each manifested color clouds of light rays without limit or center are radiated, and from each light ray the images of Buda realms without limit or center are manifested, and in each Buda realm Tathagatas without limit or center are manifested, and each Tathagata manifests Buda miracles without limit or center, and thus I inspire those who have past roots of merit, and I cause those who have not generated roots of merit to generate them, those who have generated them to increase them, and those who have increased them to make them vast.1655

41. 23 ?In each instant of mind, I establish realms of beings without limit or center on the level of irreversible progress toward the highest, complete enlightenment. [B12]

41. 24 ?Moreover, noble one, you asked, ?How long has it been since you entered upon attaining the highest, complete enlightenment? For how many hundreds of kalpas have you been practicing Bodhisattva conduct?? Through the blessing of the Budas I will teach you the answer.

41. 25 ?Noble one, the domain of wisdom of the Bodhisattvas is a field of perception without thoughts, concepts, or assumptions. There is no establishment or description of samsara as being long or being short. There1657 1658 is no establishment or description of defiled kalpas, pure kalpas, short kalpas, great kalpas, numerous kalpas, [F.188.b] differing kalpas, a variety of kalpas, or irregular kalpas.1659

41. 26 ?Why is that? Noble one, the domain of wisdom of the Bodhisattvas naturally has a completely pure nature, is free of all nets of conceptualization, has transcended all the mountains of obscurations, and, arising in their aspirations, illuminates all beings whom it is time to ripen and guide accordingly.

41. 27 ?Noble one, it is like this: the disk of the sun itself has no enumeration of and does not exist as days and nights, but when it sets, that is perceived as sunset, and when the disk of the sun rises, that is said to be daytime.¹⁶⁶⁰

41. 28 ?Noble one, in that way, in the domain of wisdom of the Bodhisattvas there are no thoughts, concepts, or assumptions; there are also no perceptions of residing in samsara and no division into times. However, through the power of the time for ripening all beings, that domain of wisdom without concepts that arises from the aspiration of the Bodhisattvas has the enumeration of numbers concerning the duration of kalpas and the perceptions of samsara. There is the enumeration of the duration of past and future kalpas in the conceptless domain of wisdom.

41. 29 ?Noble one, it is like the analogy of the disk of the sun in the realm of space, which appears as a perceived image on all jewel mountains, all jewel trees, all jewel vessels, all jewel quarries, all oceans, all lakes and ponds, [F.189.a] in all bowls of water, and to all beings. It appears as a direct perception for all beings. The image of the disk of the sun appears in the atoms of all jewels, but the disk of the sun is not present in the mountains of jewels, does not enter the jewel trees, and so on, up to atoms of jewels, is not contained within precious stones, does not come to jewel quarries, does not enter oceans, and does not go into bowls of water, yet it appears within them.

41. 30 ?Noble one, in that same way, Bodhisattva mahasattvas have risen high above the ocean of samsara and are in the sky of the realm of Dharma of the Tathagatas, active within the field of activity that is the sky of the nature of phenomena, and dwell in the realm of the sky of peace. However, in order to ripen and guide all beings in all the paths of existence and births, they appear in bodies that are the same as those of all beings, but without being stained by the faults of samsara, without being accompanied by thoughts and concepts, without the perception of a kalpa being long, and without the perception of a kalpa being short.

41. 31 ?Why is that? Because Bodhisattvas have transcended error, have transcended erroneous perception, mentation, and views, have comprehend all worlds to be like dreams, [F.189.b] realize all worlds to be like magical conjurations, have attained the realm of the wisdom that there are no beings, view all phenomena exactly as they truly are, and, through the power of the vast domain of compassion and of great prayers, appear to all beings in order to ripen and guide all beings.

41. 32 ?Noble one, it is like the analogy of a ship on a great river, and so on, which is continuously engaged in ferrying beings across. It does not stay at the opposite shore, it does not stay at the near shore, and it does not remain in between.

41. 33 ?Noble one, in the same way, Bodhisattvas, through the power of the ship of the great perfections, are engaged in ferrying beings across the flow of the river of samsara, doing so without fear of the near shore and without a conception of the bliss of the far shore. Yet they are continuously engaged in the practice of bringing all beings to liberation while maintaining Bodhisattva conduct throughout countless kalpas without attachment to the different kinds of kalpas. They do not practice Bodhisattva conduct with the perception that the passing of a kalpa is a long time.

41. 34 ?Noble one, it is like the analogy of the realm of space that is the domain of the sky, the vast realm of phenomena, which though it includes the creation, destruction, and passing of all world realms is without thought and is naturally pure and completely undefiled, undisturbed, unobscured, and unwearied by possessing all realms throughout all future time. [F.190.a]

41. 35 ?Noble one, in the same way, the domain of the space of the wisdom of Bodhisattvas? aspiration, with the revolving of the circle of the wind of great prayers, holds back beings from all the abysses of the lower existences without ever wearying; it brings them onto the path to happiness without being disheartened, brings them onto the path to omniscience without becoming despondent, is undisturbed by any kleshas, and is not afflicted by any of the harms of samsara.

41. 36 ?Noble one, it is like the analogy of a man, with all the larger and smaller parts of the body complete, who is a magical conjuration and in whose body ten qualities are absent. What are those ten? They are (1) inhalation, (2) exhalation, (3) cold, (4) warmth, (5) hunger, (6) thirst, (7) happiness, (8) unhappiness, (9) birth, aging, sickness, and death, and (10) injury.¹⁶⁶¹

41. 37 ?Noble one, in the same way, Bodhisattvas have forms that emerge as the magical conjuration of wisdom; they have bodies that are not separate from the realm of the Dharma, and which are born in order to ripen all beings in the classes of existence within samsara.¹⁶⁶²

41. 38 ?Although they are present in all kalpas, there are ten qualities that they do not have.

?What are those ten? They are (1) delight in samsara, (2) sadness on being reborn within a class of existence within samsara, (3) dedication to the pleasures of the senses, (4) an angry mind, (5) desire for enjoyments, (6) being afflicted by all the kleshas, (7) experiencing the sensation of suffering, (8) fear through being born in frightening existences, (9) yearning for an existence, and (10) clinging to an existence.

41. 39 ?However, noble one, I shall also teach, through the blessing of the Budas, in order to increase the power of the vast Bodhisattva prayers of future Bodhisattvas. [F.190.b]

41. 40 ?Noble one, in the past, in times gone by, beyond as many kalpas as there are atoms in an ocean of world realms, and even further beyond, there was at that time, in that time, a world realm called Ratnaprabha.

41. 41 ?Noble one, in that world realm called Ratnaprabha there was kalpa called Suprabha. In that kalpa called Suprabha there appeared ten thousand Budas.

41. 42 ?Noble one, the first of those ten thousand Budas in that kalpa who appeared in that world was the Tathagata Arhat Samyak sambuddha Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja, who was one with wisdom and conduct, a sugata, one who knows the world's beings, an unsurpassable guide who tames beings, a teacher of devas and humans, a Buda, and a bhagavat. He was the first of them all to attain the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood.¹⁶⁶³

41. 43 ?Noble one, that Tathagata appeared not far from the royal capital named Rativyuha in the central four-continent world. To the east of the royal capital Rativyuha, there was a forest called Suprabha. In Suprabha Forest there was a bodhimanda called Ratna kusuma megha. At that bodhimanda called Ratna-kusuma megha there appeared a lion throne on which there was a shining jewel lotus. It was upon this that the Tathagata Arhat Samyak sambuddha

Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja attained the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood.1664

41. 44 ?At that time, in that time, the lifespan of humans was ten thousand years, but there occurred killing, [F.191.a] stealing, sexual misconduct, lying, slander, harsh speech, meaningless talk, avariciousness, maliciousness, and wrong views, and in that way the path of the ten bad actions became widespread and enduring.

41. 45 ?The Bhagavat Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja remained at the bodhimanda, teaching the Dharma to Bodhisattvas, in order to ripen the roots of merit of the lords of the world and Jambudvipa humans who had served past jinas.1665 1666

41. 46 ?At that time, in that time, in the royal capital Rativyuha, there lived King Jayaprabha, who in order to subdue them imprisoned many hundreds of thousands of people who had stolen, robbed, performed criminal acts, killed, performed sexual misconduct, lied, slandered, spoken harshly, and talked meaninglessly, who were avaricious, were malicious, held wrong views, were attached to desires contrary to the Dharma, were overwhelmed by irresistible desires, were encompassed by wrong Dharma, and who committed sinful actions, acted wrathfully, did not create merit, did not save those who were in fear, did not respect their mothers, did not respect their fathers, were not reverential to mendicants, were not reverential to brahmins, were not respectful of aryas, and committed transgressions.1667

41. 47 ?King Jayaprabha had a son whose name was Vijitavin. He was handsome, attractive, a delight to see, and he had a very beautiful, perfect, magnificent complexion. He had twenty-eight of the signs of a great being. He went up on the roof of the palace called Sarasvati samgiti, [F.191.b] where he stayed, encircled by an entourage of many women. He heard the terrified cries of the beings who had been put into prison and were tightly bound by various instruments. On hearing them he became unhappy, and his mind was not at ease. Great compassion arose in him, and he descended from the roof of the palace. He entered the prison and inside that strict prison saw the beings who in darkness were imprisoned, bound in wooden stocks, chains, manacles, and fetters and chained one to another. It was thick with blinding smoke, and they were stricken by unpleasant sickening air, breathing with difficulty, tormented by hunger and thirst, and naked, without clothes, their bodies entirely covered in dirt and dust, their bodies covered by their own hair, their thighs tightly bound together; they were overwhelmed by a sensation of the suffering of a series of various torments, and in their suffering they cried out with unendurable wailing and screams.

41. 48 ?When he saw this, a great compassion arose in him along with a motivation to help others. He reassured them, saying, ?I will free from prison all those who have been placed in the darkness of this prison,? thus giving them the gift of freedom from fear.

41. 49 ?He went to King Jayaprabha and said to him, ?Your Majesty, I request your attention. Taking pity on those beings who are in the unhappiness of being imprisoned, I have given them the assurance of freedom from fear.

Please release them.?

41. 50 ?King Jayaprabha gathered together his five hundred ministers and asked them, ?What do you think?? [F.192.a]1669

?They said, ?All these prisoners have stolen from the king?s treasuries, have attempted to harm the king, have trespassed into your harem, and so on. They should be executed. Their punishment should be execution or to die in chains. Someone who undertakes to help them is committing a crime against the king.¶1670

41. 51 ¶Prince Vijitavin, giving rise to an overwhelming compassion, said to those ministers, ¶Let it be as you have just said. I will endure all their experiences of suffering for their sake. Do to me whatever you would do to them and set them free! I will undergo every kind of unhappiness in order to free them from prison. I will even give up my body and life. Why is that? If I am unable to free even these beings from prison, how would I be able to liberate beings who are imprisoned in the three realms, who are bound by the noose of craving, who are within the darkness of ignorance, who have been cast into the darkness of stupidity, who are tormented by the suffering of poverty, who are distressed in the deep abyss of the lower existences, whose bodies have unpleasant shapes and ugly color, who are lacking in the functioning of the senses, who have bewildered minds, who do not see a way out of samsara, who are devoid of light, who cling to the three realms, who lack the accumulations of merit and wisdom, who are deprived of a basis for wisdom, whose minds are stained by various kleshas, who are trapped in an enclosure of suffering, who are under the power of Mara, and who are tormented by birth, aging, sickness, death, misery, wailing, suffering, unhappiness, and tribulation?? [F.192.b]1671

41. 52 ¶Prince Vijitavin could not be dissuaded from freeing those imprisoned beings by offering up himself, by offering everything, and by ransoming them with his entourage and all his accumulation of wealth, and then taking on the suffering of those beings.

41. 53 ?Then the five hundred ministers, wailing with their arms upraised, went to King Jayaprabha and said to him, ?Your Majesty, we request attention. Prince Vijitavin?s plans will destroy the kingdom! We are even concerned for our own lives! If Your Majesty does not restrain the prince, before long Your Majesty?s life will be taken from you!?

41. 54 ?Then King Jayaprabha became angry and condemned to death Prince Vijitavin and all those people who were criminals.

41. 55 ?When his birth mother heard this, she was distressed and, with her entourage of a thousand women with their hair in disarray, their jewelry cast aside, and their faces scratched, beating their breasts, with their heads covered with dirt, and wailing with piteous cries, came into the presence of the king, and she and her entourage bowed down at his feet and made this supplication: ?Your Majesty, listen to our plea! Free Prince Vijitavin! Spare the life of Prince Vijitavin!?

41. 56 ?Then the king had Prince Vijitavin brought before him and said to him, ?Prince, abandon those people who are criminals! If you do not abandon them, you will be executed in their stead!? [F.193.a]

41. 57 ?The prince was not disheartened or discouraged but was engaged in attaining the goal of omniscience, was dedicated to benefiting others, was led in all his actions by compassion, and accepted his death.

41. 58 ?His mother requested King Jayaprabha to give him half a month, saying, ?I request that this prince be allowed to perform acts of charity for half a month, and after that you may do as you wish.?

?The king gave his permission, saying, ?Let it be so!?

41. 59 ?The prince went to the great park called Surya prabha, which was to the north of Rativyuha, the royal capital, and was the traditional location for offerings and acts of charity. There the prince gave anyone whatever they wanted, making unconditional offerings and gifts of every kind for half a month. He gave food to those who wanted food, gave drink to those who wanted drink, and likewise gave steeds, clothes, flowers, powders, ointments, Dharma robes, parasols, banners, flags, precious jewelry, all ornaments, and every kind of necessity that was wished for.¹⁶⁷³

41. 60 ?When the last day arrived, an assembly of many beings gathered. The king's ministers, the group of queens, the head merchants, the householders, the people of the land, and the Jains assembled.¹⁶⁷⁴

41. 61 ?The Bhagavat, the Tathagata Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha-pradipa raja, knowing it was the time to guide and ripen beings, also went to the site of the distribution of gifts. A gathering of lords of the devas was his entourage; lords of the Nagas made offerings to him; [F.193.b] lords of the yakshas were bowing to him; lords of the gandharvas were praising him; lords of the asuras were bowing down to him; lords of the garudas, who were adorned by crest jewels, were with delight strewing offerings; lords of the kinnaras made offerings with joy and sang inspirational songs of praise; and lords of the mahoragas encircled him, gazing at his face.

41. 62 ?That great gathering of beings and Prince Vijitavin saw, approaching from afar, the Bhagavat, the Tathagata Arhat Samyak sambuddha Dharma-cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja, who was handsome and delightful to look at, with pacified senses and a pacified mind, withdrawn, victorious over the senses, as tame as an elephant, as pure, clear, and unpolluted as a lake, beautified by buddhahood's emanations and great miraculous manifestations and by the powerful supremacy of buddhahood, and shining with the greatness of buddhahood. His body was beautifully adorned by the adornments of the physical signs and features of a Buda, and he was filling all worlds with the illumination of a Buda's halo of light, illuminating with a Buda's light rays, emanating a field of the spreading aroma of precious perfumes from all his body's pores, and shaking all world realms in the manner of shaking Buda realms. He was approaching while sending down a rain from a cloud of all adornments, with the prowess of buddhahood, with the conduct of buddhahood that eliminates kleshas within all beings, and through the sight of the Buda's face increasing the power of joy in all beings, [F.194.a] who on seeing the Tathagata gained faith in their minds in the Tathagata.

41. 63 ?Then Prince Vijitavin and the great gathering of beings went to greet in the distance the Bhagavat Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja, and with faith in him they prostrated with their whole bodies, touching the tops of their heads to his feet. They offered various kinds of offerings to him and said, ?Come, Bhagavat! Come, Sugata! Tathagata, pay heed to us!
Tathagata, take us into your care!?

41. 64 ?Then Prince Vijitavin prepared an excellent seat for the Bhagavat and said to him, ?Bhagavat, I request that you be seated upon this seat that has been arranged for you.?

41. 65 ?The Bhagavat approached it, and, through the blessing of the Buda, the types of devas who were devoted to cleanliness of the body transformed the seat so that it had in its center a lotus of the king of precious perfumes.

41. 66 ?The Bhagavat, the Tathagata Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha-pradipa raja, sat upon that seat, and Bodhisattvas sat upon the surrounding seats. The beings of that assembly, as soon as they saw his face, became freed from all obscurations; all their illnesses ceased, and they became vessels for the Dharma of the aryas.

41. 67 ?Then the Bhagavat, the Tathagata Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha-pradipa raja, knowing that those beings had become ready vessels, gave the teachings in stages. He taught the sutra called The Illumination of the Field of Causes. [F.194.b] He spoke through the entire ocean of the languages of beings, definitions, and sounds of the voice, speaking with the thousands of aspects of speech and possessing the thousands of aspects of the Dharma.

41. 68 ?At that moment, eight hundred million beings within that assembly became free of impurities, became stainless, and developed the Dharma vision of the Dharma; many millions of beings attained the state beyond training; and ten thousand beings were guided into the Mahayana. Thus they entered into the way of completely good Bodhisattva conduct and accomplished great prayers.

41. 69 ?When the Bhagavat this time turned the wheel of the Dharma through the great miraculous powers of buddhahood, beings in the ten directions, as numerous as the atoms in a hundred thousand Buda realms, were guided into the Mahayana; beings without end or middle throughout the extent of the various worlds and Buda realms were turned away from the lower existences, and beings beyond number were brought onto the path to rebirth in the higher existences.

41. 70 ?Prince Vijitavin also attained this Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire, in accordance with their dispositions, the ripening of all beings.1676

41. 71 ?Noble one, at that time, in that time, there was the prince named Vijitavin who gave up his own body and life, his accumulation of wealth, his entire entourage, and the happiness of living in the human world and freed those beings who were in prison, [F.195.a] made an unrestricted great distribution of gifts and offerings, honored the Bhagavat, the Tathagata Arhat Samyak-sambuddha Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja, and, when he saw the face of that Tathagata, developed the aspiration for the highest complete enlightenment and attained this Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire, in accordance with their dispositions, the ripening of all beings. If you think he was anyone else, noble one, do not see him in that way. At that time, in that time, I was the prince named Vijitavin. In that way, I was the prince named Vijitavin, who became saddened because of great compassion and who engaged in benefiting all beings without any hope of not remaining in the three realms or of having a karmic result in return; without any delight in fame, renown, or a great name; without praise for oneself; without criticizing others; without attachment to anything; having risen above the perceptions of existence; without delighting in the three realms; while turning away from the pleasures of the sensory field of the world, perceiving the field of the Tathagatas, having the pure motivation of the Bodhisattvas, having created the thunderbolt of the superior motivation, and dedicated with great love to all beings; through compassion for all beings undertaking the ending of suffering; with a sincere focus on the strengths of the Tathagatas; and while training in the path of the Bodhisattvas, [F.195.b] adorning the path that brings forth the displays of the Mahayana, and gazing upon the gateway into omniscience, in that way accomplishing actions that are difficult to do.1677

41. 72 ?Noble one, that is how long it has been since I attained this Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire, in accordance with their dispositions, the ripening of all beings.

41. 73 ?Noble one, what do you think? If you think that anyone else was at that time, in that time, the five hundred ministers who made a perverse request to King Jayaprabha and gave their counsel so that I would be executed, do not see them in that way. They were the five hundred men sent by Devadatta to assassinate the Bhagavat.

41. 74 ?The Bhagavat has prophesied that they too will attain the highest, complete enlightenment in a future time, after as many kalpas as there are atoms in Sumeru, in a kalpa called Suprabha, as five hundred Budas with various qualities and displays of a Buda realm, born into various clans and castes; with mothers and fathers with various names; manifesting various miraculous births; with various miraculous settings forth into homelessness; manifesting various lights from Bodhi trees; having various gateways into going toward bodhimandas; manifesting various defeats of Mara; manifesting various miraculous attainments of buddhahood; having various ways of turning the Dharma wheel, of terms, and of definitions; teaching various ways of the sutras; teaching with various kinds of speech and voice; having an array of various assemblies of followers; radiating the various displays and powers of their halos of light; [F.196.a] having various lifespans; having various blessings from their teachings; their teachings having various objectives; having various names; and all having bodies of great compassion.1680

41. 75 ?The first in that kalpa will be a Tathagata by the name of Mahakarunika, who will attain the highest, complete enlightenment of buddhahood in a world realm called Ratnaprabha. After him, in that same world, there will be the second Tathagata called Sarva jagad dhita pranidhana candra. The third Tathagata will be called Maha karuna simha. The fourth Tathagata will be called Sarva loka hitaishin. The last of them all will be a Tathagata called Vaidyaraja.

41. 76 ?Noble one, as for the men who were criminals at that time, in that time, who had committed offenses against the king, and whom I freed from imprisonment by going to the executioners and giving up my life and body, if you think that they were anyone else, do not see them in that way. They were the Tathagatas of the Bhadra kalpa, beginning with Krakucchanda, and also countless millions of Bodhisattvas, who upon seeing the Bhagavat, the Tathagata Ananta bala vighushta nirnadita shri sambhava mati, developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment and are now practicing Bodhisattva conduct in the ten directions [F.196.b] and meditating and increasing this Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire, in accordance with their dispositions, the ripening of all beings.¹⁶⁸¹

41. 77 ?Noble one, what do you think? If you think that King Jayaprabha at that time, in that time, was anyone else, do not see him in that way. The great teacher Satyaka was at that time, in that time, King Jayaprabha.

41. 78 ?Noble one, what do you think? If you think that King Jayaprabha's retinue of queens in the harem, the sentinels at the harem entrance, and his court and attendants at that time, in that time, were anyone else, do not see them in that way. They were these six thousand Jains whom Satyaka brought before the Bhagavat, who came to debate against the Bhagavat so as to possess the victory banner of teaching, and when they came, the Bhagavat prophesied their attainment of the highest, complete enlightenment, telling them that they would come into a world as Tathagatas with the arrays of various realms, in various kalpas, and with various names.

41. 79 ?Noble one, Prince Vijitavin?s father and mother gave him permission, so that after he freed those beings from prison, he cast aside the pleasure of existence, the good fortune of wealth and precious treasures, abandoned children and wives, and entered mendicancy under the Bhagavat, the Tathagata Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja. After entering mendicancy he maintained celibacy for five thousand years.

41. 80 ?During that time he accomplished ten thousand gateways into samadhi, [F.197.a] he attained ten thousand gateways into the power of mental retention, he entered ten thousand ways of higher cognition, he attained ten thousand Bodhisattva treasures, he developed ten thousand powers of omniscience, he purified ten thousand gateways into patience, he accomplished ten thousand realizations through contemplation, he multiplied ten thousand bodies with the strengths of a Bodhisattva, he entered ten thousand gateways into the knowledge of a Bodhisattva, he developed ten thousand ways of the perfection of wisdom, he perceived ten thousand gateways for looking at the Budas in the directions, and he accomplished ten thousand Bodhisattva prayers.1682

41. 81 ?Possessing such qualities in each instant of mind, he could arrive in ten thousand Buda realms. In each world realm, in each instant of mind, he could remember ten thousand past and future Budas. He could see and know ten thousand oceans of emanations from each of those Budas going into the ten directions.

41. 82 ?In each instant of mind, he could see all the beings within those ten thousand Buda realms. He knew their birth into various existences, their passing away and their rebirths, their decline, their ascent, their going on the path to happy existences, their going on the path to lower existences, their having a beautiful color, and their having a bad color, exactly as they were born.¹⁶⁸³

41. 83 ?He saw the passing away and the rebirth of all those beings, and he saw and knew their movements of mind, the conduct of their minds, the continuation of their minds, their various thoughts, [F.197.b] their ocean of faculties, the vast extent of their activities, the conclusion of their karma, and the times for ripening and guiding them.

41. 84 ?Noble one, when that prince passed away, he was reborn in the family of that king in the royal capital, Rativyuha, in that Jambudvipa, and he succeeded to the sovereignty of a cakravartin king. When he had become a cakravartin king, following the parinirvana of the Bhagavat, the Tathagata Dharma cakra nirghosha gagana megha pradipa raja, he honored the Tathagata by the name of Dharma gaganabhyudgata shri raja.

41. 85 ?After that, he became a Shakra who at the bodhimanda honored the Tathagata by the name of Devendragarbha.

?After that, in that world realm he became a Suyama king of devas who honored the Tathagata by the name of Dharani shri parvata tejas.

41. 86 ?After that, in that world realm he became a Samtushita king of devas who honored the Tathagata by the name of Dharma cakra prabha nirghosha raja.

?After that, in that world realm he became a Sunirmita king of devas who honored the Tathagata by the name of Gagana kanta raja.

41. 87 ?After that, in that world realm he became a Vashavartin king of devas who honored the Tathagata by the name of Anavamarda bala ketu.

?After that, in that world realm he became an asura lord who honored the Tathagata by the name of Sarva Dharma nigarjita raja.

41. 88 ?After that, in that world realm he became a Brahma lord [F.198.a] who honored the Tathagata by the name of Dharma cakra nirmana samanta-pratibhasa nirghosha.

41. 89 ?Noble one, there were those and the rest of the ten thousand Budas who appeared in that world realm of Ratnaprabha during the Suprabha kalpa. Prince Vijitavin honored all those Tathagatas.

41. 90 ?Noble one, following that Suprabha kalpa arose the kalpa called Surashmi. During that Surashmi kalpa there were ten thousand Budas.1684

41. 91 ?In that kalpa, I became Mahamati. During the time when I was King Mahamati, I honored the Tathagata by the name of Lakshana shri parvata.

41. 92 ?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was a householder and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Samvritaskandha.

?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was a minister and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Vimala vatsa.

41. 93 ?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was an asura lord and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Veshadharin.

?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was a tree goddess and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Lakshana sumeru.

41. 94 ?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was a caravan leader and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Vimala bahu.

?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was a city goddess and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Simha vikranta gamin.

41. 95 ?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was a Vaishravana and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Devendracuda.

?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was a gandharva king and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Dharmodgata kirti. [F.198.b]

41. 96 ?Following that, in that same kalpa, I was a kumbhanda lord and I honored the Tathagata by the name of Avabhasa makutin.

41. 97 ?Noble one, in that way, I honored those ten Tathagatas and all the others.

I was reborn in various existences in the Suprabha kalpa and honored six hundred million Tathagatas and made offerings to all those Tathagatas.

Whenever I came before each of those Tathagatas, I ripened realms of beings without end or middle for the highest, complete enlightenment. Whenever I came before each of those Tathagatas, I attained various entrances into samadhis, various entrances into powers of mental retention, various ways of accomplishments, various ways of accomplishing discernments, various realizations of the ways of omniscience, various ways of attaining the entrances to the illumination of the Dharma, various aspects of the analysis that comprehends the ways of knowledge, various illuminations of entering into the ocean of directions, and various illuminations of entering and comprehending the various oceans of realms, and I attained various illuminations of the perception that sees the ocean of Tathagatas. I overcame them, purified them, perfected them, and remained in them. They were born, they arose, they were increased, they were magnified, they arose perfectly, and they arose completely.

41. 98 ?Just as I attended the Tathagatas in that Suprabha kalpa, during kalpas as numerous as the atoms in all the ocean of world realms, however many Tathagatas appeared, however many Tathagatas came from other world realms, [F.199.a] from all those Tathagatas who taught the Dharma, I heard the Dharma that they taught, and having heard it, I possessed it. I honored all those Tathagatas and served them. I held the teaching of all those Buda bhagavats. I obtained from all those Tathagatas various ways for the attainment of this Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire, in accordance with their dispositions, the ripening of all beings, and I obtained various entrances into ways of liberation.?

41. 99 Then at that time, the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya-prabha, in order to describe and teach this liberation, recited these verses to Sudhana, the head merchant's son.

41. 100?You, friend, have asked me about¹⁶⁸⁵

This inconceivable supreme liberation.

I shall teach it through the blessing of the Sugata.

Listen to me properly and entirely. {12}

41. 101?There was the beautiful world realm

Ratnaprabha in the past beyond

Inconceivable, vast, endless kalpas

As numerous as the atoms in an ocean of Buda realms. {13}

41. 102?In that time, there arose the kalpa Suprabha

In which countless jinas appeared.

I honored those lords of munis

And meditated on this liberation. {14}

41. 103?There was a vast, excellent royal capital,

And its name was Rativyuha.

At that time, the minds of beings were impure,

And they had dreadfully bad conduct. {15}

41. 104?In that time, there was King Jayaprabha,

Who governed those beings according to the Dharma.¹⁶⁸⁶

His son, named Vijitavin, was handsome [F.199.b]

And adorned by the signs of a great being. {16}

41. 105?At that time, seeing that the king was executing
Those many thousands of criminals,
The prince was filled with compassion and sadness,
And he quickly beseeched the king to release them. {17}

41. 106?When the king had heard him, he gathered together
All his ministers and spoke to them.
They all bowed down to him and said to him,
?This is a plan to assassinate you, Your Majesty!? {18}

41. 107?The king, having this misunderstanding,
At that time ordered the execution of his son.
The prince was indifferent to the loss of his own life,
And he did not free himself from being executed. {19}

41. 108?When his mother heard that he was to be executed,
With her entourage she supplicated the king,
Asking for permission for the prince to give to the world
All that he possessed for the duration of half a month. {20}

41. 109?The king gave his permission for that to be done,
And the prince gave away whatever was wanted
For half a month, day and night, practicing generosity.
And on the last day, to a gathering of Jains {21}

41. 110?He gave whatever they desired,
And having given to them he prepared for death.
A multitude of beings wailing and weeping
Gathered together at the royal capital. {22}

41. 111?At that time, there sat at the foot of a Bodhi tree
The Sugata Saddharma ghoshambara dipa raja.

That lord of beings knew it was time to ripen them,
And with great compassion he came to the place where gifts were given. {23}

41. 112?The Tathagata came to that gathering
Through his miraculous powers,
And the Sugata taught the king of sutras,
The sound of the Dharma as a cloud of lamps of the Dharma. {24}

41. 113?He guided beings without end or middle
And at that time gave prophecies of enlightenment.
The son of the king, Vijitavin, was overjoyed
And entered upon attaining the supreme enlightenment. {25}

41. 114?He offered to the Sugata vast honors and offerings, [F.200.a]
And with joy he said these words:

?May I become for beings a sanctuary, a guide,
A protector, a refuge, and a defender.? {26}

41. 115?He became a mendicant under that muni
And sought the path to enlightenment.
He examined the nature of phenomena,
Remaining practicing in that way for a hundred kalpas. {27}

41. 116?He had compassion for beings with no protector
Who were falling into an ocean of suffering,
And, meditating on the path to true enlightenment,
He attained at that time this liberation. {28}

41. 117?He joyfully honored every one
Of the sugatas who appeared in that kalpa,
Making great offerings to all of them
And possessing their wheels of the Dharma. {29}

41. 118?After that, during an ocean of kalpas

As numerous as the atoms in a sea of realms,

He made offerings, and he honored

However many jinas appeared. {30}

41. 119?I was the one named Vijitavin,

Who saw the prisoners in the dreadful prison,

Offered up his body in order to free them,

And at that time attained this liberation, {31}

41. 120?Who meditated during a great ocean of kalpas

As numerous as the atoms in an ocean of realms,

And who, in each instant, multiplied the ways

That were unequaled and vast, without end or middle. {32}

41. 121?I have obtained this liberation

From as many lords of munis as I saw;

They taught me this liberation

Through various ways of entry. {33}

41. 122?I trained for many millions of kalpas

In this unmistakable, inconceivable liberation I received from them.

Established in it by the jinas, I was liberated.

I simultaneously drank from their clouds of Dharma. {34}

41. 123?My bodies pervaded without impediment

All the realms in all the ten directions.

In each instant, I entered countless realms [F.200.b]

And entered the divisions of the three times. {35}

41. 124?They gaze upon each and every one without exception

In the ocean of the jinas in the three times.

They wander in the presence of the clouds

Of the visual images of their bodies. {36}

41. 125? They go in every direction,

Going into the presence of the jinas.

They send down a rain of every beautiful display,

And they offer it to those jinas. {37}

41. 126? They ask an endless number of all questions

To the immense, vast ocean of Budas.

And they possess all, without exception, of the rain

That falls from the clouds of the Dharma of the jinas. {38}

41. 127? They go into every direction without exception,

Arriving in the presence of the fields of the jinas.

They manifest a variety of a multitude of forms,

And they manifest a variety of miracles. {39}

41. 128? They fill all directions with thousands of forms

With their physical bodies that have infinite colors.

They can manifest from the form of a single body

Infinite aspects, vast without end or middle. {40}

41. 129? They radiate an ocean of innumerable

Light rays from each and every pore,

And through a variety of methods they extinguish

The pain from the fire of the kleshas within beings. {41}

41. 130? While they remain in one place, clouds of emanated bodies

Are radiated from each and every pore,

Filling all directions with marvelous wonders

And guiding beings with the rain of the water of the Dharma. {42}

41. 131?This way of entering is that of inconceivable form.

It is the support for all the progeny of the jinas.

Remaining in this, they practice the conduct

Within all realms until the last of future kalpas. {43}

41. 132?They teach the Dharma in accordance with aspirations,

And they repel the nets that are wrong views.

They establish beings in the higher existences and nirvana,

And they teach the level of omniscience. {44}

41. 133?They teach the Dharma according to aspirations

With endless colors and countless bodies, [F.201.a]

With all kinds of birth and worlds without exception,

With bodies that are the images of the bodies of all beings. {45}

41. 134?These and also a measureless ocean of other qualities,

As numerous as the atoms in an ocean of realms

And beyond conception, are attained

By those who have this liberation, this peace. {46}

41. 135?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the origin of the roots of merit that inspire, in accordance with their dispositions, the ripening of all beings.

How could I know the conduct, or comprehend the ocean of qualities, or understand the prowess of the knowledge, or ascertain the states of mind, or realize the power of samadhi, or know completely the miraculous manifestation of the liberations of Bodhisattvas who have transcended all the existences in worlds, who appear in the visual form of all births in worlds, who have transcended all worldly knowledge, who are dedicated to destroying the mountain of all obscurations of knowledge, who have

41. 137 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the two feet of the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha, circumambulated the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha pranidhana virya prabha many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, with palms together, looking back at her, departed from the night goddess Sarva jagad raksha-pranidhana virya prabha. 42. 55 Sudhana said, ?Arya, what is the scope of this Bodhisattva liberation called the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas throughout all the perceptions of countless kalpas??

She answered, ?Noble one, I fulfilled the prayer to see and approach the births of all Bodhisattvas.

42. 56 ?Noble one, I have comprehended the vast ocean of births of the Bhagavat Vairocana. Thus, I have observed his births as Bodhisattvas in this world realm of a thousand million worlds. Because of my past prayer, I have been born in the Lumbini Forest of Jambudvipa, one of the four continents, in order to see the appearance of Bodhisattvas. Now I am dwelling here, remembering and meditating on the births of Bodhisattvas. In that way, I remain here. After I had been dwelling here for a hundred years, the Bhagavat transmigrated from Tushita. At that time, there were ten omens that appeared in the Lumbini Forest. What were those ten? The first omen was that in this Lumbini Forest everywhere became level without ravines or cliffs or high ground and low ground. The second omen was that throughout this Lumbini Forest the ground became made of diamond, was free of pebbles, gravel, pieces of wood, and thorns, and was filled with many jewels. The third omen was that this entire Lumbini Forest became a place thick with rows of precious trees, sal trees, and palm trees. The fourth omen was that this entire Lumbini Forest became a place in which grew aromatic seedlings that were superior to divine matter, [F.209.a] in which appeared a treasure of all powders, in which arose clouds and mists of all banners, and which was adorned on every side by tree trunks formed of aromatic precious materials. The fifth omen was that this entire Lumbini Forest became a place where there appeared, spreading everywhere, a treasury of various flowers, garlands, and ornaments made of divine materials. The sixth omen was that throughout this Lumbini Forest all the trees became treasures of excellent precious jewels. The seventh omen was that in all the lotus beds throughout this Lumbini Forest, all the flowers that grew from water blossomed, rose up out of the ground, and floated above the water. The eighth omen was that all the devas, Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, lords of the world, and lords of beings in this world's desire realms and form realm gathered with their palms together in homage in this Lumbini Forest.

The ninth omen was that all the female devas, Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, and mahoragas in this world realm of Jambudvīpa gathered in this Lumbini Forest joyfully, holding every kind of offering in their hands, [F.209.b] gazing at the branches of the pippala tree, bowing down, and paying homage. The tenth omen was that many light rays called the lamps of the miraculous birth of the Bodhisattva shone from the circle of the navels on the bodies of all the Tathagatas in the ten directions, and they illuminated and remained in this Lumbini Forest. And all the qualities of the Bodhisattvas, including their miraculous births, were heard emanating, with the sound of a Buddha's speech, from the circular tips of those light rays.¹⁷¹⁷

1718

42. 57 ?Those are the ten omens that appeared when the time came for the birth of the Bodhisattvas. When they appeared, all the lords of the world knew, ?a Bodhisattva is going to be born.?

?Noble one, in that way they gained an inconceivably powerful joy on seeing those ten omens.

42. 58 ?Moreover, noble one, when Mayadevi came from the great city of Kapilavastu, ten great illuminating omens appeared in this Lumbini Forest. When they appeared, they increased within countless beings the power of joy in the light of the Dharma of omniscience.

42. 59 ?What were those ten? (1) All of the precious kutagaras upon the surface of the earth shone. (2) All the classes of aromatic flowers shone. (3) Light shone from all the petals of blossomed precious lotuses, and they emitted the sweet-sounding words: ?The excellent birth has come to be.? [F.210.a] (4) The illumination from all the first aspirations to enlightenment by Bodhisattvas in the ten directions appeared in and illuminated this Lumbini Forest. (5) The miraculous manifestation of illumination from the Bodhisattvas ascending all the bhumis appeared in and illuminated this Lumbini Forest. (6) All the illumination from the light of the accomplishment of all the perfections and the realization of knowledge by the Bodhisattvas in the ten directions appeared in and illuminated this Lumbini Forest. (7) All the illumination from the knowledge of the Bodhisattvas in the ten directions that has power over all prayers appeared in this Lumbini Forest. (8) All the illumination from the knowledge of the Bodhisattvas in the ten directions that accomplishes their vast prayers appeared in this Lumbini Forest. (9) All the illumination from the knowledge of the Bodhisattvas in the ten directions that ripens and guides beings appeared in this Lumbini Forest. (10) All the illumination from the knowledge of the Bodhisattvas in the ten directions that comprehends the miracles of all the Buddhas, their setting forth, and their enlightenment at buddhahood appeared in this Lumbini Forest. Those ten great illuminating omens appeared. [F.210.b] They illuminated the darkness of mind and thoughts in a vast number of beings without end or middle.¹⁷¹⁹

42. 60 ?Noble one, when Mayadevi came to the pipphala tree, all the gathered assemblies of the lords of the world, the devas of the desire realms with groups of apsaras and retinues of deva maidens, all the assembled devas of the form realms, who were free of odors, and the gatherings of Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, and their retinues who were engaged in making offerings to the Bodhisattvas had their bodies and their assembled offerings illuminated by Mayadevi's brilliance, splendor, color, and form. All the lights that were in this world realm of a thousand million worlds were outshone and eclipsed. No other lights could affect, obscure, prevent, or impede the light and radiance that was emitted from all Mayadevi's pores. They filled all the directions and ended all the suffering of beings in the hells, all the suffering of beings in birth as an animal, all the suffering in the world of Yama, and all the suffering and kleshas of all beings within the various states of existence, and they remained illuminating, shining, and brilliant.

42. 61 ?Noble one, that was the first miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 62 ?Moreover, noble one, at that time, there appeared situated within Mayadevi's body the visual images of this world realm of a thousand million worlds. [F.211.a] Within that world realm of a thousand million worlds, in all the Jambudvipas in its thousand million four-continent worlds, in kingdoms with various names, in forests with various names, Mayadevi went to the foot of various kinds of trees, where she was encircled by all the lords of the worlds, waiting in preparation for the birth of the Bodhisattva. This was through the inconceivable miraculous manifestation of the wisdom of the Bodhisattva's mother.1720

42. 63 ?Noble one, that was the second miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 64 ?Moreover, noble one, there appeared within each opening of all Mayadevi's pores all the Tathagatas that in the past were honored, worshiped, venerated, and offered to by the Bhagavat during his practice of Bodhisattva conduct. All the Dharma that those Tathagatas were teaching could be heard sounding from each pore with the aspects of a Buddha's speech. It was like how the reflection of the display in the domain of the sky of the sun, moon, planets, and stars, and of clouds emitting the deep sound of thunder, appear in a small bowl of water, or a particle of gold, or the bright surface of a mirror, or on very clear water.

42. 65 ?Noble one, in that way, the miraculous manifestations of the past Tathagatas appeared and the sound of all their Dharma teachings sounded within the openings of all Mayadevi?s pores.

42. 66 ?Noble one, that was the third miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest. [F.211.b]

42. 67 ?Moreover, noble one, from Mayadevi?s entire body and from each opening of all her pores appeared all the realms, the entire ocean of world realms, the entire vast extent of world realms, the entire multitude of world realms, and all that are called world realms in which the Bhagavat practiced Bodhisattva conduct in the past. There appeared the surface of the realms; their shapes; their arrangement; their bulks; their adorning mountains; their adorning villages, towns, regions, lands, and cities; their adorning parks, rivers, lakes, ponds, and seas; their adorning skies and clouds; their abodes of beings; the yantras that were taught there; the numbers and names¹⁷²¹ of their kalpas; their births of Buddhas; their perfect purities; the lifespans of beings; their rebirths into worlds; the communities of beings; the dependence on kalyanamitras; the dedication to virtuous qualities; the engagement in the practice of the Dharma; and the practice of Bodhisattva conduct in Buddha realms. In all the pores there appeared all the Bhagavat?s attainment of the state of irreversibility, his previous bodies, [F.212.a] his conduct, his appearance, what possessions he had, what happiness and unhappiness he experienced, and his lifespans. There appeared in all the pores of Mayadevi?s body images of the various births in all those Buddha realms, Mayadevi as the mothers of the Bodhisattvas, and all those bodies of the Bodhisattvas.

42. 68 ?Noble one, that was the fourth miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 69 ?Moreover, noble one, there appeared in all the pores of Mayadevi?s body images of the past bodies in which the Bhagavat practiced Bodhisattva conduct, their colors, their shapes, their appearances, their forms, their possessions, their happiness and sufferings, and their lifespans.

42. 70 ?Noble one, that was the fifth miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 71 ?Moreover, noble one, there appeared in all the pores of Mayadevi?s body images of when the Bhagavat was practicing Bodhisattva conduct in the past and gave away that which was difficult to give. He gave away his legs and arms. He gave away his ears and nose. He gave away his tongue and teeth. He gave away his eyes and head. He gave away his flesh and blood. He gave away his bones and marrow. He gave away his kidneys and heart.

[F.212.b] He gave away his skin and subcutaneous tissue. He gave away all his outer and inner things. He gave away his sons, daughters, and wives. He gave away his body. He gave away his precious possessions. He gave away his villages and towns. He gave away his regions and realms. He gave away his royal capital. He gave away his wealth, grain, treasures, and storehouses. He gave away his jewels, pearls, beryls, conches, crystals, corals, gold, and silver. He gave away his various precious adornments. He gave away his beds and seats. He gave away his houses and palaces. He gave away all his possessions. There appeared the physical forms of the Bodhisattva and the way in which he gave, the appearance of those who acquired what he gave away, the appearance of the things that he gave away, the places where he gave them away, and all who were at that time in the entourage of the Bodhisattva.

42. 72 ?Noble one, that was the sixth miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 73 ?Moreover, noble one, when it was time for the succession of Tathagatas in the past to be born from their mother?s body, there appeared all the arrays and adornments of Buda realms; the arrays of adorning beings; the arrays of adorning trees; the arrays of flowers, perfumes, incenses, garlands, ointments, powders, clothing, banners, and flags; [F.213.a] the various miraculous manifestations of arrays of all precious jewels; and music, song, praises, and the sound of musical instruments. When Mayadevi came to the Lumbini Forest, all of those arose, appeared, and were perceived by beings in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 74 ?Noble one, that was the seventh miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 75 ?Moreover, noble one, all that is enjoyed by Bodhisattvas, which are the enjoyment of kutagaras made of all kinds of jewels, the enjoyment of divine palaces made of kinds of jewels, the enjoyment of nets of kinds of jewels, the enjoyment of objects made of kinds of jewels, the enjoyment of statues made of kinds of jewels, the enjoyment of displays of kinds of jewels, the enjoyment of all adornments, the enjoyment of all kinds of perfume, the enjoyment of all perceptions that are beautiful and pleasing, which transcend the enjoyment of the displays in the residences of all lords of devas and transcend the enjoyment of the displays in the residences of all Nagas, yakshas, gandharvas, asuras, garudas, kinnaras, mahoragas, and lords of humans, were all emanated, unmixed with one another, from the womb of Mayadevi and were present and arrayed everywhere in the Lumbini Forest.¹⁷²²

42. 76 ?Noble one, that was the eighth miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 77 ?Moreover, noble one, from the body of Mayadevi emanated Bodhisattvas, as numerous as the atoms in countless quintillions of Buda realms, [F.213.b] who had the same body, color, and shape as the Bhagavat Vairocana, the same adornment of the signs and features of a great being, the same aura, the same radiating of light rays, the same way of moving, the same prowess, the same illuminating miraculous manifestations, the same following, and the same displays, and they praised and resembled the ocean of Bhagavat Vairocana's excellences.

42. 78 ?Noble one, that was the ninth miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 79 ?Moreover, noble one, the time having come for the birth of the Bodhisattva, in front of Mayadevi there rose up from the vajra ground below, breaking through the great earth, a great lotus made of the kings of jewels called an essence that is a display of all jewels. Its essence comprised the king of jewels, the great indestructible vajra. All kings of jewels adorned the tips of its filaments. It was adorned by rows of circles of petals as¹⁷²³ numerous as the atoms in ten Buda realms. Its surrounding leaves were made of various kings of jewels. Its beautiful pericarp was composed of pure wish-fulfilling jewels. It had an array of circles of filaments that had the countless colors of all jewels. An adorning net of countless precious kings of jewels enveloped it. It was covered by a mass of indestructible, powerful, vajra kings of jewels.1726

¹⁷²⁴

¹⁷²⁵

1727

42. 80 ?All the lords of the devas encircled it. All the lords of the Nagas sent down rain from clouds of scented water. All the lords of the yakshas encircling it cast down handfuls of divine flowers. [F.214.a] All the lords of the gandharvas sang clouds of praises to it that had a beautiful sound of melodious songs that had honored the Budas of the past. All the lords of asuras, forsaking all pride, arrogance, and haughtiness, bowed down and paid homage. All the lords of the garudas hung precious cloths that adorned the entire sky. All the lords of the kinnaras gazed upon it while engaged in describing with delight the qualities of Bodhisattvas with song and music. All the lords of the mahoragas, gazing upon it with great joy and faith, were engaged in emitting beautiful sounds and sending down rain from clouds of every kind of display.1728

1729

1730

42. 81 ?Noble one, that was the tenth miraculous manifestation at the birth of the Bodhisattva that appeared in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 82 ?Noble one, those ten miraculous manifestations at the time of the Bodhisattva's birth occurred in the Lumbini Forest.

42. 83 ?After that, the Bodhisattva, who possessed inconceivable, measureless light that could not be looked at, was born from Mayadevi's womb, like the disk of the sun from the surface of the sky, like lightning flashing from clouds, like the dawn clouds rising from behind a mountain peak, like a great lamp from a deep darkness.

42. 84 ?In that way, the Bodhisattva emerged from the body of Mayadevi, manifesting in the nature of reflection, manifesting in the nature of a dream, manifesting in the nature of perceiving a form that is a conjured illusion, having the nature of being without coming or going, [F.214.b] having the nature of a manifestation of the perception of a light that has no birth or cessation.

42. 85 ?Noble one, in that way, while residing in this Lumbini Forest, I see and comprehend the ocean of the miraculous manifestations at the birth of the Bhagavat Vairocana.¹⁷³¹

42. 86 ?And, noble one, just as I see and comprehend the ocean of the miraculous manifestations at the birth of the Bhagavat Vairocana in this four-continent world, in that same way I see and comprehend a thousand million¹⁷³² miraculous manifestations at the birth of the Bhagavat Vairocana in the thousand million Jambudvipas in all the four-continent worlds in this world realm of a thousand million worlds.

42. 87 ?Just as I see and comprehend the miraculous manifestations of the birth of the Bhagavat Vairocana in a thousand million Jambudvipas in all the four-continent worlds in this world realm of a thousand million worlds, in the same way, I comprehend the miraculous manifestations at the birth of the Bhagavat Vairocana that are as numerous as the atoms in a Buda realm with each instant of mind, with the penetration of the mind, in all the atoms contained within an entire world realm of a thousand million worlds, known by the knowledge that enters into the atoms of all Buda realms.

42. 88 ?In the next mentation, I see and comprehend equally the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas within each of the Buda realms contained within the atoms of a Buda realm.

42. 89 ?In that way, although I see and comprehend the miraculous manifestations at the births of Bodhisattvas in each of the Buda realms contained within the atoms of all Buda realms, [F.215.a] there is no knowable end to the succession of realms in each one of all the atoms, and there is no knowable end to the succession of births of Bodhisattvas in each one of all the realms.

42. 90 ?Just as I see and comprehend all the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas in this world realm, in the same way, in each instant of mind, with the penetration of the mind, through continuous spiritual power, I see and comprehend all the miraculous manifestations at the births of Bodhisattvas in all the vast extent of world realms, without end or middle, in the ten directions and in all atoms.?

42. 91 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, asked Sutejomandala rati shri, the Lumbini Forest goddess, ?Arya, how long has it been since you attained this Bodhisattva liberation called the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas throughout all the perceptions of countless kalpas??

42. 92 She answered, ?Noble one, in the past, in times gone by, beyond as many kalpas as there are atoms in ten million Buda realms, and even further beyond, there was a world realm called Samanta ratna in a kalpa called Samapadyata in which appeared eighty quintillion Budas. There appeared in that world the Tathagata Arhat Samyak sambuddha Ishvara gunaparajita-dhvaja, who was one with wisdom and conduct, a sugata, one who knows the world's beings, an unsurpassable guide who tames beings, a teacher of devas and humans, [F.215.b] a Buda, and a bhagavat.1733

42. 93 ?Noble one, at the center of the world realm called Samanta ratna, there was a four-continent world called Vicitra vyuha prabha. In the middle of the Jambudvīpa of that four-continent world there was a royal capital called Meru vishuddha vyūha dhvaja. In that royal capital there was King Ratnarci-netra prabha. King Ratnarci netra prabha had a queen called Suharshita-prabheshvara.

42. 94 ?Noble one, just as Mayadevī became the mother of the Bhagavat Vairocana in this four-continent world, at that time, in that time, Queen Suharshita prabheshvara became the mother of the Bhagavat, the Tathagata Ishvara gunaparajita dhvaja, in the four-continent world called Vicitra vyūha-prabha. He was the first of the eighty quintillion Budas. She was the mother of the first bhagavat to appear, the Tathagata Ishvara gunaparajita-dhvaja.

42. 95 ?Noble one, when the time had come for the birth of the Bodhisattva, Queen Suharshita prabheshvara, together with two hundred thousand trillion women, went to the great park called Suvarṇa pushpabha mandala. Prince Ishvara gunaparajita dhvaja was born there with the inconceivable miraculous manifestations that occur at the birth of a Bodhisattva.¹⁷³⁴

42. 96 ?At that time, there appeared in the center of the great park called Suvarṇa pushpabha mandala a kutagara called Subha ratna vicitra kuta. [F.216.a] The Bhagavat, the Tathagata Ishvara gunaparajita dhvaja was born from Queen Suharshita prabheshvara as she held on to a branch of a wish-fulfilling tree inside that kutagara.

42. 97 ?At that time, when the Bhagavat was born, the nurse Vimala sambhava-prabha was in attendance. As soon as the Bodhisattva was born, the lords of the world sprinkled him with a vase of scented water that was wonderfully aromatic and with a variety of beautiful flowers so as to cool his body. They made countless inconceivable, supreme appropriate offerings to him and placed him on the nurse Vimala sambhava prabha's lap. The instant that she took the Bodhisattva onto her lap, the nurse attained great powerful joy and faith and attained the Bodhisattva samadhi called all-seeing. As soon as she attained that, she saw the countless Tathagatas present within the world realms in the ten directions. She entered in a subtle way this Bodhisattva liberation called the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas throughout all the perceptions of countless kalpas. This was like the moment when a consciousness enters a womb. Through attaining that liberation, she made the great prayer to see the miraculous manifestations at the births of all Tathagatas.

42. 98 ?Noble one, what do you think? [F.216.b] If you think that the Bodhisattva's nurse, Vimala sambhava prabha, at that time, in that time, was anyone else, do not see her in that way. I was at that time, in that time, the Bodhisattva's nurse, Vimala sambhava prabha.

42. 99 ?Noble one, what do you think? If you think that the two hundred thousand trillion women at that time, in that time, were anyone else, do not see them in that way. They are these two hundred thousand trillion goddesses who now dwell in the Lumbini Forest and are my entourage.

42. 100 ?Noble one, what do you think? If you think that Queen Suharshita-prabheshvara, the mother of the Tathagata Ishvara gunaparajita dhvaja, at that time, in that time, was anyone else, do not see her in that way. This Mayadevi was at that time, in that time, the queen named Suharshita-prabheshvara.

42. 101 ?Noble one, what do you think? If you think that King Ratnarci netra-prabha at that time, in that time, was anyone else, do not see him in that way. King Shuddhodana was at that time, in that time, the king named Ratnarci-netra prabha.

42. 102 ?Noble one, since that time, in every instant I have never been apart from seeing and comprehending the ocean of miraculous manifestations at the Bodhisattva births of the Bhagavat Vairocana or from seeing and comprehending the ocean of the miraculous manifestations of his supremacy in guiding beings.

42. 103 ?Noble one, in every moment of mind, with eyes of knowledge that encompass all atoms, I see and comprehend within all atoms in this world realm of Saha an ocean of the Buda realms of the Tathagatas, which have appeared from the vast extent of the ocean of prayers made by the Bhagavat Vairocana. [F.217.a] I see and comprehend the ocean of the Tathagatas that are in those Buda realms. I also see and comprehend the great ocean of the miraculous manifestations at the Bodhisattva births of those Tathagatas.

42. 104 ?In the same way, in every instant of mind I see and comprehend the entire ocean of the miraculous manifestations of the supremacy of guiding beings and the ocean of the miraculous manifestations at the Bodhisattva births of all Tathagatas in the ten directions.

42. 105 ?I perceive without error the births of Bodhisattvas through comprehending the succession of the entire vast extent of atoms in this world realm of a thousand million worlds, and I comprehend the qualities of the Budas. In the same way, I comprehend the entire ocean of realms contained within the entire vast extent of the atoms in countless tens of thousands of quintillions of Buda realms in the ten directions, and I comprehend the vast ocean of Budas within them. I also see the perception of the miraculous manifestations at the Bodhisattva births of those Buda bhagavats. I make offerings to them when they become Tathagatas. I hear the teachings that those Tathagatas give. I practice the correct Dharma of their Dharma.?

42. 106 Then at that time, Sutejomandala rati shri, the goddess of the Lumbini Forest, [F.217.b] in order to teach clearly the Bodhisattva liberation called the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas throughout all the perceptions of countless kalpas, through the blessing of the Buda, gazed into the ten directions and recited these verses:

42. 107?Son of the jinas, you have shown respect¹⁷³⁵

And have asked a question, so listen to what I have to say.

The field of activity of the jinas is a peace that is hard to see

And which is manifested through the ways of causes and conditions. {1}

42. 108?I remember as many countless kalpas ago

As there are atoms in ten million realms,

There was a kalpa that had the name Samapadyata,¹⁷³⁶

In which there were eight hundred million jinas. {2}¹⁷³⁷

42. 109?The first of the kalpa's Tathagatas to appear

Was Ishvarajita guna dhvaja.

I saw the birth of that lord of beings

In the supreme forest Svarna pushpa prabhava. {3}

42. 110?I was his wise nurse,

Vimala sambhava prabha.

As soon as he was born, there was a supreme golden light,

And the lords of the world placed him on my lap. {4}

42. 111?When the supreme individual was placed on my lap,

I could not see the top of his inconceivable head.

Though I looked from the right and the left,

I was not able to see where it ended. {5}

42. 112?He was adorned with the excellent physical signs,
And his body was stainless and beautiful.

He was as if made of jewels, and when I saw him
An unparalleled powerful joy increased within me. {6}

42. 113?As I contemplated his measureless qualities,
The ocean of my merit increased.

When I saw the ocean of his miraculous manifestations,
A vast aspiration for enlightenment arose within me. {7}

42. 114?With joy and faith in the Jina's ocean of excellences, [F.218.a]
I gave rise to an ocean of prayers.

The vast extent of all realms was purified,
And all paths to lower existences were averted. {8}

42. 115?I made an ocean of prayers that I would make Countless offerings to future sugatas
Throughout the vast extent of realms
And liberate beings from suffering. {9}

42. 116?I heard the Dharma from that lord
And attained the field of this liberation.
For kalpas as numerous as atoms in ten million realms,
I practiced and purified Bodhisattva conduct. {10}

42. 117?I have made offerings to however many lords
Have appeared without exception.
I became a holder of their teachings,
And I purified the ocean of this liberation. {11}

42. 118?I became a holder of the Dharma wheel

Of all the past possessors of the ten strengths,
As numerous as the atoms in ten million realms,
And I have meditated on the field of this liberation. {12}

42. 119? I see all the vast extent of the surfaces of atoms,
As many atoms as there are in the Buda realms.

In each atom I see the ocean of realms
That have been purified in the past by the jinas. {13}

42. 120? In all that vast extent of realms,
The lords from their one mind

Manifest countless miracles,
And I see their births in supreme forests. {14}

42. 121? There are certain jinas in certain realms
Intending to attain supreme enlightenment,
Who though they are residing in the world of Tushita
Manifest within an ocean of realms. {15}

42. 122? In countless tens of millions of realms,
I see this vast extent of their births.

I see the lords teaching the Dharma
While in the center of an assembly of youths. {16} [F.218.b]

42. 123? I see in each instant of mind those heroes
Who are as numerous as the atoms in ten million realms
Leaving home and going to the foot of the king of trees
And manifesting the vast field of activity of a Buda. {17} 1738

42. 124? They manifest inconceivable numbers of this and that realm,
Which are as numerous as the atoms in a realm.

I see the supreme humans attaining buddhahood

And liberating beings in various existences from suffering.1739

42. 125?They turn the unceasing, self-originated,

Supreme wheel of the surface of each atom.

Their voices have an unceasing ocean of speech.

I see them sending down rain from clouds of Dharma.1740

42. 126?In each instant they manifest passing into nirvana

In many different forms for all beings.

I see, in a single atom of a realm, buddhas1741

As numerous as the atoms in ten million realms.1742

42. 127?Looking at one atom, I see an ocean of realms

And all the jinas who appear in them.

In many hundred billion bodies in my lifetimes,1743

I have gone to make offerings to them. {18}

42. 128?There are all the endless existences of beings

In the inconceivable ways of the ocean of realms.

I come before them all and send down

A rain from the vast clouds of the Dharma. {19}

42. 129?Son of the jinas, I know this inconceivable

Supreme field of liberation,

But I could not teach it all

In countless quintillions of kalpas. {20}

42. 130?Noble one, I know only this Bodhisattva liberation called the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas throughout all the perceptions of countless kalpas. How could I describe the qualities or know the conduct of Bodhisattvas who in each instant of mind have the motivation to appear in all kalpas from the wombs they have entered; who manifest births that have the definitive understanding of all the ways of the Dharma; [F.219.a] who have the aspiration that gives rise to prayers to make offerings to all the Tathagatas; who are dedicated to attaining the complete realization of all the Dharma of the Budas; who manifest like reflections within the classes and existences of all beings; who are born from lotuses at the feet of all the Tathagatas; who are skilled in knowing when the time has come to ripen all beings; who manifest the miracle of taking rebirth with the intention to guide all beings; who manifest clouds of miracles throughout the entire vast extent of realms; and who appear as reflections in all the classes of births and existences of all beings?

42. 131 ?Depart, noble one. In the great city of Kapilavastu there is the Shakya maiden called Gopa. Go to her and ask her, ?How should a Bodhisattva continue in samsara in order to ripen beings?? ?

42. 132 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, bowed his head to the two feet of Sutejomandala rati shri, the Lumbini Forest goddess, circumambulated Sutejomandala rati shri, the Lumbini Forest goddess, many hundreds of thousands of times, keeping her to his right, and, with palms together, looking back at her, departed from Sutejomandala rati shri, the Lumbini Forest goddess. [B14]

43. Chapter 43

GOPA

43. 1 Sudhana, the head merchant?s son, left the presence of Sutejomandala rati shri, the Lumbini Forest goddess, and went to the location of the great city of Kapilavastu. [F.219.b]

43. 2 While meditating on, comprehending, increasing, practicing, purifying, contemplating, and examining the Bodhisattva liberation called the miraculous manifestations at the birth of Bodhisattvas throughout all the perceptions of countless kalpas, he came to the assembly hall of the Bodhisattvas called the Illuminating Light of the Realm of the Dharma.¹⁷⁴⁴

43. 3 When he arrived there, he was greeted by Ashokashri, the goddess of the assembly hall of the Bodhisattvas, together with ten thousand house goddesses.

43. 4 She said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "We welcome you, great being who has the prowess of great wisdom and knowledge; whose mind has attained the meditation of inconceivable Bodhisattva liberation; whose field of activity is the vast divine palace of the Dharma; who enters the city of the Dharma; who is continuously engaged in guiding beings through infinite Bodhisattva methods; who has attained the illumination of the ocean of qualities of the Tathagatas; who has the manifest knowledge and illuminating eloquence for guiding all beings; who has the motivation to manifest the conduct of a corresponding body and language that knows the conduct of all beings; who prays to increase the power of an ocean of joy in the minds of all beings; and who follows the path to the comprehension of the Dharma of all the Tathagatas."^{1745 1746}

43. 5 "I see that you have the field of activity of profound behavior with a steady gaze, [F.220.a] and that therefore you are someone who will soon attain the unsurpassable pure adornments of the body, speech, and mind of¹⁷⁴⁷ the Tathagatas and will act in this world with a body adorned by the signs and features of a great being and with a mind adorned by the light of knowledge of the ten strengths.

43. 6 "I see that you have diligence and prowess, and that therefore you are someone who soon will have the vision of the Tathagatas of the three times; will hold the clouds of Dharmas of all the Tathagatas; will experience the joy of the divine palace of the four qualities of Bodhisattva dhyanas, liberations, samadhis, and samapattis; and will enter the profound liberation of the Budas.

43. 7 ?In that way, you go before kalyanamitras, gaze upon them, honor them, receive their teaching without error, and are dedicated to the practice of its qualities that is unwearied, irreversible, and never disheartened. You are unaffected by any hindrance, obstacle, or obscuration whatsoever. Neither Mara nor the mara class of deities are present before you, and therefore you will soon bring happiness to all beings.?

43. 8 The head merchant?s son, Sudhana, said to Ashokashri, the goddess of the assembly hall of the Bodhisattvas, ?Goddess, I gain the highest delight in ending the torment of the kleshas for all beings. I gain the highest delight in repelling dreadful karma for all beings, [F.220.b] in bringing happiness to all beings, and in making all beings practice faultless actions. Bodhisattvas become very unhappy when beings engage in the unhappiness of various kinds of karma and kleshas, which disturbs their minds and causes them to fall into the lower existences. Even if those beings remain in happier existences, they experience physical and mental sufferings and various kinds of unhappiness and remain in a state of sorrow.1748

43. 9 ?Goddess, it is like if a very loving father who has a beloved, beautiful son sees the limbs and smaller parts of his son?s body being cut off. Because he is so loving, he becomes extremely unhappy and sorrowful.

43. 10 ?Goddess, in the same way, when a Bodhisattva who is engaged in Bodhisattva conduct sees beings falling into the three lower existences through the power of their karma and kleshas, the Bodhisattva becomes extremely unhappy and sorrowful.

43. 11 ?The Bodhisattvas are happy, glad, joyful, delighted, and pleased when beings are reborn into happy existences when their bodies are destroyed, or when they experience physical and mental happiness in a divine or human existence as the result of their having adopted good physical, vocal, and mental conduct.

43. 12 ?Goddess, the Bodhisattvas do not aspire to and are not dedicated to omniscience for their own sake or in order to experience the various joys and pleasures of samsara. [F.221.a] It is not from dedication to the various different kinds of joys within the desire realm. It is not through the power of mistaken perception, motivation, or views. It is not through the power of involvement, bondage, predispositions, or being overwhelmed. It is not through the power of the view of craving. It is not through the increase of a mind that conceives of the joys of crowds and the gatherings of various beings. It is not through attachment to the experiences of the joy and bliss of dhyana. It is not going around and around in the continuity of samsara while being obscured by various obscurations.

43. 13 ?Goddess, the Bodhisattvas have great compassion for beings who are in the ocean of samsara and who are tormented by immeasurable sufferings. They make great prayers to gather to themselves all beings. Through the power of having made those prayers with great compassion, they are dedicated to ripening and guiding beings, and they appear carrying out Bodhisattva conduct in samsara. In order to eliminate all the obscurations of beings, they seek the unobscured wisdom of omniscience and make prayers to serve and make offerings to all the Tathagatas. Through the power of their prayers to serve and make offerings to all the Tathagatas, they are never disheartened in their practice of Bodhisattva conduct. When they are practicing Bodhisattva conduct and see a realm that is completely defiled, they make the prayer to purify all Buda realms. When they are purifying defiled realms [F.221.b] and see the various ayatanas of all beings, they make the prayer to purify the Dharma body that is undifferentiated and unsurpassable. When they see the defiled bodies, speech, and minds of beings, they make the prayer to purify the bodies, speech, and minds that adorn all beings. When they see the incomplete ayatanas and impure minds of beings, they purify the minds and conduct of all beings and are never disheartened in carrying out Bodhisattva conduct.

43. 14 ?Goddess, in that way, with minds that are never disheartened, the Bodhisattvas carry out vast Bodhisattva conduct without end or middle. With that kind of conduct they are adornments of the world because they create the good fortune of devas and humans. They are like parents because they establish beings in the aspiration for enlightenment. They are like nurses because they bring beings onto the Bodhisattva path. They are like connate deities, who are deities that always accompany a being because they protect beings from the terror of the abyss of the lower existences. They are like great ferrymen because they free beings from the ocean of samsara. They are refuges because they repel all the terrors of the maras and kleshas. They are shelters because they bring beings to a state of complete tranquility. They are bathing places because they bring beings into the ocean of all Budas. They are protectors because they escort beings to the island of the jewels of the Dharma. They are flowers because their minds have blossomed with all the qualities of buddhahood. They are adornments because they radiate the1749 light of merit and wisdom. [F.222.a] They bring the highest delight and happiness because they are beautiful. They are excellent to meet because they are dedicated to faultless actions. They are completely good because they possess bodies that are complete in having all aspects of excellent limbs. They have charming forms because the sight of them is without anything disagreeable. They bring light because they radiate the light rays of wisdom. They bring illumination because they hold the torch of the Dharma. They bring clarity because they purify the motivation for enlightenment. They are generals because they repel the activities of the maras. They are suns because they radiate a net of the light rays of wisdom. They are moons because they rise as moons of realization in the sky of the Dharma. They are clouds because they send down rain from great clouds of Dharma onto all beings.¹⁷⁵⁰

?Goddess, the Bodhisattvas who practice in that way are a delight for all beings.?

43. 15 Then Ashokashri, the goddess of the assembly hall of the Bodhisattvas, together with ten thousand goddesses of the home, sent down onto Sudhana, the head merchant's son, a rain of flowers, garlands, incense, powders, ointments, and precious jewelry that transcended divine materials. Encircling him and following him as he entered the assembly hall of the Bodhisattvas, they praised him with these verses:

43. 16 ?Having developed the aspiration for enlightenment
Out of love for all beings,
The jinas, the suns of wisdom,
Sometimes appear in the world. {1}

43. 17 ?Even in many millions of kalpas [F.222.b]¹⁷⁵¹

It is difficult to see your face.

Your wisdom is a great sun

In the world blinded by ignorance. {2}

43. 18 ?Great compassion arose in you

When you saw the world in error,

Obscured by the darkness of unknowing,

And you spontaneously appeared in it and remained. {3}

43. 19 ?With your pure motivation, you are dedicated

To attaining the enlightenment of buddhahood.

You serve and depend on kalyanamitras

Without regard for your own body and life. {4}

43. 20 ?You have no reliance on this world.

You have no location and no preoccupations.

You have no entanglements and no abode.

Your motivation is like space, without impediment. {5}

43. 21 ?As you practice Bodhisattva conduct

With the brilliant light of a field of merit,

Your radiant torch of wisdom

Shines within countless worlds. {6}

43. 22 ?You are not above the world,

But you are unstained by worldly qualities.

You act in the world without impediment,

Like the breezes moving through the sky. {7}

43. 23 ?You are dedicated to constantly blazing

Like the burning at the kalpa's end.

You practice the Bodhisattva conduct

With the ardor of the fire that ends a kalpa. {8}

43. 24 ?You have great courage, like a lion.

With strong, diligent prowess

You have attained the prowess of wisdom

With a practice that is invincible. {9}

43. 25 ?Through honoring the kalyanamitras,

You, here, have entered into

The ocean of all the different ways

Within the ocean of the realm of the Dharma.? {10}

43. 26 In that way, Ashokashri, the goddess of the assembly hall of the Bodhisattvas, praised in verse Sudhana, the head merchant's son, while following him out of a yearning for the Dharma.

43. 27 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, went into the assembly hall of the Bodhisattvas called the Illuminating Light of the Realm of the Dharma.

[F.223.a] When he had entered, wishing to find the Shakya maiden Gopa, he looked everywhere.

43. 28 He saw the Shakya maiden Gopa in the center of the assembly hall of the Bodhisattvas called the Illuminating Light of the Realm of the Dharma. She was seated upon a precious throne that had in its center a lotus with a form that illuminated all the abodes of Bodhisattvas, and she was encircled by an entourage of eighty-four thousand women of royal families, who all had equally the roots of merit from the past practice of Bodhisattva conduct; who in the past had attracted gatherings of beings through acts of generosity; who had a way of speaking with pleasant and gentle words; who cared for beings through causing them to focus on the goal of omniscience; who cared for beings in accord with the realizations of the Buddhas and the Bodhisattvas; who with all actions inspired by great compassion cared for beings as if they were their sons and daughters; who with great love followed and purified their spouses; and who in the past ripened beings through the inconceivable skillful methods of Bodhisattvas.

43. 29 Those eighty-four thousand women followed the way of the perfections of Bodhisattvas who were progressing irreversibly toward the highest, complete enlightenment. They followed the Bodhisattva training without expectation of reward from others. They had minds free from all attachment. They were disillusioned by all the delights of samsara. They had purified without impediment all the ways in the realm of the Dharma. They had the power of the motivation directed toward omniscience. They were free from the net of obscurations and obstacles. [F.223.b] They had transcended all the paths of attachment. They were active through emanations of their Dharma bodies. They were focused on ripening and guiding all worlds. They had minds in which a stainless ocean of merit had arisen. They had become what they were because of their completely good Bodhisattva prayers and conduct. They had increased the vast power of the strengths of Bodhisattvas. And their minds had become illuminating like the disk of the sun.

43. 30 Sudhana, the head merchant's son, bowed his head to the feet of the Shakya maiden and then stood before her, his hands placed together in homage, and said, "Arya, I have developed the aspiration for the highest, complete enlightenment, but I do not know how Bodhisattvas continue within samsara without being stained by samsara; how they realize the equal nature of all phenomena but do not dwell on the level of the Shravakas and pratyeka Buddhas; how they attain the illumination of the Dharma of the Buddhas and yet continue with their Bodhisattva conduct; how they dwell on the level of a Bodhisattva but teach the scope of knowledge of the

Tathagatas; how they transcend all worldly existences but are active within all worldly existences; how they accomplish a body of the Dharma but also accomplish form bodies of infinite colors; how they attain the Dharma body that has no characteristics but manifest bodies with the colors and shapes of all beings; and how they realize that all Dharmas cannot be described but teach the Dharma to all beings, describing them with all ways of speaking and definitions. [F.224.a] They know that all beings are without existence, but they do not turn away from the ways of guiding the realm of beings; they comprehend that all phenomena are unborn and unceasing, but they do not abandon engaging in making offerings to and venerating all the Tathagatas; and they realize that there is no karma and ripening within all phenomena, but they do not turn away from engagement in accomplishing good actions.¹⁷⁵²

43. 31 Gopa, the Shakya maiden, said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, it is excellent, excellent, that you intended to ask in that way about the nature of Bodhisattva conduct. Those questions are also the words of the completely good prayer and conduct.

"Therefore, noble one, listen carefully and remember, for I shall teach through the blessing of the Buddha.

43. 32 "Noble one, the Bodhisattvas who have ten qualities such as these fulfill the Bodhisattva conduct that is like the appearance of magical illusions and gives rise to the light of wisdom.

43. 33 "What are these ten? They are (1) reliance on sublime kalyanamitras, (2) the attainment of a vast aspiration, (3) a pure, sublime virtuous motivation, (4) a mind supported by a vast ocean of merit and wisdom, (5) being able to hear great teachings of the Dharma that has originated and arisen from the Buddhas, [F.224.b] (6) the attainment of aspiration toward the Tathagatas of the three times, (7) the comprehension of the equality of all the fields of Bodhisattva conduct, (8) the attainment of the blessing of all the Tathagatas, (9) the natural, pure, higher motivation of great compassion, and (10) that attainment of the strong power of the motivation to end the continuation of all the cycles of samsara.

“Noble one, the Bodhisattvas who have those ten qualities fulfill the Bodhisattva conduct that is like the appearance of magical illusions and gives rise to the light of wisdom.”¹⁷⁵³

43. 34 “Noble one, the Bodhisattvas with nonregressing diligence who have obtained those ten qualities, in order to accomplish an inexhaustible way and practice an extremely vast meditation, serve the kalyanamitras and please them in ten ways.

43. 35 “What are those ten ways? They are (1) having no concern for one’s own life and body, (2) having no interest in the requisites of samsara, (3) having the comprehension of the equality of all phenomena, (4) having an irrevocable prayer for omniscience, (5) observing all the ways of the realm of the Dharma, (6) having a mind that rises above the entire ocean of existences, (7) having no dependence or location within the space of the locationless Dharma, (8) having all the unobscured prayers of a Bodhisattva, (9) pervading the entire ocean of realms, and (10) having the purified unobscured field of the knowledge of a Bodhisattva.

“Noble one, the Bodhisattvas who have those ten qualities serve and please the kalyanamitras.” [F.225.a]

43. 36 Then the Shakya maiden Gopa, in order to teach the meaning of that, through the blessing of the Buddhas looked into the ten directions and recited these verses:

43. 37 ?Those sublime, stainless, wise ones engaged in benefiting others,
Dedicated without deceit or deception to serving excellent friends,
Recognizing them as teachers and having unflagging diligence -
They carry out in the world this conduct that is like a magical apparition. {11}

43. 38 ?There are those who have sublime motivation as vast as space Within whom is contained the worlds of the three times,
Realms, beings, phenomena, and likewise the Budas.
This is the conduct of those who shine with wisdom. {12}

43. 39 ?There are those whose motivation is like space, without end or middle,
Who are completely pure, unstained by the kleshas,
And who give rise to the qualities of all the Tathagatas.
Their conduct is like the appearance of magical apparitions. {13}

43. 40 ?There are those who have clear minds and an ocean of qualities
And are established in vast, limitless, inconceivable, omniscient wisdom.
They have bodies that have an ocean of merit and a pure essence
That is unstained by worldly impurities even though they act within the world. {14}

43. 41 ?There are those who never have enough of listening to the thunder of the Dharma
That has the aspects of the speech of the jinas and all the ways of languages
And who are lamps of the light of wisdom, which follow the way of the Dharma.

This is the conduct of those who bring illumination to beings. {15}

43. 42 ?There are those who comprehend in each instant of the mind
Each one of the countless Tathagatas in the ten directions,
And they see and know the entire ocean of sugatas.

This is the conduct of those who keep the Budas in mind. {16}

43. 43 ?There are those who see the vast assemblies of followers of the jinas

And who comprehend the ocean of their ways of samadhi

And the ways of their vast ocean of prayers with no end or middle. [F.225.b]

This conduct of theirs is like the appearance of illusions. {17}

43. 44 ?There are those who have been blessed by every jina in the ten directions,

Who have the completely good conduct till the final kalpa,

And whose images appear throughout the vast extent of the realms.

This is the conduct of those who bring the light of the Dharma. {18}

43. 45 ?There are those who have the disk of the sun of compassion,

Who, seeing beings in distress, illuminate them with the Dharma's light,

Clear away the darkness of beings, and cause the teachings to shine.

This is the conduct of those who are like the sun. {19}

43. 46 ?There are those who see beings circling through existences,

And those clear-minded ones remain, countering samsara's flow,

And everywhere they bring about the wheel of the Dharma.

They are practicing the wise, supreme, completely good conduct. {20}

43. 47 ?There are those who, training in this, manifest to beings,

In accord with aspirations, bodies without limit or middle,

Their countless bodies being like reflections or mirages,

And they ripen many beings within the ocean of existences. {21}

43. 48 ?There are those who are spreading among beings through the vast ways of love,

Manifesting conducts to beings with various dispositions,

And sending down a rain of Dharma in accordance with the aspirations of beings.

Those resolute ones guide billions of beings toward enlightenment.? {22}

43. 49 Those are the verses that Gopa, the Shakya maiden, recited. She then said to Sudhana, the head merchant's son, "Noble one, I have attained the Bodhisattva liberation called the range of the view of all the ways of the ocean of the samadhis of the Bodhisattvas.?"

43. 50 Sudhana asked, "Arya, what is this Bodhisattva liberation called the range of the view of all the ways of the ocean of the samadhis of the Bodhisattvas like??"

Gopa answered, "Noble one, when I rest within this Bodhisattva liberation, [F.226.a] I see and comprehend as many kalpas in this world realm as there are atoms in countless Buda realms.
